Fire at Plain City.—A Distinguished Visitor.—"The Baby" in Trouble.

TODAY'S Headlines.

The plan for the great ship to be erected in Ogden by the American Pacific metal working company, consisting of two parts, will be sent west to the company's headquarters for appearance. This city is now one of the largest bridge works which will number at least 200 men and probably three times that number. The "Baby" in Plain City will be removed here, and their estimated capacity immensely enlarged. The buildings will be located on ground owned by the company in the northern part of the present yards. Work will commence as soon as possible—when the road has come out of the ground—and pushed with all possible speed, in the erection of the buildings. It is estimated that a million and a quarter of dollars will be spent on labor and other material in the preparation. The company promises to increase the plant from time to time as necessary requires, and has already pledged itself to remove its plant and equipment to another location if the machinery in this vicinity have been placed in suspended operations.

Among the passengers on the Southern Pacific eastbound train, which reached Ogden Sunday evening, was the Marquis Carlo di Rustichelli, the late premier of Italy. He is a pleasant young fellow, 25 years of age, and appears to be about for a short while what would pass for an American of the leisure class. For six months past he has been an honorary attaché of the Italian legation at Teheran and is now on his way to join the diplomatic corps at the court of the emperor of Washington. At home he is a lieutenant in a regiment of cavalry, but the government is sending him about the world to equip him for the post of a foreign minister. He has been spending time in Peking and two months in India. His experiences have also been varied by a visit to Harbin, in South Abyssinia, where he went with Count Annibaldi, the agent sent recently by the Italian government to a conference at Harbin. The marquis says, a picturesque country, which rates most of the coffee sold as Mocha. The marquis left for Chicago last evening, where he will spend a few days and then continue his journey east.

At the city council meeting last evening the committee on claims reported a large batch of bills and recommended that warrants be drawn for the same. Councilor Elliott introduced a new ordinance amending the cruelty to animals ordinance so as to make the punishment more severe or less severe than that in the streets for any incident that period very severe. The measure was read first and second times and referred to the committee on laws. An ordinance, saying that the city council in each district No. 7, to defray the expense of the construction of the sewers in the new district, was returned from the committee on laws, read the second time and referred back to the committee on laws to file. A bill appropriating $10,000 to the city of Ogden, to pay the semi-annual interest on the city's general improvement bonds.

The old Dequar printing plant has finally found a home in Coalville. This plant was taken in tow by Palmer & Hey of San Francisco, but was leased under contract to Messrs. Morris & Lyons, who have given it over to Mr. Dequar. Under this management the plant is to be used in the publication of the Leader, a Liberal campaign paper. On its departure the Leader lived but a short time and the plant was taken over by Mr. Dequar. Yesterday & today it was purchased by Mr. E. Newell, of the Coalville Chronicle, which paper has hitherto been printed, first at Park City, and recently at Salt Lake.

Arrangements have been made for a grand jingle on December 2d, under the combined patronage of the Chamber of Commerce and the 30th St. George. No other standard will be mentioned than that of the noble 30th of the city, while its pole will be entwined and profusely decorated with roses, thistles, shamrocks and maple leaves. All the prominent business houses and firms will be invited. The intention is to hold a celebration of this kind each year about Thanksgiving. Although not yet settled, it is probable the affair will be held in the Grand Opera house.

The hearing in the damage suit of William Draper & Co. vs. Thomas J. Draper et al., wherein the plaintiff claim $200,000 damages alleged to have been caused to their building during the construction of the damper block, which apparently is the "Drever Building" at the south end of Main street, continues on the former block, not taking the necessary precautions while excavating for the foundation, occupied the entire day in Judge MacLean's court yesterday. In his argument the defendant has overruled the arguments and charge will be made this morning.

D. D. Smith and Harry Hooper, the two men arrested in Sheriff Holton's office, wherein the plaintiff, Draper, Marshal Gull and Deputy Sheriff, were yesterday arraigned before Judge John Drake and pleaded guilty to a charged of perjury, presented to the court at the same time. The men will have a preliminary examination this afternoon. Several of the many actions brought in and around the county must have been started by these parties and separate charges will be made against the persons concerned.

The fifty-third column of Seventies will give a party at Thomas' hall, 115 Main Street, on Saturday evening, for the benefit of Alexander Hayes and John Stone, who will leave in a few days upon missions.

A man named Morrison, who resides in the southwestern part of the city, was arrested last night for keeping a vicious dog. The animal has already bitten three people.

This afternoon at a session, at the residence of Hon. Fred J. Knobell, 115 Main Street, the Chamber of Commerce, led by the Bank Board, will send a telegram to a slight moment what would pass for an American of the leisure class.
