Senator Clark Injured—Senator W. A. Clark is in crutches in London. During heavy weather while crossing the Atlantic on the Lusitania, he was thrown down a companionway by a lurch of the vessel, severely straining the muscles of his right leg.

Dependent Children—In a letter from President Roosevelt to Governor Spry, Utah's executive is asked to co-operate in the movement for the care of dependent children. A conference of the society was held at Washington, D. C. Jan. 25, and the president expressed himself to the effect that it is a sorry record with the state and purpose of the organization.

Assessment Lists—County Assessor Amos S. Gabbott has a force of 15 deputies busy each day making assessments for the present year. The city has been completed, and attention is now directed to the county. Returns are required by law on or before the first Monday in May, and it is expected that the reports will be in readiness considerably before the time.

High License No Good—Referring to high license, I want to say that you will have more lives under high license than you will under prohibition because the saloon keepers can not afford to pay the high license will do their best to operate on the quiet, without a license.

One of the hardest things we had to meet in Portland was the opposition of some of the businessmen to begin with, and end with the dollar, fearing that prohibition would injure their property interests at once began to decry it, but they are now mightily pleased with the success of the movement. We have what is known as Sturgess deputies in Maine, and when a county sheriff becomes lax in his duties as regards arresting violators of the liquor law, these Sturgess deputies who are appointed by the governor, and have jurisdiction over the liquor evil over the entire state, go in to that county and themselves take care of the offender.

"I am not a politician, nor a preacher, but I wish I had the time and the ability to tell all your people of the beneficial effects of prohibition." Mr. Lurvey and his wife are stopping at the Wilson hotel and are on their way to Los Angeles, where they will spend the winter.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE MOST POPULAR BECAUSE IT IS THE BEST.

"I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for over 20 years and I can say it is one of the best selling medicines on the market. For babies and young children it is nothing better. Allen, Plain Dealer, La. This remedy is not only good for children, but it is good for adults, and may be given as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all druggists."

"SPRINGING OLD BLUFF HERE TOO"

Chas. H. Lurvey of Portland, Maine, Recognizes All Senile Anti-Prohibition Arguments.

STORY OF A BUSINESS MAN.

Tourist at the Wilson Tells of Efforts of Liquor Interests to Head Off Temperance.

"Almost invariably when men talk of high license and restriction of the liquor traffic they are consciously or unconsciously using argument that has been put into circulation by the brewers," said Charles H. Lurvey of Portland, Me., in an interview at the Wilson hotel this morning.

Mr. Lurvey is a retired businessman who has been born and reared in prohibition Maine, and his statements bear evidence of careful observation and mature thought on the question of prohibition.

"Prohibition is the only successful way of combating the liquor traffic," continued Mr. Lurvey. "I have traveled through all parts of Maine, and when they tell me that prohibition does not prohibit, they are either not sincere, or they are woefully misinformed. In Portland, where I make my home, liquor is absolutely under the ban. True, there are a few 'pocket peddlers' as we call them, fellows who carry a bottle of poison which they call liquor in their pockets to sell to those who try to avoid the law, but even these are very few and far between, and the law next year will be made more severe than ever."

"What is the effect of prohibition on business?" was asked.

"Oh, they're springing that old bluff too, but they're wrong. It was the lack of the reliable citizens in Portland, Me., if prohibition has retarded business, and they will very readily tell you that it has not, and furthermore they will tell you that they do not intend to go back to high license or local option. This talk of high license and local option is never heard until the people begin to agitate for prohibition; that alone ought to be sufficient with the liquor dealers themselves, for they will resort to any subterfuge to avoid being put out of business, as they know they will under prohibition."

HIGH LICENSE NO GOOD.
Referring to high license, I want to say that you will have more lives under high license than you will under prohibition because the saloon keepers can not afford to pay the high license will do their best to operate on the quiet, without a license.

One of the hardest things we had to meet in Portland was the opposition of some of the businessmen to begin with, and end with the dollar, fearing that prohibition would injure their property interests at once began to decry it, but they are now mightily pleased with the success of the movement. UNIMPEACHABLE.

If you were to see the unequalled volume of unimpeachable testimony in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, you would upbraid yourself for so long delaying to take this effective alternative and tonic medicine for that blood disease from which you are suffering. It eradicates scrofula and all other humors and cures all their inward and outward effects. Take Hood's.
