PAYSON.

MRS. WORTHINGTON MISSING.

Left Home Over Five Weeks Ago and No Trace of Her Found.

Special Correspondence.
Payson, Utah Co., Oct. 21.—Over five weeks ago Mary Worthington, wife of S. Worthington, during his absence from home of a few hours, left her home and has not been seen or heard of since. She went on the D. & R. G. train to Bingham Junction, telling the conductor she wished to go to Sandy, where she had a daughter, sister and two brothers. For some time it was supposed she was there, but Mr. Worthington learned afterwards that she had not been seen or heard of there. On hearing this he at once sent out inquiries by telephone and otherwise to all points where it was thought she might possibly be, but up to the present the efforts of Mr. Worthington and friends have been unsuccessful in locating her whereabouts.

When she left home she wore a grey flannel waist and grey pleated skirt and blouse. Her features are pitted from the effects of smallpox. The family is naturally alarmed about her disappearance for so long a time, but have thought it best to at first make a quiet search for her, hoping in the meantime she would make her whereabouts known or return home. For a few weeks previous to her leaving home she had not been feeling well and owing to her nervous condition she thought she was in a much more serious state of health than she was. Doubtless this is the cause of her going away, as there had been no trouble of any kind between her and Mr. Worthington at the time of her leaving, between her and her husband. Why she did not go to her immediate friends is a mystery. Aside from her nervousness she is perfectly rational and her conversation gives no indication of anything being wrong with her.

PUMPING PLANT BETTERMENT.

Accident at Sugar Factory—Funeral Of Mrs. Hunger.

Special Correspondence.

They had pumped an average of 350 second feet during the season, and have supplied 50,000 or more acres in Salt Lake county with water. Today a committee of the canal boards visited the pumps and planned improvements for another year. A new fire proof building of brick and cement will be erected over the pumps in place of the wooden structure now covering them, and a new pump will be installed. Additional gates will be put in the river, an overflow dam and many other permanent improvements will be made to facilitate the pumping of water.

The art exhibit was very attractive and a surprise to all. The fruit and flowers were worthy of special mention, showing that both can be successfully raised in Bear Lake valley.
