"Easy Archie" apes the gilded youth who follow the apise bag at No kaway, and makes, it must be atimitted, a very clever imita-tion. "Sheeny Doc" is the typical physician of a few years' standing, and, it is said, did actually study a short time in some medical ins itution. PROFESSIONAL METHODS. PROFESSIONAL METHODS. Like every other art, the bunco of to-lay has innumerable variations. The commonest form that comes to the notice of the police is as follows: Mr. Smith, a well-to do farmer or tradesman, comes to New York from als native town, Smithvile. He carries with him a well-filied wallet, therefore frequent those sporting the dimculty of conviction for buncoing has no besitation in giv-to buncoing has no buncoi OR WOOD. Above cut represents our "EARLY BREAKFAST" with Six Holes and being distrustful of hotel clerks houses where a mau's character has and hotel sales, he carries in some in-side pocket. Near the Brooklyn Bridge, the Central Park plazi, Madison or Union Square, he is accosted by a pleasant-mannered man who shakes his hand violently and says in the most friendly fashion: "Brown, dear boy." riendly fashion: "Brown, dear boy, how are you !" THE OPIUM HABIT. Mr. Smit- draws himself up and re-plies: "You've made a mistake, young man. I'm not Brown. My name is Smith-Ephraim Smith, of Smithville, A third method of locating them A third method of locating them is based on their singular addiction to the opium habit. They are the best customers to the opium joints, and since these were prohibited by law, of the private opium clubs, which are scattered throughout the city. Of the five or six hundred affairs of this class it is fair to assume that two-thirds are made up of crocks. It is also fair to mas. 1'm not Brown. My hame is Smith-Ephraim 'Smitn, of Smithville, Shith County, Pa.," This is all the "hand-shaker" wants -the man's name and address. Fra-duently, in fact, generally, these are not given as short and pat as in the in-terview described. Frequently he half suspects the friendly stranger, and a prief talk is needful to accure the demade up of crooks. It is also fair to to assume that three-fourths of all the sifed information. When it is given bunco men are victims of the habit. Hungry Joe, and especially two insig-nificant continence operators who he accomplice joins the bunco man, who is not far away, and who has at this moment in his hand a small bank-ers' directory which contains a list of all the banks in the Union by States, the names of their President, Secre have adopted his name, have been recognized by detective-sergeants in such places times numberless; Harry Ashton the bogus Harry Ashton, "Sheeney Doc," John Paimer and Lew Martin tary, Cashier and sometimes other in-formation. As the accomplice reaches the word he says: "Pennsylvania-Smithville, Smith county," and to-gether they fun down the entry. It usually reads as follows. Doc," John Palmer and Lew Martin Spend twenty-Isur hours at a stretch in "hitting the pipe;" while Cigarette Harry, Sam Goldstein, Philadelphia Harry, and Jim McVicker have been known to lie off on a bank forty-eight and even seventy-two consecutive hours. On this account the suppres-

New York, April 21 -- It is hard to say where the word "bunco" was born. It comes, if not from the gutter, at least from an origin of not better, if even of as moral chiracter, Its first appearance to the best of my knowledge usis in the early part of the 'seventies, when it was added to the list of such sporting words, so called, as faro, keno, to'o and the like at the outset it was the equivalent of borff ience "operation," but after a brief while it became imbiged to ex-press these transactions in which a swindler secures money or valuables from a victim who willingly parts with his property in the hope of securing s pretended reward of fudicrously enor-mons proportions.
