BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞ ADDRESS OF CHURCH EMIGRATION AGENT.—Mr. William C. Staines, Box 2057, P. O., New York City.

—The Overland Monthly says, "The Modoes were a chained tiger, tampered with by fools."

☞ U S MARKS.—While other articles of their kind are largely adulterated, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Special Flavors (pure Vanilla, Lemon, Nectarine, etc.) hold their unshaken position in the estimation of thousands as the purest, best, most reliable and cheapest. In all particulars that constitute perfect results, they cannot be approached by the various known Baking Powders and Flavoring Extracts made in imitation. One trial will satisfy that for purity and strength Dr. Price's are alone in the market. d17 1s&w 1y

—A Cynic describes marriage as an altar on which man lays his wallet and woman her affections.

☞ VISITORS visiting Lindsey's Gardens can enjoy all the amusements for 10 cents a day. d173-3t

—Some people, because they are very good, think they can afford to be very disagreeable.

☞ D. R. ALLEN'S Brand XX Flour for sale at Geo. Manwaring's, 1st South street, half a block west of Kimball & Lawrence's d149-tf

—A Chicago college wants to confer a degree on Gilmore, the concert man. We suggest fiddle—D. D.—Ex.

☞ CLAIMANTS to the estate of Gustav Adolph Ferdinand Rieck, dealer in General Merchandise, Hamburg, Germany, see advertisement of special interest to you.

—Rather than die without a groan, let me groan without a die.—H. Ward.

☞ PICNIC PARTIES supplied cheaper than ever at Lindsey's Gardens. d173-3t

☞ FOR SALE.—One hundred and twenty head of Missouri Mules.

—Susan B. Anthony (nephew of Mark Anthony, the Roman) proclaims it as her intention to "stand face to face with Satan," but Satan is dodging her.—Ex.

☞ A UNIVERSAL REMEDY.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" for Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections, stand first in public favor and confidence; this result has been acquired by a test of many years. d173-3

☞ ARTISTS' Tube Colors, Brushes, fine line of cheap Albums, Steel Engravings and Chromos just received at Savage's Art Gallery. d166-1m

☞ "Can you name the four seasons?" asked a school visitor of a class that was on exhibition. "Yes, sir," said a bright-looking little boy. "What are they, my little man?" "Salt, pepper, vinegar and mustard," was the reply.

☞ The price current for June of Alex. Whitlin & Sons, commission merchants Philadelphia, for wool, woolen yarn, cotton, and cotton yarns, and beam warps, gives the selling prices of raw wool at from 45 to 67 cents, the former price for Texas low unwashed, the latter for combing wools washed.

—When a Chicago man starts out of the theatre between acts, his wife rises and yells, "That was not a fire-alarm, John—where are you going?" John does not reply, as a general thing, until he gets home; then ——

☞ ALL kinds of summer drinks as cold as ice at Lindsey's Gardens. d173-3t

—The Richmond Enquirer states that a would be legislator from Powhatan wants to represent "for nex session the agriculturay and manneultrary intress," of the farmer.

☞ CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Whereas a certain music firm in this city, satisfied that their inferior instruments will not sell on their own merits, are constantly resorting to "clap-trap" advertisements, "Bogus Challenges" and "Private Trials," in order to palm their instruments on the public as the best, knowing at the same time that they are inferior in Power and Sweetness of Tone, Quality of Material and Workmanship.

We therefore beg most respectfully to inform the public that the Mason & Hamlin Organ has never been entered for any "Challenge" or Trial in Utah, but we sell them purely on their own merits, and on the disinterested and unbought recommendation of the Real and Qualified Judges of the Territory.

We offer NO BRIBES, BUT NO TESTIMONIALS, nor do we make any reduction to purchasers in order to effect sales. Notwithstanding all this, we sell more organs than all the other Music Dealers combined in the Territory. And we have yet to learn of the first purchaser who is dissatisfied with his instrument.

CALDER & CARELESS,
Music Dealers, Salt Lake City.

—Two babies were shipped several hundred miles by express in Oregon recently, and arrived at their destination all right; but the express agent was almost worn out telegraphing ahead for milk, shingles for spanking purposes, and other necessaries.

☞ If you want to see the highest mountains in the Wasatch range, 95 miles south, go Lindsey's Gardens. d173-3t

—A Detroit paper says that "since the passage of the stringent temperance law in Massachusetts, barbers use more rum than ever. It filters through the scalp." Slanderous.

☞ If you want to eat a good meal and inhale the pure mountain air, go to Lindsey's Gardens. d173-3t

☞ CONCORD CARRIAGES and BUGGIES at Bain Wagon Depot. d135

—By an extraordinary coincidence the very identical plot of ground which General B. F. Butler lately purchased in the suburbs of Washington when nobody else thought it had any particular value, has been pitched upon by a Congressional commission as just the most desirable situation in the world for the proposed Executive Mansion.

☞ NUTS, Candies and Oranges at Lindsey's Gardens. d173-3t

—Theo. Tilton, in a recent criticism of a volume of Henry Ward Beecher's sermons, makes the following mysterious allusions: "To think one thing and say another—to hold one philosophy in public and another in private—to offer one morality to the multitude and keep another to one's self—is a degradation to no man so much as a minister, and a blot upon nothing so much as upon religion."

☞ FAMILY Season Tickets for bathing at Lindsey's Gardens, $1.50. d173-3t

☞ HOT'S LOVERS OF POULTRY.—Just arrived from the East and for sale at Liddell & Brown's, north of the Post Office, a large consignment of Chickens, Geese, Turkeys, Ducks and Guinea Fowls, all in splendid condition. Hotels, Restaurants, &c., supplied, alive or dressed, on short notice. d169-tf

—A clergyman was recently annoyed by his people talking and giggling. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said: "I am always afraid to reprove those who misbehave, for this reason: Some years since, as I was preaching, a young man who sat before me was constantly laughing, talking and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service a gentleman said to me: 'Sir you have made a great mistake. That young man was an idiot.' Since that I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave themselves in chapel, lest I should repeat that mistake and reprove another idiot." During the rest of the service there was good order.

☞ THEATRE to-night at eight o'clock.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THERMOMETER 84 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine day.

MEETINGS IN THE TABERNACLE to-morrow at ten and two o'clock and at the various Ward meeting houses in the evening.

THEATRE.—This evening a grand variety bill, consisting of the romantic drama of "Ben Bolt," "Selections" and "Overture" by the orchestra, "Lancashire Song," by Master John Affleck, "A First Class Second Hand Hoss," "Violin Solo," by Master E. Weihe, the "Fairy Fountain," and the "Shadow Pantomime," in which "Blondin" will do the tight rope. Misses Adams and Simons, and Messrs. Cogswell and Harris, and others of the company will appear.

TELEGRAM at the Western Union office for Mrs. Lizzie Gove.

VERY COMMENDABLE.—Galvanized iron is being widely used in the eastern States now, in place of wood, for the manufacture of cornices for the outside of buildings. A specimen of this kind of cornice work can be seen on the new addition of the Z. C. M. I. building, west of the Eagle Emporium. Galvanized iron takes the preference of wood for several reasons, one of which is that it is not liable to catch fire, besides it can be formed into almost every imaginable description of design.

To obviate the necessity of parties wishing cornices of this material sending to the east for them, the enterprising firm of Mitchell and James sent for and have received all the necessary machinery for that branch of manufacture, and will at once enter upon the business. It is their intention to supply cornices, in any desired design, at most at the same prices for which they can be laid down in this city. The first they will commence upon will be a cornice for the new Z. C. M. I. building at Logan.

Not only can cornices be made in this way, but also all kinds of window caps, &c.

We trust that instead of sending east for such things parties here will patronize home manufacture, for those who, by their enterprise, create labor and keep money in the Territory, are deserving of encouragement.

J. W. HASKINS.—This gentleman, who, it will be remembered, was arrested in a summary manner, in California, by a deputy marshal named Billings, on a warrant issued by Judge McKean, was before the latter in Chambers to-day. The warrant was issued on the strength of an affidavit made by one Col Wall, charging Mr. Haskins with perjury.

Mr. Smith, for the defendant, stated that the latter was ready for an examination.

The Court asked who was present on behalf of the people, when he was informed that Colonel Wall had engaged R. N. Baskin as his counsel. The latter was not present, but soon afterwards appeared and requested that the examination be continued until the United States prosecuting attorney, who was then absent from the city, should return.

Mr. Smith opposed the continuance, stating that Mr. Haskins had come a distance of 1,000 miles for the purpose of having a thorough and searching investigation, and as the occurrences upon which the charges against him were based took place about two years ago, in wa s not presumable that the government was unprepar ed for an examination of the matter. Mr. Smith said he had a list of objections which he wished to read to the court.

The Court told him to proceed, and the objections, which appeared to have been well and ably taken, were being read when our reporter left the court.

PERSONAL.—We were called upon to-day by Mr. B. W. Gelwicks, formerly editor and publisher of one of the oldest papers in California, the Mountain Democrat, of Placerville, California, established in 1851. Mr. Gelwick's home is now in Oakland. He will remain in the city a few days.

Mr. J. A. Folger, of the firm of J. A. Folger & Co., 220 Front street, San Francisco, is in town. This house are proprietors of the Pioneer Coffee and Spice Mills. They make a specialty of their famous chartres coffee, which has a wide reputation for excellence. Mr. Folger will be in town for several days and will probably call upon some of our principal merchants.

ACCIDENT.—This afternoon at 3 o'clock, Barney Williams entered Mr. John Horrock's saloon, which he is enlarging and improving. Williams was partly intoxicated and ascended the scaffold to chastise the men who were plastering. He lost his balance and tumbled from the scaffold, falling upon a trowel. At first it was supposed that his skull was fractured, but on examination it was found that his injuries were only bruises and flesh wounds. He was taken at once to Higginbotham & Co's. drug store, where Dr. Williams waited upon him with the greatest kindness and skill. The flesh on the forehead was peeled leaving the bone exposed, but the Dr. carefully replaced and strapped it up, and after awhile his patient was able to walk away with the assistance of a friend.—Ogden Junction, June 13.

MISSIONARY APPOINTMENTS for Salt Lake City, Sunday evening, June 15th:

THIRD WARD—Elder S. W. Sears.
SEVENTH—Elder C. R. Savage.
TWELFTH—Elder J. P. Freeze and J. Tuddenham.
FOURTEENTH—Elder David McKenzie.
FIFTEENTH—Elder G. G. Bywater.
NINETEENTH—Elder S. A. Wooley.

L. D. YOUNG.

THE RICHMOND MINE CASE.—On Thursday last a couple of men in the employ of Mr. Taylor and others were arrested at this mine, on warrants issue d by Judge McKean charged with discarding the orders of the court, and a party of men in the employ of Smith and Windlate, of the other side, took possession. The men who were arrested were before Judge McKean at eleven o'clock to-day.

Mr. Royle, one of the counsel for Smith and Windlate, addressed the Court, stating that so far as the civil part of the affair was concerned the matter had been amicably arranged between the parties, by compromise, and so far as the criminal part was concerned it was for the court to say how that should be disposed of. He would say, however, that the other part did not manifest any intention to do wrong, and so far as the party he represented was concerned they had no wish that the matter should be pressed against the other side.

The Court said it was not right for counsel in such cases to call upon him to issue warrants and sit as an investigating magistrate. Such business should be left to inferior magistrates. He wished it to be distinctly understood that lawyers could not go to him and procure warrants for the purpose of furthering or securing the settlement of civil matters. He ought never to be called upon to issue such warrants. It had a tendency to create a false impression with regard to the Court. It would have a very bad effect if it should be spread around in the mining camps that warrants could be obtained to be used in bringing parties to terms in the settlement of civil matters. Such an idea, however, would be entirely false.

Mr. Royle replied that he only wished it to be understood that the party on the other side appeared to be amicably disposed, wishing the matter to be settled without any trouble, and he stated that much in justice to them.

The Court then said that the parties who had been arrested and were then before the Court should be held in their own recognizances to appear at the September term of the Court.

Mr. Smith, one of the counsel for defendants, said, "Then we demand an investigation."

At this point the judicial bristles stood straight out, and the Court said, in unmistakably sharp tones, "You shall have it." And then, louder and more wrathful still, "bring on your witnesses."

This seemed to have a visible effect, for Mr. Smith, after a little reflection, said, in tones of apparent calmness, but with a flush on his countenance and a flash in his eye, "We will abide by the order of the court."

Mr. McCatcheon, also counsel for the defendants, asked the amount in which the parties should be held.

The Court, still bristling all over, and speaking in very sour tones said, "In $5,000 each, and were it not for what Mr. Royle has said, I would make $25,000, with two sureties each.

SOME THUNDER and sheet lightening last night.

PHRENOLOGY.—Mr. Macdonald, the phrenologist, has returned from a visit to Ploche and the mining camps in that region. He lectured at Beaver on his way back to this city. He has been five months in this western country, which time has been pleasantly and profitably spent by him.

It is now thought to be settled that the Duke of Edinburgh is to marry the Grand Duchess Marie. It is supposed that the marriage contract would require the noble spouse to reside much of his time in Russia, but this difficulty has been obviated. The courtship has been of the old-fashioned, plebeian kind. While the imperial family were at Sorrento, Alfred was their near neighbor, and visited them in an informal way daily for a year. The Duchess will not only bring her husband a jointure of $500,000, and an annual income of $100,000, but will add to the dowry one of the sweetest dispositions ever possessed by woman. The espousals will soon be made public.
