

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

The funeral services of John Lloyd Street were held at the residence of the deceased, at 10:30 today. Mr. Street died on Sunday at 7 p. m., from the effects of acute Bright's disease.

Edward Tillett, 103 Old Palace Road, Norwich, Norfolk, England, would like to know of the whereabouts of Daniel Osborne and family, who emigrated from Pump street, Rore Lane, Norwich, about 1855. He had a family of 7, and it is understood some died crossing the plains. Any information would be thankfully received by Mr. Tillett.

The quarterly conference of the Wayne Stake of Zion will be held on Sunday and Monday, August 22nd and 23rd, instead of August 28th and 29th, as heretofore appointed.

HEBER CITY, Aug. 10.—Heber Jones, 22 years of age, is lying here unconscious as the result of being thrown from a horse and having his skull crushed last night about 7 o'clock.

At no time since the accident has Jones exhibited signs of returning sensibility through the shock attendant upon his injuries is passing away. Dr. Alrd held a consultation by telephone with Dr. Wilson of Park City this afternoon regarding the advisability of performing an operation to relieve the pressure upon the brain. The young man's condition is extremely critical and the operation has not yet been determined upon.

News has been received from St. George, Utah, to the effect that two children of Charles C. Knell, aged respectively two and a half and six years, were burned to death at Pinto, Washington county, Sunday afternoon.

It seems the little fellows had gone to the farm to feed the chickens, when, in some way, they started a fire in the hay. They were not missed until after the barn was entirely burned down, when the people were horrified, upon searching, to find their bodies almost turned to cinders in the smoldering debris. The mother is frantic with grief, and to make matters worse the poor father is away from home.

The serious illness from paralysis of Mrs. Herman Bamberger, as foreshadowed in last evening's NEWS, resulted in death late in the afternoon. All efforts on the part of the attending physicians to resuscitate the unfortunate lady proved unavailing, and she passed peacefully away without having recovered consciousness. Mrs. Bamberger was a native of Germany and was 59 years of age. She came to this city with her husband in 1877 and continued to reside here up to the time of her death. She was the mother of two children, both of who have preceded her to the grave. Mrs. Bamberger had many friends in this and other cities. She was well known for her works of charity and deeds of kindness and was a prominent member of the Hebrew Benevolent society. Profound sympathy is felt for the surviving husband in the bereavement that has so suddenly come upon him.

HEBER CITY, Aug. 10.—The people of this place were thrown into mourning this afternoon over the drowning of the 16 year old son of Milton Murdock.

The young man was in swimming in a mill pond with several other boys when overtaken by death. He, however, was the largest of the number and when they saw him sinking could not understand why it was until he cried out to them that he had given out; that his strength had forsaken him. They made an effort to save him, but were unsuccessful, and he went down to death. His body was soon afterwards recovered. The part of the pond in which he was drowned had about ten or twelve feet of water.

A Tribune special announces the serious injury at Park City yesterday afternoon of Karl Stevenson, a 12-year-old boy. The lad, with several others about his own age, was playing in front of the Park City Power house on Park avenue. A scavenger wagon was standing near by, and young Karl attempted to get on top of the wagon by the wheel. The horses started just as the boy was about halfway up and with the motion of the wagon the child was thrown underneath. The wheel passed over his leg below the knee, cutting the flesh and muscle from the bone. The child was picked up and carried to his home. Dr. Wilson was called and dressed the wound, thirty-six stitches being necessary.

ECOFIELD, Aug. 9.—John Bishop, son of Mr. Robert Bishop, met his death today in the P. V. Coal company's mine at Winter Quarters. The father and son were working together in a room, and were in the act of loading a car when a large rock gave way directly over the young man, striking him on the head and killing him instantly. His brains were knocked out. Deceased was 22 years of age and was a great assistance to his father in helping to support his large family.

Electric machines are being introduced in the mines here for undergrounding the coal and are working successfully.

A larger fan than the one now doing service is to be placed in the near future for the better ventilation of the workings of the mine, which is very much needed.

Will anyone who knows what has become of Edward McArdle, please communicate the information to the NEWS? Mr. McArdle was a miner in the White Pine country as early as 1869; worked at or near Hamilton, White Pine county, Nevada, in 1871; was in San Francisco a short time in 1875; worked in the Chollar mine at Virginia City, Nevada, in 1879; was naturalized at Virginia City October 12, 1878, when his age was given as 38, occupation miner, witnesses James Irish and Thomas Mc-Laughlin. He is supposed to have come to Utah in 1876 or 1877, and is said to have died here.

The caption to this announcement is the title of a lecture that Prof. Whiteley will deliver in the Sixteenth ward meeting house tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. The lecture will be under the auspices of the M. I. A. of the ward.

The Phoenix, Arizona, Republican gives considerable space to a Mormon Pioneer day celebration at Mesa, Arizona, on July 24th, and makes the following comments on the address of Ralph Cutler, formerly an employee of the NEWS:

Address: "The Pioneers," Ralph Cutler. The speaker is a young man from Utah, who is here ranching while building up his health. He spoke eloquently and in a graphic manner, described the journeying of the Pioneers from their beautiful far eastern homes into Ohio and Illinois, thence to the desert lands of Utah, which today show the work of industry and perseverance, beauty spots that compare with the grandest sections lying out of doors. In closing the speaker said that "the names of the Pioneers would be engraved in letters of gold on the pages of history, never to be forgotten, never to be effaced." Space prevents extended mention of the splendid effort, which elicited prolonged and hearty applause.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 4, 1897.

In Provo the other day I picked up a small volume purporting to give a biographical sketch of the Wives of President Brigham Young. Among those who were formerly wives to the Prophet Joseph who were said to have become wives of President Young is the name of Sister Mariah Lawrence. She never was President Young's wife. After the prophet's death she became the wife of Col. A. W. Babbitt, by whom she had one child, and died with it in Nauvoo, in 1847.

One of the mistakes in the Jubilee general program was the statement that Hon. Lorin Farr was the "only surviving member of the Utah Legislature of 1850." President Willford Woodruff and Hons. Charles Soumway and B. F. Johnson are all still living. We were not only members of that assembly, but were members of the colonial legislature which formulated the constitution, statutes, military and other provisional laws of the State of Deseret all of which were absorbed by the Utah Legislature of 1850 under the organic act.

Other omissions or mistakes I omit now to mention.

B. F. JOHNSON.

An account, delayed in transmission, has been received from R. Barton, Salt Lake county of the death of an old lady, Mrs. LeBaron, who was accidentally thrown from a wagon and sustained fatal injuries. It appears that she and her daughter-in-law, who lives on the prairie between Riverton and Herriman, and has to haul water from the Utah and Salt Lake canal for culinary purposes, were going down to the canal with a lot of barrels in their wagon, and from some cause, the horses took fright and started on a run, the old lady who was stout and healthy, took hold of the lines in connection with her daughter-in-law,
