

BREVITIES.

A western settler—The sun at evening Censure is the tax a man pays to the public for being eminent.

Dangerous individuals—people dressed to kill.

France is experimenting upon two story railway.

"Grasshopper juice" is the name applied to beezine in the courts of Columbus, Ohio.

The famous clock in the Strasbourg Cathedral escaped injury during the recent bombardment.

In Mississippi, sixty-one out of every hundred of the population can neither read nor write.

The United States fifty-cent pieces contain five cents worth more silver than the Canadian half-dollar.

Where do all the pianos go? Many thousands are made and sold every year, but no one ever heard of one being permanently thrown aside.

A Baltimore jury has awarded a husband $275 damages against an individual who seduced his wife's hand.

Fanny Fern is now 40, Alice Carey 48, Harriet Beecher Stowe 56, and Catherine Beecher 70. Fanny Fern's weight is nearly 200 pounds.

Cadiz, Ohio, actually possesses a man with a conscience. He stole a chisel from another eleven years ago, and the crime so weighed upon his mind that he recently sent a dollar to pay for the stolen property.

A man's life was lately saved in Norwich, Connecticut, by the inferior quality of a deadly poison put up by a blundering clerk, instead of the medicine ordered.

Kansas City, Missouri, has increased in population from 5,000 in 1865 to 32, 285 in 1870. Kansas City is said now to be the second city in population in Missouri.

A boy of 12 years of age, sentenced to confinement in the Chicago Reform School, has escaped from it twelve times in succession. He declares he will not stay there.

The prisoners at Wilhelmshehe, including the military attaches of the Emperor, are about to doff their uniforms and assume citizens clothes. A batter in Cassel has ordered from the great hat houses in Vassal, in Berlin, seventy silk hats for the Emperor and his suite.

Life is made up, not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindness and small obligations given habitually, are what win and preserve the heart and secure comfort.

The weather in Louisiana is exceedingly fine for cotton picking, but sugar planters complain of want of rain.
From this cause and from scarcity of labor it is feared that part of the cane crop will be lost.

Captain Mayne Reid, the champion boy's story teller, has sailed for England in the Sidra. His health is so feeble that his thorough recovery is almost despaired of. He lost a large sum in speculation in New York.

When the earthquake visited New Haven, Gov. English was sitting in his room, in the State-house writing. He felt his table shake—looked up to the ceiling and saw a crack there which opened and closed—took out his watch and said, "Precisely quarter past 11" and then went on writing again.

In the choice of a wife, prefer the person before money; virtue before beauty; the mind before the body.
Then hast thou a wife, a friend, a companion who will bear an equal share in all thy toils and afflictions.

A baby was found upon a doorstep at Bloomington, a few days ago, packed in a basket, with a ten dollar bill and a note saying, "When this is exhausted more will be furnished." The Panta-graph asks, "What will be furnished—more money or more babies?"

There is a man in Buffalo who has registered a vow never to make a "humbug society" of himself again. He took off his coat and leaped into the caul to save a lady from drowning, when a pinkcoat stole $10 from his coat, and the rescued one was mad because he pulled her chignon off in getting her out.

Professor A. M. Kenzie, of the Michigan Agricultural College, says that one hundred and seventy days have passed in this season without frost sufficient to make its effects visible upon vegetation; and that, according to the records kept by the Academy of Science, at New Haven, it is one hundred and eighty years since this has occurred before.

We rather like Mrs. Livermore, editress, for her way of declining an invitation. This is her way: "We were invited to the Haverhill excursion, of course, for our Eastern editors are not unmindful of the etiquette of the profession. The invitation to editors include their wives—but that sent us did not include our husbands. So we staid at home. When we go off on a frolic we want our other half along, with whom we have jogged on, in harness, for more than a quarter of a century." The drouth in some parts of Mississippi has been so long and severe that many pear trees have died with fruit on them.

Covington, Kentucky, takes the banner for sharp policemen. A gentleman connected with the Cincinnati House of Refuge went there, on Saturday last in search of three boys who had escaped from that institution. Fearing that the lads might catch sight of him and keep out of his way, he thought proper to disguise himself by putting on a very curious looking wig and big moustache. While walking up Scott street a policeman observed him, and thinking that he looked very suspicious, arrested him and took him to the Marshal's office, where he was kept for several hours, until parties in Cincinnati could be sent for, when he was released.
