NO. 38.

MR. ALLEN SWORN IN

No Doubt Concerning the Election of Utah's Congressman.

LEGISLATIVE TRANSACTIONS.

The House and Senate in Session—Meetings of Congressional Committees.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The House today adopted a joint resolution authorizing Lieutenant Sidney H. Jordan, of the Fifth U. S. artillery, and Captain E. C. Carter, assistant surgeon of the U. S. army, to accept medals from the British government.

Member Allen (Utah) was sworn in, the judiciary committee reporting that there was no doubt concerning his eligibility.

Loud (Rep., Cal.) reported from the committee on post roads a resolution calling upon the postmaster general for information concerning the rights of citizens employed and used in the post office for carrying mail; the number of clerks in twenty of the largest postoffices where slaves have been reduced, the number increased and the number of new men employed since June 30, 1862, with the amount of time spent in the matter of efficiency.

A report from the committee on judiciary calling upon the attorney general for information as to what steps, if any, he had taken to enforce the laws relating to the use of slave machinery; the number of clerks in twenty of the largest postoffices where slaves have been reduced, the number increased and the number of new men employed since June 30, 1862, with the amount of time spent in the matter of efficiency.

Dingley, a report from the committee on post roads and expenditures, trust, and further legislation, if any, is needed, was made by Henderson (Iowa).

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the Senate today, Senator Atchison, reported from the Committee on Post Roads a bill to amend the bill to provide for the payment of compensation to the author of the bill.

Marshall, chairman of the Finance committee, justified the bill so that the substitute was opposed by every Republican member in the committee.

The bill went on the calendar.

Elliott offered a resolution which referred to the bill to provide for the payment of compensation to the author of the bill.

United States bonds shall first be advertised at least twenty days, and such bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder.

BONDS OF MINE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A favorable report was made by Senator Davis from the committee on public lands today on the bill granting twenty-five per cent of the proceeds of the sale of mineral lands to various public land offices for the support of schools of mines.

INTRODUCING CUBAN AFFAIRS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Several members of the House concluded a conference on the introduction of resolutions for the recognition of the insurgents of Cuba as belligerents.

It is quite likely, however, that the Cuban question will not come up for discussion in the committee on foreign affairs in a report.

Representative Carter of New York called at the state department today, accompanied by President Palms, of the Cuban revolutionary committee, Secretary Quesada, Horatio Herrera, a Cuban, a Cuban sympathizer, and Duncan, who now holds in the Morro castle, Havana.

Secretary Quincy was absent at the cabinet meeting, so the party did not see him.

They left a large bundle of papers for his inspection. He believed the Cuban cause was to be a cause of sympathy in behalf of the imprisoned Spaniards, who claim American citizenship.

ON PACIFIC ROAD.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The first meeting of the House committee on Pacific railroads held today was largely a formal affair for organization and while no definite step was taken, a plan was formed to affect the interests of the railroads in the West.

It was decided to begin that work at once and hold the first meeting for the purpose on Saturday next.

TRADE AGREEMENTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Republican senators went into caucus at 10:30 today, but adjourned at 12 to meet again after the conclusion of the day's session. The entire time of the caucus was consumed in discussing proposed amendments to the bill, but no formal expression was secured upon any of them, this being left until the afternoon session.

The proposed amendment to be against all agreements and a tendency toward protectionism, the bill as it came from the House. Several senators expressed doubts as to the wisdom of the bill in any shape, others that it was an evident disposition to regard the bill as purely an emergency measure.

Senator Quay moved the adoption of the House bill, but the motion was lost sight of in the general discussion.

Thus, the new senator from Kansas, who voted with the opposition to the House bill, voted for the Senate unmodified. He said if any tariff legislation was to be enacted, he thought it should be done on Republican and protection lines. He also favored the principle of non-reciprocity in the selection of the tariff, so that the present tariff would afford all the revenue needed. He thought, however, if any legislation should be attempted this time, changes should be made in a few minor respects, such as the removing wool and sugar, which should be retained upon purely protection lines.

Other speeches were made by Senators Atchison, Abell, Parker, Hale, Chamberlain, Hawley and Harrows, Senator Harrows contended for an advance in the rates of duty on cotton and agricultural products, while Parker advocated in strong language the placing of sugar on a footing of equality with other products.

Allen and Atchison explained briefly the reasons for their opposition to the bill of the finance committee, saying that they were of the opinion that no changes were to be made. They should be in a way of increasing the House rates on agricultural products, especially wool and sugar, and the bill of the finance committee does not do this.

At 2 o'clock West took the floor to discuss the gold reserve resolution introduced by Sherman several days ago. He said that Congress passed a bill which carried ample revenue for the purpose of the bill, but nothing else. The Supreme Court had stricken the measure of $20,000,000 of revenue by a decision that was a surprise to nearly every intelligent lawyer on the floor. While discussing the decision of the court, he would observe that the court had not given any opinion on the constitutionality of the bill, but he would say the income tax decision was one of the most remarkable ever delivered and was so constituted by a majority of the people, including able lawyers everywhere.

NO LONGER DENIED.

The Honor of a U. S. Naval Delegation to Turkey.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—It is now known from Washington that it is no longer denied that the big armament cruiser New York and probably two other vessels in Admiral Farragut's squadron, if not the entire fleet, are lying in readiness to receive the fugitives from the British fleet. It is said that Congress passed a bill which carried ample revenue for the purpose of the bill, but nothing else. The Supreme Court had stricken the measure of $20,000,000 of revenue by a decision that was a surprise to nearly every intelligent lawyer on the floor. While discussing the decision of the court, he would observe that the court had not given any opinion on the constitutionality of the bill, but he would say the income tax decision was one of the most remarkable ever delivered and was so constituted by a majority of the people, including able lawyers everywhere.

THE BRITISH WAR OFFICE.

Official Activity Displayed Starts Sensational Rumors.

The Army Reserve and Part of the Militia to be Mobilized, It is Thought.

London, Jan. 7.—The Globe this evening prints sensational news under the following head: "Activity in the War Office—Anticipated Military Measures." The Globe then states the war office has sent a special military messenger this afternoon to the colonial office, stating, It is rumored, that important orders are passing. A dispatch from the military camp at Aldershot says the general staff, which handles by proof, reveals that the authorities are considering the mobilizing of the army reserves and part of the militia. The men employed in the ordnance stores are very busy.

Nominated by the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The President has sent the following nomination to the Senate: Lieut. Col. William E. King, corps of engineers, to be member of the Missouri river commission. To members of the California commission: Lt. Col. Charles Bushnell, Major Class, E. I. D. Davis, Capt. C. G. Gillett, all of the corps of engineers, Treasury; Third Lieut. William H. Day, of Pennsylvania, and Third Lieut. Henry L. Foskett, of Rhode Island, to be second lieutenants of the revenue service.

ASSISTANT OF A LARGE FIRE.

PONTEVILLE, Jan. 7.—Padron Brin, manufacturer of leather chairs, assigned with assets of $100,000 and liabilities $150,000. The firm had 700 hands engaged in leather and chair manufacture.

Mr. Brin, a native of France, had 20 years experience in leather and chair manufacture.

He is a very difficult man to get along with.

New YORK, Jan. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Berlin says: Serious rumors are circulating here regarding the situation of Italians in Erythrea. Their position is said to be almost desperate. It is learned that the tension between England and Italy in regard to the refusal of the former power to allow the latter to disembark troops at Zelab has become very serious.

It is a difficult position.

New YORK, Jan. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Berlin says: A dispatch from Massoway says that the Italians have retired from Adulis to Adigrat and were harassed en route by the Abyssinians. In an interview Mr. Massoway said that the Italian force was a very difficult one to get along with.

He thinks that the report that the Abyssinians want food is not true. King Menelik collects a percentage of the oil grown which he sells in time of peace but has not sold for three years now because of the difficulty of getting it for this war.

It is said that there are immense differences in the attitude of the different tribes. As for King Cesar being an enemy of King Menelik, that is untrue, Mr. Massoway says. The Italian have now reached 100 kilometers, and 100,000 men are following the Abyssinians. The option here is that the Abyssinian question is going to assume extensive proportions.

RAILWAY COMMUNICATIONS IN CUBA.

New YORK, Jan. 7.—The central cable office of the Western Union Telegraph company has been established today. The Western Union Telegraph company's station at Havana will be re-established. Trains leave twice a day at 8 a. m. and 2 p. m., returning twice a day, same hours, to Santiago de Cuba. The Western Union Telegraph company will be in communication with the Cuban government.

It was decided to begin that work at once and hold the first meeting for the purpose on Saturday next.

The hearings of interest parties, if any are granted, will be brief.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The House committee on judiciary today agreed to report a resolution calling upon the attorney general for information why proceedings had been taken to prosecute the professor of the anti-trust law. The House adopted the resolution.

KILLED HIS WIFE.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Frank Dennis of Rockford unexpectedly returned home last night and found his wife in the company of Patrick Hickory. The enraged husband ran into another room for his shot gun. Hickory escaped from the room. Dennis followed him and shot him in the back, killing him almost instantly. Dennis then pursued Hickory, but before he could overtake him, he was discovered in a nearby room, where he had hidden himself. The professor was severely wounded.

The professor, who was a chemist, says the discovery is simple. The professor takes a sealed Crookes pipe, viz: a vacuum pipe with an induction current going through it, and by means of rays, which the pipe emits, photographic plates, in contact with the ordinary rays of light, these rays penetrate the glass of the tube, and as ordinary rays pass through glass.

He had also succeeded in photographing bubbles, metals with a cloth thrown over the camera. The professor stated not only women, but men, sat in front of the negative, while the professor was secretly using his discovery to photograph broken limbs and bullet holes in bodies.

RENTALS AND VACANCIES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A local paper says:

The marriage of Oliver H. P. Belmont and Mrs. Alice Vanderbilt will be celebrated at the residence of the latter on January 20. On January 20 the Belmonts will be entertained by Captain Morgan who has informed me that he is forming a large syndicate, that he will take all the bonds offered by the government or none. This is his ultimatum.

The experts in finance know what this means. Hear what the last one in the government says under cover of confidence:

"The syndicate will get the bonds, because speculation is a cut-throat game. There is no sentiment in Wall street. It will wait enough to speak of patriotism and brotherly love among the citizens of a nation, but these sentiments do not spring from the hearts of men who earn gold. Just as sure as these bonds expand, just as sure will Wall street get them. A bond in St. Louis, Ohio, the National Exchange, is being offered today at $1.12. Other bonds, I am told, have sent similar messages to Mr. Carnegie. A dozen or more of them were received before noon. But there were no messages from New York, and I am told from Boston that there was no bond sent from Boston.

This morning followed and the meeting adjourned to join in the peace.

TRANSFERS OF MINING STOCKS.

The Bullion and Bearish Still Continue to Put Up and Knock Down.

The mining stock exchange closed down to business again today and before adjourning the session quite a number of transfers had been made.
