Preliminary Hearing of Two Alleged Hold-Ups Being Held.

ARE THEY THE GUILTY MEN?

Deny Strongly That They Are-Story Of Rough Treatment-Case to be Resumed This Afternoon.

The preliminary hearing of Joseph McGuire and Frank Cline, the two young men arrested on the morning of Sept. 22 on the charge of holding up and robbing Ed. Crockett on the night before, was taken up before Judge Tanner this morning.

Asst.-County-Atty. Loofbourow prosecuted the case and the accused were represented by Atty. Wanless.

The first witness was the complainant, Crockett. He testified that on the night of Sept. 21, at 11:30 o'clock, on Sixth South and Fifth west, he was re-turning to his home and was walking on the railroad track, when two men accosted him and asked for a match. As he turned to give the match, one of the men shoved a gun in his face and or-dered him to throw up his hands. He did so and the other robber took a watch and $1 from his pocket. Crockett said neither of the men wore a mask. The man who held the gun was light com-plexioned and wore a black Derby hat. The man who took the watch had on a light hat and was dark complexioned. Crockett identified McGuire as the man who held the gun, and Cline as the one who took his watch and money. He was positive they were the men, as they were only about 25 feet from a street lamp. The men had their coat collars turned up and their hats pulled down over their faces. On cross-examination, Crockett said he knew the time was 11:30 because he looked at his watch at 11:25, when he was a block away from the scene of the holdup. The complainant said he had been visiting on Post street. He was absolutely certain that the men at bar were the holdups.

Officer Parry, who arrested the de-fendants, testified to that fact, and also rendants, testified to that fact, and also that Cline said he had been down to Liberty Park to see some ladies. He told Parry that he roomed at the Taylor House. The officer said McGuire could not tell where he had been. In describing their clothing, Parry coroborated the testimony of the complainant.

The state then rested its case and Wanless had the police record brought into court to fix the time of the hold up. The record disclosed the time as Cline was placed on the stand and testified that for the past seven win-ters he has been a student of All Hallows' college. He denied all knowledge of the crime. He said he and Mc-Guire visited some girls on the night of the hold up and later went to a house on Commercial street, to the Lone Star gambling house, played cards until about 2 o'clock and then the two went to the Comstock saloon where they were arrested.

On cross-examination Cline got a bit tangled, and when asked about an in with a Herald reporter, ad mitted that some of his purported statements were correctly reported while others were not. The further examination of Cline disclosed the fact that Cline's request to have certain persons brought to see him was granted by the officers but that the offi-cers taughed at him. Other parts of the Herald story which related to the alleged abuse heaped upon him by the officers, were denied by Cline, he ad-mitted saying that Gillespie told him his name was pot Cline, that he was his name was not Cline, that he was not from Colorado and had been a hold up before. He said he had repeatedly asked for telegraph blanks and writing paper, but it was refused him. He admitted he had never made any apadmitted he had never made any appeal to the court for protection. He declared it was a fact that when he asked for counsel it was refused him. Cline said that in the early part of the week Jailer Kimball told him that he could not have a lawyer nor any writing material. When it came to the question as to where he had been stopping since he came here in August. Cline said he had roomed at a dozen different places. He could only name three or four places.

At the conclusion of the cross-ex-amination the case was continued until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Proposition to Keep Cattle Out of Emigration for All Time. Land and Water Commissioner Fisher is having notices printed for distribution among the stockmen who have been grazing stock in Emigration canyen, notifying them that the canyon will be closed for all time against the the same. Such action is taken in order to protect the city's watershed. It is claimed by Mr. Fisher that a great deal of the scarlet fever of this city is due to the water in the city's pipes having been contaminated in the mountain streams by sheep which are often times diseased.

It is the intention of the land and water commissioner to serve the no ticese on the sheepmen as they return from the mountains with their herds for the winter, and the rule will be strictly enforced at the opening of the season next spring and no stock will

A QUESTION OF HAY.

E. J. Jackson Will Have a Chance to Explain.

Early this morning, E. J. Jackson, who has been employed by Walker Brothers, was arrested and taken to the police station, where he now remains in the Desk Sergeant's office. There has been no charge booked against Jackson but it is likely he will be charged with grand larceny unless some satisfactory settlement of the case is made out of court. It is alleged that Jackson had a large quantity of hay in his possession belonging to the Walkers, but that he appropriated the hay to his own use. Jackson claims that he did not steal the hay and that he can give a satisfactory explanation of the

NEW LETTER DISTRICTS.

Outlined by Superintendent Slade at Instance of Postmaster.

The new letter carriers' delivery districts in this city have just been laid out by Supt. Slade in accordance with the plans of Postmaster Thomas for the further improvement of the postoffice service in this city, and made possible by the increase in the force of earriers, as the postmaster recommended some as the postmaster recommended some months ago. The districts are: District 42—Seventh South to Ninth South streets, and Third East to Eighth East streets—giving earlier and quicker service than before in that section of the town; District 34—First South to East Streets—giving the town; District Streets—giving t Fourth South streets, and Fifth West street to the river-double daily serstreet to the river—double daily service as against one heretofore; District 37—North Temple to South Temple street, and Fourth West to Sixth West streets, and North Temple to First South streets west of Sixth West street to the river; District 40—new business district. the opera had already been seen so many times that it no longer possessed the charm of novelty, and most people probably figured that no matter how charmingly the Tivoli company render-ed Herbert's work, it would still fall considerably below the well remember-ed rendition by the Bostonians. It ed rendition by the Boschala. It might have been the part of the managerial prudence to select something else than "The Serenade" for Salt Lake, but probably the Tivoli people figured that theirs would be the first presentation of the opera at popular prices and they relied on this fact to fill their 'ney relied on this fact to fill their houses. The presentation last night was good throughout, and from the dollar standpoint it was admirable. The hest work was done by the chorus, which in the big number of the opera "The Angelus" was heard to excellent effect and was heartly encored. Miss Myers in Alice Nielson's part of Yvonne, sang and acted well, and Miss Lavis in Jessie Bartlett Davis and Jennie Hawley's part of Dolores was acceptable. A little more life in her action would vastly improve her. The singing hit of the night was again made by Arthur Cunningham, the baritone who was better than anyone in the original Bostonian cast. Mr. Hartman es the duke, provoked the usual amount of laughter. The others in the cast were the singing was better than the acting.

Tonight "The Serenade" will be repeated and tomorrow night the en gagement ends with "The Idol's Eye." At the Grand last night "Thelma" wound up its engagement before a heavy audience. "Finnigan's Ball" one of the wildly ludicrous farce comedies of the day, introducing the come-dians Gallager and Barrett opens an engagement of three night and a Satur-day matinee tonight.

SUBMITTED FOR ARBITRATION

Novel Case Referred for Adjudication in Court Today.

A PEACEABLE ADJUSTMENT.

Is Between Dr. J. S. Richards and Joseph F. Smith, the Laster as Trustee in Trust of the Church.

A matter of rare occurrence in court circles was the submission to arbitration today of the case of Joseph S. Richards vs Joseph F. Smith, trustee in trust for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The agreement of submission, in accordance with chapter 40; title 72, of the Revised Statutes of Utah, 1898, was filed today in the district court, and sets out that plaintiff claims that defendant is indebted to him in the sum of $55,500 as damages for failure to carry out a certain agreement made between plain-tiff and the late Bishop Edward Hunter in regard to the purchase and sale of a certain piece of land.

No complaint was flied in the action No complaint was filed in the action at all, but both parties merely agree to submit the matter to four disinterested persons for arbitration, with privilege in said four persons to select a fifth arbitrator if they so desire. L. S. Hills and James Sharp, on behalf of plaintiff, and W. W. Riter and John R. Barnes, on behalf of defendant, are the whiterers character by the parties to arbitrators chosen by the parties to the suit and are named as such in the greement of submission. The parties to the suit agree that the arbitrators are to hear the evidence and determine the cause, and the judgment of the majority of them shall be binding and final upon the parties to the action. It is also stipulated that this agreement shall be entered as an order of the district court .

COURT NOTES.
