LOCAL NEWS.

Arrested.—About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Deputy Marshal Vandercok, while in quest of another party in the Twenty-first Ward, ran against Joseph Blunt, against whom an indictment for unlawful cohabitation was found by the last grand jury. Mr. Blunt had been kept in custody of the public gaze more or less since that time, his wife being on the verge of confinement, and he desiring to be near her at the critical moment; this having been reached (a pair of boys having been born on the 24th inst.) the father has not been so particular the last day or two, with the result stated. He has not tried to conceal his marriage relations, however, and frankly admitted everything before the grand jury that indicted him. He was brought into court immediately after the arrest, and given till Monday morning to plead. He then went before McKay and gave bonds in the sum of $1000, S. P. Treadel and D. L. Davis becoming sureties. It is understood the indictment contains but one count.

Ogden Valley.—A letter from Eden states that everything is moving along in that settlement in a quiet, peaceable manner. The writer says "we have a good Sunday school, which is, as a general thing, well attended. Our Primary Association is pretty well patronized. The X. M. M. I. and Y. M. C. A. hold meetings every week, at both of which there is a very fair attendance. The members of the Female Relief Society are none behind the others in striving to do all the good they can."

Last Saturday night the fiercest snow storm that Eden has experienced for years set in, and continued for two days. On Sunday the wind almost blew a hurricane, preventing nearly everybody from appearing outside of their doors, except to feed their stock or get them to water, which, in many instances, was found to be a very difficult task; but for the last day or two the weather has moderated, and the snow has been well settled. The snow down considerably, making excellent sleighing.

Our Dramatic Company has commenced its winter season, and has some excellent pieces in rehearsal, which will be produced during the long, monotonous winter months. The performances of the company since its organization have been well patronized.

The health of the people here is good. I do not know of one case of sickness.

THE INSANE ASYLUM RELIEVED.

THE AUDITOR ISSUES THE WARRANT FOR THE MONEY.

We have already published the opinion of the U. S. District Attorney to the effect that the support of the Insane Asylum is a continuous obligation, or debt upon the Territory, and that the duty could be legally discharged even in the absence of a legislative appropriation. Upon the above-written opinion the following official endorsement was placed:

"Mr. N. W. Clayton:

"Sir—I endorse and approve the within opinion and recommend that the amount for board and treatment of patients in the Insane Asylum be paid."

"CALEB W. WEST, Governor."

The auditor this morning issued the warrant, the amount involved being $10,235.94. The sum has either been paid, or will be shortly, by Treasurer Jack.

Seeing that the step could be taken with safety by the responsible officials (Auditor and Treasurer) it was the proper thing to do. It is a subject for congratulation that a worthy and beneficent public institution is saved from the dragging and crippling process despite the arbitrary efforts of the late Governor to the contrary.

Police Court.—The spectacle presented in the Police Court this morning was not one to suggest a prospective decrease in the number of criminals in the near future. On the contrary, it was indicated that quite a number of boys were developing into that class sometimes denominated "toughs." One of the bench facing the Judge sat seven boys, ranging from ten to eighteen years of age. Their personal condition was the reverse of cleanliness. Five of them had an air of recklessness, and would do credit to hardened offenders. The names given by the boys were Fred. Southern, Fred. Solomon, Jos. Punt, Wm. Davis, John Leadford, Horace Faust and Wm. Householder.

Southern, Solomon, Punt and Davis were each charged with a charge of assault, made upon a Chinaman a few weeks ago, in which the Celestial was severely bruised about the head. The defendants pleaded not guilty and will be tried on Monday next.

Davis and Leadford were then asked by the District Attorney to state the accusation being that they had stolen a clock and lead pencils belonging to Eliza Orrick. This they denied having done.

The same parties also pleaded not guilty to having stolen two pairs of gloves and six boxes of cigars from Wm. Hubbard's store on Second South Street. The trial was set for Monday next at 10 a. m.

Householder and Faust pleaded guilty to having stolen a ride on a D. & R. G. W. boat. They had come from Pueblo, Colorado, to this city in that manner. They were given 15 days' labor on the public works.

All of the boys were then started for the jail. Plant turned back and accused the Court with "Say, do you allow our jailer to lick prisoners?"

The inquiry, of course, suggested that Plant thought he had been mistreated, and an inquiry revealed the fact that he and some of his companions had been using shocking language to, and shouting so loud as to be heard by the women in another part of the jail. While they were engaged in this, the jailer ordered them to desist, but Plant was so unruly that he had to be removed by force from the bunk where he had perched himself. No violence was used, and he went back to the jail with the warning that if he persisted in his disorderly conduct further punishment awaited him.

Two disreputable women were placed in the city jail awaiting trial; they were "Little May," charged with vagrancy, and Mrs. Charles, for drunkenness and using obscene language. The latter was fined $50.

Tim Kinney was arrested this afternoon for drunkenness.

The case against Ollie Bess, for gambling, was postponed until Wednesday next.

The Teachers' Institute.—The association met to-day as per adjournment with Mr. D. R. Allen presiding.

Professor J. H. Paul called the attention of teachers to the merits of Michael's System of Rapid Penmanship; showed in what particular features that system far surpasses the Spencerian, and urged them to examine the books and to use their influence in having them adopted.

A select reading was very pleasantly rendered by Miss Maggie Crismon.

The remainder of the time was occupied in answering questions relative to school work.

The best method of teaching arithmetic would form an important feature of our next programme, as we had found a great many wrong methods in the district schools during his recent visit.

The meeting then adjourned for two weeks.

The County Jail.—To-day Edward Ryan was sent to the county jail by Judge Zane. Ryan was indicted by the grand jury for petit larceny, it being alleged that, on October 30, he stole $15 and $5 in gold—belonging to Michael O'Rourke. The theft was committed in a saloon. The accused stated that he had taken the money, but was under the influence of liquor at the time. The Court appointed S. W. Lewis as Ryan's counsel, but after consultation a plea of guilty was allowed to remain and the Court sentenced the defendant to 30 days in the county jail.

Arraignment.—Isaac Brockbank was arraigned in the Third District Court to-day on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. The indictment contains one count, and alleges that, from Oct. 1, 1885, to Sept. 17, 1886, he lived with Kate Howard Brockbank and Mary Ann Park Brockbank as his wives, in Salt Lake City. A plea of not guilty was made. A new bond was required from the defendant, the amount of bail being increased from $1,000 to $1,500.

Lost Boy.—A little boy about 10 years of age was picked up here by the police nearly a year ago, and was kept at the City Hall for some time, when Mrs. M. M. Busby, of the 21st Ward, took him in charge, and has him now subject to the call upon her for his release by any one having authority to demand it. He gives the name of James Peter Warpole. Any one possessing information of his relatives, or having a clue thereto, will please communicate the same.

Theatre.—There was a good sized audience at the Theatre last evening, to witness the third presentation of the "Silver King" by the Home Dramatic Club. The piece went off more smoothly than before, and the actors were liberally applauded. Mr. Wells' impersonation of Wilfred Denvers possessed more feeling and vigor than on the previous evening, and at the close of the second act he was called before the curtain. The club have been very successful in this piece. Their next effort will be "Storm Beaten."

A REMARKABLY quiet Saturday.

REINSTATED.

To the Saints:

In the course I have pursued within the last few weeks, I feel that I have erred in criticizing the decisions lately given against me, by giving publicity to statements that have had a tendency to unjustly reflect upon a High Council of the Church, and sincerely ask all I have so wronged to forgive me.

A. MILTON MUSSEY.

In view of Brother Mussey having acknowledged his error, it has been unanimously adopted as the sense of the High Council that he be restored to the love and confidence of its members and the Church.

In witness whereof I have hereunto affixed the seal of the High Council this 27th day of November A. D., 1886.

JAMES D. STIRLING, Clerk pro tem.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 27, 1886.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Editor Desert News:

It is pleasant to note the great interest manifested in music by the young people of Salt Lake City at present. It is indicative of the fact that mental exercises are beginning to take the place of physical ones in furnishing the pleasure and amusement of the young.

The dance is giving way to musical gatherings, which is a step upwards to higher and nobler things. For this state of things great credit is due to our local music teachers, who have steadfastly persisted in training the young to an understanding and a liking for this beautiful art; unskilled and generally poorly remunerated, they have used their whole energy in training large classes, societies, schools and choirs, until to-day it is but a small task for me to call together five, six, hundred or even a thousand singers, who, if not very proficient in the art, can enjoy and execute fairly well.

In glancing over the packed assembly gathered at the City Hall to form the new Choral Union a few evenings since, it was a pleasure to see the number of young people who were present to re-enforce the old, faithful members of larger experience; two-thirds of the whole present were those found in children's classes only three or four years since, and these must now infuse new life into the whole society. "Such is life," the children of to-day are the men and women of tomorrow, and the habits, desires and usefulness of these coming men and women depends much on their training of to-day.

In view of this fact it was a hope-inspiring sight to the music lover to see the 500 youthful alto singers in the Assembly Hall on last Thanksgiving day, and while one would naturally desire to have such corresponding numbers of adults present to counterbalance their immense force of alto, it was amusing and not surprising to find in many respects to see or rather hear—our future prospects fairly "drawn out"—musically.

Present force there, singing with, or against them. One could not help but feel what an inspiring effect it would have been had the trebles, baritone and tenors been there to correspond.

Talk of congressional singing it would have appeared suddenly in its full and sublime glory! Then the question arises, if one man could and did have five hundred alto trained to sing in their places and in the choir, done in a little over two months, would it not be quite possible to get the same number of each of the other parts trained in a short time? Just think of the fine results! not only when all brought together but in the singing of every school in the city. If as many bass and tenors (or material that could be trained to become bass and tenors) could not be found, begin with the number. Let them meet together and be trained as these were. But still all these brilliant "short cuts" results should not blind any one to the fact that permanent progress in music must depend upon the proper, intelligent study of its rudiments.

Master the reading of it. If you would become a useful musician. The excellent opportunities our community have for this is unequalled anywhere in the world (where it is taught regularly in the public schools). Now we have teachers here pre-eminently adapted to give these instructions, who do so at prices within the reach of all. No violin! Prof. Careless is devoting his time to this, in connection with other instructions, and Prof. Stephens almost exclusively to class teaching. Not a word need be said of their special merits, both are well known, as are the good results of their labors. But the people need to be reminded of the golden opportunities they are letting slip by. (Though some hundreds are availing themselves of them, others are hundreds equally need the instructions.) Our new Zion's Choral Union, has a mission to fulfill in advancing the study of music, not in educating its members in the rudiments of music or in directing training of bettering our choirs, as of some seem to think. Choirs cannot draw upon it to any great extent for their music; the latter will seldom be suitable for their use on the Sabbath, while for members the society must rather draw on choirs than the reverse. Its mission is a higher and more artistic one—that of assembling talent together to grand, massive works, lifting up the taste and ambition of its members to a higher standard. Its success, as well as that of every musical organization, must depend upon the practical, intelligent study of its rudiments, and not the reverse. Its condition five years hence, will greatly depend on the proper training of the 500 youthful singers lately assembled in hall, and the hall, and the hundreds of others growing up; just as its success to-day depends much on the past training of its members.

Superintendent of the instruction lead, and the good results will follow.

Four Counts.—This afternoon John Adams, of Centerville was arraigned on a four-count indictment charging him with unlawful cohabitation with Mrs. Mariette Adams and Mrs. Lizzie Cleveland Adams as his wives. He pleaded not guilty, and his bail was increased to $2,000.

Another "Promise."—In the Third District Court to-day, William A. Morrow, a non—"Mormon," was arraigned on the charge of unlawful cohabitation with a girl named Mary. The case was postponed until next week.

Upon the usual question being put to him by Judge Zane, he replied that he would hereafter obey the law, whereupon sentence was suspended.

A Mining Strike.—A nascent, near Butte, is indulging in the luxury of a strike. The Miner of the 25th states that men are kept on guard in all directions and allow no one in the works. The company do not think there will be trouble, but at the same time guard against it. It is probable that the strike will be longer than people think. Both sides are determined, and the company are determined to run the works to suit themselves. The question seems to be, Can they get enough skilled labor to handle the furnaces? The town is quiet and appears to be deserted.

Court Notes.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day.

The People, etc., vs. Edward Ryan; petit larceny; plea of guilty; sentenced to one month in Salt Lake County jail.

The United States vs. Isaac Brockbank; unlawful cohabitation, one count; defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Societe de Mines de Argent vs. Rich'd MacIntosh; trial resumed before the court.

The United States vs. Wm. A. Morrow; unlawful cohabitation, one count; plea of guilty, and sentence suspended.

Joseph Rogers was admitted to citizenship.

The United States vs. John Adams; unlawful cohabitation, four counts; defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty; bail fixed at $2,000.

The Second Quorum of Seventies will meet in the Fifteenth Ward school house, on Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.
