

The steamer was loading at the time, and the donkey falls gave way, letting a lot of lumber fall on Morley, who was crushed to the deck. When rescued, it was found that his right leg was broken in two places, the bones of his right arm were crushed and his scalp was laid open by a severe cut. It is believed he also sustained severe internal injuries.

Ever since Pedro Vinaly attempted to murder Florini Poirior last Tuesday afternoon for a supposed affront to his young son, threats of lynching have been rife at Clousa, Cal. A plan to seize and hang the prisoner, who is hovering between life and death in jail, was arranged Thursday night. At 11 o'clock a large number of citizens gathered at the city hall, but lacking a leader they dispersed at 3 o'clock this (Friday) morning.

Newdy Smith, a colored man, attempted to board an Oregon Short Line train at Monida, Montana, Thursday morning, when his heel caught and he was thrown between the rails. The force of his fall caused a fracture of the skull, broke his left leg and injured his right knee. The injury to the head proved fatal in a few hours. Smith formerly lived in Ogden, and later moved to Denver. He was going to Anaconda to secure employment.

A new method for packing and shipping potatoes is being employed by the farmers of Monterey county, Cal., and is meeting with unexpected results. The old-fashioned sack method has been abandoned for the boxes. The tubers are firmly packed in boxes and covered. This method prevents decay by the possible bruising of the product. The commission men sell them rapidly, and they bring 25 cents more a hundred pounds than do sacked potatoes.

Miss Florine Perler, the young lady shot at Colusa, Cal., on Tuesday, by Pedro Vinaly, who afterward attempted to commit suicide, was resting nicely Wednesday afternoon and the doctors entertain some hope for her recovery. The would-be murderer is also resting easily, and the doctors say his wounds are not necessarily fatal. Sheriff Jones has increased the jail guard, fearing mob violence should the young lady die. The cause of the shooting appears to be that the man, who is a low Mexican, was desperately in love with the girl and resolved that she must die with him.

Fruit Inspector Palmer and members of the horticultural board at Victoria, B. C., are very much in evidence on the arrival of steamers from San Francisco and other vessels bringing in fruit, and lately much fruit, pears in particular, has been condemned by them. On the steamer Walla Walla, which arrived on Sunday, there were many boxes of pears consigned to the local dealers which they condemned. On the arrival of the last steamer from San Francisco 185 boxes of pears infected in this way were pronounced bad.

The steamer Umatilla sailed from San Francisco on Wednesday, for the north, with about forty prospectors destined for the gold fields of Alaska. Several incidents combined to delay her departure for some hours later than that advertised. In the first place, an incipient fire was discovered among the passengers' baggage, some acids in the valise of a Youngstown, O., newspaper man having caused the destruction of its contents and caused a scare. Then Detective Egan appeared and arrested M. W. Bishop of Los Angeles upon a warrant charging him with leaving the state for the purpose of defrauding his creditors. Shortly afterwards Detective Wren arrested J. M. Worth upon a warrant charging him with having obtained a sum of money from A. M. Shields, manager of the Equitable Life Insurance company, upon a worthless check drawn upon the Los Angeles National bank. Among the passengers are twenty-three prospectors from Los Angeles, who were to have sailed upon the Casper. The Umatilla will connect with the City of Topeka at Port Townsend.

Kansas City Packer says of the future outlook: Now we are fairly well started in what everyone expects will be an era of commercial activity. The demand for products of the farm, including meats and most products, will increase with better times and under natural conditions such products are bound to advance in value, unless there is an oversupply. Possibilities of an oversupply are not bothering people who are aware of the existing conditions regarding livestock. With a continuation of present conditions, so far as consumption of products is concerned, there will be money in feeding cattle. But there is another matter in this connection that concerns the farmer who raises corn either for his own feed lot or for the feed lot of a neighbor cattle feeder. This year's corn crop over the West will be nearly as large as that of last season. If there should be a decrease in the feeding of cattle, what is the farmer to do with his corn crop? At the present price of corn most farmers find it unprofitable to raise corn for the direct return it will make when sold on the market. On the other hand if each farmer feeds some cattle, hogs or sheep he can use his own corn, and even though he should not make much out of his cattle feeding in a direct way, his condition at the end of the season will be better. The corn he raised will have made him a good return on the capital and labor invested.

The wheat bug is a lively insect these days.

OBITUARY NOTES

MARY HALL.

Died at Enterprise, Morgan Co., Utah, July 5th, 1897, Mary Hall, wife of Bishop J. K. Hall. Deceased was born Feb. 28th, 1826, in the town of Sheffield, England, and was the daughter of John and Mary Spencer. The family was of high social standing, her father being an extensive manufacturer of steel, files and cutlery; was one of the past master cutlers of the Honorable and Ancient Company of Cutlers; deceased was brought up a Wesleyan Methodist; she first heard the Gospel, as taught by the Latter-day Saints, through a domestic servant in her father's household, and embraced it in the year 1848, much to the displeasure of the family. She, however, remained firm to her convictions. She was married to J. K. Hall, Christmas day, 1849, and four daughters were born to her in England, one dying in infancy; she emigrated to Utah with her husband and three children in the year 1863, arriving at Salt Lake City Oct. 13 the same year, the journey taking eighteen weeks to accomplish. The family resided in the Fifteenth ward for eleven years, and in the fall of 1874 removed to Enterprise, Morgan Co. Deceased had one son and one daughter born to her in Salt Lake City. She filled the position of president of the Enterprise Ladies Relief Society for a period extending over fifteen years, during which she gained the love and esteem of her sisters, both old and young, and died a faithful Latter-day Saint, leaving a husband, one son, three daughters and five grand children to mourn her departure, one married daughter having died in Enterprise thirteen years ago. Her remains now lie sleeping in the little rural cemetery at Enterprise awaiting the resurrection of the just.

A large number of people followed the remains to the cemetery and the young ladies walked in pairs carrying flowers which they laid upon the casket and the grave. The funeral services were very impressive. Elders Francis, Stuart, Croft, Heiner and Haven spoke words of sympathy and comfort to the bereaved and mourning family, who now realize that one is taken from them for a while, who was a loving, faithful wife, a kind and affectionate mother and a true friend to all.

ROSA HALE.

Gentile Valley, Aug. 15, 1897.—I drop a few lines to inform you of the death of our loving sister, Rosa, daughter of Alma H. and Ellen Clark Hale, old residents of Grantsville, Tooele county. Deceased Rosa was born at Grantsville, Dec. 28, 1876, and resided there the first ten years of her life, when she moved with the family to Gentile Valley. She was ever faithful in all her labors, until the last two years, during which time her health has been poor. While she did not murmur of her weak condition, we believe she suffered, and every care was given her. On Sunday, the 8th, she came over to my place to visit a week. On the morning of the 12th she arose and prepared for breakfast, but not feeling well she went back and lay down. In a few hours she became unconscious and lay as though she was sleeping until the next morning at five minutes to seven, when she breathed her last. Funeral services were held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock; nearly all the people of the valley assembled to pay the last tribute of respect. Elders M. F. Cowley and S. H. Hale were the main speakers.
