LOCAL NEWS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 31.

The Fourth Company.—By private telegram we learn that the company which left Liverpool on Saturday last per S. S. Wyoming numbers 301 sails.

Tried for Assault.—This afternoon the trial of the boy John Green, who struck an old man named Thomas Elmore on the head with a wooden bucket, on the 23rd of June, was called on in Justice Pyper's court. The defense claim that Elmore was the aggressor in the quarrel.

Severe Accident.—To-day Frank Murphy, of Mill Creek, 29 years old, was thrown from a load of wheat in crossing a ditch. The front and hind wheels passed over his chest and one arm. A doctor from Franklyn was sent for. It is thought he will recover. The unfortunate young man is a son of Jesse E. Murphy.

Arrested.—On Saturday James E. White and W. E. White were arrested at Porterville, Morgan County, on a charge of grand larceny. They are accused of having stolen some horses in Alturas County, Idaho, whither they will be taken for trial. The accused were acquitted in the First District Court a few months ago on a charge of having stolen some sheep.

Rock Springs.—A correspondent writing from Rock Springs, Wyoming, says:

"We have quite a lot of Finlanders in camp at the present time; they are working for the coal company.

"The coal company are talking of putting up electric lights to illuminate the town. If they do, it will be a great improvement.

"The weather has cooled off considerably. We had rain three days to-day."

The Toblases Fined.—The trial of Mark and Samuel Toblase, for stealing a $5 gold piece, was concluded in Justice Pyper's court yesterday afternoon. The testimony on the part of the defendants was more confused and contradictory than on the former trial, and after a few minutes' deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty. This afternoon the Judge sentenced each of the defendants to pay a fine of $50 and costs—or $87.70 in each case. An appeal was taken.

Young People at Alpine.—A Young People's Conference convened at Alpine August 21st. The weather was propitious, a bower had been constructed for the occasion and a large concourse assembled; some as a matter of duty, others for camping in the veritable Alpine country for an out, or to visit friends and partake of the hospitality of the generous people. None were turned away hungry and all seemed to enjoy the good feeling that prevailed, and will remember Alpine for all her natural attractions and associations. An interesting programme was carried out. A concert Saturday evening and religious services Sunday were characterized with all the enthusiasm and spirit that young Latter-day Saints usually muster.

A Hard Struggle.—Brother William Hart, of the 18th Ward, an employee of the Utah Central Railway machine shops, has been for years a martyr to frequent attacks of such severe illness that it has often appeared that recovery was more than could naturally be expected. He would rally, however, and with phenomenal determination, return to his labors and work industriously under physical conditions that would have overpowered a less resolute nature. He is now suffering from an attack which has already lasted seven weeks, and this time, he begins to feel as if he would soon be released from his sufferings, which have elicited the sympathy of all his friends familiar with his condition. His trouble appears to be a complication of ailments, the liver and kidneys being the organs chiefly affected. This allusion to his case will serve to acquaint those of his friends with his condition who may not be aware of it.

All Captured.—After we went to press last evening the two remaining prisoners—John Cleveland and George Davis—who escaped from the penitentiary guard yesterday, were brought back by the officers and lodged in the bastille. They, as well as the others, were taken in the brush, not having been able to reach the mountains. The pursuit and capture of this gang of jailbirds was a piece of excellent work by those engaged in it.

During the past five years there have been five or six attempts at escape from the guards, but only two convicts have been able to make their stay outside of the walls permanent. Under the discipline of the institution it is almost impossible for a prisoner to get away, unless there is some laxity on the part of the guard, as in this instance, and even then when the alarm is given within reasonable time the almost inevitable result is that the fugitive finds himself back in custody before much time has elapsed.

Attempted Suicide.—It was rumored last evening that another suicide had been committed in this city, and that the victim was a Mrs. Jones, who resided at the corner of Fourth South and Church streets. An investigation revealed the fact, however, that Dr. Dart had been instrumental in relieving the corner of the necessity of holding an inquest and had foiled a hasty attempt at self-murder. It appears that Mrs. Jones has been considerably grieved of late over the waywardness of her daughter. Yesterday afternoon the two had a quarrel, the result being that the mother, while in a passion, seized a bottle containing nearly an ounce of morphine and swallowed the deadly drug. The daughter became alarmed when she realized what had taken place, and summoned Dr. Dart, who administered the necessary remedies, and after several hours of vigorous work succeeded in placing his patient out of danger. She is however still suffering from the effects of the poison, and it will be several days before she is convalescent.

A Sad Experience.—The funeral service over the remains of Maria Lillian, daughter of Brother George V. Morris, will be conducted at the family residence, 524 W. Third North St., (19th Ward) at 10 a. m. to-morrow, Aug. 24th. A great deal of sympathy is felt for Brother Morris, who has passed through a terrible ordeal of misfortunes during the last few years. Three years ago death snatched away his wife, the mother of the little girl just deceased, and from that time the affairs of his life generally have been fearfully up hill. His team and thirteen cows died, nearly all without any visible cause. One of his boys was permanently lamed in one arm by the effects of diphtheria, another similarly crippled by the effects of an accident, and now the noble girl whose death we chronicled yesterday has departed this life. She was a great comfort to him and largely acted in the place of her mother in looking after and caring for the younger children. Brother Morris' story is a sad one, but "it is a long lane that has no turning," and a brighter aspect will doubtless yet illumine the horizon of his life and relieve the memory of the deep shadows which have crossed it.

Complimentary Farewell.—Brother Brigham W. Young was called a short time ago to fill a mission to New Zealand, for which place he left yesterday. On Sunday evening after the regular meeting, Bishop Warburton invited the Saints to remain a short time for a farewell handshaking with Brother Young. After singing by the choir, the Bishop made a few appropriate remarks, in which he referred to the willingness of the brethren in the First Ward to do their duty, seven of them then being absent on missions in various countries—England, Scotland, Sweden, Germany and the Southern States—and one more being about to travel to New Zealand. Interesting and encouraging remarks were made by others of the brethren, and a handsome gift in the form of a purse of money was presented to the young Elder, who thanked the people for their kindness. When the speechmaking had finished the choir sang and Brother Young was treated to a handshaking by those present, who wished him a heartfelt Godspeed in his labor of love and mercy in the missionary field assigned him.

Singular Death of Sister Stubbs.—A correspondent at Provo forwards the following:

On the 13th inst. Sister Ann Wride Stubbs, wife of Elder Peter Stubbs, of Provo, departed this life under the following singular circumstances:

Sister Stubbs was visiting her brother, Mr. Barry Wride, at Payson, and while out driving with Mrs. Wride, and coming down a rather steep dune, leading into that place, as the horse went too near the edge of the declivity Mrs. Stubbs became frightened and grasped the lines with the intention, no doubt, of pulling the horse in towards the bank, but, unfortunately, grasped the wrong line, which movement brought the horse's forefeet a little down the embankment. This so intimidated Sister Stubbs that she became paralyzed with fear, and uttering a sharp cry, her head fell upon the shoulder of her sister-in-law, in which position she expired.

Messrs. James Finlayson and son, seeing the dangerous position of the ladies, hurried to their assistance, and drove the vehicle with its occupants to Brother Clayson's, where they tried all in their power to restore Mrs. Stubbs to consciousness, thinking she had only fainted, but all their efforts to restore her proved ineffectual. Dr. J. H. Greer was called, who, after a careful examination, pronounced her dead, of disease of the heart, superinduced by excessive fright.

Sister Stubbs, daughter of Danson and Ann Wride, was born at Miskin House, Llantrisant, Glamorganshire, South Wales, Dec. 11, 1839. Was baptized April, 1857; sailed from Liverpool in company with her brother and sister (Mrs. Mary John of Provo), April 16, 1861; arrived in Salt Lake City, Sept. 13th, same year; was married Oct. 10, 1862; was the mother of nine children, seven of whom survive—three sons and four daughters.

The funeral services were held at the residence of Brother Stubbs on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 15th, where Elder Isaac Bullock delivered the funeral sermon. His remarks were full of comfort and instruction. The Provo choir were in attendance.

After the services, at which quite a large number were present, the remains were borne to the cemetery, where they were interred amid outbursts of grief from her children and relatives and the suppressed sobs of many sorrowing friends.

The quiet and unobtrusive manners of Sister Stubbs while living rendered her among all an object of general respect and admiration, and she will ever be cherished in their memories as a saint of the latter days.

Of her it can be truly said, that scandal and evil speaking were strangers to her tongue. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 25.

Discharged.—The examination in the case against Isadore Greenwald, before Commissioner McKay yesterday, for assaulting Sun Wah, resulted in Greenwald's discharge. The evidence went to show that the Mongolian gave provocation.

Arrived.—This morning Mrs. Patterson and Mr. Alma Winn arrived from San Francisco, bringing the body of the late Adam S. Patterson, who died in that city on Sunday last. The immediate cause of death was heart disease. The funeral will be held to-morrow.

ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE UPON TWO YOUNG LADIES.

THE SCOUNDREL RAFFLED.

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah, Aug. 25,
12:45 p. m.

Editor Deseret News:

Misses Pitt and Keller, of Corinne, were attacked by Jim Pett, of Brigham City, at the big slough bridge, about midway between here and Corinne, last evening, at dusk. The buggy in which the young ladies were riding was overturned and Miss Keller was set upon first. Miss Pitt fought the lustful fellow so desperately with her riding whip that he was forced to desist. Leaving his first victim upon the ground, more dead than alive from fright, he flew upon the latter and with brute force bore her to the earth.

The screams of the two, however, frightened the would-be ravisher away before his hellish work had been accomplished. The girls were found by a search party at 11 o'clock with their clothing nearly torn from their bodies. Miss P. bears evidence of the rougher treatment. Her neck is much swollen and finger marks are plainly traceable. Both eyes are dressed in mourning. She was also nearly choked to death with dirt and dust, forced into her mouth to stop her screams. Pett is an old offender and it caught will doubtless get what he so richly merits—a full penalty.

BRIGHAM CITY.

ANOTHER FATALITY.

WM. HARDY DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING.

This morning the residence of Wm. Hardy, 326 S. West Temple Street, was the scene of considerable excitement at what was believed to be another case of suicide. Mr. Hardy retired last night at about 10 o'clock, apparently in cheerful spirits. Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning the noise made by his struggling attracted the attention of neighbors, who rushed to his room and found him gasping for breath, and within a short time death had claimed him as its victim. An empty bottle labeled "Laudanum," found behind the washstand, and another containing a small quantity of the opiate, caused those in attendance to conclude that the deceased had taken poison. This idea was strengthened by the fact that he has several times threatened self-destruction, and on one occasion made the attempt but was frustrated by the timely services of a physician.

Coroner George J. Taylor was notified and summoned a jury Messrs. David James, Alfred Solomon and Edward T. Taylor. These gentlemen began an investigation, and from what they could learn were not satisfied that the deceased had been poisoned. It was true that yesterday he had purchased one and a half ounces of laudanum and that the bottle had been emptied. But the body showed no indications of poisoning, the pupils of the eyes being natural. After consulting with the dead man's friends an autopsy was decided on. Dr. J. M. Benedict was summoned and made a post mortem examination. The result was that the Doctor declared that there were no traces of laudanum, strychnine, arsenic or any other deadly drug in the stomach. He found, however, that the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver and stomach of the deceased were in a badly diseased condition, and expressed himself as surprised that under these circumstances the man had lived as long as he had. This diseased condition of the system had been brought about by the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants.

The deceased has been employed at different times as a waiter at the Continental Hotel and Walker House. At one time he was head steward at the latter place. On several occasions he lost his position on account of his intemperate habits. For a long time he has been addicted to the use of liquor, which brought himself and family a great amount of trouble. He was 36 years of age last January.

Mrs. Hardy, the defendant's wife, has been confined to her bed for a month past, and during that time her life has hung by a thread. To-day's occurrence had a terrible effect upon her, and serious fears are entertained that she may not recover. Her maiden name was Janet, Henry, and her parents reside at Wellsville, Cache County. She has three little girls living, the youngest about eighteen months old. Her financial circumstances are far from good, and the painful situation in which herself and children are placed has called forth the sympathy of kind friends. The body of the deceased will be interred to-morrow.

Dr. Bowers corroborated the statement of Dr. Benedict.

The following is the verdict of the jury:

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
County of Salt Lake.

An inquisition holden at the residence of Wm. Hardy, in the Second Precinct of Salt Lake City, on the 25th day of August, 1886, before George J. Taylor, coroner of said county, upon the body of Wm. Hardy, there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed.

The said jurors on their oaths do say from the evidence presented, that he died at his residence, No. — West Temple street, Salt Lake City, at 6:45 a. m., August 25, A. D. 1886, from natural causes.

In testimony whereof, the said jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year first above written.

David James, Alfred Solomon and Edward T. Taylor, jurors.
GEORGE J. TAYLOR,
Coroner.

MORE CRUSADE WORK.

BISHOP WM. THORN AND HENRY REISER ARRESTED.

Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a number of deputies called at the house of in the Sixth Ward, and served subpoenas on several members of his family. About the same time Mr. Reiser, who carries on his business as watchmaker and jeweler on First South Street, was arrested on a charge of unlawful cohabitation within the meaning of the Edmunds law, as interpreted by the courts. He was taken before Commissioner McKay, and listened to the reading of the complaint, which is made by deputy marshal John J. Gleason, and alleges that from September 1, 1883, to August 1, 1886, the defendant lived with Magdalene Reiser, Josephine Reiser and Catharine Reiser as his wives. The defendant admitted the facts alleged, and the officer in whose custody he was gave him half an hour in which to procure bail in the sum of $1,000, which he succeeded in securing.

This morning the case was again called up before the Commissioner. The District Attorney refused to allow the defendant to waive examination, stating that he wished to know what the evidence was.

Miss Josephine Reiser, daughter of the defendant, was called as the first witness. After giving her name and age to the prosecutor, the latter asked her, "Are you married to the defendant?"

"I decline to answer," replied the witness, laughing. "Must I answer such an absurd question?"

(On being informed that she must, she answered, "No, I am not. He is my father.")

Mr. Dickson was slightly taken aback at discovering his error. In reply to further interrogatories the witness testified—Magdalene Reiser is my mother; Margaret is his other wife; I live at home; my mother has two other children living; Mary, the youngest is ten years of age; we live in the Sixth Ward; my father has lived at my mother's house; he ceased living there about a year and a half ago, I think; I have been away a portion of the time; I have met my father there during the past year; never heard my father say my mother was the first wife.

Cross-examined—My father has not, to my knowledge, taken meals in my mother's house for a year and a half.

Margaret Von Bergen Reiser was called—I was married to the defendant in 1873; have lived in the 6th Ward ever since; my husband has not lived with me since September, 1884; I don't know when Magdalene was married to him; knew she was his wife; my youngest child is two and a half years old; I have four children; my husband visits the house about once a week, on his way to work in the morning; he has not taken a meal with me since September, 1884. His other wife's name is Catharine; she lives in the Sixth Ward; I do not know how long since she was married; she was his wife before I was, and has children; the defendant lives with her; that was the understanding between us.

District Attorney Dickson asked that the defendant be placed under $2,000 bonds, as he would probably have more than one count placed in the indictment against him.

Hugh Watson and Alex. Watson, Sen., were accepted as sureties for the defendant for this amount, and also for the three witnesses, who were each placed under $200 bonds to appear before the grand jury at 2 p. m. on September 14th.

About 8 o'clock this morning another arrest was made by Deputies Vandercreek and Smith. The accused in this instance is of the Seventh Ward, a gentleman 71 years of age. The complaint in this case was made by one D. W. Rensch, who figured as an applicant for the U. S. Marshalship before the appointment of Marshal Dyer. The allegation is that from September 1, 1883, to August 1, 1886, the defendant lived and cohabited with, as his wives, Mrs. Wm. Thorn and Sarah Thorn, "whose other and true name is to your complaisant as yet unknown." The preliminary examination was waived and the witnesses—Sarah Thorn, Edith Kate Thorn and Maggie Thorn—were placed under bonds of $200 each to appear before the grand jury on September 14th at 3 p. m.

The defendant gave bail in the sum of $1,000 to await the grand jury's action, Messrs. John H. Bailey and Robert R. Irvine being sureties.

Commissioner of Deeds for all the States, Mr. G. E. Reardon, Baltimore Md., writes that he suffered for a long time with rheumatism which yielded to no treatment until he applied St. Jacobs Oil.
