BUTTER CASES SET.

The butter cases against the Elgin The butter cases against the Elgin and Faust creamery companies have been set by Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith for April 23 for heating. The defendants were arraigned Saturday and pleaded not guilty. There are two complaints each, one for the alleged selling of misbranded butter and the other for selling unwholesome butter.

GIRL'S SHOCKING CONFESSION.

GIRL'S SHOCKING CONFESSION. Among the cases brought before Judge Gowans Saturday for immoral conduct an especially aggravated one was that of Luzinne Quarnberg, 15 years etd, who confessed on the stand that she had been intimate with a man whose name she did not remem-ber, at Gunnison, Utah, and with a soldier at Fort Douglas. The mother of the girl sat through the confession almost entirely unconcerned, saying she had urged the girl to "be decent," but that she was sick and had done the best she could. She admitted the soldier had been at the house and she had seen him and told him to keep away. There were reported during the week solution to the difference of the week ending April 10, 1908. Forty-nine births were reported during the week; 24 males and 25 females; 29 deaths were reported during the week; 15 males and 14 females. Ten were shipped here for burial. 15 males and 14 females. she had seen him and told him to keep away. The county attorney will be asked to file complaints against at least one of the men. The girl did not seem to be at all affected as she recited the details of her shameful career, and not much more concern was shown by her mother. The woman conducts a rooming house in this city.

STANDISH ENTERS SUIT.

H. N. Standish Saturday filed suit against the Elgin Dairy Creamery & Supply company, Frank Knox, W. F. Parks, E. A. Culbertsen, George W. Parks, Ed. Smith and A. J. Vorse, clockholders in the concern, as de-fendants, to recover $5,344 alleged to be due from the old Elgin company, which Standish claims was merged into the new concern for the purpose of defrauding him of his money. The complaint alleges that in 1903 the old company executed a promissory note to plaintiff for $4,000, securing goods and merchandise which he turnished. Said note has not been paid. Standish alleges, except $240 for interest. On June 28, 1906, a judgment was ob-tained for the amount due, but the sheriff could find no property on which to levy, and it is alleged the new company was organized after the action had been commenced and took over the property of the old concern, naving nothing in seven for he H. N. Standish Saturday filed suit over the property of the old con paying nothing in return for It.

NEW TRIAL DENIED. In the case of Alfred S. Johnson vs.

In the case of Alfred S. Johnson vs. the Union Pacific Railway company, Judge Lewis Saturday refused to prant a new trial. Three months ago Johnson secured a verdict against the railroad company for $16,500 in a per-sonal injury suit. Johnson is a law-yer from Providence, Rhode Island, and while traveling from Denver to Kansas City on the line of defendant company, the car was derailed and his throat was cut by glass from a broken window. This he claimed de-prived him of the full use of his voice, which handicapped him in his voca-tion as an attorney. The company will doubtless appeal to the supreme court.
