

AT LAST STATION WORK COMMENCES

Engineers of Oregon Short Line Called in to Make Final Lines.

STARTING FINE NEW DEPOT.

Excavating for Half Million Dollar Structure Begins Within a Few Days—News Confirmed.

Actual work of constructing the Oregon Short Line—Salt Lake Route depot is to begin at once. This welcome news is the substance of statements emanating from the general offices of the Oregon Short Line in confirmation of rumors about the streets within the past few days. At first there was some strength for disbelief, owing to present conditions, but skepticism gave way when the word was given that that surveyors and engineers, who have been at work on Short Line projects in the north reached this city this morning, and were to commence running lines and driving stakes on the local depot site without delay.

This work will not consume any considerable time and it means piles are to be driven within a few days. Excavation and foundation will follow rapidly and before spring the building will have assumed shape. It is not necessary to repeat any lengthy description of the structure as it is planned by E. H. Harriman, and his trusted lieutenants. It will cost over a half million dollars and will be one of the finest in the west. Every modern convenience will be utilized and with the depot in commission strangers will get a much better opinion of this city upon arriving than was ever possible before.

SOME FEATURES.

The building will have its center right at the base of South Temple street. A clock tower will reach to either side. A huge entrance in the center will be surrounded by waiting rooms, cafes, reading rooms and every feature known to modern terminal buildings. The tracks on the west of the building will be covered with umbrella sheds; the yard will also have steam, electric lights and all other up-to-the-minute features. The announcement that work is to be started now is a confirmation of the statements made at all times through bright times and blue—by the local Harriman officials.

With the Newhouse sky-scrapers climbing into the air already; the Barron Exchange and other big buildings completed or nearing completion, the commencement of work on the final touch in the Harriman terminal improvements here in this city and state. It is expected unusual signs of activity will be noticeable in the yards tomorrow.

WHERE LOS ANGELES WINS.

Salt Lake Shippers Would Like an Express Car on Limited.

Local shippers say that if they could induce the San Pedro road to add an express car to the limited which leaves Salt Lake early in the evening, there would be no trouble about doing a large business in the southern Nevada mining camps. As it is now, the express car leaves on the midnight train, arriving at junction points some hours after the outward bound trains for the camps; while the express cars from Los Angeles are on trains which arrive at junction points in ample time for through connection. No part of the baggage car on the limited can be used for expressage, as two-fifths of the space is occupied by the dynamo generating electricity with which to light the train. The additional freight car operated by an express car seems to trouble the railroad's operating department, as it is apprehensive of possible inability of the engines to make the regular time were another car added. So Los Angeles shippers are at present having the good end of the stick, and Salt Lake is placed on the waiting list.

RICHMOND MAN IS BEATEN UP

Jonas Halvorsen of Richmond, is at the L. D. S. hospital in a serious condition, said to be the result of injuries received at the hands of Glenn Lewis, of the same town, early on the morning of Jan. 21. Halvorsen is in a delirious state of mind, his right side is partially paralyzed, his speech gone, and nose broken. The attending physician says that it will be some days before anything definite can be said as to what the outcome will be.

The injured man was brought to Salt Lake by William Bair and August Larson, of his home town. The story of the affair as told by these men is as follows:

"On the night of the 21st there was a dance at the home of Orville Christensen, at which Glenn Lewis was present. Halvorsen, who was somewhat under the influence of liquor, went to the party, talking with him and drinking whisky. He in some way offended Lewis, and after blows were struck, Halvorsen mounted his horse and started home. Lewis cut through the block, intercepted Halvorsen, and pulled him from the animal's back, proceeded to beat him unmercifully. The encounter was witnessed by Frank Hendricks and Mat Felt. Lewis was arrested, charged with assault and battery, and is under bonds in the sum of $100, awaiting the outcome of Halvorsen's injuries.

PREPARING TO VANISH.

Is Allegation Made by Prosecution in Hanson Embezzlement Case.

There was a small legal skirmish in Judge Diehl's court this morning between Assistant County Attorney Aaron Meyers and Attorney Arthur Christensen over the continuance of the case of the state vs Robert Baxter Hanson. The matter was set for preliminary hearing this morning, the defendant being charged with embezzling the sum of $45 from L. A. Marks and Arthur Robinson, of the Palace laundry, while acting as agent for that firm.

Mr. Christensen, for the defense, was not ready for trial and asked for a continuance. He stated the motion was based on the fact that a very material witness was absent from the case.

WEATHER TALK.

Forgetting all about what the weather man predicted for today, yesterday, who has been released on his own recognizance, had packed his household goods and shipped them to a point in Montana, and that the man evidently intended leaving the state.

The invitation was hotly resented by Attorney Christensen, who declared that the goods were packed at the time of the arrest, several weeks ago, and that if the defendant intended leaving he would have gone long ago. He declared that Robert Baxter Hanson would be in court when the case was set, and that he had no intention of running away. The result was that Judge Diehl set the matter for Wednesday, Feb. 5.

M'KINLEY'S BIRTHDAY.

Postmaster Thomas Distributes Carnations Among Federal Employees.

In commemoration of the birthday of the late President William McKinley, former Gov. Thomas, postmaster of this city, has been distributing carnations all forenoon. By a special order around the federal building were post-pieces in their coat laps or pinned to their waists. An interesting little point is that Postmaster Thomas and E. H. Galliter, referee of internal revenue, are the only men holding federal offices in this city at the present time who received commissions from the late President McKinley.

EYES BURNED AT SMELTER.

Lou Baumgaard, a smelter employe, received some bad burns about the eyes yesterday, and was taken to St. Mark's hospital, where he is being treated. The attending physician says the burns are not necessarily serious, although extremely painful to the patient.

MAXWELL SHOT IN PISTOL DUEL

"Gunplay" Meets L. L. Reidel Near Las Vegas and Resumes Hostilities.

AND BOTH MEN ARE WOUNDED

Sequel to Encounter at Helper Where Maxwell Nearly Received His Quarter—Career in Goldfield.

Following just such methods as the tenderfoot easterner believes are followed out west, Gunplay Maxwell continues to stir up trouble and then step in it up to his neck. His latest melee may prove fatal.

L. L. Reidel, railroad man of Price, was forced into a quarrel with the self-styled bad man last September. They met again near Las Vegas, Nev., according to the story brought here by travelers. Maxwell is said to be shot through the lungs and again through the stomach. Either wound might prove fatal.

In the story told, Maxwell caused the trouble and his past record makes the tale of this last affair appear correct. He met Reidel, who had now come to him. Asking the railroad to have a drink Maxwell sneered and made some insulting remarks in front of Mrs. Reidel. As her husband stepped forward to squelch the "bad man," Maxwell pulled a gun. This was taken away from him and the desperado-bully had his face slapped.

BOTH MEN HIT.

The men separated and did not meet until about 10 o'clock, but they met for-it, and Reidel proved the better. Two guns barked at once and both men were hit. Maxwell received two bad wounds and Reidel a bullet in the shoulder. Reidel was able to drive miles to Las Vegas to have his wounds dressed but Maxwell had to be hurried to a hospital.

CAREER AT PRICE.

Maxwell was on one of his ugly taunts in Price, Carbon county, Utah, last night. Reidel was able to drive miles to Las Vegas to have his wounds dressed but Maxwell had to be hurried to a hospital.

WAS A BANK ROBBER.

Maxwell's career marked its first serious event in 1896 when he and a pal robbed the Springville bank. He tried jail-breaking and upon gaining freedom became road agent, gambler, detective, body guard for most any one, threatened to shoot Carl Williams, a newspaper man of this city, and at that time editor of the Carbon County News and finally got into a pistol fight with Reidel at Helper. Both men were badly injured at that time. Their hatred of each other has been under cover, but it took but a meeting to bring both men at attention.

MRS. PIPER SEEKS DIVORCE.

Harriet M. Piper has entered suit for divorce against Elmer Piper, alleging desertion and failure to provide as the grounds for her complaint. She says that they were married Dec. 23, 1897, and that in March, 1900, Piper deserted her with no other reason than that he wanted to shirk the responsibility of providing for their two children. Mrs. Piper's prayer to the court is for divorce, no mention being made of alimony or the custody of the two children.

BROWNS INCORPORATE.

Among the things the corporation may do is the buying and selling of all sorts of merchandise, contracting, mining, milling, notarial work and the administration of estates. John M. Browning is president, M. S. is vice president, and John Browning is secretary.

STRANGE ADOPTION ENDS.

Gift of Unborn Child Made Legal by Court Decree.

The concluding chapter in one of the strangest legal records ever written yesterday when Judge Armstrong signed the decree giving 7-weeks-old Maud Owen into the custody of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Bird of Murray. The child was given to its foster parents before its birth and the agreement to that effect was drawn up and filed in Portland and Salt Lake. Mrs. Bird had met the mother of the child and a warm attachment sprung up between them. Mrs. Owen was soon to become a mother and was almost penniless. Her husband, who was a contractor, had been killed a short time before and she was left with a young child and from a position of comparative luxury the unfortunate woman found herself unable to employ medical aid. On the condition that Mrs. Bird would pay all her hospital expenses, and that she would rear the unborn babe to her own, Mrs. Owen gave the unborn babe to Mrs. Bird.

GEORGE WILSON PLACED IN RAIL

Charged With Being One of Three Men Who Robbed S. H. Carmen on Nov. 27.

VICTIM CAME FROM EUREKA

And After Loading Up With Numerous Drinks Ended Up in Hands Of Highwaymen.

George Wilson, charged with being one of three men who held up and robbed S. H. Carmen of Eureka, of $30.00 and a gold watch worth $25.00 was placed on trial before Judge Armstrong this morning. The robbery is alleged to have occurred Nov. 27, 1907, in an alley or vacant lot on State street between First and Second South streets. Carmen was put on the stand this morning to testify as a witness for the state. In his direct examination in response to questions put to him by Dist. Atty. C. F. Looftbourrow, Carmen said that he came here from Eureka the day he was robbed and that while in a party he had many drinks that in the last place he was in "drinking" a large crowd, he found it necessary to buy several setzers to sober up with.

COMPANIONS HOLD HIM UP.

Early in the day, he said, he met "Razor Jack" Richardson in a Main street saloon and that spending the day with him, Richardson and two acquaintances held him up and robbed him of all his money and his watch, a mother and child upon his person that day. Before leaving the last saloon he was in, Carmen says that he counted his money. He had $30.00 left from a party he got for $5 and this remainder he was given to his wife. Carmen left a Commercial street saloon to go to the depot to meet his wife, but being a stranger to the city, he got into his neighborhood, his head going west to the depot, he went to State street and while trying to find his way, was taken into the alley and robbed by the three men. He has identified Richardson, Wilson and a man named Van Houghton as the persons who robbed him.

WILSON'S DEFENSE.

Jim Smith, a police court lawyer, represents Wilson and during the trial this morning went through his customary "tricks," flinging, running his hands through his hair, and making it all his own. His cross-examination of Carmen brought out few facts, and did not alter the story told by him in his direct examination. The case will probably be completed today, and may go to the jury this afternoon.

WILSON'S DEFENSE.

The trials of Van Houghton and Richardson will follow Wilson's. Richardson's trial being set, however, for March 2.
