CHICAGO, 17. — The Tribune's Washington special says that Secretary Sherman and other treasury officers are preparing to overhaul internal revenue matters, especially the whiskey frauds. The ruling price of whiskey in the western cities is considered positive evidence that the ring is firmly on evidence that the ring is firmly on its feet again. It appears that within a year no real efforts have been made to check it. It is asserted that an overgauge of about two gallons per barrel is common among dishonest distillers, who claim that this is only a fair means of protecting themselves from losses by shipment. The compromise which the department has made will receive early consideration.
