Arthur Candland, a stockman of Mt. Pleasant, came up this morning to be operated upon by Dr. Pinkerton. For some time Mr. Candland has been unable to use his right arm to any advantage, the shoulder of that arm being so stiff. The ball and socket apparently have grown together or become fixed in some way and a very painful operation will be necessary.

There have been only three who have so far declined to go, one on account of smallpox, the other two having to remain because of the pressure of business. Mr. Callister anticipates a profitable and interesting time at the convention, and feels confident that Salt Lake will be the place where the next convention shall be held.

For the first time in four years C. L. Payne met his father in this city yesterday. The meeting was a great surprise to both. W. S. Payne is the name of the father and he is a wealthy stock-raiser of Columbus, Indiana. The son is an employee of the Rio Grande Western, having worked in the B. and B. department of that company at Thistle. A few days ago he came up to Salt Lake, and yesterday was at the depot when No. 1 came in, and the first one to alight was his father. The two are enjoying their reunion here, but in a day or so the father will leave for California, on business.

MORE SMALLPOX CASES FOUND.

The Disease Invades the Home of W. A. Hobbs, a Fish Peddler.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN ILL.

Fearful That Several People Have Been Exposed—Danger of an Epidemic at Eureka.

Three well defined cases of smallpox were discovered yesterday, and if reports are correct, they present some serious aspects for the consideration of the health authorities. The afflicted ones are Mrs. W. A. Hobbs, and 22 years, and her two children, aged respectively two years and one year and a month.

Information of the cases reached the health department through Dr. A. Carrington Young, who was called upon by the mother of Mrs. Hobbs. She stated that her daughter had smallpox and requested him to attend her, and the physician lost no time in reporting the matter to the authorities.

The Hobbs family reside in a terrace at 469 west Sixth street, and C. H. Buckley, an immune, was sent down to the house with quarantine flags to be put out in the case his investigations justified it. A brief examination satisfied Buckley that the cases were smallpox and he so informed Dr. Keogh, after consulting the family to observe a strict quarantine.

Dr. Keogh then took the matter up, and on visiting the place found that Mrs. Hobbs had been ill for a week, although the eruptions broke out only three days ago. The children's doubts became infected from the mother, and the eruptions are just appearing on them.

Dr. Keogh says they are all well defined cases of smallpox, and today the woman and children will be removed to the pest house and given careful attention.

It is unfortunate that the source of contagion in these cases cannot be determined. Mr. Hobbs is a fish peddler and the only theory advanced is that during his rounds he must have exposed himself and carried the germs to his home, although he is in no way affected. The existence of these smallpox cases seems to have been generally known in the neighborhood yesterday.

While the health officers express no doubt whatever as to these cases being genuine, still there is just a chance that they may be mistaken. The examinations made were, of necessity, not very searching, and it is well known that chickenpox has been prevalent in that part of this city for some time.

SMALL POX AT EUREKA.

Two Cases Reported, and Dr. Beatty Makes an Examination.

Dr. T. B. Beatty, of the State board of health, was yesterday notified that there were two cases of smallpox at Eureka, and he at once left for the camp. Arriving there he found that Ned Hickman and George Proctor presented all the symptoms of well developed cases. The matter created considerable consternation, as Proctor is employed at one of the large mines, and Hickman is engaged freely with his friends, and has attended a dance on Tuesday evening. The houses of both men were placed under quarantine and the local board of health issued a proclamation suspending the public and private schools and all public meetings.

Dr. Beatty thinks the danger of an epidemic at Eureka is very great, as the whole town has been inoculated. The mayor has called a special meeting of the town board, and provisions for the pest house will be made.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.

A sensational runaway occurred in the eastern part of the city last evening which came nearly ending in a tragedy in which a father and son played the leading roles. The man, whose name is Woods, and his son Percy, were coming into the city on a hay wagon, when they reached the corner of Seventh East and F streets something about the wagon seemed to be wrong, and Mr. Wood went to the rear end of the load to investigate, leaving his boy in charge of the team. The horses made a sudden start, which movement threw Mr. Wood off the load to the ground, and jerked the boy forward onto the horses, who took fright and started down the street at a high rate of speed.

PRESTON IS PROSPEROUS.

President Parkinson Talks of the Thriving Idaho Town.

President George C. Parkinson of the Onida State, Idaho, will leave for home tomorrow after a week's stay in this city, where he has been on business.

Mr. Parkinson gives a very flattering report of the condition of the people in his section of the country. Preston, he says, now has a population of about 2,000 people, and is located almost in the very heart of a great agricultural country. Most of the thirty-five to forty business houses are doing very well, and the outlook for the future is probably as bright there as anywhere in the Rocky Mountains.

With reference to a statement published by a "News" contemporary that Cache valley farmers were getting but twenty-five cents a bushel for their wheat, he desired to make a correction. The fact is that the farmers of Cache valley and the surrounding country are now receiving forty cents a bushel for

ENCOURAGING FOR THE TERRITORIES

Senator Shoup Speaks Kind Words for Arizona and New Mexico.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT

In Industry was Found in the Aspirant Territories—Distinguished Party of Visitors.

Salt Lake City was today favored with the presence of some distinguished visitors, who arrived on this morning's Rio Grande Western train. The party consisted of the following named persons:

United States Senator Shoup of Idaho, chairman of the committee on Territories.
United States Senator Clark of Wyoming, member of the committee on Territories.
Hon. N. O. Murphy, governor of Arizona.
Hon. Blinger Herman, commissioner of the general land office.
Major Foote, commanding the Wyoming battalion in the Philippine Islands.

Mr. F. R. Murphy, brother to Governor Murphy.
The party was met at the Western depot this morning by Gov. Wells and staff and Capt. Walter Shoup, and by them escorted to town, where the party was increased by some additions. The local gentlemen who composed the entertainment for the party this morning were:

Governor John H. Wells.
Colonel John C. Cannon.
Justice Barch of the Utah Supreme court.
Surgeon General Critchlow, N. G. U.

Upon leaving the depot the party was driven up town and visited the city and county building, which was very much admired. A drive to the Alta club was made, and the party was introduced to the "clubhouse" in the course of a celebration. The "gang" consisted of a number of well known imbibers, known only for their imbibing propensities.

The mystery was soon cleared up. Rip Van tried to assume control of the van and the leadership of the crowd within. They threw him out. The officer told the man to go home, and when he was carrying out the officer's instructions.

ATTORNEY JONES WINS.

Judge Cherry Holds that He is Still a Resident of Utah.

Attachment on His Law Library Dissolved—One Point Not Yet Decided.

Judge Cherry rendered a decision last night on the motion of the defendants to dissolve the attachment in the case of the National Bank of the Republic vs. Elmer B. Jones and wife. His honor holds that Attorney Jones was not an absconding debtor and accordingly dissolved the attachment.

The National Bank of the Republic held a note of the defendants for $382. When it became due an attachment was levied on Mr. Jones's law library, under the absconding debtors' law. Jones had gone to Kearney, Neb., and the theory of the plaintiff was that he had gone there for good. Jones's attorney, I. B. Shepard, came into court with a motion to dissolve the attachment on the ground that defendant had only gone away temporarily and had not done anything which could be construed as an attempt to defraud his creditors. The case has been on trial all week, and last evening arguments were made.

In rendering the decision Judge Cherry did not rule on the point raised by the defense as to whether a law library is exempt from execution.

SAW MAJOR LOGAN'S DEATH

American Boy Writes of the Battle with Aguinaldo's Fighters.

Fred Jahrlies of company L, Thirty-third United States volunteers, writes interestingly of the death of Major John A. Logan in a letter dated November 12, 1899, says the Denver News. Mr. Jahrlies is a nephew of Miss Henrietta Jahrlies of 1125 West Eleventh avenue.

He says, writing from San Fabian: "We marched about five miles yesterday, fought on the island. We were going up the road when all of a sudden the bullets began to rain around us. At the first one of our men was killed, and as Major Logan stooped over to help him he was struck with a Remington bullet in the head; and as the hospital steward went to help him, he was shot in the heart and died instantly. Major Logan lived several hours, but died before he reached camp. One man of our company was killed and one wounded. We were in the battle about three hours. This place, which is called San Jacinto, was protected by what is called the Fifth infantry and one of the strongest body guards of Aguinaldo and put up one of the best fights on the island. A boat will leave this evening for Manila, and the remains of Major Logan will be taken to Manila. The body was almost unrecognizable. On our way back to this place yesterday we passed great numbers of dead bodies of insurgents; sometimes as many as twenty-five in a trench. It is estimated that at least 300 were killed, and no telling how many wounded."

ART JONES IS ACQUITTED.

Jury Brought in a Verdict of Not Guilty on Burglary Charge.

Was Accused of Breaking into the Store of Joseph S. Williams Last September.

The jury in the Art Jones burglary case, after three hours deliberation, came into court at 8 o'clock last evening with a verdict of not guilty, whereupon Judge Norrell ordered the defendant discharged.

The case was tried for breaking into the store of Joseph S. Williams, 140 K street, last September. He was given a hearing last October, but the jury failed to agree upon a verdict. His defense was an alibi, and there was considerable doubt in the minds of those who heard the testimony as to whether Jones was the person seen by the Williams brothers.

AMUSEMENTS.

The great success attendant upon the presentation of the "Musketiers" at the Grand theater has thoroughly convinced Manager Mulvey and Mr. Paul Gilmore, who heads the company, that it would be more profitable for them to run that play throughout the week than to make a change of bill as originally contemplated and announced. It was the purpose to give the new Cuban play, "The Dawn of Freedom," for three nights beginning this evening. But in view of the fact that there has been so many calls from patrons to continue the "Musketiers," that will be done. Notwithstanding the extremely inclement condition of the weather last night the Grand was crowded from stage to ceiling and heavy patronage may be looked for until the close of the engagement.

CONFESSED HIS SINS.

Stranger from Wyoming Tells a Sad Tale to Chief Hilton.

An individual who looked as though he carried the weight of the world upon his shoulders walked into police headquarters this morning and confessed his sins to Chief Hilton. Amid sobbed he said: "The other day I bought me a ticket fer to go to Evanston, Wyoming, and was to go yesterday, but I didn't go. Today when I tried to leave they told me that me ticket was no good, unless I come to you and got you to say that I was unable to go." "Did you get drunk yesterday?" asked the chief.

"Yes, sir, to honest with you, and to tell the truth I did really get quite drunk."

"Well, I can do nothing for you," said Chief Hilton, and the stranger wept.
