We have established a branch here, at present: we have nine members. I enclose a list of those who have been baptized and ordained Elders. With reference to your inquiries about my prospects, etc., I will say, that I am at present doing nothing, be-ing dependent on my sons. I am blind, having cataracts in both eyes. I un-derwent an operation on the jeft eye, but it proved a failure. I am 75 years and eight months oid, having been born in Bombay in April, 1827. I have

In overy succeeding dispensation, since the world began, our Heavenly Father has had His Prophets, through whom He has revealed his mind and will for the guidance of His obedient children and for the building up of His work. In the evening meeting, Elder Wheel-er spoke upon the essentiality of the ordinance of baptism, referred to the teachings of Alma to the Nephites upon this principle, and dwelt upon the tem-poral and spiritual affairs of today. Elder John W. Galley showed from the testimony of the Eible that men must comply with the requirements of the Gospel and obey those who have au-thority to administer them. Those who have read Hiawatha need but to visit Minnebaha Falls to glean an idea of how the poet Longfellow got his insolr-ation to write that poem so widely known. At 2 p. m. a very delicitus hunch was served, which had been pre-pared by the sisters. It is needless to say that it was enjoy d by all. Ar-nouncements of our conference were published by leading newspatters and the proceedings were fairly reported.

President Lyman spoke upon mar-iage as taught and believed in by the Latter-day Saints. We do not marry, he said, just for-time, but for time and eternity, for authority and instructions nave been received for the performance of this work. A Well Attended Gathering in Encouraging Report from British Columbia.

Elder Walter W. Stevens writes from Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 21:

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 21: After the conference at Seattle which was held Aug. 25, Elders B. H. Telford and Geo, A. Hunter were appointed by Elder Nephl Fratt, president of North Western States mission, to open a con-ference at this place, with the latter as president of the conference. They ar-rived Aug. 29 and at once called upon the mayor and other city officials to the mayor and other city officials to ask the privilege of holding street meetings; also of distributing literature among the people of this city, which was granted them. Meetings were then commenced and the work introduced.
