

WHAT BUSINESS SITUATION IS

Salt Lakers Investing Heavily in Copper Stocks on Account of Price Boom.

ALL QUIET IN REAL ESTATE.

Another Dry Goods Business Good—General Review.

The local business situation for the past week, has varied with the various lines of trade, good in places, indifferent in others, and unfortunate in yet others. In money circles the feature of the week has been the elevation of the mining stock market, especially in regard to copper stocks. This has been in fact so marked that banking men report people as not only investing their immediate and ready cash, but borrowing and hypothecating good securities to raise money for investment in copper stocks. A confidential New York letter speaks in this connection of the tremendous speculative operations of the New York Stock Exchange. The letter says, "This speculation which we are witnessing daily on the exchange is supplemented by a mining craze in our outside market, of the proportions of which an outsider can hardly form a judgment. Tens of thousands of shares are being sold there daily and prices advance regardless of value. Stocks that never produced a pound of metal are selling at 500, 400 and 500 per cent, and great discrimination should be exercised in purchasing some of these stocks."

The letter in treating on the financial situation of the ore situation says, "There is little doubt that the Great Northern-United States Steel ore deal will bring great benefits to both the corporation and the Great Northern-United States Steel. The former is now in a position of having its future supplies of ore secured, without any increase of its capitalization, and experts of iron ore in our country make the ore cure prices for iron ore seem very cheap in the near future. The benefits for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads are still greater; they will earn a great many millions of dollars from the ore properties which they secured some time ago for very little money."

The letter calls attention to the impending elections, and remarks that the outcome of the congressional elections is important from a financial point of view, and should keep the market in check, although the feeling has gained weight that the result at the polls will be likely to help values. There are absolutely no signs of a recovery in business activity and railroad earnings continue to be enormous.

LOCAL CONDITIONS.

Local deposits are reported as steadily increasing, notable factors in this being receipts from the mining fields, sales of sheep and cattle, etc. Rates are reported as better and better than at any time in the last decade, and the entire money market is considered in a strong and healthy condition. The clearinghouse continues to show a gratifying increase, and local banking men remark that the financial situation here is healthy and sound.

REAL ESTATE QUIET.

Real estate continues in a quiescent state, but with a new feature in that the holding real estate or real estate securities are parting with the aim to raise money for reinvestment in copper stocks and with the speculative fever turned in that direction, real estate dealers are likely to find business hanging heavy on their hands for a time, at least. The only transfer of any note in the market was the sale for $2500 of frontage on Commercial street for the extension there from Main street of a warehouse and fitting establishment. Real estate, however, is selling a fair demand, and there are many moderate sized houses being sold with a view to establishment of new homes. There is a good demand for houses for residences, and new houses are being pushed as fast as the exigencies of the situation will admit.

But contractors and builders are still bitterly complaining of their inability to get brick, and on this account building operations continue to be very much delayed. However, the brick makers report that it is beyond their power to control the supply of teams and men. They have this brick, but what is to be done when there are no means to move the brick? One maker tells of a kiln of freshly burned brick that laid idle for 15 days while he was scouring the country for men and teams to haul the brick away with. This same maker states he could not get more than 20 teams at once if he could not steer onto them. And he says the best men are finding themselves in the same kind of a predicament. This shortage has its unhealthy effect on all building trade. The demand for men is illustrated by the statement of a carpenter yesterday, to a "News" reporter, that he earned $40 the previous week, at his trade. The fine weather has afforded abundant opportunity for excavating with view to building, and the extensive and rapidly advancing work at the rear and at the west of the Cullen hotel is evidence of this.

FRUIT JARS SCARCE.

The hardware trade reports lively times along some lines. The demand for fruit jars has been phenomenal, and at one prominent house it was stated today that not a jar was to be had in town, and that housekeepers were resorting to bottles and porcelain jars—anything susceptible of being put to such a use, even beer bottles. Dealers wish there was a glass factory in this city. There is abundant material in the immediate vicinity, and the

THE S. S. S. STANDARD TONIC

The ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, and the method of combining and preparing them so that they gently and pleasantly build up and strengthen every part of the body, make it the ideal tonic for a disordered condition of the system. Every one feels the need of a tonic sometimes. The system seems to get "out of gear," the appetite becomes fickle, the energies are depressed, sleep is not restful or refreshing, and the entire body has a nervous, worn-out feeling. When the system is in this depleted, run-down condition it must be aided by a tonic, and S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the standard. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks selected for their gentle action as well as their invigorating effect on the system, it will not disagreeably affect any of the delicate members or tissues as do most of the so-called tonics on the market which contain potash or some other harmful mineral ingredient. These derange the stomach and digestion, unfavorably affect the bowels or otherwise damage the health. S. S. S. tones up the stomach and digestion, improves the appetite, produces refreshing sleep, rids the body of that tired, run-down feeling, and supplies tone and vigor to the entire system. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, acts more promptly and gives better and more lasting results than any other tonic, and because of its vegetable purity is an absolutely safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. acts admirably in cases of dyspepsia, indigestion and other stomach troubles, and after using it that uncomfortable feeling of fullness, dizziness or drowsiness, after eating, are no longer felt. Not only is S. S. S. the greatest of all tonics but possesses purifying and alterative properties, and if there is a taint in the blood it will promptly remove every trace and restore perfect health. In selecting your tonic for this year do not experiment but get S. S. S., the recognized standard.

demand here for bottles and jars of all kinds is at times very strenuous. There is a strong call for heating stoves now that the weather has begun to get cooler. There is also a very heavy demand for horse blankets and sportsman's goods, also household furnishings. But a falling off is reported in shell and builders hardware. For mining machinery and grinders' outfits there is always a strong demand.

The local wholesale trade is much encouraged over the Nevada outlook. The managers of two large local houses went out with the Nevada excursion and effected business connections with the business houses there, so that Salt Lake will handle the hardware trade in that prosperous and growing mining camp from now on, as merchants there are in such a hurry for the goods that they are wiring orders instead of writing and calling for shipments by express instead of by freight.

WITH LUMBER DEALERS.

The lumber men report the retail trade strong and heavy all through the intermountain region. Col. Earl V. Smith is just back from an extended trip through Wyoming and Idaho and reports building activity very heavy everywhere, with prospects better than ever before. People seem to have the money with which to build, and are not hesitating to spend it for that purpose. Local stocks are diminishing in the yards and orders have long since been given for more; but the scarcity of cars is causing much uncertainty and annoyance.

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS.

The wholesale dry goods market received a strong impetus early in the week on account of country and out-of-town orders, which were bought quite heavily. But after the visitors went home trade slackened off perceptibly. The local jobbing houses are now preparing for a strong spring business, and in the course of another 10 days will be in the midst of it. Telegrams received from New York indicate a remarkable advance in the last 10 days of bleached and brown goods. Manufacturers are now asking considerable prices for such fabrics as Louises and Fruit of the Loom, so that western houses are seriously considering cutting these two lines from their list and substituting cheaper brands. The situation in print goods is considered remarkable, the restriction of production has sent the supply below the demand, making it necessary for users of wide goods of print cloth yarn and construction to order for six months ahead. There has been noted in the trade an absorption recently of accumulations of narrow goods, which has materially stiffened prices.

It is allowed there will be no serious accumulations of heavy cottons this year, as the domestic market has been strong enough to take care of the output, and many mills have ceased turning out three and four yards goods to manufacture other sizes. But western jobbers are viewing with uncertainty the cotton situation in the south, where the cyclone effected such destruction, and this disaster is supplemented by the sudden bursting of the balls and rotting of the cotton—largely because enough negroes cannot be found to expediently handle the crop. The blacks have taken more kindly of late to portering around hotels and boarding houses, running busses, boot blacking, and doing most anything in and around the cities. This has rendered field help scarce, and some planters find themselves hard pressed.

A large increase is reported in colored cottons, which has benefited New England more than southern mills, and the stocks are being moved at full prices. Well sustained trade is reported in imported linens, French and Swiss lawns, and fine bleached muslins, and special offerings in novelty fabrics in cottons and silk have sold readily for the spring jobbing trade. Jobbers say the yarn situation has much to do with the stronger purchasing of cloths and forms the basis of steady valuations ruling the market on goods to arrive. The spring trade continues active in fine ginghams and twash fabrics, the western jobber in particular being desirous of rounding out stocks short in styles and yardage. Jobbers have bought more goods for the spring of 1907 than for any light weight season since 1902, and have paid higher prices for their goods.

IN RETAIL LINE.

In the retail dry goods trade, local houses report a record breaking rush, due of course to the conference rush. On last Saturday the dry goods houses presented a Christmas appearance, and one manager tells a "News" reporter that he did a better business on that day than on any previous day since the holidays. The buying was very general and covered about every line of goods. However, after conference visitors went away, trade dropped back into former channels. There is a good demand for tailored men's waists this fall, so that manufacturers are having their hands full to supply the demand. The linen piece goods market has shown a marked advance, and very little special goods remain on the market. Plaided goods are in vogue for fall wear, the call being such that jobbers and first hands are unable to fill the orders being fairly flung at them. Small checks in two and three colors have come strongly to the front, with new bronze shades in silks and high grade cottons, also light thread fabrics, so that retailers can not respond to the demand. Then tan shades are running well this fall, and there are a variety of other shades that find their several favorites.

Local houses report an excellent demand for suits of various styles, skirts and always for waists. But owing to the late season, the trade in blouses, blouses, and heavy underwear has been very light. Dealers also report they are entirely unable to respond to the demand for gloves. Many stores have run short of material owing to shortness in fine and light leathers, and the dear ladies will have to wait their turn in getting supplied. With the advent of cold weather general business will be much heavier.

CLOTHING TRADE.

The clothing men report trade only fair during the past week, owing to the continuance of the altogether too mild weather. When the weather is mild the clothing men "take a day off" and wait for more auspicious times. However, the last two days of the week have been cooler, and people have in shell and builders hardware. For mining machinery and grinders' outfits there is always a strong demand.

SHOE BUSINESS.

The shoe trade continues good. Very few low cut shoes are now being sold, the demand being entirely for styles of the high fall and winter wear. And dealers notice that people generally are calling for a better class of goods than formerly, and appear willing to pay a higher price for the better goods. There is a good call for fancy goods, and dancing shoes. There is no demand for rubber goods yet. But local houses are well supplied for all the demands that may be made upon them. Rubbers will be of little use to the quality than heretofore, and dealers say there ought not to be such a complaint this season as in time past about the quality of rubbers. The prices are ruling higher, and dealers say that cost 50 cents will sell this season for 75 cents, and men's rubbers will cost up to $1.10. But at this last figure, the goods are the genuine stuff, with heavy rolled edges.

GIVEN A FORTUNE TO MARRY A WOMAN.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Rock Island, Ill., says: That the late Father Thomas Mackin said he had given $50,000 to C. A. Plamondon of Chicago to marry his present wife who is named Mrs. Mary Crumme, wife of a nephew of Mackin, on the stand in the circuit court here yesterday.

Mrs. Crumme was a witness in a contest which has been brought by a number of disinherited heirs to break the priest's will which disposes of an estate valued at $200,000. She is not a party to the case, but her children are. At St. Charles, Mo., the contestants asked her if she recollected any conversation with Father Mackin at a certain period some years ago. Her reply was:

"Why, he said, in her presence (referring to Mrs. Grace Mackin, one of the beneficiaries of the will) that I wasn't afraid to work, nor I wasn't afraid to marry a poor man, but that he had to buy men for his two nieces and that he gave Plamondon $50,000."

Father Mackin made his money in business in early life and while he was connected with the church his estate grew. At the time he was drawn the nearest surviving relative was Mrs. Catherine McArdle, a sister who died. It is claimed since the present case has been on trial, due, it is claimed, to over excitement.

Among the other relatives are Mrs. Plamondon of Chicago and Mrs. Thomas H. Dolly of this city, and Mrs. Grace Mackin, widow of a nephew, and for a number of years before his death, the housekeeper for the priest.

The three nieces were near the old man in his last days and to them he left his estate, Mrs. Plamondon being willed about a third and the greater portion of the remainder going to the others.

The will was drawn while the testator was on his death bed a year ago. The contest was begun on the ground that the priest was of unsound mind in his last days and that influence was exerted to prevent his recognizing other relatives.

SAVED FROM DEATH.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Rock Island, Ill., says: Presence of mind in clothing and holding to the smoke stack and away yesterday saved Morris Herbrandt of Edgerton, Ill., from being ground to pieces under the wheels of the train at Milan, Ill., today. As it was he escaped with a bad shaking up and some cuts and bruises.

Mr. Herbrandt was driving a team hitched to a farm wagon. He did not see the train and the horses were on the tracks before the driver noticed his danger.

The wagon was struck squarely and dumped to one side of the track. Herbrandt was thrown 20 feet in the air and turned over and over. He fell on top of the boiler and managed to embrace the smoke stack and hold on until the train was brought to a standstill.

BUSSINESS IS BOOMING

Many Wholesalers Report the Largest Volume of Trade Ever Transacted.

THERE IS A SHORTAGE OF CARS

Hence Shipping of Goods is Curtailed—Impossible to Secure Prompt Deliveries.

New York, Oct. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Low temperatures brought out much business in seasonal lines of wearing apparel, and most reports from wholesalers tell of the largest volume of trade ever transacted. Shipping departments are limited in activity by inadequate railway facilities, and this difficulty is aggravated by free movement of grain and coal as the season advances.

In the leading industries it is impossible to secure prompt deliveries, even contracts for shipment during the first quarter of 1907 being difficult to place with steel mills, and the lastitude in primary markets for cotton goods has been succeeded by eagerness to purchase.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for October amount to $1,786,141, of which $763,658 were in manufacturing, $75,782 in trading and $99,701 in other commercial lines.

Failures this week number 217 in the United States, against 214 last year, and 28 in Canada, compared with 25 a year ago. Of failures this week in the United States 90 were in the east, 66 in the south, 49 in the west and 18 in the Pacific states, and 68 reports liabilities of $5,000 or more.

UTE INDIANS MUST RETURN TO RESERVATION.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Secy. Hitchcock said today that as soon as the renegade Uintah Ute Indians, who are now in Wyoming, reach the Crow Indian reservation, the department of the interior will see that the Indians are sent to their reservation in Utah, even if troops have to accompany them.

This statement was elicited by a telegram received by him from the John D. Rockefeller fund, dated at Gillette, Wyo., reporting that the Indians are 15 miles from that town and are stealing sheep and killing cattle and game. It was also said that the people were becoming aroused. Immediate action to secure the removal of the Indians was urged.

The secretary replied that the matter would have immediate attention. In discussing the matter, he said that so long as the Indians are not on a reservation it becomes the duty of the authorities to deal with them, but that as soon as they reach the reservation, from which they are distant only two days' march, the department will take the matter in hand and compel the Indians to return to their homes. He is convinced that the Indians are heading for the Crow territory.

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Waukomis, Okla., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Philip Spruz had died from a broken neck, and her baby daughter is so badly injured that it may not recover, as a result of her stumbling over her husband as he was kneeling in prayer at their home here last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Spruz had spent the evening with friends. Returning home they prepared to retire, the husband going first to their sleeping room.

While passing through the dark room with the babe in her arms, Mrs. Spruz stumbled over her husband's feet and, in trying to save the baby from injury, struck her head against a washstand, breaking her neck and dying instantly. The child fell from her arms to the floor.

The action will be brought against the corporation itself, and will be brought for the purpose of collecting the penalty attached by law for violations of the anti-trust law.

Keep Your Nerve

It is nerve energy that runs the organs of your body. The storage battery is the nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord, and from this battery nerve force is sent out through the system of nerves. To keep the body healthy you must have plenty of nerve force; if you have not, the organs work imperfectly, the circulation is sluggish, digestion bad, appetite poor, kidneys inactive, and aches, pains and misery are the penalty.

You can keep the system strong with Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic. It assists in generating nerve energy; it strengthens the nerves and makes the whole system strong and vigorous.

"I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic to those suffering from nervous prostration, insomnia, and melancholy. After several months suffering from above diseases I tried it and found immediate relief. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, chases away the gloom, and deepens thoughts and gives the sufferer renewed strength and hope. It is a superb nerve restorer."
