things is absolutely a necessary tains to me. I could not work if it were not for this faith, and very naturally it is difficult for me to understand how oth-ers can accomplish anything without it, Hence I commend it to you as a work-ing principle, justified, I assure you, in experiences.

Next to faith is honor, without which I am almost tempted to wonder if there can be any faith. I am sure that the one can not long subsist in the absence of the other. Honor, as I use it here, means, as I have told you, truth-telling and truthliving.

Let me say once more, the nurse, in a way, is something of a soldier. Their virtues are akin, and may be summed up in this phrase, which should be to fort-Devotion to duly. A selfish woman is a possibility, as you all know, but a selfish nurse-is out of the question.

No calling in life, except perhaps that of a mother, requires so completely a sacrifice of self, as the calling of a nurse, and if I thought there were any in your ranks that were not willing make this self sacrifice, I should wit make this self sacrlice, I should with-out hesitation advise them not to wear ghe uniform of a Relief society nurse. If you can hold these thoughts re-specting faith, honor, duty, unselfsh-ness before your mind until they be-come positive principles of action to you in life—I shall feel that our efforts have not been in valu, and that in fact we have accomplished something that has been worth our while.

PRESENTATION OF CERTIFI-CATES.

An impressive part of the exercise was the presentation of the certificates of graduation by Bathsheba W. Smith, president of the Relief societies. The nurses, arrayed in the white aprons and suits characteristic of their order, presented an interesting and attractive appearance; and the stand in front was covered with the flowers sent by pat-rons and admirers. REPLY TO "TAXPAYER."

Trustees of Thirty-Ninth District Take Him to Task.

To the Editor:

Mill Creek, May 17 .--- We, the trustees of school district 39, beg leave to reply to a "Tax Payer's Protest" as it appeared in Tuesday evening's "News," We are almost convinced that the gentieman has not attended any meetings whatever during the past year or two, if not more, pertaining to school mat-ters, on account of his very limited knowledge of the affairs of the district. We know he was not at the tax election held one year ago, as the two gentle-men other than the trustees who voted are now out of the state. He would have us think, too, that it was all on account of his not having seen any posters.

We feel that we are not responsible we feel that we are not responsible for the gentleman's poor vision. The notices were duly posted as prescribed by law on all occasions, in at least four conspicuous places in the district, and we know till after the elections. for He displays ignorance of the way the district was bonded. We would inform district was bended. We would inform him that the bonds are due in 20 years, payable any time after 10 years, and that this levy has nothing whatever to do with the bonds. The people of the district in mexiding assembled declared their appreciation and entire satisfaction with the new scheelafaction with the new scheelhouse and its cost, which was $4.550. On account of the low valua-tion of the district it could only be bonded for $3.750, leaving a balance of $500 to be met by special leavy. Per-haps "Tax payer" had some other way of providing it, but it is too late now to be advantareous to the district be advantageous to the district Would the gentleman have had us wall till he had seen a poster before pro-ceeding to ballot or went away without voting, because there was not a larger number present? His alkali beds would undoubtedly have raised more lucern and the sloughs would have been trans-formed into springs of living water. We know of no meeting where it was voted to meet this debt as gradually as we could. But we have tried to do so. The gentleman says that if proper notice had been given some good citi-zen might have been there to vote with the other members of the board. This is too much of a parable for us, as two trustees were present and voted and the other was absent and hence could not vote. We think if the gencould not yote. We think if the gen-tleman in his travels in the future will occasionally turn his face to the right hand and to the left, he may perchance if his vision is improved, spy a poster declaring that another tax election is at hand, when he would have another chance to become more familiar with school affairs of the district. J. F. HAMILTON, J. R. NILSON, Cruelty and failure to support are the grounds upon which Mary Timmons filed suit for divorce today in the district court against Fred M. Tim-mons, whom she married at Park City on Oct. 17, 1883. It is alleged that on various occasions defendant has used various occasions defendant has used vide language towards plaintiff and as-cused her of being a thief. She claims that he accused her of taking a bottle of whisky which he had left in the house and when she denied it he called her a thief. He is also alleged to have accused her of stealing money from him. London, May 17.-The third series of the 1905 wool auction sales closed today at prices at the best point of the year. Dur-ing the sales, 155.56 bales were catalogued of which 76.000 were taken by the home trade, 51.600 by the continent, 24.000 by Americans, and 16,000 were held over. Merinos were in strong demand througa-out and closed 52710 per cent dearer. Cross-breds opened at an advance of 5 to 10 per cent up, first grade, under pressure of American buying. 20 per cent, and me-dium grades 30 per cent. American buy-ers, upon finding that the New Zealand crop was in good condition, covered their requirements. They outbid home buyers and secured the pick of the fine grades. This left the home trade in an awkwari position as wool holders having confidence in high rates, would realize cross-breds. Americans purchases were the largest in 10 years.
