FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR

NEW BISHOP ASSUMES OFFICE

Charles W. Nibley and Counselors Take Their Positions This Morning.

MANY CALL TO CONGRATULATE

Mr. Nibley is Well Known Business Man With a Long and Successful Career.

P. Miller His First Counselor, Has Been in the Office for Many Years

P. A. Smith Second Counselor.

This morning the two new officials of the general bishopric of the Church, Charles W. Nibley, who has been in the office for many years, and the new bishopric began his work.

The routine business consumed the first morning session, many friends of Mr. Nibley, the new presiding bishop, calling to congratulate him on his appointment.

His counselors, O. P. Burton and David Smith, were also the recipients of many congratulations, and the bishopric for success in administering the affairs of the office.

The reorganization of the bishopric was announced in last evening's News. It was made necessary by the recent death of Bishop Nibley, who is a native of Scotland, and was born in a village near Edinburgh, Feb. 10, 1841. He is therefore in his fifty-ninth year.

He is the son of John Nibley, and the family was converted to Mormonism in 1841. In 1855 the Nibleys emigrated to America, going first to Rhode Island, where they stayed for a time, and then to Utah.

The year 1860 witnessed the arrival here, and Wellsville, where he was made the first home of the family.

The son Charles W. remained in Wellsville until 1863, when he went to Brigham City, where he was made a member of the mission to the Eastern States, and upon returning engaged in a railroad work in which business he continued until 1877.

In the spring of 1877, he was called to the mission to the Eastern States, and in 1881 he was called to the mission to the Eastern States, and in 1881 he was called to the mission to the Eastern States.

MRS. FORD WANTS HER MAIDEN NAME

Five Years of Married Life Has Sufficed to End Love's Dream.

SERVICE BY PUBLICATION.

Husband Deserted Her and Went to California Where He May Read of Wife's Suit for Divorce

For more than a year, in fact since May of 1906, Elizabeth Ford, although a married woman, has been without a husband. Nevertheless she has a husband and has had one all the time since the 5th day of August, 1902, but he hasn't been staying at home. Now she seeks to be rid of him entirely, and to regain her maiden name, Elizabeth Ford.

Philip Ford, the husband in the case, is a stout, alibodied man, according to the wife's statement as contained in a suit for divorce filed by her this morning in the Third district court. He is able to support himself and wife, though he has neglected to do so.

The marriage contract, which now seems to totter on the verge of dissolution, was entered into at Utah's Grana Green Farmington, on Aug. 5, 1902. Down the calendar until May 14, 1906, their lives apparently jogged along without serious incident. On that day, however, the wife's stockholders, without her consent and without cause on her part, she says, Ford, disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vows, deserted and abandoned his wife, and since that time he has continued to live separate and apart from her.

Children appear to have issued from the marriage. In addition to divorce, Mrs. Ford wants to be Elizabeth Ford, and wants the court to award her a decree carrying with it her costs in the suit. Mrs. Ford says Ford is in California and wants the summons served by publication.

FOUR MORE DIVIDENDS.

Home Fire Declares Two, Utah National, One, and Grant & Co., One.

The amount of money that will be put in the hands of local people in and around holiday time was further augmented yesterday by the action of three boards of directors, which held meetings during the day and made liberal disbursements to the community.

The Utah National board declared a 2 per cent extra, payable on the 15th, making 12 per cent for the year, and the result was a 2 per cent quarterly, payable Jan. 2. The total of these two dividends is $10,000.

The Utah National board met and declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the capital of $200,000, a total of $4,000. Heber J. Grant & Co.'s board of directors, at its session, declared the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent on the capital of $150,000, payable Dec. 31, a total of $4,500.

SACRIFICED A HAND TO SAVE THEIR COMRADES

New York, Dec. 12.—In order to save a number of comrades from death, Oliver Jude and John J. McGlynn, iron workers, each lost a hand yesterday.

The two men were at work on the Long Island City tower of the new Blackwell's Island bridge. They were working high up on the structure, and it was their duty to fall from the workmen below, each threw an arm around the other and each seized with his free hand the sliding plate. By gigantic effort they slipped the plate to one side so that it rested against a beam. Jude's right hand was cut off at the wrist and McGlynn's left hand was terribly mangled.

Comrades rigged a tackle and drew the plate back so that they were released, holding the injured men so that they did not fall from the tower. The hospital McGlynn's hand was amputated. Both will recover.

THE COLLECTION OF HAY, GRAIN, ETC., IN THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF SALT LAKE CITY.

Bishop Miller is a strong churchman, possessed of clear judgment, affable manners, and he has a host of friends. Speaking of the reorganization yesterday, he said that the action taken met with his hearty approval, and he would in future labor even more zealously.

If possible, then in the past for the welfare of the cause to which he has dedicated his life.

BISHOP DAVID A. SMITH.

David A. Smith, second counselor to Bishop Nibley, was born at F. F. Smith. He is a young man, a little over 28, but those who know him best have confidence that he will be fully equal to the responsibilities of the office.

For five years David A. has been before the public in an official capacity, two years as clerk and three years as chief deputy in the office of the clerk of Salt Lake City. There he has gained a host of friends, having been approachable and obliging at all times.

Salt Lake City was the birthplace of David A. Smith, and he was born May 24, 1879. As a boy and youth he held successively the three grades of the lower priesthood, deacon, teacher and priest. In the first and second quorums named he was second counselor to the presidents. Later, when ordained an elder, he became second counselor to the president of the sixth quorum of that body. Still later he was second counselor in the presidency of the Liberty stake Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association, and now has been made second counselor in the presiding bishopric.

J. DALZELL BROWN MAKES CONFESSION

Fictitious Entries Made in Books Of California Safe Deposit And Trust Company.

WAS NOT EXACTLY VOLUNTARY

Was Put Through Long Process of Sweating by Bank Commissioners Garoute and Sherer.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—J. Dalzell Brown, the imprisoned manager of the California Safe Deposit & Trust company, has made a confession to the bank commission. Brown has confessed that fictitious entries were made in the books of the bank. The confession was not exactly a voluntary one, but came after Brown had been subjected to a long sweating process by Bank Commissioners Garoute and Sherer.

The entries which Brown has confessed were false related to two items each of $100,000, which appeared as assets of the bank. These items as recorded on the books made it appear that the California Safe Deposit & Trust company had on deposit $200,000 in each of two New York banks.

Brown maintained almost to the end of the interview with the commissioners that the entries represented genuine assets, but when pressed further for a complete explanation, he broke down and admitted the truth.

SEEKING HOMES IN SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN.

New York, Dec. 12.—Five hundred Americans, Germans, Irish, Swedes and Russians, including clergymen, butchers, shoemakers, bookkeepers, stenographers, printers and carpenters, will leave New York on the 15th of next month for San Francisco. There will be sailors in the party too, for the 500 are to go away from that port in a bark to seek homes in the South Pacific ocean, or rather in one of the islands that dot portions of it.

Back of the expedition is Elmer S. Prather, president of the Modern Science Publishing company. Mr. Prather is a sociologist. Last June, it seems, becoming convinced that the wage earners were gradually becoming weaker and the trusts and combinations were growing stronger, he decided to start a South Sea colony. So he discussed the matter with friends and started to carry out the plan with the result that he has now secured 500 men to go to the islands.

Only $200 is required to participate in the enterprise, the entire amount to be put into a common fund to institute a co-operative colony in the islands.

ARMY OFFICERS LOST LOT OF MONEY.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—The suspension of the California Safe Deposit & Trust company has placed a large number of army officers in an embarrassing position. Almost every officer at Fort McDowell had an account in the bank. Many of them had been entrusted with company funds and had deposited them in the Safe Deposit bank. For these funds they are personally responsible.

The savings of the officers did not amount to a great sum, but most of the men who have been stationed here for any length of time have saved a few thousand dollars. One officer who had just reached California from the east placed $2,500 in the bank the day before it closed.

NO VERDICT YET.

Case of Union Lime Co. vs. U. S. Smeltering Co. in Hands of Jury.

The case of the Union Lime & Stone company against the U. S. Smelter, which has been on trial in the federal court nearly two weeks, was given to the jury late yesterday afternoon. However, that body was before the court this morning, and received further instructions from Judge Marshall. The jury is again out, but it is not known how soon a verdict may be expected.

All jury cases set for trial in the session were today continued for the term by Judge Marshall, excepting the suit against one Babcock, which will be called for hearing Thursday, Dec. 19.

In this case the United States is the plaintiff and seeks to eject defendant from the occupancy of certain lands on the reservation.

All federal jurors, except those residing in Salt Lake City, and the panel now in deliberation, were today excused from further attendance in court during the term, and most of them departed for their homes and mileage and jurors remain, subject to call one week from today.

ONE MINE REOPENS WALKER SOBS AS WITNESS TALKS

Is the Mohawk Combination but Only Fifty-Six Men At Work.

THEY WERE NOT MOLESTED.

Will be Off Shift at 3 O'clock and Work for the Day Will Close at That Time.

Union Leaders Well Satisfied With the Situation—All the Mines Are Picketed.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 12.—Fifty-six men are at work at the mill and underground in the Mohawk Combination mine. More than 100 men have signed the agreement required by the Mine Owners' association, but only the number mentioned appeared at 1 o'clock. There was no molestation of the men and the pickets of the union are not at all angry. No strike was attempted to be opened this morning.

Deputy constables to the number of 100 and detectives and guards of the mine owners are guarding the district around Combination hill. The majority of the men are at work, about this afternoon at the end of an eight-hour shift, and work will close for the day at that time.

The mine owners say that a few of the new men are from other camps, who have come here independently and desire to work regardless of the Western Federation. The union leaders say they are well satisfied with the situation and claim they are inducing many from the outside and many of the local miners not to go to work under the lowered scale.

The plant of the Nevada California Power company is still in full operation with but one man in charge here and there will be no trouble from this source unless an unexpected break occurs. Nine of the regular employees refused to go to work at the reduced wages this morning. The maintenance men on the line outside of the city have not been heard from.

Gen. Funston is expected to arrive at 1:30, but his appearance will not affect the situation at once. The mine is kept within the guard lines and no visitors are allowed. No excitement has been seen anywhere and people in the city are going about their business as usual. All the mines are picketed.

BANKS TO REPORT THEIR CONDITION

Secretary of State Issues Request to All State and Private Institutions.

WILL RECEIVE PUBLICATION

Law Provides That Statements be Printed in Newspapers Having Circulation in Counties.

All the private and state banks in the state have been called upon by Secretary of State Charles S. Tingey, under the authority given him in section 238 of the revised statutes, to report to him within five days the condition of their banking affairs at the close of business Dec. 9, 1907. Under the provisions of the law regulating the corporations of the state, this report must be filed with the secretary of state within five days after the report is requested. From the office of the secretary of state certified copies of the bankers' reports will be furnished bankers for publication in some newspaper having general circulation within the county wherein the banks are situated. The publication of these reports is made compulsory by the statutes.

In view of the conditions in financial circles, many requests have been asked by the secretary of state to the effect that he issue a call for such statements, that the people may know of the conditions in local banking circles and throughout the state. The secretary of the state is not wholly in response to these requests, as the law provides that all state and private banks report at least four times a year, or whenever they are requested to do so.

WALKER SOBS AS WITNESS TALKS

Almost Falls in Faint from His Chair to the Floor.

"I LOVE YOU!" SAID WIFE

To Late Dr. Earl S. Beers When He Spoke of His Passion For Her.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Oct. 12.—A dramatic moment was reached unexpectedly this morning in the Walker murder trial. Mrs. Nagle, a Salt Lake woman, was on the stand and under questioning by the defense, she said she had spent some time at the Hermitage last summer and while she was there she overheard a conversation between the late Dr. Earl S. Beers and Mrs. Walker, wife of the defendant.

"I love you!" whispered the doctor to Mrs. Walker. "And I love you!" came the answer, immediate and passionate.

As Mrs. Nagle told of this incident Walker, who has been more or less indifferent to the proceedings, straightened up in his chair for a second, and then collapsed. He would have fallen to the floor had not his mother and brother, who were seated on either side of him, held him in his seat. With chin dropped upon his chest and hands clutching the sides of his chair nervously, Walker sobbed aloud; tears ran down his cheeks unchecked. His grief was uncontrollable and it was several minutes before he recovered his composure and then only partially, as he was visibly agitated throughout the remainder of the forenoon.

Mrs. Nagle, in continuing her story about the episode at the Hermitage, said Walker had telephoned to her to ask her if she knew anything about his wife's whereabouts, and Mrs. Nagle told him both his wife and Dr. Beers were at the Hermitage, and she reported the conversation she had heard, while all three were sitting out on the porch.

The court, after listening to arguments from both sides this morning, overruled the objections of the prosecution against the addition of any testimony pertaining to relations between Dr. Beers and Mrs. Walker. Immediately after this favorable decision the defense began its battle for the defendant and the very first witness, Mrs. Nagle, furnished testimony which created a sensation to say the least.

Ogden, Dec. 12.—The prosecution completed its case against Fred Walker, charged with the murder of Dr. Beers, and rested at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Immediately after Dist. Attorney Hutchinson announced that the state rested, and addressed the court for 20 minutes, outlining the line of evidence he expects to introduce to prove that the homicide was justifiable. His argument was logical and forceful.

OUTLINES DEFENSE'S CASE.

The jury listened with intent interest to his presentation of the defense's case. The defense expects to prove that Dr. Walker learned of the attention Dr. Beers was paying to Mrs. Walker, and met him in Salt Lake City and requested that he cease these attentions, which he refused to do. Instead continued them, even more frequently than before; that he (Walker) was informed that his wife and Dr. Beers had met frequently in Ogden, and his relations were not proper. These matters worked on his mind very much. He sent Mrs. Walker to California to get her away from Dr. Beers, but learned that the doctor was going to leave Ogden and go to her. These matters greatly upset Walker, and he could not resist from coming to Ogden to interview Dr. Beers and to learn the truth. Walker, that during their interview in the Electric Supply & Fixture company's building, Beers admitted his illicit relations with Mrs. Walker. This during the interview, Walker, who was immediately pounced on him, and while irresponsible, gave him such a severe beating that the victim died from the effects of the blows.

WALKER WILL TESTIFY.

Mr. Walker will go on the witness stand in his own behalf and tell all, and Mr. Lawrence may take the witness stand to testify concerning the terrible fight and what he knows of the circumstances leading up to it.

WALKER'S GOOD NAME.

The following witnesses of Salt Lake City, Mayor John S. Bransford, Don C. Porter, Fred L. Wood, Walter G. Tuttle, Albert B. Crabbs, Arthur J. Davis, John E. Stinson and Fisher Harris, testified to the good name and excellent character of the defendant Walker, and the great respect they had for him as a man.

BORIS SARAFFO ASSASSINATED

Most Famous of Leaders of Bulgarian Band in Macedonia Shot Dead.

ON THRESHOLD OF HOME.

As a Boy Swore Vengeance on the Turks—Price Put on His Head—Organized a Committee.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 12.—Boris Saraffo, the most famous of all the leaders of the Bulgarian band in Macedonia, was shot dead at the threshold of his home today by a Macedonian who at the same time shot and killed another revolutionary chief named Garvaouff, while the latter was in the act of bidding Saraffo farewell. Boris Saraffo was appointed commander of the Macedonian revolutionary forces that made so much trouble in the summer of 1903. His name was prominent in all the uprising in Macedonia against the Turks, and he has been described as the most romantic figure in the Balkans. He was popularly believed and stated to be the real instigator of the abduction of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, from the village of Saloniki in September, 1901, in order to procure, through her ransom funds, to enable the Macedonian revolutionaries to organize the insurrection.

His hatred for Turks was acquired at an early age through seeing his father and grandfather tortured, dragged off to the galleys and then executed. He was 14 years old when his father was killed, and he was 15 years old when his grandfather was killed. He was a prisoner in which his father and grandfather were confined, but he was released from them. He then swore to revenge himself on the Turks and studied to this end, becoming an officer in the Bulgarian army.

In 1898 Saraffo organized a band to raid Turkish territory, and since then has headed no less than 350 daring raids. Once he captured the Turkish town of Melnik with 40 men, putting the garrison to flight, and Saraffo was familiar with hundreds of miles of tracks through forests and over the mountains of Turkey. His band was an organization of a vast rebellion with the headquarters at Constantinople and overthrowing Turkish rule. The Turkish government set a price of $20,000 on his head. He was about 37 years old when he was shot.

Saraffo was the organizer of the Macedonian committee. His prominence in Macedonian agitation and his dictatorial methods made him many enemies among his own followers.

ORCHARD'S DIRECT EXAMINATION RESUMED

Boise, Ida., Dec. 12.—Harry Orchard was called to the witness stand in the trial of George A. Pettibone this morning, and his direct examination was resumed. The Bradley family was taken up and Orchard told of his trip to San Francisco and of locating the residence of Fred Bradley, who he said, he had been instructed to put out of the way. All communications received by him while in San Francisco, the witness said, came from Pettibone and one money received came from him. Money he said, came both by regular mail and by telegraph. Pettibone, he said, generally signed the name of "Pat Bone," a name frequently used by the witness. He said that he came to him, said, containing $100,000. J. Wolf, the name of the clerk in Pettibone's store, Orchard said he went under the name of Harry Greene while he was in San Francisco. He explained his various plans for killing Bradley, including the placing of poison in three bottles of milk left on the porch of his residence. Failing in this, he said, he went to the house and placed it under the mat at Bradley's front door. The bomb, he said, he made in his room, and described it minutely. Bradley was blown into the middle of the street and badly hurt, and the residence damaged.

When Orchard returned to Denver he said, he told him he had a good job at San Francisco and that he would rather have Bradley blind than dead, as he would be a living example. The attempts made on the life of George A. Pettibone were then described. Orchard testified that Steve Adams assisted him and that Hayward and Pettibone gave them their directions. "We did not do very hard to get Judge Gabbard," said the witness, "and we were soon told to direct our attentions to Gov. Peabody, who, Hayward said, would drive union labor out of Colorado, if he was governor two years more."

The attempt to kill Peabody was made because a coal wagon was driven over the sidewalk, in front of Peabody's home to a vacant lot in the rear, was explained, and the witness also told of the attempt to kill Peabody by means of a bomb. Plans to kill Judge Stoddard were told and Orchard said he and Adams also watched Frank Hearne, a Denver capitalist, whom Hayward wanted to get because of his attitude toward the federation.

KETCHELL AND THOMAS READY FOR BATTLE.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—The middleweight battle between Stanley Ketchell of Montana and Joe Thomas of this city, which will take place at Recreation park tonight, has stirred up tremendous interest among fight followers in this vicinity. This will be the third time the men have been pitted against one another, the first contest ending in a draw and the second resulting in Thomas being knocked out in the thirty-second round of what was universally considered the greatest and most sensational pugilistic battle in recent years. Thomas will enter the ring tonight weighing five pounds more than in his previous fights, and it is argued that this will enable him to show the crowd that he is a real fighter. He has been unable to do an account of drastic reduction methods to meet weight requirements. For tonight's event, Thomas will probably weigh 155 pounds and Ketchell 150. The latter is a favorite in the betting of odds 10 to 8, but there is plenty of money in sight to cover both ends. The fight will commence at 10 o'clock and will be refereed by Sam Berger. It will take place in the Baseball park at Fourteenth and Valencia streets, the ring and grounds being covered with immense canvas sheets so that rain will not interfere. Both men have trained long and carefully and are in perfect shape. The fight is scheduled to go 20 rounds.

HARRIMAN AND ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Negotiating Agreement for Abandonment of Control of Southern Pacific by U. P.

PROSECUTION TO BE DROPPED

For Violation of Anti-Trust Law And Interstate Commerce Law Competitive Clauses.

S. P. to be Organized as Separate Corporation—U. P. to Take Over Old C. P. or Operate as Through Line.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, D. C., says:

Negotiations are under way between the attorney general and E. H. Harriman looking to an agreement by which the Union Pacific will abandon all its direct control of the Southern Pacific, in return for which the government will agree not to prosecute E. H. Harriman for violation of the anti-trust law and of the competitive clauses in the interstate commerce law.

The negotiations have not actually been concluded, but they have reached a stage where it is believed an agreement will be entered into.

The Southern Pacific is to be organized as a separate corporation and the Union Pacific either will take over the old Central Pacific line from Ogden to San Francisco, or else will operate over it as a through line, as it is permitted to do by law.

The holding company organized by Mr. Harriman and his friends to take over the stock of the Santa Fe and Northern Pacific probably will continue but the direct community of interests between the Union Pacific and its competitors will be stopped.

Whether this agreement not to prosecute Mr. Harriman and Mr. Harriman's agreement to keep up at least a semblance of open competition between the transcontinental lines, controls, will result in any benefit to the public, is doubtful, but technically the triumph of the government is assured.

A FAIRY IN DISGUISE.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Pensacola, Fla., says:

Miss Annie Burkhardt, 20 years old, thought she was entertaining a pauper in Thomas Caldwell, an aged peddler, who came here from Chicago two years ago with a stock of groceries in a trunk and eked out a miserable existence by peddling fish and feed. Miss Burkhardt ministered to the man when he was ill, and he often said she had saved his life. The girl yesterday received information that she had been made the sole heir of the estate of Caldwell, said to be the man when he was ill, and he often said she had saved his life. The girl yesterday received information that she had been made the sole heir of the estate of Caldwell, said to be the man when he was ill, and he often said she had saved his life. FISH-HARRIMAN CASE.

Arguments on Motion for a Restraining Order Begun.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Arguments for and against the injunction obtained by Stevenson Fish, restraining the young or 251212 shares of Illinois Central stock at the annual meeting of the stock began today in the superior court before Judge Ball.

The proceedings were commenced by the presentation of the attorneys of E. H. Harriman of a long affidavit signed by Mr. Harriman, Robert W. Goelet and Charles A. Peabody. In the affidavit it was set forth that Mr. Fish was not the president of the famous company because of alleged misapplication of the funds of the company.

FAMOUS MILTON BIBLE.

President to be Called on to Investigate Trouble Over It.

New York, Dec. 12.—President Roosevelt, it is said, is to be called upon to investigate the trouble between George W. Milton Bible, and the company from which he bought it at auction. The book was the property of William H. Buckle and was sold at auction with the rest of his library. Mr. Richmond was the purchaser. Now he is convinced that the signatures purporting to be those of Milton, the poet, and his third wife, Elizabeth, are modern forgeries. With the book is a letter from Dr. W. Aldis Wright, of Cambridge university, which Mr. Richmond, says, was mutilated in such a way as to make the reader believe that he guaranteed the signatures. Dr. Wright now says that he told Mr. Buckle that he did not believe the signatures was that of the poet, but that of another man of the same name. President Roosevelt will be asked to look into the matter for the reason that Mr. Buckle, whose home is in Baltimore, is now in the United States diplomatic service, being the secretary of legation at Madrid.
