

Capt. Servis of Salt Lake Expects to Meet Eureka in the Final Contest.

The socker game of football is coming into another innings in Utah, and despite the fact that it was only indifferently re-ceived last year, it now promises to play to actual audiences. An early effort to open up the league series this year failed in account of bad weather. Many have looked to socker as a sub-stitute for the intercellegiate game, and as Americans have been won over to the other British game of Rugby, English-men have declared that socker was bet-ter than that and would ultimately win first place in American favor. For the Whites, Service, at fullback, and Gibson and Sawsbury in the forward line, did excel-lent work, while J. White, at half, was the star man of the Blues. Discussing the game this morning Capt. Servis, who is also head of the league, stated that he thought his team was in good form, and capable of lifting the cup from Eureka.
