

WHITENASHED OCEIL RHODES.

Hon. P. J. Stanhope Ready to Substantiate His Charges.

PERSONNEL OF NEW CABINET

Will be Much the Same as the Present One—Salisbury is Uncommunicative.

London, Oct. 6.—As a conservative majority daily becomes more and more assured speculation as to the personnel of the next cabinet grows rife and all sorts of guesses are published. None of these, however, seem inspired. All take it for granted that sweeping changes will be made but this conclusion, the Associated Press learns, is unjustified. The facts are that Lord Salisbury, always uncommunicative, has not broken the habit of his life for the benefit of close friends or even fellow cabinet members, but from a peer, high in conservative councils, the Associated Press learns that the make-up of the next cabinet will be so similar to that of its predecessor that it will come as a startling surprise.

WAR OFFICE PORTFOLIO.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, who, next to Mr. Chamberlain, is the object of more attacks than any other cabinet member, can have the war office portfolio again if he desires and he probably will accept it as he has implicit belief in Lord Roberts and is anxious to co-operate with him in reforms which he has been contemplating for some time but would not commence with Lord Wolseley, the late commander-in-chief and General Sir Evelyn Wood, the adjutant general with whom his relations are greatly strained.

SALISBURY TO BE PREMIER.

Lord Salisbury will resume the premiership and the foreign office portfolio, at least everything he has said to his fellow members of the cabinet points to his going so. Probably the only really important change will be in the admiralty for which the Rt. Hon. Robert William Hamilton is being favorably considered, though Lord George Hamilton, who formerly was at the head of the admiralty could have the portfolio again but he prefers to remain at the head of the Indian office.

ATTACKS ON CHAMBERLAIN.

The vigorous personal attacks upon Mr. Chamberlain continue and seem to further bitter the already bitter defeat of the Liberal Unionists. The Hon. P. J. Stanhope's reverse at Burnley, construed by the conservatives as a direct rebuke for his bitter denunciations of Mr. Chamberlain, has been taken as evidence of his attitude, retorting that he is ready to prove in the courts that Mr. Chamberlain only "whitewashed" Cecil Rhodes in the house of commons because another member had taken to his pocket the incriminating Mr. Chamberlain with the raid. This member, though not named by Mr. Stanhope, the Associated Press learns is Mr. Abel Thomas, a Liberal who represented East Carmarthenshire in the last parliament.

In the meanwhile Mr. Chamberlain is apparently unmoved and is serenely sending messages to the nation and Europe, the country, trying all his vigor and strong personality into the campaign, in marked contrast with the other cabinet ministers. While Mr. Chamberlain is practically the only interesting figure in the struggle in England, there is in Ireland several men and issues stirring up the country into such a chaotic condition of party lines as has never occurred before and it is expected that the greatest interest will be in the fact that England is so occupied with her own local contests. It is claimed that Mr. Timothy M. Healy has split the Irish party to almost as great a degree as did the late Charles Stewart Parnell and that the bitterness injected into the fight equals that of the historic division. The Freeman's Journal declares that any one who votes for Mr. Healy's candidate is "without an atom of self respect" and describes his campaign as one of "secret calumny and vilification." The paper blames him for the loss of Galway.

Galway has disgraced the national solidarity, broken once more by the treason of renegade home rulers and the flag of the union has been planted in the Shannon.

On the other hand the Dublin Independent supports Mr. Healy and Cardinal Logue has also come out with a declaration in his favor.

CHANGE THEIR COLORS.

As a result of the split Londonderry and Galway have changed their colors and other constituencies are likely to follow suit.

The Duke of Abercorn, whose son, the marquis of Hamilton, ousted Count Moore from Londonderry, said to a representative of the Associated Press: "Frankly, you can say to the Americans, that the people in my part of the country, north, are more prosperous and more thrifty than ever. The Irish channel and lack of coal and many other facilities, are drawbacks to the development of many of our industries. But, everything will come in time and whether Ireland returns an increased or a decreased national majority I believe she will improve commercially. Slowly, perhaps, but surely. So, we may eventually decrease the number of good fishermen who annually go to your side of the water."

Mr. John Parnell, who was so enthusiastically ousted from South Meath, only secured the nomination by recanting his action in presenting the resignation of Dublin to Queen Victoria, on the occasion of her visit to that city. In the following words: "I would sacrifice my official position of sheriff if I ever again had to undergo such a humiliating degradation."

Mr. Parnell was thereupon declared suitable as a member and would have been sent to the house of commons but for the intervention of friends of James Laurence Carew, who was defeated in the contest for the College Green division of Dublin, not only on account of his attending the royal garden party, but because of his support of Mr. Healy. Owing to a technicality, Mr. Carew

GENERAL JOE WHEELER PRAISES PE-RU-NA FOR CATARRH.

JOE WHEELER'S CHARGE AT SAN JUAN HILL.

Major General Joseph Wheeler, commanding the cavalry forces in front of Santiago and the author of "The Santiago Campaign," in speaking of the great catarrh remedy, Pe-ru-na, says: "I join with Senators Sullivan, Roach and McEnery in their good opinion of Pe-ru-na. It is recommended to me by those who have used it as an excellent tonic and particularly effective as a cure for catarrh."

United States Senator McEnery.

Hon. S. D. McEnery, United States Senator from Louisiana, says the following in regard to Pe-ru-na:

"Pe-ru-na is an excellent tonic. I have used it sufficiently to say that I believe it to be all that you claim for it."

was elected for South Meath without opposition.

INTERVIEW WITH NATALIE.

The Free Lance has published a remarkable interview with Queen Natalie of Serbia, who has been summing at a villa near San Sebastian, which the queen does not mind her words in regard to son and the present government of Serbia. She says:

"The charge that I sent her insulting post cards is an infamous 'bit of maliciousness' on her part, got up as a pretext for the dismissal of a few officers of my household still at Belgrade, and in order to pocket their allowances. Never was a man more infatuated than my dear, deluded son by the petty, narrow-minded, narrow-hearted Serbian subject, fifteen years his senior."

No language is so expressive of Queen Natalie's dislike for Queen Draga. She recounts her fruitless efforts to nip the affair before it approached a serious point.

THEATRICAL WORLD.

The theatrical world keeps busy. In addition to the re-opening of Terry's theater, Thursday, with "A Fairer Match," the Lyceum opens tonight with a new drama, "Auld Lang Syne," under the management of William Milburn. This is his first theatrical enterprise. "Red Rover" has been dramatized and will shortly appear.

Charles Wyndham re-opens his theater October 9 with "H. A. Jones' new play, 'Mrs. Dana's Defense.' Olga Neiderose sails on the St. Paul today, on an American tour. Vroom, the dramatist, sails shortly to produce "Marsac of Gascony" for the first time in America, under the management of Jacob Litt. Another Vroom play will appear at Drury Lane at Easter.

International Boundary Line Dispute

Chicago, Oct. 6.—A special to the Record from New Whatcom, Wash., says: In the present dispute of the international boundary line location near Mount Baker, it is stated on authority that a peculiar phenomenon transpired during the survey at that point. When the line was being run along in the early days, the course of the needle was deflected, it was supposed afterward by the metal in Mount Baker, and the survey was inaccurate. This made the line several miles out of the way before the mistake was rectified, and the advantage was given the Canadian side of the line. When the mistake was found out it was rectified, but may not have been sufficiently marked the second time. The boundary is the 49 parallel, and it is simply a problem of locating this parallel.

FIELD ARTILLERY.

Capt. Dunn Says European Officers Are Greatly Interested in It.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—Capt. Beverly W. Dunn, of the ordnance bureau, has returned from Europe, where he spent several months in the study of ordnance matters in England, Germany, France, Belgium and Switzerland. He was able to secure much valuable information regarding the manufacture of ordnance and found the army officers of the European governments very accommodating in giving their methods and views. Captain Dunn in the preliminary report he has made to the ordnance bureau here says that all ordnance officers as well as field officers

"I desire to say that I have been taking Pe-ru-na for some time for catarrh, and have found it an excellent medicine, giving me more relief than anything I have ever taken.—W. V. Sullivan, Oxford, Miss."

United States Senator Roach.

"Persuaded by a friend I have used Pe-ru-na as a tonic, and am glad to testify that it has greatly helped me in strength, vigor and appetite. I have been advised by friends that it is remarkably efficacious as a cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh.—W. N. Roach, Larimore, North Dakota."

of European armies believe the subject of field artillery is one of the most important being considered. They think that the development of the artillery has reached a very critical stage and that there are about to be great and important changes. The interest is intense and the belief is general that field artillery is to be the most important part of modern warfare. Events in the Philippines, the war in South Africa and the campaign in China, it is said, have made this apparent. European officers are working in the direction of rapid fire guns almost exclusively. They desire to secure rapid-fire guns and if possible preserve the present degree of mobility but they are inclined to sacrifice a little in the bringing the guns into action in order to secure the greatest effectiveness from quick firing.

As to coast defense and fortifications, Captain Dunn reports that the tendency is toward longer guns with a higher velocity and smaller caliber. In this the European war officers approve the position of the United States. It is believed that the new type of gun will be more effective than heavy guns of large caliber but with shorter range.

Captain Dunn reports that the European officers are well aware of the importance of keeping abreast of the times in all kinds of gunnery and ammunition and are watching with interest everything the United States does in this direction.

COLEMAN GILLISPIE HANGED.

He Murdered Mrs. Christine Edson, an Old Woman Over Seventy.

Gold Beach, Or., Oct. 6.—Coleman Gillespie was hanged this afternoon for the murder of Mrs. Christine Edson in September, 1899. On the scaffold he stated that he was innocent and that Charles Stray murdered the woman.

About the middle of September, 1899, Mrs. Christine Edson, a woman over 70 years of age, who lived alone at Gold Beach, was murdered, her house robbed and the body cremated. On September 14, 1899, the mail carrier who passed the place discovered that the house had been burned and an investigation resulted in finding the charred remains of Mrs. Edson.

Suspicion at once rested upon Coleman Gillespie, a wild and reckless fellow. Gillespie sold Mrs. Edson's pension check for $75 and this check when presented at a bank in Roseburg gave the officers their first positive evidence of his guilt. He was arrested at Cottage Grove, Lane county, on September 20th and confessed to robbing the old lady of the pension check, but denied that he murdered her. He tried her for two days and the jury returned a verdict of guilty in twenty minutes' deliberation. Gillespie's people are highly respected in the community where they live.

John Geisel, the first husband of Mrs. Edson, the murdered woman, and their three sons were murdered by the Rogue River Indians in February, 1896.

West River Trade Abandoned.

New York, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Hongkong says: Owing to restrictive regulations and unfavorable treatment British shipping companies have abandoned the West River trade and their vessels for the Yang Tze, leaving the foreigners in the river ports dependent on Chinese launches in event of a rising. Two roughly constructed beach boats, which were landing supplies at Hongkong, have received hurried orders to proceed to Canton.

International Peace Congress.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The International Peace Congress epitomized its work in an appeal to the nations, adopted today, in which the congress condemns the refusal of the British government to agree to arbitration or mediation in South Africa and expressed regret that the majority of the governments who might have offered mediation abstained from so doing in spite of their pacific declarations at The Hague.

Regarding China, the congress, after recognizing and pointing out the primary cause of discontent upon the part of the Chinese, urged that the solution of the conflict be just and equitable and in conformity with the inalienable right of the populations to freely dispose of themselves.

The congress also characterizes the Armenian massacres as the most odious deed of recent times and expresses the hope that the universal indignation of the civilized world would force the governments to find a radical solution.

Continuing, the congress points out the moral and material injury resulting from formidable armaments and recommends that the governments study these questions on the solution of which, it is asserted, depends the prosperity and the very existence of the nations. The congress then recommends international arbitration and urges the conclusion of treaties making arbitration permanent and obligatory.

It is claimed the congress has thus placed before the world the basis for a preliminary study of international differences as they occur in order to facilitate pacific solutions before irritation spreads to the ill informed masses.

THE IDAHO POPULISTS.

Texas Angel Resigns as Candidate for Supreme Court Judge.

Boise, Ida., Oct. 6.—The resignation of Texas Angel, Populist candidate for justice of the supreme court, was filed with Secretary of State Patten today. Mr. Angel resigned to pursue the Middle-of-the-Road Populist ticket as well as from the other. The filing of this resignation was something of a surprise, as it had been understood by everybody that Mr. Angel had positively declined to further consider the matter. Another resignation filed with the secretary of state today was that of E. W. Jones as candidate of the Middle-of-the-Road Populists for State auditor. Mr. Jones is on the straight Democratic ticket.

No nomination was offered to fill the vacancy caused by Angel's declination. Tomorrow will be the last on which declinations may be filed. Unless other Populist resignations are filed then, there will be no hope of any general fusion, even if the matter is carried into the courts and decided finally to the detriment of the Populists.

So far the Democrats have three Populist candidates on their ticket, but there is yet no Democrat on the Populist ticket. The Populists have filed resignations for candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, supreme judge, attorney general, and one elector. It has been reported that the Democrats will pull down all their tickets and place the names of the Populist candidates on their ticket, having failed to effect a fusion to do so they must file the resignation of their candidates tomorrow.

Col. Campos Salles Assassinated.

New York, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Rio Janeiro says: Col. Campos Salles, brother of the president of Brazil, has been assassinated in San Paulo by an Italian anarchist named Angel Sangueretti. President Salles was not postponing his visit to Bahia on account of the assassination.

He will arrive in Buenos Ayres on October 24th and will remain there until October 30.

Dawes Commission's Work.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—A special to the Record from Vinita, Ok. T., says: The Dawes commission has closed its work of enrolling Cherokee at this place. The commission has based on the applications of 4,616 persons whose claims to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation are questioned, 619 doubtful, and 44 rejected, making a total of 4,549 applications. The commission left for Bartlesville, where it will attend to the next week. More people applied here than the commission could enroll.

Russia Agrees to Proposals.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—The following dispatch from St. Petersburg has been semi-officially issued: "The Russian government assents to the proposals in Count von Buelow's note of October 1st. M. De Giers, the Russian minister at Berlin, has been instructed in that sense."

Gambling at Dawson to Cease.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 6.—The reform wave has struck Dawson and the days of gambling and the dance hall in the Yukon's capital are over. The officials in the north, acting upon instructions from the administration at Ottawa, have decided that gambling and kindred evils must be closed down at once.

Telegraph Line to Alaska.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 6.—J. B. Carlson, superintendent of construction of the Northern telegraph system, who is now in the city, said today that owing to trouble with the contractors in settling the money part of the Ashcroft trail it will be several weeks before the conclusion of the work on the new telegraph line from Atlin to Quesnel. News from Dawson today is to the effect that the new line from Forty Mile to Dawson has been completed.

Mrs. David Crockett in Jail.

Pendleton, Or., Oct. 6.—Mrs. David Crockett was brought here and placed in jail today to await before the grand jury on a charge of murdering her husband at Milton on Monday night last. The authorities here claim to have made the discovery that the woman bought the pistol in Walla Walla on Saturday last that was found in the hand of the dead man. Her twelve-year-old son also stated that she was in the room with his father when the shot was fired, although she stated that she was in an adjoining room and did not hear the report. The officers say they will be able to prove that there is another man in the case.

Vancouver Mine Owners Protest.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—A special to the Record from Vancouver, B. C., says: Col. L. Edwin Dudley, the American consul at Vancouver, B. C., has been appealed to by American mine owners of the disputed territory in Mount Baker district at the international boundary regarding the seizure of the pack train in the disputed district by United States collectors of customs. The pack train was on the road to mines owned by Mr. Lane of San Francisco, claimed to be in the Canadian territory by the Canadian government, surveyor who has just delimited the boundary. Mr. Lane has registered his mines in Westminster, B. C., as well as in Sumas, N. W. T. According to Canadian Surveyor Deane, the United States has been in quiet possession of the territory and a half mile wide and many miles long that it has no right to.

REPORT ON NOME DISTRICT.

It is Favorable as to Its Gold Producing Capacity.

Washington, Oct. 6.—In his report to the director of the mint from the Nome district, Special Agent Cabell Whitehead says: "Of the new discoveries since last season, Lepkuk, located on the beach shore of Nome, is the only one that takes the lead. From a space not over 50 feet in length along the beach to the Lunda there was taken out this spring between $500,000 and $600,000, all with rockers."

"The latest strike, and one which is at present attracting much attention, is on the Buena Vista river, in the Port Clarence mining district, something less than a hundred miles from Nome. One of the tributaries of this river, Gold run, is said to exceed in richness anything known heretofore. It being no uncommon thing to get from $10 to $20 in a single pan. The creek is entirely taken up."

"A source of gold which is attracting much attention at the present time is the ancient river beds along the head of Dexter and Anvik creeks. Some of these deposits are fabulously rich, nothing richer having been found in the Klondike. I am told, but some of the claims along Nisiklain Gulch, the extent of the deposits, however, has not yet been proven, and another season will be necessary to demonstrate their value."

"I incline to the opinion that these ancient channels are the source of the gold taken from the beach, and if I am right in this opinion they should be very extensive and add many millions to the world's production. I see no reason to doubt that during the coming winter, when prospecting can be done with the aid of thawing machines these channels will be located and next season will see a very largely increased production."

"In my opinion the future of this district remains to be proven, with the chances largely in favor of its becoming much attention at the present time is the ancient river beds along the head of Dexter and Anvik creeks. Some of these deposits are fabulously rich, nothing richer having been found in the Klondike. I am told, but some of the claims along Nisiklain Gulch, the extent of the deposits, however, has not yet been proven, and another season will be necessary to demonstrate their value."

In this day and age of concentrated effort it is wise for brain workers to use a food especially adapted for rebuilding the brain and nerve centers. Grape-Nuts food was invented by an expert especially for this purpose. Knowledge of the food elements contained in the grains and how to prepare these elements so as to be quickly absorbed by the body, and used directly to replenish the lost phosphate of potash, which is exhausted by mental work, have brought about the result. The proof can be had by any brain worker who will take the trouble to use Grape-Nuts for a few days.

FEEDS BRAIN WORKERS.

A Food Made Especially for Them.

A literary woman, Mrs. J. C. Roberts, 120 Holmes St., Dallas, Tex., has discovered that a properly selected brain food is of great benefit to any brain worker. She says: "My duties as a journalist require me to write all day, particularly in the winter, but heretofore, after luncheon, no matter how light I made it, I found myself incapable of doing work for an hour or two, for my brain would not respond to the demand."

"I saw an advertisement of Grape-Nuts for brain workers and determined to give it a trial. I am convinced of the result, and am now in perfect health. I use Grape-Nuts for luncheon, and never suffer any inconvenience whatever, returning to my work at once, feeling as bright as when I left it. I know from experience that this preparation is invaluable for brain workers, who are apt to find that that period of time given up to digestion is one of almost total eclipse of mental power."

The Catarrhal Curse.

Catarrh is as much a curse today as malaria and fever plague to the hot swamps of Florida. It's in the air, like an inherent and undying contagion. Everybody is afraid of it, everybody is interested in it, and it is just as interesting to be saved from it or to be cured of it as it is to die from it. There are thousands of people in Salt Lake City today who have some imperceptible germ taint of Catarrh in the system, as well as vast numbers of people in whom those germ taints have developed into chronic ailments of varying degrees of malignity, suffering and danger. In most instances the difficulty is aggravated by the fact that the victims cannot diagnose their miseries or distinguish the cause of them.

The fact is, a majority of common chronic diseases, though known as bronchial trouble, lung trouble, kidney trouble, stomach trouble, etc., are really of a catarrhal origin and nature. Every part of the mucous membrane—the nose, throat, eyes, ears, head, lungs, stomach, liver, bowels, bladder, kidneys—are subject to disease and blight by catarrh. Most physicians have not the time to devote much study to this disease, nor have they the necessary apparatus and training to successfully treat it. Drs. Shores have made a lifelong study of catarrh in all its forms, and have treated thousands of cases in the past eight years in this community, and the unanimous verdict of their patients is that DRs. SHORES CAN AND DO CURE CATARRH.
