RETURNED MISSIONARIES.

Elder Ed S. Jenkins, with the excep-tion of the presidency of the British mission, when he obtained his release, was the oldest long-service missionary in that field. He left his home in the Fifteenth ward on August 8, 1896, and returned on the last day of October last. During his sojourn in Great Britain his ministerial efforts were concertrated in the towns of Halifax and Hull of the Leeds conference. He enjoyed his la-bors exceedingly especially in the latter town where there is situated a contown where there is situated a con-stantly growing and flourishing branch of the Church. He was blessed with the proverbial good health and spirits.

The twenty-second ward was aug-mented last week by the return of Elder Brigham Hasham from an extended visit to the Southern states. In res-ponse to a missionary call he left his home on May 16, 1598, since which per-iod he had been laboring in the labor of love throughout the state of Gerogia. During the latter part of his mission he traveled in the interest of the Sunday school in that state and further a heid into Georgia. Not the least inter-esting part of his mission were visits from time to time to the Jackson-ville military camps where he was thrown in contact with familiar faces from home.

Elder H. P. Nielson of the Twenty-second ward, returned from a prosper-ous mision in Denmark on October 28, 1898. He left his home just two years ous mision in Denmark on October 28, 1898. He left his home just two years and thirteen days previously. For the first mine months of his labors he can-vassed the Aalborg conference after which he was appointed as traveling Elder in the Aarhus conference, where subsequently he was placed in charge as president. He reports the work to be progressing in Denmark, but great care must be taken in order to avoid banishment upon the information of those who make it their business to fight against the principles of truth. Elder Nielson reports having enjoyed a good spirit together with excellent health.

Bigham City, left for a mission to Sweden on October 10th 1898. Upon his arrival in Scandinavia he was asisgned to labor in the Skane conference, where he remained for twelve months until he was transferred to the Stockholm conference. Elder Lee suffered from in-different health during the last eighteen different health during the last eighteen months of his mission, but despite that drawback he reported that he enjoyed his labors very much. He arrived at his home October 8, 1898.

Elder E. A. Larkin of Ogden, who, on Nov. 9, 1 95, left on a mission to Europe, returned home recently, and called at the "News" office this week. His mis-sion took him throught Germany and Gwitzerland. He enjoyed himself very much, and says the work of the minis-try is progressing better in that sec-tion of country at present than ever before in its history.

On the recommendation of their re-spective Bishops, elevent young breth-ren received certificates authorizing their ordination to the office of Elder, each of whom promised to faithfully honor and magnify his calling as El-der if ordained. Elder Andréw Jenson, representing the Historian's office, placed, before the meeting a - plan recommended by the First Presidency, and instituted for the 'purpose of raising means toward the' arection of a new Historian's office, in Salt Lake City, together with a fire proof building, in which to preserve the records of the Church. The speaker referred to the present building occu-pled by the Church historian and his referred to the present building occu-pied-by the Church historian and his disistants as being altogether too small and inadequate for the present purpos-es, and in order to raise means for the erection of new buildings, a' work of reference on Church history is being published under the title of Church Chronology. Chronology. The proceeds of the sale of that work is to be used for the purpose named and the Bishops and leading men were called upon to lay the matter before the pepole in their respective wards, and take such steps as they might deem proper to obtain a very large and popular sale for the work of which 25,000 were being printed. Elder Joseph E. Taylor read two cir-cular fetters received from the office of the Mutual Improvement Era. He stated that this magazine should be in the homes of all the Latter-day Saints, for it contained matter that was not only interesting but highly instructive. We were asked to use our influence to secure 1815 subscribers in this Stake, which was our pro rata of the 10,000 subscribers necessary to make the mag-azine self-sustaining, and to enable the azine self-sustaining, and to enable the publishers to continue to send, as here-tofore, one copy free to each mission-ary who is now or may hereafter be laboring abroad, this number approach-laboring abroad, this number approach-ing nearly 1,700. Brother Taylor also spoke briefly in support of the Ploneer monument fund, and suggested that competent and wide awake persons be selected and ap-pointed in each Bisbop's ward, to solicit subscriptions in order that the amount still due from this Stake, which is about $4,000 may be obtained without any unnecessary delay. The faithful performance of every duty and fulfill-ing every obligation resting upon us was strongly emphasized by the speak-er er

Elder Richard R. Lyman also in support of the Improvement Era similar to Brother Taylor, and hoped the magazine would have such a large circulation as it merited.

President Angus M. Cannon fully en-dorsed the remarks of the previous speakers, and hoped the Latter-day Saints would ald all they could in enterprises named. Speaking of the support of the poor in this Stake of Zion he thought that the $50,000 baid out annually by the Church for this purpose should be greatly lessened. As to the aged and deserving poor among us he hoped these would be carefully looked after and at-tended to, but he thought that those able to work—the young and able-bodied, who eat the substance of their parents and grandparents, should work for their own diving. He thought that we as a people did wrong in encour-aging this class of idlers, and feared that we were pauperizing some by feed-ing them year after year; that it had occurred to his mind upon reflecting on this subject that it would be wise for us to have an advising committee to consult with the Bishopric of the several wards regarding the circum-stances of many people who now draw support from the savings of the toilers. His heart, he said, went out in sym-pathy and love for the aged and infirm and otherwise helpless people, and real-ized that it was our duty to seek out and supply their essential wants, for such individuals were not usually clamorous nor were they inclined to make their necesities known. We have it often brought to our no-tice that settlements remote from this city are independent of the Church, and support their own poor, yet, at the same time, we know that the poor from those settlements crowd into the city, oftentimes making the plea that they like to attend our religious ser-vices here, and labor in the Temple. We can apprecise these feelings of persons nearing the other side and our Bishops labor faithfully to provide for them, but believe there are great num-bers who throng our city and indulge in idleness and patronize amusements, that were they living in the country their labor could be made to contrib-ute to their support, and we would not be as consclous as we are now that there are idlers eating up the sub-stance of the laborers, contrary to the will of-God. We urge the Bishops in the country the $50,000 paid out annually by the Church for this purpose should be greatly lessened. As to the aged and others as they can to go to the country where their labor may be made avail-able to support them. There is another class of people that I would call the attention of the Bish-ops to. It is where there are individ-uals in good circumstances who are in-clined. to neglect their kindred less fortunate than themselves, and with indifference let them become a charge upon the Church, forgetting the moral obligations they are under to care for them. If people will neglect their kin-dred and close their hearts and ears regiment the appeals of the truly needy, they should be booked and dealt with, as they are unworthy our fellowship in the Lord. President Cannon then announced that the Stake conference would com-mence on Saturday, December 10th, at 10 a. m., and asked the Bishops to give notice to the people of their wards of this that there be a full attendance of the Saints at the first meeting of the conference.

LOCAL BOARDS OF BEALTH,

Ever since the appointment and orga-nization of the state board of health, there has been more or less of a dis-inclination on the part of officers in dif-ferent portions of the state to appoint local boards and otherwise comply with the provision of the statute. This fail ure on their part caused Secretary Beat-ty of the State board of health, who has been seeking an enforcement of the law, to solicit an oninion from Attorlaw, to solicit an opinion from Attor-ney General Bishop on the matter. The interrogatory and reply are, by request, herewith given in full:
