AMERICAN.

CINCINNATI, 15.—A stone quarry at Pomeroy, O., caved in to-day, killing a young man named Hatcher and wounding Geo. Savage.

Two cholera deaths are reported here to-day. There were several deaths from cholera in Paducah, Ky., yesterday and last night; the number is not yet reported.

PHILADELPHIA, 14.—A most horrible murder, almost equalling the West Farms tragedy, in Dover, Del., has just come to light in Jennerville, Chester County, one mile north of the line of the Baltimore Central Railroad. On the 13th of June last, a strange man arrived at the hotel of the village, and took up his quarters there, saying that he came from Baltimore, and was an agent. He gave no name, and he was in appearance a young man, probably not over thirty, with black whiskers. On the following day a team, driven by Mr. William Uddersook, stopped at the tavern, and the agent and Uddersook took a ride, he accepting the invitation to do so, and they went away together. The team had been hired by Uddersook at Parksburg, and when he returned it in the evening, the person who took charge of it remarked that there was blood on the wagon. Uddersook made a plausible explanation of the circumstance and immediately left the neighborhood. The strange man was never after seen alive. On Friday last a large number of buzzards were noticed hovering about a wood off Newport and Graysville, between Chinesville and Penningtonville. An investigation showed the head and trunk of a man, the arms and legs detached, which was recognized as the body of the stranger who had been stopping at Jennerville. A coroner's jury was empanelled and a sealed verdict was given. The murdered man was stabbed in three or four places, his throat cut, and both arms and legs severed close to the body. Uddersook cannot be found. He was, until lately, on the Baltimore police force, and is a young man. The object of the murder, unquestionably, was plunder. No clothes were found except a pair of shoes. It is reported that the man was known to have considerable money on his person. The severed limbs were buried in a separate spot from the body, and not far from the house of one Rhodes, a brother-in-law of the supposed murderer.

SAN FRANCISCO, 14.—Twenty-eight Chinese students arrived yesterday, under the charge of Professor Yung Chung. Chung stopped at the Occidental, and will go to Springfield, Mass.

About 200 fond mothers have entered for the grand baby show commencing on the 17th, in the Pacific Hall, continuing three days.

It is believed that the Chinaman, mutilated by one of his countrymen yesterday, cannot survive.

The accounts of the affair vary. Some say that the monster did it because his victim refused to submit to an unnatural crime; others say that jealousy of a Chinese woman was the cause.

There were several savage fights in the Chinese quarters last night, pistols, knives and swords were used. Several Chinamen were badly hurt, but none were killed. The Colorado brought 1026 Chinese passengers.

Fred. G. Wentworth, a saloon keeper, was examined this p.m. in the police court, on the complaint charging him with rape on the person of Alice Wallace, a young married woman, at a saloon under the Windsor house, Market St. Her testimony was as formerly telegraphed. For the defense it was shown that the woman was notoriously lewd, separated from her husband and children, that she drank with Wentworth half a dozen times, and acted in other respects like a common courtesan. Wallace has commenced a suit for divorce. The decision of the court was reserved.

It is reported that the officers of the German companies insulted by the French companies on the Fourth when the latter refused to salute them on their counter march, will hold a meeting on Wednesday night to consider the propriety of disbanding and leaving the national guard.

About fifty boys, girls and women attacked the express wagons loaded with Chinamen on 3d street, near Howard, and pelted them with stones and clubs and dragged the baggage out of the wagons, despite the blowing of whistles and cries for the police. No officers came to quell the riot. These infamous affairs are of almost daily occurrence in this city.

VIRGINIA, NEV., 14.—A man named E. Christensen committed suicide last night by taking arsenic. He left a note stating that he took the poison to avoid starvation.

NEW YORK.—Great interest is manifested in the case of Lizzie Lloyd King, alias Kate Stoddard. Crowds flock to the jail in Raymond St., to see her, but very few succeed. She is dumb on the subject of the murder, and will not talk except to her counsel, and for him she is writing a full statement of her case, and of her history from childhood. She is now twenty-six years of age, was born in Plymouth, Mass., and lived there until she was eighteen years of age. Her father's name is Isaac King. He is still alive and carries on the trade of a mason and is living at Walbridge, Mass. The family is in comfortable circumstances. So far as the tragedy is concerned, while in moderately good spirits, she does not take a very sanguine view of the issue. The State prison seems to hang over her mind like an immense shadow. Among her other peculiarities she is pretending to be very religious, and is reading the Bible and Episcopal Prayerbook constantly. It is said that she even had the temerity to attend the funeral of her victim, and that she went up near the hearse and touched the coffin. The police are still on the lookout for Roscoe. Kate Stoddard declares she does not know and has never seen him, while the woman Armstrong is positive that she saw them together. One of the jurors hinted yesterday that there was a good deal more in this Goodrich tragedy than has yet been given to the public, and he added, "There is an important link still wanting."

An injunction was yesterday served on the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Co., restraining it from paying the dividend due to-day on the stock of the Pacific R. R. of Missouri, which road it has leased in perpetuity.

Thirty-six seized trunks and cases belonging to Thos. C. Durant, Ex-President of the Pacific R. R., and one of the Credit Mobilier defendants, were released from custody yesterday on bond being given for their appraised value. It required three large trucks to remove the goods from the custom house to the owner's mansion in Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, 15.—A fire in a building belonging to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery in the navy yard, this morning, caused the loss of a number of valuable records.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—There were four fires to-night; the losses aggregate over $100,000.

By examining their books, the public library officials, to-day, discovered that the ticket drawing the capital prize of $100,000 was bought by L. H. Keith, of Kingston, Mass., and the ticket drawing the second prize of $50,000, was bought by Willis Warley, of Giles County, Tenn. The parties have been notified that the money is subject to their orders.

LONG BRANCH, 15.—The second meeting at Monmouth Park Association began to-day. In the mile and three-quarter dash race Tom Bowling was beaten by Lizzie Lucan, time 3.12. Four started. Bowling sold in the pools, and was the favorite 5 to 1 against the field.

NEW YORK.—The Evening Post says, one thousand newly-converted Mormons landed here to-day, and another large company is expected.

WASHINGTON.—The survey for a construction of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, authorized by Congress last winter, will be commenced about the first of August. It is to ascertain the most advantageous route to construct the canal from Cumberland Co., Ohio river, and Colonel Sedgwick, an old officer, has been employed to personally superintend the matter. He has arrived here for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps towards the work. Colonel Wm. E. Merrell, of the U. S. army, stationed at Cincinnati, has the general charge of the survey, and the work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

MERIDAN, Conn.—A fire at West Meridan to-day destroyed the steam planing mill of Lyart, Gillard & Co., valued at $30,000, insured for $17,000, and many small shops and tenements; total loss $50,000.

LONG BRANCH.—In the races, such was the confidence in Bowling's ability to win the Ocean Hotel stakes that only three pools were sold before the race, in each of which Bowling sold for $250 against $50 on the field. He showed considerable temper and attempted to break away from his trainer before the start. His stable companion, Lucy Jackson, was led by him, and, after some trouble, he got away first, Lizzie Lucas, Minstrel and Galway following closely. Bowling led about a length to the first mile pole, when Minstrel passed him and got a length ahead. When they came under the string at the end of the three-quarter of a mile Bowling again took the lead and kept it until within seventy-five yards of the winning post, when he quit, and Lizzie Lucas, who had been pressing him closely, dashed past and won the race by a length, Galway third, ten lengths behind Bowling. The most intense excitement prevailed as the horses came on the home stretch, and when the favorite quitted the people seemed almost to doubt the evidence of their senses. Not much money was lost on Bowling, as betters were afraid of him.

NEW YORK, 15.—There is still much mystery surrounding the Goodrich murder. The police are doing their best to secure the Spaniard Roscoe. Full reliance is not placed on the story of Lizzie King, that she had no accomplice and never knew Roscoe, and that she don't believe there is any such a man. She explained the fact of four chambers of the pistol found by Goodrich's body being discharged by saying that the three shots in Goodrich's head were from her pistol, and after he was dead she took his pistol and discharged four shots down the cellar. Miss Palin, the betrothed of Goodrich, remained with Lizzie King until late last evening. Her object was not ascertained.

At a meeting of the finance committee of the board of aldermen it was proposed to raise a loan of 150 million dollars, at five per cent., wherewith to cancel the present city debt, being forty millions in excess of the present debt. The leading city financiers, it is said, do not approve of the scheme. The action on the industrial exhibition loan of two and a half millions was postponed.

Editors representing thirty-eight agricultural papers in different parts of the country, started this morning on an extended tour through the south and west.

BOSTON, 15.—Vice President Wilson was in this city to-day, and was congratulated by many friends on his improved health.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., 15.—The five mile single scull race between John Bingham and Ellis Ward, for $500 a side, which was to be rowed here to-day, came to a sudden end by Ward falling forward in the boat with a fit of vertigo when opposite the two mile flag, and was unable to proceed. He was at the time ahead. A physician was called in who gave the opinion that the vertigo was caused by a slight congestion of the lungs, brought on by over exertion while suffering from cold. At a late hour this evening Ward was quite comfortable, though still weak.

SAN FRANCISCO, 15.—At an anti-Chinese meeting last night, in Barros' Hall, Mr. Kehoe declared himself in favor of arming the hoodlums of the city against the Chinese of the city. He said if he had hoodlum sons himself he would not hesitate to place pistols in their hands to attack and drive out the Chinese.

PIOCHE.—An affray took place on Sunday p.m., in the County hospital, between Owen Ferguson, a patient, and Robert Ash, the cook, resulting in the death of the latter. They quarrelled during the p.m., when the hospital steward interfered and separated them; subsequently Ferguson obtained possession of a surgical instrument blade, about three inches long, and meeting Ash inflicted on different parts of his person thirteen wounds, from which he died on Sunday night.

KINGSTON, Jamaica.—A Spanish man of war has arrived here. Her coming creates alarm for the safety of the steamer Virginus, as the Spaniard threatens to take her, and Quesada declares that he will blow her up, no matter at what sacrifice, rather than permit her to be captured. The U. S. Consul went last evening, at midnight, with some Cuban gentlemen, resident here, to solicit the interference of the British colonial authorities. The excitement in the city growing out of the affair is very great. It is believed an arrangement has been made by the commander of the Virginus to meet the released schooner Village Bride, with a cargo of arms from Port Antonio, in the open sea near the harbor, the Governor of Jamaica having issued orders for the release of the schooner's cargo, which had been seized.

HALIFAX.—The bodies of a man, woman and child, steerage passengers, were recovered from the Atlantic wreck on Friday last, in a decomposed state, and buried at Prospect.

Orders have been received from England for the flying squadron to sail for Gibraltar.

NEW YORK.—The police are still actively searching for the Spaniard Roscoe, alleged to have been concerned in the murder of Goodrich. It is believed that Kate Stoddard admitted Roscoe to the house in DeGraw Street, and that the murder was committed by the pair. The police say they have all the proof required to convict Roscoe. This has been furnished by the confession of Kate Stoddard. Roscoe has not been seen around any of his old haunts since the arrest of his alleged accomplice, and as he always had plenty of money it is believed he has taken himself off to some distant city. An accurate description of him has been sent to the police of all the cities in the United States and Canada.

CINCINNATI.—The Times, Louisville special says the fire last night was not so disastrous as at first thought, the loss will not exceed $80,000, with about $75,000 insurance. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. Every engine in the city was at work when the last fire broke out, and owing to the extent of the conflagration, and its proximity to the public library and other large buildings, great excitement prevailed.

NEW YORK, 16.—During a fist fight, between Thomas Finn, keeper of the Hackensack River bridge, yesterday afternoon, and Eugene Atno, owner of a canal boat, the latter was struck in the neck and killed.

ST. LOUIS.—The past few days the mercury has ranged in the middle of the day from 95 to 100 in the shade; there have been numerous cases of sun stroke.

NEW YORK, 16.—The counsel for Carl Vogt says he has received a telegram from Washington, stating that the Government has declined to issue a warrant for the extradition of Vogt, and has ordered or will order his discharge.

The supervisors have approved the bills in the cases of Tweed vs. Stokes, including $10,000 to Gen. T. Curtis and $7,500 to Jno. K. Porter, the informer.

The police are in search of a man named Beach, who boarded with Lucille Myers, and who, she says, was present at the time Goodrich and Roscoe had an encounter in her house.

Judge Blatchford denied the application for the removal of Chas. A. Dana to Washington, for trial. He held that it would be unconstitutional to send a party for trial to a court where there is no trial by jury, as in the police court of the District of Columbia. The decision was received with cheers by the large crowd in court. Judge Blatchford observed that he was entirely satisfied that he could not grant the application. Cheers.

Mr. Bliss desired to hand up some point, but Judge Blatchford replied that it was not necessary. Renewed cheers. He hoped that gentlemen would refrain from applauding in court. The constitution of the United States declares that the trial of all crimes should be by jury. If he understood the application it was on the warrant of a commissioner and issued solely on information sworn to in the police court. This was the information of Mr. Williams, and the offense was to be tried in this police court under the information.

In continuation Judge Blatchford said he did not decide the case on any of the grounds alluded to in the cases cited by Mr. Bliss, he was simply referring to the clause in the Constitution in regard to the right of trial by jury. That clause never sought to apply to any other crime than such crimes as have been always properly tried by juries. Libels, in common law, had always been tried by a jury, therefore so far as he had looked into this case, and he had carefully considered it, he had no doubt whatever upon the point, and if he was to regard his oath of office, it was simply impossible not to say that all crimes against the United States should be tried before juries. He did not mean to say that this police court at Washington might not properly have jurisdiction over common assaults and batteries. They all knew of special sessions, and he knew that judges of this district had felt what relief it would be to the courts of the U. States if they should not be called upon to try every offense, however small; but the answer to that was the inestimable right of trial by jury. He understood this was an application calling on a court to remit this case to the court which would try it without a jury in the first instance; but it did not help the party that he had a right to appeal if he was convicted. He was entitled to be first tried by a jury, and not to be first convicted. Taking the whole matter, he said if this court had the right to try this offense at all, it was one that should be tried by a jury, and on that ground alone he put this decision. The ground upon which he made this decision was solely with reference to the fact that this was a charge of libel, and libel was a crime always tried by jury. The proposition seemed so plain that no examination, no study could bring him to any other conclusion. The application must be enforced, and the defendant released from the custody of the marshal. The proceedings then closed, Dana leaving the court room, and being warmly congratulated on the result by his friends.
