THE B. & O.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The continued revolutions. rumors from all sources that some im-portant developments were hanging over the railroad and telegraph world, were explained by facts which were made public late this afternoon. After breaking off his negotiations with Ives & Co., Mr. Garrett went to London where negotiations were continued with J. S. Morgan, and to-day a deal was announced, comparable to the West Shore settlement, with the New York Central and the forming of the Reading syndicate to reorganize that company. Both the deals were carried through by Drexel, Morgan & Co., but in the latter case Ward Liuterbach was the most prominent figure as mediator between the Gowan and Drexel interests. In the agreement now made he also

The consummation of the contract made to-day was held in abeyance un-til his opinion was obtained on the question of whether the sterling loan made by the Baltimore & Ohio Rail-road covered the telegraph system of the company. After studying the question in all its aspects, he decided that the telegraph lines were free from all lines and on receiving this opinion, the agreement in the nature of a preliminary contract was executed today. The parties to the contract are the Baltimore & Ohio Railway Company and a syndicate, composed of J. Brown, Shipley & Co., of London, Drexel, Morgan & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co., and Brown Bros. of this city, and Drexel & Co., of Philadelphia. The most in the contract provides that the management of the company shall be placed in competent hands satisfactory to the syndicate. Who will be satisfactory to the syndicate cannot be as-certained, but A. J. Cassatt, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad is generally believed to be booked as Garrett's successor. Satisfactory contracts are also to be made with the Pennsylvania & Reading Railway on all business north of Philadelphia and with all the other trunk lines entering New York by which all antagonism will be removed and insure the permanent working of the Baltimore & Ohlo in harmony with o her trunk lines, and, in addition to these contracts, the lines in process of con-struction from Philadelphia to New York, will be suspended in their con-struction. The floating debt, as it stands, amounts to $7,000,000, mostly in the shape of certificates of indebtedness, scrip and notes. Of this amount, $4,000,000 is said to have matured on the first instant. One of the parties to the syndicate authorized the following statement as the outcome of the contract: "The position of the Baltimore & Ohio road as an Ishmaelite in the railroad, sleeping car, express and telegraph business is given up. THE EXTENSIONS

DENVER, Sept. 2.—Private advices received here from New York last night state that the Denver, Utah & Pacific road, operated from Denver to Lyons, was sold in New York yesterday to the Burlington road, the con-sideration not being stated. With the sale the purchasers acquire the rights of road, which are valuable, and it is understood under the charter the purchasers propose to construct an extension of their system to the north into Wyoming, connecting with the Denver and Laramie City Short Line, for which the right of way has already been purchased and money subscribed for the construction of a road to the Colorado line. It is proposed to make the system a complete narrow gauge to be operated in the interest of the Builington's broad-gauge line. The president of the narrow-gauge will be vice-president of the Burlington, and it is rumored that H. R. Walcott, of this city, will be chosen to that posi-

TWO COUNTRIES. Congressman Mills says he is preparing a tariff bill to be submitted to the next house which will propose arge reductions in duties on iron, steel, cotton and wool. WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 .- The Evening Star this afternoon publishes the following:

There will be a measure brought forward by tariff reformers as soon as Congress convenes, which will likely have the endorsement of the Adminis-tration. The President, Secretary ef

the Treasury and SPEAKER CARLISLE have been considering the matter since Congress asjourned, and it is prob-able that the present visit of Carlisle to the President at Oak View will result in the culmination of their plan. It is expected that Secretary Fair-child will soon return to Washington. It is probable that he comes to meet the President and Carlisle. The re sult of the Allentown Convention was quite satisfactory to the tariff reformers. They propose to take advantage of the situation and present a plan for the reduction of revenues. The plan being prepared will conform strictly with the tariff resolution there adopted, as it is construed by the President. It will abolish the tobacco tax, but leave the

where it is and make large reductions in the custom duties on the necessarie of life, in accordance with the President's utterances upon the subject. The internal revenue feature is admitted as a compromise and will be tolerated only in connection with a very positive reduction of customs. There will be an acknowledgment of protection. It is likely the reduction of customs will be more sweeping than Randall would agree to. The administration is fully committed to a strong attitude on the tariff. The bureau of statistics has been called upon for figures upon customs duties, to show fust where the most effective reductions can be made and now the revenue would be affected thereby.
