THE PINCREE NATIONAL BANK.

Thief and Grafters Arrested --- Clay Company Sued for $22,500-News Briefs.

.Ogden is to have another national bank, provided the comptroller of the currency at Washington, D, C., approves of the application for a charter, and there is no doubt but that it will be acted on favorably. The bank will be called the Pingree National Bank of Ogden, Utah, and is backed by some of ogden's best known financiers. The application is signed by James Pingree, who for so many years was the successful cashler of the First National bank of this city, Job Pingree, Joseph Scow-croft, Heber Scoweroft, Albert Scow-croft, James Mack, J. M. Browning, and M. S. Browning. With these gentlemen at the head of such an institution it is an assured success. Their business an assured success. Their business ability is well and favorably known throughout this western country, and their financial backing is good. The safes, vault fixtures, deposit boxes, furniture and other necessities have been ordered, and will arrive without delay. Since the resignation of James Pin-gree as cashier of the First National bank, all kinds of rumors were afloat of his starting a new bank in the Broom hotel corner, but nothing definite was known until the charter was applied for. The application for the charter has been indorsed by Senators Kearns and Smoot, and is now in the hands of the comptroller. Vill play "A Lion's Heart" at the Grand Opera House. John E. The Saints of the Union Stake are not an exception to the rule of content-ment and industry that is characteris-tic of the Saints in all parts. Indeed they feel that they are at home here and are exerting an influence in many ways for the betterment of our country and the State of Oregon. Property is being improved, homes are being beau-tified and the spirit of advancement tified and the spirit of advancement the and the spirit of advancement has entered the feelings of all classes. New buildings are being erected and others contemplated will add greatly to the beauty of our city. Notably a mong these are the Union Stake Tab-ernacie, now in course of erection, and the La Grande City hall, work on which will here in a should a work that down will begin in about a week. Both these buildings are recognized by all to be among the most important improve-ments of the city in several years. A force of 20 or 25 men are at work on the Tabernacle and the walls of the basement are going up very rapidly and will be completed in about two weeks. When completed, the Tabernacle will be a most magnificent strucnacle will be a most magnificent struc-ture and passers-by stop to view its immense proportions and wonder where all the "Mormons" are coming from to fill it. But they are here already and with our many friends in Utah and surrounding states that easy lock and surrounding states, that are look-ing toward Oregon as their future home, we hope to see the day that we will have to build another house still larger than this one for the accommodation of our people and friends who may wish to meet with us in our worship

We desire to encourage all who are We desire to encourage all who are thinking of leaving Utah to seek homes elsewhere, to visit our country and Stake before deciding to locate else-where. We have room here for at least one thousand more good, stanch Lat-ter-day Saint families. To Latter-day Saints we extend an invitation to come and see us and our beautiful valley and and see us and our beautiful valley and country. Any having friends here would do well to write them and make inquiries about our resources here, or if you have no acquaintances here, H. M. Monson, the Stake clerk, will answer as much correspondence as his time as much correspondence as his time will permit and will be pleased to fur-nish the most reliable information that can be had in regard to this country. It might be well to say here that there is a good opening for a number of good masons here at present, as the new buildings going up will furnish employ-ment for a large number of that class of mechanics. The Tabernacle itself will furnish a great deal of this kind of will furnish a great deal of this kind ot employment, and as secretary of the Tabernacle building committee the Stake clerk would like to correspond with a number of good stone and brick masons with the view of engaging them to work on the Tabernacle, which will furnish a good opening in that line in country.

Our people are well represented in windy, no prospects of rain as yet, It is remarkable how the supply of water holds out. The new meeting house looks beautiful now, the trustees are taking down the scaffolding and the painting is done outside. We hope soon to enjoy the use of the basement.

The closing exercises of the district schools and academy were very inter-esting, resulting in splendid achievements for the school year's work.
