Mr. Dover found a large stack of telegrams on his desk when he came into his office this morning. These came from personal friends of the senator in all parts of the United States and from numerous organizations throughout the country. All express hope for speedy recovery.

Callers began arriving early. Gen. Dick, who remained at the hotel until 3 a. m., was back at 8 a. m. to learn of the senator's condition.

CASE NOT HOPELESS.

Gen. Dick, on leaving the sick room, said Senator Hanna was holding his own; that while his condition was extremely critical, it was not absolutely hopeless.

Mr. Loeb, secretary to the president, also came early to the hotel to learn how the patient had passed the night. The senator's brother said at 10:15 this morning: "The chill of yesterday was severe and prolonged, but the reaction has been very satisfactory. This morning all the conditions except higher temperature are more favorable than they were last night but not better than they were yesterday evening. The organs are in normal condition, few conditions. I think the temperature will be lowered by the means which is being employed."

The senator's son, Daniel R. Hanna, arrived this forenoon, accompanied by his wife.

J. Pierpont Morgan, Clement A. Griscom and Cornelius N. Bliss are in almost constant touch with Mr. Dover by long distance telephone and are being kept thoroughly informed as to the senator's condition.

Mrs. Mabel Parsons, daughter of the senator, will arrive here this afternoon in response to a telegraphic summons.

THE NOON BULLETIN.

The following bulletin was issued by Senator Hanna's physicians at noon:

"At 12 o'clock noon, Senator Hanna is resting quietly. His temperature is 104.8; pulse, 115; respiration, 34. He continues to take nourishment well. There has been no change in his general condition since the morning bulletin was issued."

RUSSIA MUST EXPLAIN.

Why She Detained the American Boat Pleiades.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The state department has instructed Ambassador McCormick to ask the Russian government at St. Petersburg for an explanation of the compulsory detention in the harbor of Port Arthur of the American steamship Pleiades, which conveyed a cargo of flour to that place from Honolulu just before the outbreak of hostilities. The ship is owned by the Boston Two-Brother company, which has made formal complaint to the state department, hence the instructions to Minister McCormick.

By some of the officials here the opinion is expressed that the detaining of the ship is not a violation of international law provided adequate demurrage is paid for the detention of the vessel. It is assumed that the vessel is detained for strategic purposes and naval officers point out that her departure at this time might enable the Japanese to learn important facts about the condition of affairs at Port Arthur. It is roughly estimated that ample demurrage would be from $100 to $200 per day depending upon the value.

CHAUNCEY DEWEY TRIAL.

State Brings Out Some Very Damaging Evidence.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 13.—A special to the Star from Norton, Kan., says: In the trial today of Chauncey Dewey, the millionaire ranchman and his cowboys, W. J. McBride and Clyde Wilson, for the murder of Burchard Berry, a damaging testimony was brought out by the state. Beech Berry testified that on the day of the killing he saw a man, whom he saw McBride from behind the water tank rise up and shoot Burchard Berry. He also stated that it was Dewey who had shot Roy Berry.

Beech Berry told of going with Roy and Burchard on the fatal day to the home of Alpheus Berry, where the shooting took place.

"My father and Alpheus," said he, "were near the water tank when we arrived, talking to three men. We rode into the yard and tied our horses, then started toward my father and Alpheus. We had taken only a few steps when Chauncey Dewey rose from behind a sod wall and shot Roy, who was in the lead. I was next and Burchard followed. As we started toward the yard McBride jumped behind the tank and shot Burchard Berry, while Wilson shot at me from behind the wall and missed. The three shots were not over a second apart. I ran behind into the house. One shot struck me in the leg."

"Did any of you draw a revolver?" "No. After I got to the barn I drew my revolver and as I ran toward the house I fired. I did not fire at any one in particular but just in the direction of the three."

"Roy started to crawl toward the house. They fired a couple of shots at him. Both went through the rim of his hat. He dropped as if dead."

Berry declared that Dewey and his men had commenced firing on them without warning and without a word having been spoken between them.

Upon cross-examination Berry denied that he had been in prison in Colorado. He admitted that there had been ill-feeling between the Berry and the Deweys dating back to 1901, and that all of the Berry owned rifles and revolvers.

Court adjourned till Monday morning with Beech Berry still on the stand, being cross-examined.

SENATOR BURTON'S CASE.

Argument on Demurrer to the Indictment Begun.

St. Louis, Feb. 13.—Argument on the demurrer of United States Senator J. R. Burton of Kansas to the indictment charging him with using his influence to prevent the issuance of a postoffice fraud order against the Rialto Grain & Securities company and receiving for such services $2,500, was begun before Judge Adams, in the United States district court today. Senator Burton's contention is that the extent of the United States' interest in the matter was the issuance of an order which would serve to stop the transmission of mail to and from the company and that no question of governmental interest or policy was involved. He contended, through his attorney, Judge Chester Krum, that no law of the United States was violated by him and that the United States has no legitimate interest in the efforts of the Rialto Grain & Securities company to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against it.

Senator Burton is in court. In his demurrer he admits that he accepted the money from the company, but says he did so merely as an attorney and that he did not agree to use his influence as a senator in preventing the issuance of a fraud order.

Officer Sperry was detailed on the case and lay in wait at the granary a couple of hours this morning, and was at last rewarded by seeing Johnson enter the granary and emerge a few minutes later with a sack partly filled with oats. He placed Johnson under arrest, and booked him at the police station holding the sack and its contents as evidence. When arrested, Johnson, who rents a barn near the granary, from Henry Heath, said that he was merely borrowing the oats from Heath. He will be tried in the police court before Judge Diehl this afternoon.

WHAT THIEF OVERLOOKED.

Stole a Sack of Flour but Forgot Baking Powder and Lard.

If the thief who stole a half sack of flour from the summer kitchen of Charles Williams, 396 south Fourth East street, last night, will go back to the same place tonight, and get a can of baking powder and a bucket of lard which he overlooked, he will be provided with board at the cost of the city until the snow is gone. The theft of the flour was reported to the police this morning.

The subject of the mikado reported to Mr. Hegney that he had given Harris the coin to have it changed. Harris, he said, changed the coin from the pocket of the Japanese to his own, and kept the change.

GERMANY MAY BECOME A FACTOR.

That She May Side With Russia Causes Considerable Apprehension in England.

WANTS RUSSIA'S FRIENDSHIP.

Japanese Troops Not Landed at Port Arthur—Alexieff's Silence Explained.

New York, Feb. 13.—Possible action by Germany is regarded here as a factor in the far eastern situation and is causing some apprehension, cables the London correspondent of the Herald.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, already quoted as having cabled that he had information on "unimpeachable authority for stating that if the fortunes of war prove adverse to Russia a diversion which may lead to far reaching results, is confidently expected from Germany," further says:

"Already proposals are affirmed to have been made by the chief of that state, which, if accepted, will considerably complicate matters."

The German government will support Russia diplomatically in any action taken to bring the alleged evacuation of Wei Hai Wei before The Hague tribunal.

"Germany's fixed resolution is to win back Russia's friendship," the dispatch concludes, "but the proposals which have emanated from Berlin are definite and concrete and, if accepted, are likely to interest Europe more keenly in the far eastern war."

JAP TROOPS NOT LANDED.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—The Associated Press is authorized to deny the report that Japanese troops had landed at Port Arthur with the loss of two regiments. Nothing is known here officially regarding the movements of the Vladivostok squadron, but the reports that it had sunk Japanese transports of war and destroyed Hakodate are generally discredited. It being pointed out that it is impossible for the squadron to have been in two places almost simultaneously. A naval expert says that if the Hakodate story is true, Admiral Stokelberg (in command of the Vladivostok squadron), will be able to come south by the eastern coast of Japan and cause enormous havoc along the shore and to shipping and ultimately effect a junction with Admiral Virenius' squadron on its way to the far east from Europe.

The viceroys Alexieff's silence about the Vladivostok squadron is explained as follows:

"For strategic reasons the viceroys, as commander-in-chief, is empowered to dispose of the ships and men without consulting headquarters. The enumeration of the Russian ships engaged at Port Arthur was purposely omitted in the official reports as it would have given a valuable clue to the enemy."

JAP WARSHIP SUNK.

A private telegram has been received from a resident of Port Arthur in which the sender claims he saw one Japanese warship sink. The fact that no mention was made of this in the viceroys' dispatches does not disprove the story, because the viceroys is careful not to announcing anything outside of personally established facts. It is pointed out on high authority that the Japanese are not likely to admit such a loss and it is recalled that during the Chinese war they were most secretive about the casualties. The telegraph line between Port Arthur and the Yalu river is believed to be broken which explains the absence of direct news regarding the naval engagement of Chemulpo. However, little doubt is entertained here as to the fate of the Varig and Korletz.

The blowing up of the Russian torpedo transport Yenisei as the result of accidentally striking a mine at Port Arthur was telegraphed here yesterday, but the news was not given until the names of the officers killed were known so as to avoid needless anxiety to the relatives of the surviving officers.

According to the Novoe Vremya the Yenisei was laying mines at the entrance of Talien Wan bay with the object of closing it against attack from the sea. Observing that one of the mines had risen to the surface the Yenisei approached for the purpose of lifting it up when the vessel came in contact with another mine which exploded and caused the disaster.

The first feeling of depression is disappearing and entire confidence expressed in the ultimate success of the Russian arms.

A distinguished Russian said:

"The silent reverses which we sustained at the outset have had a good effect. The Russians no longer despise the enemy. That was a mistake which we made. The Japanese certainly are excellent fighters who will be treated with the respect they deserve."

SALT LAKE IMPROVEMENTS.

He Denies That He is Leaving Union Pacific for the Erie as Reported.

J. B. Berry, consulting engineer of the Oregon Short Line and chief engineer of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Omaha, Neb., arrived in this city last night with General Manager Bancroft. Mr. Berry spent today in consultation with Resident Engineer Ashton at Short Line headquarters, going over the plans for the contemplated improvements in Salt Lake, as previously outlined, and on the Short Line system generally. When asked relative to the story sent out by the Associated Press to the effect that he had resigned from the Union Pacific to take a similar position with the Erie, Mr. Berry said that it was all news to him and that there was nothing in it.

TROUBLE ON S. P.

Snowsheds Near Truckee Reported to Have been Broken Down.

There is trouble on the Southern Pacific west of Truckee, Cal., with the result that all trains have been annulled pending the clearing of the track. From dispatches received in this city from the Salt Lake City office it is learned that snow sheds have been stalled for 15 hours. One report is to the effect that a tunnel has caved in and a stretch of snowsheds in the vicinity of Truckee is burning. Another report is to the effect that the Salt Lake visitors were snowed out of the city. The clearing of snow is a big section of snow sheds has collapsed, completely blocking traffic. To add to the trouble the wires have been down and nothing has come through since last night.

Sacramento, Feb. 13.—The blockade of the Central Pacific Railroad between this city and Truckee is reported to be serious. Snowsheds have been broken down by heavy snow at several points, and it will require many hours to clear the track. Eastbound passengers are halted here, and westbound trains are at Reno and Truckee.

Billie Club Special Hits a Switch Engine and Cars in Yards.

(Special to the "News.") Ogdren, Feb. 13.—A head-on collision occurred last evening in the depot yards in this city. A Rio Grande Western special train, bringing about 75 members of the Billie club and their ladies to Ogdren for the dance last evening, collided with a switch engine and several cars. Fortunately the passenger train was only traveling at about 10 miles an hour, otherwise the wreck might have been much more serious. The fireman which was being pushed ahead of the switch engine was struck with sufficient force to break it in two, splintering the wood work. The engine on the passenger train was quite badly damaged and the passengers in

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

Take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost to you is $5.50. If it fails the druggist will bill the cost to me. And I leave the decision to you.

Don't Wait Until You Are Worse

Taken in time, the suffering of this little one would have been prevented. Her mother writes me:

"Two years ago my little girl was sick continuously for six months. We tried many doctors, and they failed, yet it took only two bottles of your remedy to cure her, and she has remained cured. You can tell others of this cure if you so desire."

Mrs. C. H. AVERY, Rockdale, N. Y.

"It is a pity she did not first write me, before the case was so serious."

The wife of Omar Andrus of Bayou Chico, La., had been sick for 20 years. For 8 years could do practically no work. He writes:

"When she first started taking the Restorative she barely weighed 90 pounds; now she weighs 135, and is able easily to do all her housework."

Twenty "dark" years might have been "bright" ones.

J. G. Billingsley of Thomasville, Ga., for three years has been crippled with disease. Now he is well. He writes:

"I spent $200.00 for other medicines, and the $3.00 I have spent with you have done me more good than all the rest."

Both money and suffering might have been saved. These letters—dozens of them—come every day to me.

How much serious illness the Restorative has prevented, I have no means of knowing for the slightly ill and the ill-sloped simply get a bottle or two of your druggist are cured, and I never hear from them.

But of 60,000 sick ones—seriously sick, mind you—who asked for my guarantee, 50 out of each 10 have paid. Paid because they got well.

If I can succeed in cases like these—fall but one time in 40, in disease deep-seated and chronic—last I certain I can always cure the slightly ill?

Why The Restorative Succeeds

You may oil and rub, adjust and repair a weak engine. It will never be stronger nor do its work better, without steam. More power—more steam is necessary.

And so with the vital organs. Doctor them as you will. That's mere repairing. Permanent cures never come save through treating the nerves that operate those organs.

And that my Restorative does.

After almost a lifetime of labor—of study at bedside and research in hospitals—I made this discovery. I found a way to treat, not the organs themselves, but the nerves—the inside nerves—that operate those organs and gives them power and strength and health. That discovery has shown me the way to cure.

It makes my offer possible.

I know the remedy. I never forget the study, all the research, the trials and tests that perfected it. I have watched its action year after year in cases difficult, discouraging. Time after time I have seen it bring back health to those poor ones whom hope had almost deserted. I know what it will do.

My only problem is to convince you.

And so I make my offer. And the bare fact that I make such an offer ought of itself to convince you. My way may be his only way to get well. Please read it again. It means exactly what I say. No catch—no misleading phrases in it. Simply this—you take the medicine and I will take the risk.

And you—not I—decide if you are to pay.

All You Need To Do

Simply sign the above—that is all. Ask for the book you need. The offer I make is broad—is liberal. The way is easy—is simple. The Restorative is certain.

But do not misunderstand me.

This is not free treatment, with nothing ever to pay. Such an offer would be misleading—would be the physician who made it. But I believe in a sick man's gratitude. That when he is cured, he will pay the cost of the treatment—and gladly.

I make this offer so that those who might doubt, may learn at my risk.

Tell of it, please, to a friend who is sick. Or send me a postal. He is your friend. You can minute him. My way may be his only way to get well.

I, a stranger, offer to do all this. Won't you, his friend, his neighbor, simply write?

He will learn from my book a way to get well. Perhaps, as I say, the only way for him. His case may be serious—hopeless—almost. Other physicians—other specialists, may have failed. The matter is urgent, then.

Write me a postal or sign above today.
