President Abraham Hatch delivered the address of welcome. Short sneaches address of welcome. Short speeches were made by Major J. W. Witt, Drum Major Jonathan Clegg, Captains Todd, Murdock and Epperson. The Silver Greys were represented by John Lee and Henry Chatwin. Songs by the comrades were interspersed between the speeches. We had with us as visitors from Springville, Comrades Westwood and Harrison, also Miss Harrison and Miss Huntington, who rendered fine selections of music. At 4 p. m. a recess was taken until 7:30 p. m., when all assembled again. An incident of the Black Hawk war from real life was dramatized. The play took up about half an hour. By By this time the hall was too crowded to dance with comfort, so an adjournment was taken to Mr. Buel's hall, close by, and dancing was kept up until the wee sma' hours of the morning. The original muster roll was called, 1856-67, and fifty comrades answered out of 180. The weather still keeps stormy and disagreeable. No farming yet.

WARNER EXONERATED. The whole time of the district court for two days was consumed in the trial of the Warner adultery case. At the opening of court this morning the State began the introduction of evidence and rested its case at the noon recess the afternoon the defense presented its case and the arguments had not been concluded when an adjournment was taken for supper. The prosecution did not make as strong a case as was expected, and at the close of the testimony the defense moved the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, but the judge denied the motion. The defense then placed Miss Duncan, the girl in the case, upon the witness stand, but she denied that defendant was the father of her child or that he had ever had criminal intercourse with her. She had nev-er received any money from him, either directly or indirectly, and refused to tell who was the father of her child. Her own testimony tended to exonerate the defendant.

Mr. Warner was put upon the stand and his testimony corroborated that of Miss Duncan.

The case was then given to the jury, who, in half an hour, brought in a verdict of not guilty.
