EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Russian newspapers are greatly amazed at the purchase in that country of 100,000 barrels of American wheat. It is but a very few years since Russia's wheat exports exceeded our own.

A Supreme Court decision of importance to farmers and drovers concerning the sale of diseased cattle was rendered recently in New York. He who sells diseased cattle forfeits the pay for them and is liable in damages for the spread of the disease.

A Craig & Co., publishers, Chicago, have now in press, and will issue October 12, a work of a startling character, entitled, "The Priest, the Woman, and the Confessional," by the venerable Father Chikinsky, who for thirty years was a priest in the Church of Rome. It will contain a fine steel engraving of the author.

The Syrian and Orenburg Rail way bridge across the river Volga, Russia, which is just finished, cost $1,000,000. Where the bridge is built the river is more than a mile wide. The fourteen piers which support the girders are 100 feet above the main level of the water, and the girders are 384 feet long and 20 feet wide.

The date of the earliest eclipse of the sun, recorded in the annals of the Chinese, when "on the first day of the last month of autumn the sun and moon did not meet harmoniously in Fang," or in that part of the heavens defined by two stars in the constellation of the Scorpion, has been determined by Prof. Von Oppolzer, of Vienna, to have been the morning of Oct. 22, 2137 B. C.

Mrs. Myra Bradwell, the editor-in-chief of the Legal News, was once, according to the Inter-Ocean, asked what was her idea of women's rights. "The best," she said, "is to delude one man into the idea that the Lord never made another such woman as herself." Lots of women act on this principle although they do not acknowledge it, and perhaps do not even define it clearly in their own minds.

The Russian Technical Commission has reported in favor of the adoption of the metric system within the Empire, and the report has been received with favor, especially as it is recognized that some radical change is absolutely necessary. Most European countries have adopted the system, and as the majority of the scientific and technical bodies in Russia have voted in its favor, it is thought that an Imperial order will soon issue rendering it compulsory at the expiration of a couple of years.

A half-breed while hunting met with a terrible death recently, in Oregon. He had a lasso attached to the horn of his saddle, and while riding along in quest of his cattle, he espied a fawn about fifty yards from him, and no doubt thinking what fine sport it would be to hunt it, he prepared the rope, and while swinging the noose above his head, it became unaccountably mislaid, and he was thrown, and the horse shying at the time, threw him to the ground. The horse ran away and the unfortunate man to death.

THE INDIANA ELECTION.

The news of the Democratic defeat in Indiana appears to be confirmed by the latest dispatches. The cry of corruption against the Republicans does not alter the facts nor the figures. And it does not seem as though either party has any right to a claim of purity in the conduct of the Indiana contest. However, there seems to be pretty good grounds for the charge of the importation of negroes from Kentucky into Indiana to strengthen the republican vote. The New York Express publishes a detailed account of the capture of two colored men, "white" on the way from Bowling Green, Kentucky, to Indianapolis. A Democrat on the train, pretending to be a Republican, wormed out of them their object and plans, and under pretense of escorting them to the Republican headquarters, took them to the rooms of the Democratic Central Committee. They talked freely, said they had been sent by Rev. A. Allenworth, who had forwarded many of their race to Indiana, during the previous six weeks, and would make many more for election day. The two colored men were then taken to the office of C. B. Rockwood, the Supervisor of Elections, when the Democratic managers said: "Mr. Rockwood, we desire to lodge information against these colored men. If you will make an affidavit that they came into this State from Kentucky to-day to vote on the 15th. We ask that they be placed under arrest."

Mr. Rockwood replied that he did not think he could issue a warrant for their arrest for the mere act of coming into the State for an intent. A deputy marshal present, a Republican, said he would arrest the men if a warrant could be produced, but that he could not be produced, and told the men they could go. Mr. Rockwood was asked if the negroes could be arrested for conspiracy and answered "No." He was then requested to reduce his decision to writing and give the following:

"I must refuse the application, for the reason that the facts alleged do not belong to the facts prohibited. Intention to do an unlawful act is not punishable unless it is accompanied by an unlawful act."

The colored men were turned loose, and it appears that Allenworth, who forwarded them, is the Republican elector for the Bowling Green, Kentucky, district.

We repeat this incident to show how the thing is done, and how majorities are worked up by the Republicans, at the same time having no doubt that similar tactics are employed by the Democrats, proving that strategy and money, rather than the honest opinions of the resident voters, frequently carry the elections in the States.

It should be understood that although Indiana may have elected a Republican Governor, it by no means follows that the State is lost to the Democracy for the Presidential election. In 1872 Indiana went Democratic in October, and in November turned Republican by a large majority. As decided a change may take place when the choice is left between Garfield and Hancock, and many people who voted for Porter because of his local popularity, may declare next month for the Democratic nominee.

The fight will be a lively one, and the result of the October elections, while it will give spirit and courage to the Republican cause, will certainly stimulate the Democrats to extra energy and exertion. These local affairs are not conclusive indications; they are but skirmishes, the real battle is to come.

CANT BE STOPPED.

The Union Pacific Company seems disposed not only to squeeze Salt Lake on the coal question, but to hamper and hinder the progress of the Utah Eastern, by which means it is completed a supply of fuel can be secured. A verbal contract was made by the U. P. Company with the U. P. agent for the transportation of their iron and rolling stock, purchased in California, from Ogden to Echo for $36 and to Coalville for $44 per car load. The price has now been run up to $55 for freight to Coalville. It was expected no doubt that the Utah Eastern people would kick at this, and thus the completion of their road would be delayed. But they have concluded to pay the exorbitant price under protest and go ahead. Good. Rush on the road and let every man who has public spirit and a little spare cash take some stock in the new road, and help the men who are endeavoring to save Salt Lake from the grasp of a soulless monopoly.

ANTI-MORMON MOVEMENT IN WALES.

The Liverpool Post, in an article on the "Mormons," informs the world that "the principal emigrants to Utah are Welsh." This is news indeed. The Welsh papers have given the information that they are "Scotch, and others again that they are chiefly Scandinavians. Neither of them is right. But it doesn't matter a great where the emigrants hail from, so long as the gospel is preached and the gathering goes on in fulfillment of the sayings of the prophets and the promises of God. The Post says that "as it is among the Welsh people that the Mormon emigration is most successful, a number of influential people are about to undertake an anti-Mormon movement in the Principality." This is good news. It means a revival of the work in Wales. Wherever an anti-Mormon movement is inaugurated, interest is awakened, the truth is made plain, and converts to our faith are the inevitable consequence. Go ahead with the anti-Mormon movement in Wales, and the result will be what the Post erroneously states is now the fact, "the principal emigrants to Utah," for awhile, will be from Wales. We have quite a number of good citizens here from the Principality, and have room for many more of the same kind.

AN UNFORTUNATE TEXT.

At the Pan-Presbyterian Council, opened September 23d, in Philadelphia, Dr. William Paxton, of New York, preached the opening sermon, and took for his text Matthew viii. 11 v. "And I say unto you that many shall come from the east and west and shall sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven." This was rather a peculiar text for a sermon to a body of ministers who have promulgated such anathemas against all who practice the patriarchal system of plural marriage. Do these preachers and pastors who compose the Pan-Presbyterian Council expect to sit down in the same place with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob? And do they believe in the Scripture which says, "The man is not without the woman, nor the woman without the man in the Lord?" If so they will have to meet Sarah, Hagar, Keturah and Abraham's concubines with their husbands and Jacob's four wives with him in the heavenly mansions. And what can they say then to those holy patriarchs in defense of their diabolical attempts to punish by fines and prisons, by banishment and bayonets, people who believe in Jesus, and whose sole offense in the eyes of their denouncers, is the marrying of more wives than one under ordinances and regulations they believe to be divine? The Pan-Presbyterian Church should either repudiate that passage of scripture which Dr. Paxton chose for his text, or take back their bloodstained anathemas—marriage, or declare their intention of not taking a seat in the kingdom of heaven with such notorious polygamists as Abraham and his grandsons, in which case room will be found for them in a more suitable place.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

Sherman speaks on Politics.

Chicago, 15.—The republican demonstration in honor of John Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury, last night, was very long and enthusiastic. Garfield and Arthur clubs were out in force, with torches and bands of music, making a fine appearance. A meeting was held at McCormick's Hall and was presided over by Hon. W. K. Fairbanks. Preliminary speeches were made by the chairman and Frank McVea, accompanied by Gen. Logan and Hon. C. B. Farwell, entered and took seats on the platform. His appearance was the signal for loud applause. The Secretary made very telling points including the following in previous speeches: "I accepted with diffidence the kind invitation of your committee to speak on political matters in the great city of Chicago. The time fixed was immediately after the October election. At Ohio and in your neighboring sister States, intimately connected with you in history and geographical association, were to be the scenes of the preliminary contest, it might have been embarrassing for me to participate in that canvass and take part in your, but these preliminary contests are over and the presidential election transferred to the October States to each and every State in the Union, the drift and current of public opinion, though very hopeful for the republican party, is so decided, but that the people of every State must now diligently and actively take their part in the great canvass that will, in all probability, be of greater importance than any since the election of Abraham Lincoln in 1860. It is the turning point which will settle for many years the ascendancy and drift of political events. The times are auspicious for the independent action of each individual voter. As a republican, earnestly devoted to the principles and policy of the party, but by no means a partisan, I am entirely willing to rest my hopes for success upon a comparison by independent, intelligent voters, of the principles and conduct of the two parties. He never could read or hear of southern outrages against the freedmen without indignation and a sense of shame that this government of the United States should be so powerless in dealing with this cruel wrong to millions of unoffending working people who only wish to enjoy the right to vote and to hold their own property. If, in the future, their right will be restored as guaranteed by the Constitution, this restoration can never come except at the hands of the republican party. The law as it stands, if enforced, put an end to the tragic overthrow of the political rights and privileges of the colored people of the south. Notice a card signed by several of the friends of whom I know by reputation as worthy business men of Chicago, who say it is an insult to their common sense to say that the proposed would be injurious to the business of the country and tend to check the advancing tide of prosperity, which now is coming upon us with a flood. Has not our country not a President since the republican party gained possession of the government where the election of a democratic nominee would not have greatly affected and endangered the business interests of the country, in some cases its safety and very existence. But what reason do these gentlemen give for this change? What good do they pretend to accomplish? What single interest to advance? They do not pretend that the administration has been good or wrong or honest, or that it is not successfully administered and has all the great business interests involved, but they say a change of administration is desirable after the lapse of twenty years, even were the party wielding power less guilty of faults than the party now in possession appears to be, and it is true so illlogical that the stock by the agents who have not been handling the trust many years. This phase of the shop-talking on account of stock is scarcely applicable to affairs of this government. The great republic is not to be sold to any man, and have been accessible to both Houses of Congress. Every defalcation is openly proclaimed, and every secondarily made public. Democratic committees have explored the recesses of the Treasury and find no fault, or wrong, or defalcation. Every business interest has been surveyed. They dare not propose a single change, and yet these business men of Chicago, having no fault to find with the present administration, can give no reason why they should vote the democratic ticket, except that they want a set of hungry office holders to take an account of the stock—a doctrine that can be must confess my surprise to see it come from business men. It smacks of the low policies of New York City than the business habits of thirty merchants.

At the conclusion of Secretary Sherman's speech, Gen. Logan was called out, and although suffering from a severe cold, made a short speech, which was received with great applause by the audience. Hon. John Wentworth also addressed the audience. The street display was the largest of the campaign, over 5,000 torchbearers being in line. The enthusiasm was immense.

Correspondence on the Indian Trouble.

WASHINGTON, 15.—Commissioner Meacham and Agent Berry telegraphed from Las Vegas, N. M., to the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Schurz, Meacham's dispatch is as follows: "October 12—Commissioner Berry goes to the Indian camp to quiet the Indians. The constant lawlessness for a posse; both constable and military are waiting to know about jurisdiction. If Berry leaves the agency the employees will leave. I have been summoned as a witness for the State. The military expect instructions this evening. A conflict between the State and government seems probable. The Utes will doubtless be involved. I think it impossible at this time for surveys to be attempted. Expect Major to-day."

(Signed) MEACHAM.

The survey referred to by those required to be made preliminary to opening up the Ute reservation for settlement. Major is the name of the surveyor.

Oct. 15—Completed to leave for Gunnison City in charge of the sheriff to answer for the killing of Jackson by the Indians. The agency is in charge of Major. Meacham is in a perilous condition owing to my absence. Can the Attorney General issue orders to suspend action in the case until safely arrived?

(Signed) BERRY, Agent.

Secretary Schurz sent the following telegram to Gov. Pitkin, Colorado: "I consider it my duty to communicate to you information received at this department that the excitement, arising from the killing of an Indian and the subsequent killing of a white man on the reservation threatens serious difficulties and trouble, and to disturb all relations of one State with the point of construction to settle the Indian problem in Colorado in a just and peaceable manner. Mr. Berry the agent of the Uncompahgre

Ute telegraph he has been arrested and is to be taken to Gunnison on a warrant issued by a justice of the peace there, charging him with the murder of a white man. Meacham, one of the Ute commissioners, temporarily at Los Pinos, reports he has been summoned under a subpoena as a witness. Thus the two officers, who probably more than others, possess the confidence of the Indians and can best be depended upon to exercise upon them a wholesome influence are removed from them at this critical moment. At the same time it is rumored that lawless persons intend to seize upon and kill these officers of the government as soon as they are out of the reservation. The whole of the information here is to the effect that these officers did all they could to save the life of the white man reported killed, in order to put it in peril. Mob violence used against these men in all probability will be followed by other lawless acts, disturbing the peace between the Indians and whites, and there appears reason to fear that in this way an Indian war may be brought on, sure to result in the loss of hundreds of lives and millions of dollars in property. The military as well as the civil officers on the reservation have been instructed to use every possible effort to restrain the excitement of the Indians and prevent a collision. Everything being done on our part to avert from Colorado the calamities of an Indian war, we are anxious to express the hope that the State authorities of Colorado will join their earnest efforts to ours by repressing the lawless spirit that, according to current rumor in the newspapers, exists among the population on the borders of the Ute reservation. (Signed) SCHURZ.

Jubilant Republicans.

Not another word of election news last night at 10 p.m. It is not likely that there will be any changes in Ohio and Indiana, except that the majorities will vary slightly from the previous figures. Everybody in the republican party is jubilant and grimly determined to heap up the success by republican majorities in November, so as to thoroughly complete the business so well begun on Tuesday.

Republican Reports.

The Inter-Ocean's Indianapolis special says: It is now certain the republican will win in the 5th Congressional district and possibly elect their man in the 12th, making nine or ten out of the 13. If they have ten they gain four over the last Congress. Everything seems to favor the republican side. The Inter-Ocean's Columbus special says: Townsend's majority will be about 1,300 and the others on the ticket about 22,000. These are the exact figures predicted by Foster on Tuesday evening. Townsend ran behind because he was traded off by the democrats. Saturday night after the result of the election were known and now has a flood of them.

Cincinnati, 15.—The following are the unofficial majorities of the following congressmen in Ohio, as obtained. First district, Butterworth, rep., 1,302; second district, Young, rep., 1,007; third district, Mori, rep., 904; fourth district, Schultz, rep., 354; fifth district, Ritchie, rep., 694; eighth district, Keifer, rep., 4,900; ninth district, Robinson, rep., 1,100; tenth district, Rice, rep., 1,357; eleventh district, Neal, rep., 2,300; thirteenth district, Atherton, dem., 2,700; fifteenth district, Dawes, rep., 542; twentieth district, Townsend, rep., 524.

An Appeal to the Democrats.

New York, 15.—The national democratic executive committee met today and issued the following to the democratic and conservative voters of the country: "The election of President is now before you. State and local dissensions are eliminated from the issues of the day. The magnitude of victory or defeat can only be estimated by the force and means employed in securing it. By fraud and corruption, the democratic party has been defeated in their purpose in 76 and the rightfully elected President was kept from office. With the complete capital of the republican party, aided by repeated assessments upon an army of office holders, with the power of the federal government represented by the United States marshal and resort to every corrupt appliance known to republican methods concentrated in the States, our adversaries have succeeded in securing a probable return of their local candidates. Can it be possible that in every State throughout the broad land the same methods can be brought to bear that were used by the republican managers in Indiana and Ohio? Can the great States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Colorado, Nevada and New Hampshire be bought, intimidated and defrauded? Even without the vote of Indiana, which we believe will be redeemed in Nevada, with New York, New Jersey and the States that are conceded to our candidate is assured. The republican party have put in nomination for President two men who, by the admission of their own party and press, are unworthy of your confidence and your suffrages. It is impossible that fifty million intelligent and patriotic people will consent to place themselves upon the humiliated level thus prepared for them by the republican managers. Fellow citizens, the first day's repulse at Gettysburg ended on the third with Hancock in front in the glorious victory that secured our Union. The question is not now the preservation of the government. Hancock is now as then in the front. Repulse him now, then, the open of victory which will secure to coming generations the invaluable blessings of civil liberty. By order of the National Democratic Committee. (Signed) WM. H. BARNUM, Chairman.
