

COUNT CASSINI SEES SECY. HAY.

The Growing Ill Feeling of Russia Towards America Was Theme Of Conference.

ENQUIRED ABOUT CUAM CABLE.

Gave no Intimation of How His Government Regarded the Proposition.

Washington, March 1.—An important conference lasting more than an hour occurred between Secy. Hay and Count Cassini today. The growing ill-feeling in Russia against Americans and the continued attacks of certain portions of the American press upon Russia were the main subjects discussed.

Count Cassini also informally inquired about the report that the Commercial Cable company had applied for landing privileges at Guam for a cable from that island to Japan. He was assured by Mr. Hay that this government at present was considering no such application. The ambassador did not give any intimation as to what the attitude of his government would be in this matter. The Associated Press dispatches from St. Petersburg, however, have stated that the Russian government would view askance the granting of such privileges by this government, and it is assumed that this government has declined for the present to consider such an application. To a correspondent of the Associated Press Count Cassini said that the Russian people long since had learned to regard the people of this country as their natural enemies, and that it had been a bitter disappointment to them to find American newspapers attacking the Russian government, the Russian people and Russian policies.

He said the ambassador, "as a consequence of the tone of many American newspapers is beginning to take a very painful direction in their references to the United States, and in my opinion it is in the interest of both countries that some measure shall be taken to check this before it is too late."

"Fortunately the relations of the two governments continue, as always, absolutely friendly, and for this reason I am hopeful that the present unfriendly attitude of the press of the two countries will not be lasting. The friendliness of the American and Russian governments, it is my belief, furnishes the basis for the restoration and preservation of the traditional friendship of their two peoples, and I hope some means may be found for the latter to reach a better understanding."

"What is the cause of the present unfriendly policy of the Russian press toward this country?" the ambassador was asked.

He responded: "It is the constant unfriendly feeling expressed in many American newspapers against Russia. I am sure that when these attacks, which, so far as Russia can see, are without cause, end, the relations of Russia and the United States will no longer be clouded."

"I am convinced of this because a careful analysis of the criticism expressed in this country fails to show any real ground for the bad feeling which evidently prompts them. My people naturally cannot understand these attacks upon Russia, and have asked in all their papers the reason for them. For example, one reason which ate the twenty-first anniversary of the inauguration in this country of postgraduate medical instruction, and to honored Dr. St. John Roosa, president of the postgraduate hospital in this city and a pioneer worker on behalf of the form of practical education it affords the medical profession.

Dr. William Osier of the Johns Hopkins university, who attended Senator Hanna, spoke on the need of postgraduate instruction for specialists. He said several improvements are necessary to medical instruction in this country to answer its purpose.

The third and fourth year medical students should have the right to pursue their studies in the hospitals and faculty equipment is needed for the postgraduate schools. He also urged the necessity of reciprocity between the various state boards to obviate the need of a physician moving from one state to another undergoing a separate examination each time.

"The fourth improvement needed is a merger in medicine," said Dr. Osier.
"We should look forward to a contin-gental union and unification of medical teaching. At the present time we are wasting too much money duplicating expensive teaching plants. I have no doubt that 50 years from now there will be only one great institution for the technical teaching of medicine with all practical instruction given in the various hospitals."

Dr. William W. Keen of Philadelphia spoke of the "necessity for increased endowment for medical institutions." He called attention to the fact that the endowment for theological schools amounts to $2,500 for each student of theology, while the endowment for medical schools amounts to only $83 per student.

A Son Shoots His Father.

New York, March 2.—Angered by the sight of his father knocking his aged mother down when she attempted to stop him from smoking in his home at Wood Haven, L. I., Theodore Schrainer, 19 years old, has probably fatally shot his father. Smoke from the latter's pipe has caused Mrs. Schrainer to cough violently, and now she lies helpless in bed, while the son, who was with her, is being followed, which led to the shooting.

CANADIAN DEFENSE.

The First Line Will Consist of One Hundred Thousand Men.

Ottawa, Ont., March 2.—The military department has handed out a statement of the new establishment for national defense. The first line of defense will consist of 100,000 men, of which 46,043 will be the peace establishment and the remainder of the establishment. A sufficient number of officers are to be trained with this line of defense to furnish officers for a second line of defense of another 100,000 men if required.

All the officers and men of the first line are divided into two classes—those engaging for both peace and war service, who will be paid and be liable for training in peace, and those engaging for war service only.

W. J. POMEROY ARRESTED.

He Used the Word "National" in An Illegal Manner.

Chicago, March 2.—W. J. Pomeroy, who is said to have conducted a mail order business under the name of "The International Bank," has been arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas Middleton on the charge of using the word "national" illegally. Pomero's scheme involves the selling of "bonds" on a sort of endless chain system, which he says is legitimate.

VENEZUELAN MINISTER.

General Hernandez Recalled for Political Reasons.

New York, March 2.—Gen. Hernandez ("El Mocho"), Venezuelan minister to the United States, has been recalled for political reasons, according to a Herald dispatch from Port of Spain, Trinidad.

It is stated here that the Venezuelan legation in Washington will be closed because President Castro has stopped the salary of Minister Hernandez who, however, has not been recalled. This is said to have been brought about through a letter to the fiscal agents here of the Venezuelan government instructing them not to pay the general's salary as heretofore on the first of each month.

Augusto F. Pulido, who has been secretary of the legation for several years, suffers only half as much as his chief, for he is to continue in his present office at $230 a month instead of $460.

Nicholas Hernandez, a son of the general, who is an under-secretary, has already secured other employment in Philadelphia.

Up to last summer Venezuela had been without a minister at Washington during four years. Pulido reported the interests of the republic as secretary, with headquarters in a Washington boarding house.

J. D. O'HAIRE RESTRAINED.

Judge Seeds Grants an Injunction on J. F. Burns' Petition.

Colorado Springs, March 2.—Judge Seeds in the district court has granted James F. Burns, the prominent mining man, a permanent injunction against J. D. O'Haire, restraining the latter from prosecuting in the courts of Pottawatomie county, Ia., a suit for $300,- 000. O'Haire's attorneys claim that the local court had no jurisdiction in the matter but the court decided that both parties being citizens of Colorado he could restrain one from suing the other in another state if the grounds justified.
O'Haire sued for damages charging that Burns had defrauded him in the original deal in regard to the Portland mine at Cripple Creek.

O'Haire, James Doyle, Burns and J.

J. O'Driscoll were prospectors together at the time the great Portland mine was discovered. All three have at different times sued Burns, charging fraudulent action in the filing of the papers showing the location of the mine. The suit started by O'Haire in Iowa is a repetition of suits filed and tried in the courts of Colorado. It is alleged. An appeal to the state court of appeals has been taken.

Will Ship Gold to Argentina.

New York, March 2.—Arrangements have been completed by Muller, Schall & Co., for the shipment of $500,000 in American gold coin to Buenos Ayres, Argentina. The gold will go forward by Saturday's steamer. Whether the engagement of this gold marks the commencement of a general movement such as took place last year, or is a special transaction is not yet apparent.
One report is to the effect that it represents part of the purchase price from Japan for the two Argentine cruisers purchased at Genoa, Italy some time since.

TYPEWRITER PROGRESS.

All history goes to prove that there is a limit in development in any one direction, and that when this limit is reached further progress comes through a radical departure from that line. The Oliver Typewriter has aroused exceptional and widespread interest because of two things, first—its individuality, which is a decided departure from that of former machines, and second—the unparalleled success which it has met with, for the Oliver sales record has never been equalled.

For the past half century typewriter mechanics and inventors have been endeavoring to improve upon the old style inventors all over the world have been endeavoring to improve upon the old style inventors all over the efforts in most cases have merely resulted in slight modifications of the original lines they would have been made long ago by some of the companies which have been on the market for a score of years.

That it is an advantage to see what one is doing while doing it, is a well-known fact, and no amount of sophistry will convince the intelligent operator that it is better to have the writing out of sight. On the Oliver typewriter the position without lifting of carriage or comparison of scales.

The price of a machine is also a consideration. Not being in the "Trust" the Oliver costs less than others. The many time-shortening devices which it possesses are the result of simplicity in construction, mechanical progress in design and manufacture, and the important feature of visible writing. These advantages have given to the Oliver the proud title of the STANDARD VISIBLE WRITER.

WOMANLY STRENGTH

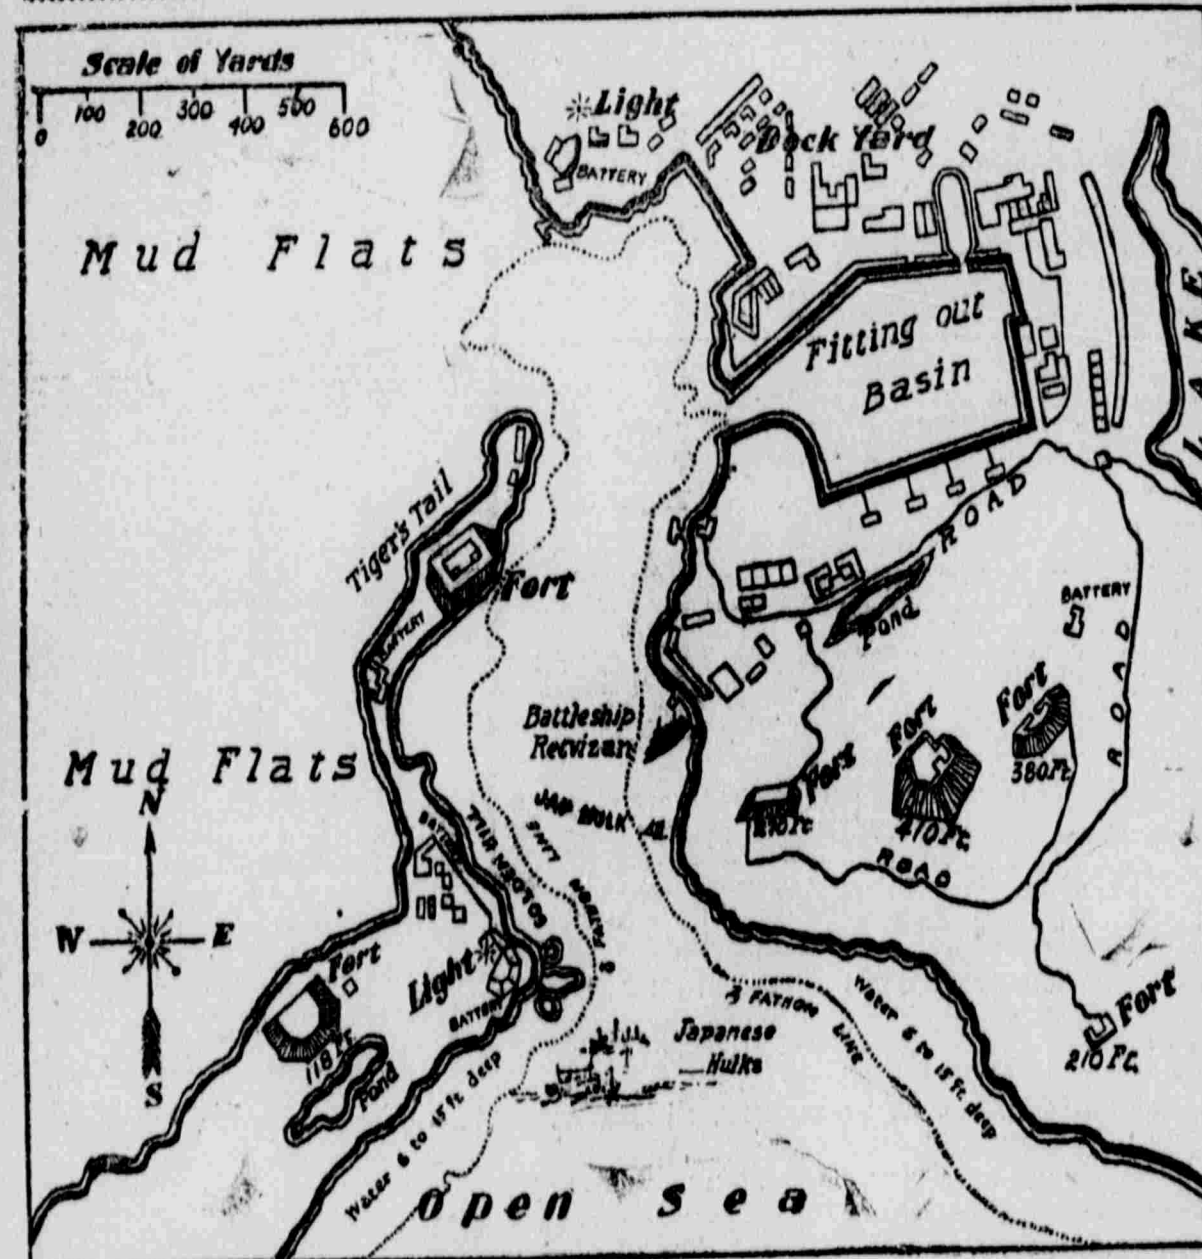

Last Spring I found that I was all run down from overwork and weakness, and soon found that I would have to take a vacation or find something to brace me up. Each month I would have very bad pains, with sick headache and backache. I began to look careworn and sorrow. A friend who was visiting me from the East advised me to try Wine of Cardui, and I took a bottle which she had with her and then purchased two more bottles. I soon found that was all that I needed to restore my strength and I did not have to discontinue my work. I now take a few doses every time I feel worn out and tired, and it is all I need.

THE ENTRANCE TO PORT ARTHUR, SHOWING WHERE THE JAPANESE HULKS WERE SUNK
BY THE RUSSIAN FIRE.

The entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur is less than 1,000 feet in width, with high bluffs on each side, sloping sharply toward the sea. These bluffs are strongly fortified, the higher one being surmounted at its topmost point by a fortress having an elevation of 410 feet. On each side of this main fortification is a smaller fort, one being 380 feet above sea level while the other, which overlooks the channel, is 270 feet in elevation. On the west side of the channel is a large fortress with an elevation of 118 feet, while close to the shore is a small fort, surmounted with a lighthouse. These forts all stand within two or three hundred yards of the seashore and command an unobstructed sweep of the sea.

has been advanced is that this country is displeased that Russia was unable to evacuate Manchuria last October.
It was the earnest hope of my government that it would be possible to withdraw its troops from Manchuria at that time. The necessity of safeguarding our peculiar and predominant position there, a position which has been recognized by all the powers, made it impossible for the evacuation to take place with safety. This, in plain words, is the reason why it has been impossible for the evacuation to take place.

"There have been examples—and it is not necessary for me to specify—where a nation in good faith has declared its intention to evacuate a region and has been obliged by unforeseen conditions to postpone the fulfillment of those intentions. The Russian people, knowing the situation in Manchuria; knowing, furthermore, that the avowed, prime and sole interest of the United States in that province is commercial, and that the government of Russia has given to all the powers, including the United States, the most positive assurance that their commercial rights will be protected and safeguarded, whatever emergency may arise, are unable to explain the continued attacks of certain American newspapers against Russia because she has been unable with safety to effect an evacuation.

"It is tradition in Russia to feel friendly to America. Hundreds of Russians returning from Russia have told me of the marked kindness with which they have been received in all parts of my country, and of the friendship of which they saw evidence on every side for the United States. These travelers who have had the opportunity to study the situation on the spot are deeply impressed with the sincerity of this feeling, not only on the part of the people of Russia, but the government as well.

"It is believed that a feeling of disappointment has swept over Russia when American newspapers have attacked the people in a bitter manner.

"I have been repeatedly assured by the officials that it is the earnest wish of this government that the old traditional friendship between Russia and the United States in the interest of the two peoples should not be disturbed. I have the best assurance that this government will observe complete neutrality in the far eastern war. Indeed, its attitude has in this respect been all that either belligerent could desire, and Russia has no doubt that it will continue absolutely correct.
"Russia does not expect, now war is on, that this country shall be anything more than neutral. My country does not ask that you should be pro-Russian and not pro-Japanese, but that you should be pro-American. She expects, and I can but hope that she will receive fair treatment at the hands of the American press, as you say in this country, a fair showing. One of the reasons for the present unfortunate situation is the large number of absolutely false reports which have been sent to Russia from the United States about matters affecting the far eastern situation.

These reports have contributed much in arousing sentiment against the United States. True, they have been corrected, but unfortunately a correction never reaches as many people as do the original reports.

"I have spoken with you frankly, in the hope that something might be accomplished toward the clearing of the situation."

Miss Clara Barton, president of the American Red Cross, called at the Russian embassy today and offered the services of the society to the Russian government. The ambassador expressed the thanks of his government for the kindly offer, but said that outside aid would not be needed in view of the effective work of the Russian Red Cross society.

JAPAN AND UNITED STATES.

Chicago, March 2.—Eko Hioki, first secretary of the Japanese legation at Washington, and Toshiro Kudo, of the Yokohama Specie bank, have arrived at Chicago enroute from Yokohama to Washington. Secy. Hioki was one of the Japanese commissioners who drew up the treaty between China and Japan at Shanghai last fall which, like the treaty with China, provided for the opening of the ports of Mukden, An-tung and Tungkuo.

On many points the Japanese government and the United States seem agreed," said the diplomat. "They are united on the open door policy and the integrity of China. Japan and the United States would suffer most from the acquisition of parts of China by Russia. The Russian policy in Manchuria seems to be to exclude all other nations.

"The impression among my people is that the government did not go to war quickly enough. They clamored for it long before hostilities began. The people will do all in their power to support the government. Even the school children are helping to provide funds for carrying on the war."

PHYSICIANS CELEBRATE

Inauguration of Postgraduate Medical Instruction.

New York, March 2.—More than 300 physicians, among whom were eminent practitioners and men connected with institutions of medical learning from almost every state east of the Mississippi and some from beyond, have attended a dinner here to commemo-
