The public achool children of Salt Lake will be in evidence at the fair, but not their work. Owing to the early close of school last year and the crowding of the work this year, the superintendent and teachers feel that it would not be practicable to make an exhibit. October 5 will be children's day, and they and the teachers will be admitted to the grounds free of charge.

In his visit to Tooele yesterday Weather Director Murdoch found the new local station in good condition. of any other house.

From the cars he noted while passing Garneld that the pavilion is practically on dry land, and the water line appeared to be at least a quarter of a mile distant. It is the theory of Prof. Jones that the south winds have caused the subsidence. He and Mr. Murdoch will investigate the matter more closely in the near future.

The board of directors of the phan's Home met yesterday with Mrs. Rachel Miller to arrange for the annual meeting and reception which is to be held on the 8th of October. There will be an exhibition of the work done by the children of the institution and also a program rendered by the benefici-artes. The reception will be open to all and it is the carnest wish of the board and it is the carnest wish of the board that the public will atjend. CARROLL'S TURN NOW.

Arrested as the Result of His Associations With Bert Clifton,

Yesterday afternoon Officers Davies and Gillespie arrested W. J. Carroll on warrant charging him with embezzlement. Carroll is a former employe of the Hanson Produce company, and it is nlieged that he in company with Burt Clifton against whom a case is now pending in the district court, received money for five sacks of sugar sold at $4 per sack and kept the money. Clifton was arrested in June last and tried before Judge Timmony. Evidence was vanting in that case and Judgee Timmony ordered Clifton was immediately re-arrested, however, on the charge of embezzlement, and on the charge of embezziement, and the case was tried before Justic of the Peace Kroeger. This time Clifton was convicted and fined $25 and sentenced to one days' imprisonment in the coun-ind. The case was appealed. At the time of Clifton's arrest Carroll left town and since that time has been in Montana and California. He returned on Tuesday,and his arrest followed. It on Tuesday, and his arrest follows: It is said that last evening at the police station he acknowledged his guilt and came back to Salt Lake for the express purpose of giving himself up and making amends as far as possible.

AMUSEMENTS.

mmmmm A very fair sized audience assembled A very fair sized audience assembled at the Theater last evening to greet John S. Lindsay in "Damon and Pythias." The lower part of the house was especially well filled, largely with Pythian friends of Mr. Lindsay, and with people who came to express their sympathy for the sufferers in the Galveston disaster, as that fund shared in the receipts. The good old play is so familiar to theatergoers that it needs no describing. Mr. Lindsay's rendition of the part of Damon was always characterized by force and vigor, and he acterized by force and vigor, and he was rewarded with some warm plaudits for his acting last evening. Mr. Perry, who played Pythias, is said to be only 20 years old, in which event his work indicates promise. Miss Lindsay, as Calanthe, lent good support, but the achievements of the others can hardly be called more than respectable. The company is organized for a country tour, and should do well in the outlying towns. While the receipts were not large, there will be a fair sum to divide between the beneficiary

FOUL CRIME AT BRICHAM CITY.

Foreman Harrison Shot to Death by Telephone Lineman Burke.

WAS NO APPARENT MOTIVE.

The Most Amicable Relations Had Existed Between the Two Men-Shoots His Victim in the Back,

The moral sense of Brigham City has been greatly shocked by what seems to be a murder without motive. The crime was committed by James Burke, a lineman in the employ of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company, and his victim was Warren S. Harrison, foreman of the construction gang in the employ of the same company. The fact that lends the greatest mystery to the affair is that the most anicable rela-tions had existed between Gurke and Harrison, and the latter had expressed himself in terms very complimentary to Burke. In fact, Harrison had recomhimself in terms very complimentary to Burke. In fact, Harrison had recommended to Superintendent Jackson that Burke be made a sub-foreman on the strength of his excellent work in and around Logan. Twenty minutes before the tragedy occurred Burke and Harrison met on Main street, the men had just come down from Logan to begin work on the Corinne-Malad line, and Harrison shook hands with Burke very warmly, and told him that he had a new joh for him, and the information gave Burke much evident satisfaction. Harrison then stated that he would give him the balance of his salary and stepped into Eddy's drug store to write out a voucher. He was bending over in the act of writing when Burke walked in the store with a gun in his hands. He raised it to his shoulder with the words, "I have walted long enough," and then fired. The shot took effect in the back of Harrison's head, almost decapitating him.

Burke then walked out of the store

Burke then walked out of the store with a crowd at his heels. He went to the sheriff's office and deliberately gave himself up, saying, "I have killed a man, and I have killed him well, too." The excitement in town became fev-erish, and a coroner's jury was impaneled, and a verdict comporting with Burke's confession was returned.

When Burke was approached in his cell later, and asked how he killed Harrison, he said that it was an accident, that he laid his gun on the floor and it discharged. If any feelings were existing between Harrison and Burke it was not known. They worked side by side at Logan, when their relations seemed to be very friendly, and when Harrison was transferred to the Corinne-Malad line it was due to his recommendation that Burke also was transferred, and was on the also was transferred, and was on the eve of a promotion.

Harrison was 27 years of age, and had a wife and three children in Kansas City. The remains will be shipped home. He was a sober, industrious, capable man, and enjoyed the confidence of his employers. Burke also was a competent lineman, but was addicted to moderate drinking. It is said that he had been drinking. It is said that he had been drinking last night.

Superintendent Jackson went to Brigham City this morning. Before going he stated that he could not possible assign a cause for Burke's terrible sible assign a cause for Burke's terrible act. He and Harrison had talked ove Burke's ability in Logan two or three days ago, and he was contemplating making him a sub-foreman. Harrison always spoke highly of Burke and so far as he could see Burke reciprocated The preliminary hearing will be held
