

UTAH BANKERS ARE TO UNITE

Will Form State Association for Promotion of the Best Interests of Membership.

BUSINESS GENERALLY FAIR.

In Some Lines Trading Is Brisk and In Others Not Up to the Average—Hints from Fashion Centers.

Utah is to have a State bankers' association, a proposition that has been talked of for some time, and which the Salt Lake clearing house has decided favorably. Notices were recently sent out to all the banks of the state, and as the replies received were encouraging, it was decided to call a meeting for organization at 10 a. m., Wednesday, June 16, in the city council chamber, city and county building. With 100 banks represented, it is believed quite a showing will be made. Constitution and by-laws will be adopted and speeches will be listened to from Governor Spry, Mayor Bransford, former Gov. Heber M. Wells, and F. E. Jensen of the Clearing House. The object of the association is to promote the general welfare of the banks and banking institutions of the state, secure uniformity of action, with the practical benefits to be gained from personal acquaintance and to handle matters of importance to the banking and commercial institutions of the state.

During the convention the clearing house will consider the work of its representatives as its guests. Automobile rides are to be provided both morning and evening, with a trip to Saltair. Lunch will be served at the Commercial club at noon. Ladies accompanying delegates are invited to participate in the social features. There is already a national association of bankers, and a nearly every state has its individual organization.

LOCAL CONDITIONS.

Local banks report a steady demand for money. The clearing house banks which may loan money on realty, have more loans for accommodation. The commercial banks are able to meet all business requirements. The large number of improvements undertaken in this city and vicinity are calling for the investment of large amounts of money.

The clearing house banks are in the city during the last two years is indicated in the increase of deposits in the Utah Savings Bank & Trust company, from $1,233,486.49 on June 1, 1907, to $1,544,348.41 on June 1, 1909. In the general field, banks call attention to the fact that plenty of money and restored confidence on all sides are potent factors in the building of any country. When in addition the country is teeming with the greatest railroad facilities in the world, operating in every direction across, through, and around it, and its mines and farms are ready to yield to the pick and the plow endless millions of money, the situation in the United States today.

THE CLEWS LETTER.

Henry Clews in his last circular letter says: "The crop thus far is as satisfactory as could be expected. The season is late and a comparatively early start has been made, owing to reduced acreage, which suggests continued high prices for that staple and relatively small exports for winter. The loss in wheat, however, is likely to be more than compensated for by a big corn crop. The latter escape early frosts. It is not unreasonable to expect a bumper yield of about 3,000,000,000 bushels. Plenty of cotton is also in prospect at good prices. In view of the high prices for all products, it is quite certain that the agricultural classes will enjoy another very profitable harvest, which nothing short of unusual disaster can prevent."

HARDWARE.

The hardware trade reports business as continuing steadily with collections improving, and a steady demand for staples with orders still being received for full goods. The trade reports large business in ammunition. One large house has handled in the season two car loads of ammunition, the consignments being 50,000 pounds to the car. The demand for builders' hardware is very strong and steady, particularly in this city, where many sizeable buildings are thus being furnished. The trade believes this will be a fine business year with conditions that will be on a par with those of 1906 and 1907 before the panic.

LUMBER.

The lumber trade reports the wholesale market as absolutely unchanged from last week. In the retail trade, however, everything is on the move, and that which is being called on constantly for staples and lumber is being taken out of summer season stocks, notably organies and lawns. Jobbers also report the market firm, with most of the mills making colored and fancy cottons. Print cloths are active, with wide goods selling freely, and more interest reported in narrow weaves. Shirt manufacturers have been good buyers of the fine qualities of bleached goods this season. In prints, new crepe effects have been brought out, the colorings and designs being striking. Jobbers say that the rapid building of bungalows in New England is likely to drive many of the smaller mills out of this business, particularly in staple and medium priced dress gingham. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, which is perfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Dollar for each case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

marked down, but until warmer weather comes, there will be no special call for solid color merchandise. The demand for crepe de chine is increasing. Printed draperies of the better class have been selling better for some time than for three seasons past. Sweaters are reported in strong demand, buyers of knitted fabrics coming for more than they can get. Jobbers predict that if June proves a warm month, retail sales in knit goods will be the best for years, and some retailers are likely to find themselves short. The fine hosiery market is delayed by the uncertainty of the tariff situation. There is a call from retailers for spot lots of fancy and embroidered effects. It seems to be a quiet period in silks, as the trade is waiting for new developments for the current season. Silk goods are said to be coming the rage for summer wear, with satin finished foulards in special demand. In Paris, long silk coats of other colors, and long tulle in semi-rough weaves are being much used. The sleeveless silk serge coat over a one piece gown is having considerable of a run, though silk coats of all kinds are coming into favor. One of the latest summer shades in silk series is called oyster white, which is a light cream color. RETAIL DRY GOODS.

The features of the week in the retail trade have been special sales which have been attended by a regular crush of women, anxious to be first on the scene. In general, business has been very good in all departments, on account of the advent of settled warm weather. The sales of neckwear have been particularly good, and the demand for a good week, and call being mostly for shantings and allied lines of goods. Sales of parasols, lisle thread and gloves, and hosiery have been very good, and the trade is beginning to consider the outlook as highly encouraging.

With the arrival in this city this week of Henry J. Schlacks, architect of the new D. & R. G. passenger station, south of the city, at west Third South street, the announcement is made that the new station will be pushed to completion as fast as possible. Some of the steel has already arrived, the marble is being cut in Colorado and the terra cotta, which largely enters in the construction of the building, will be shipped from Chicago. The brickwork has been started, and the present force of men will be increased as occasion demands.

Among the larger real estate sales of the week was that of the property known as the Dickinson corner, at Main and Sixth South, to Carolyn W. Little, for the sum of $20,000. The property has a frontage of 75 feet on Main street and 165 feet on Sixth South. There is a house on it which is to be left standing, though a store may be built on the corner.

The real estate market is said to be a little slow, though prices are steadily stiffening up. Inside and business property is in fair demand, while the cheap lots of the various additions are being sought with avidity, principally by those who are willing to invest a few hundred dollars and take a chance of selling at better prices in the future.

and Machine company in this city, many pleasant and interesting details of the auto trip being made by General Manager Odell.

Mr. Odell left for Europe some weeks since, with members of his family, and they carried with them their favorite Franklin automobile intending to visit the main points in Great Britain, France, Spain, Italy, Germany and Switzerland in the car. Up to the middle of May, when the party was in Switzerland, their trip had been a constant delight, nearly 1,500 miles having been covered, one-third of which was in the mountains of Switzerland. The Franklin had "astonished" the most ardent admirers of the motor car. This was especially the case in Switzerland, where several "high-flyers" undertook the task of giving the Franklin their dust, after they had been left in the rear a number of times and made to inhale the dust themselves, they began to make inquiries, with the result that Mr. Odell obtained a number of flattering offers for the sale of his machine. One of them was so good that he was almost tempted to part with it, and order another by wire to meet him at a point in the south.

Mr. Odell had as his guest on the Swiss tour, Mr. T. A. Lasset, European Manager of the International Harvester company. He gave it as his opinion that the Franklin excelled any machine he ever seen in hill climbing and general ease.

While in Zurich Mr. Odell invited the office force at 68 Hoeschgasse to take a number of pleasant trips and the several missionaries at work there. Elders William Mackay, W. C. Winder and Sentker were more than charmed with their experience. Mr. Mackay was Mr. Odell's guest for a run over the mountains from Zurich to Lucerne and return.

Mr. Odell made a slight change in his plans on account of the weather, going to Switzerland first instead of Italy, then running across to Genoa and thence east and south to Rome. His present plans are to be in Berlin about the middle of June and then to visit Mrs. G. G. Wright, his sister, of Idaho Falls, in Paris June 24.

Mr. Odell speaks highly of the wonderful European roads, and of the advantages of the French Automobile club which he has joined. The conveniences to travelers which are secured by a membership in the "Touring Club de France" are too numerous to mention. The Franklin had made the big trip with only one puncture, and she flew along the roads like a bird.
