Business was not very heavy on the mining exchange. With very few exceptions prices resumed the downward course of the past couple of weeks. May Day and Victor were about the only exceptions in the list of active stocks today. The former opened at $1.37% and moved up to $1.43, though it weakened to $1.40% at the close. Victor sold up to 51. The most striking drop was recorded in Carisa, which loosened up something like 8,000 shares at prices ranging from $1.33 as low as $1.25. That the stock should fall away to the price of the original subscription is a great surprise to everyone. It closed a little stronger at $1.26%. Uncle Sam opened at $1.48% and sold up to $1.51. It was unable to maintain its position, however, and broke to $1.49%. Daly-West sold as low as $37.25. Ben Butler was traded in as low as 184, while Lower Mammoth sold down to $2.86, after opening at $2.90. Joe Bowers participated at 7, while Eagle and Blue Bell let go 100 at $1.18. Star Con. sold at 384, while Tesora was active between 68 and 67%. West Morning Glory sold as low as 5%, while Tetro was traded in at 25. Ajax was much weaker, selling down to $1.31%. HORN SILVER'S ANNUAL MEETING

Carisa Slumps to the Price of Old Board of Directors Sustained Without Dissenting Vote.

NO EXAMINATION MADE.

John Hays Hammond Has Not Inspected Silver King-Mammoth Changes

The annual meeting of the Horn Silver Mining company was held in the company's office room, 207 Templeton building at noon today, when the heaviest vote in the history of the company was cast in favor of the old board of directors. The talk about certain eastern parties buying up stock appears to have been without foundation. No evidence of a division was shown today, when 338,721 shares of stock were voted in person and by proxy in favor of the old board. There was not a dissenting vote. Following are the directors: Alian C. Washington, Juan M. Ceballos, Philo T. Farnsworth, William R. Britton, Theodore B. Moore, John Sharp and James Sharp. After the meeting the board organized as follows: Alian C. Washington, presi-dent; Juan M. Ceballos, vice president, and Ambrose I. Harrison, secretary and treasurer. Philo T. Farnsworth was sustained as general manager of the mine.

The mine is reported to be in much better condition than it was six months ago. Better smelter and freight rates have been secured by which the company is able to save about $2.00 per ton on its low grade ores. This has caused the company to increase its shipments. It is now marketing a grade of ore which was not handled before. In addi-tion to this, the developments of ship-ping ore on the different levels between the surface and the 9.0 is said to be very encouraging. The company has just paid a dividend of $32,000 and President Washington said today that if the ore keeps moving at the present rate, the company will distribute dividends more regularly during the ensu-ing year.

[Special to the 'News."] Park City, Oct. 1 .- Your correspondent here made diligent enquiries today with respect to the report circulated in Salt Lake to the effect that Mr. John Hays Hammond, the celebrated mining expert, is here making a professional examination of the Silver King mine as a measure preceding the sale of the mine for $12,000,000. It was learned that Mr. Hammond left here yesterday on the U. P. train and that there is absolutely no truth in the rumor referred to. Senator Kearns is now up at the mine.

CHANGES AT THE MAMMOTH. Company is Seriously Considering the Enlargement of Present Shaft. "We are up against a big proposi-tion," said President Samuel McIntyre of the Mammoth Mining company to day. "It looks as if we might have to make the present shaft double compartment in order to extract the ore from below the 1,900 level." Mr. McIning power by having the shaft double take in the matter, but he thinks it would be more economical to change the present shaft than to sink a new the present shaft than to sink a new one. By upraising from the various levels the work would be greatly expedited, as the small donkey drills could be used effectively. Some lead and quartz, similar from all accounts to that found in the Ajax, is being encountered, and the outlook for an ore body is quite cheer-

Is Rich in Paraffine Off. The Butte Miner says a number of Butte people are becoming interested in a Wyoming oil beit which is situated in the vicinity of Moorcraft, about 200 miles east of Billings. Although there are no surface indications which can guide one to any degree of certainty in any field, yet every visible indica-tion points to a big strike in this territory. There are several natural springs and the depth to which the holes have to be made is not great. Oil is found at a short distance below 1,000 feet, and one remarkable feature is that no water is met with in any of the bor-The Butte Petroleum company in which George Kendall, Ike More house and others are said to be inter ested, is already making a hole have gone down about 60 feet. Visits Nevada Camps V. P. Strange has returned to the city after a 6-weeks' trip to Nevada and California in the interest of Eastern capitalists. After taking the train to Reno, Mr. Strange traveled about 130 miles by wagon to the Churchill mining district, in western Nevada. He there examined a good looking copper prospect for Minneapolis people. The camp is located about 25 miles from Gillis on the Carson and Colorado railway. A very fair showing is reported in the camp, but as yet no extensive develop-ment work has been done and the properties are still in the prospect

A visit was also made to the Olinghouse district in the same state, where some very high grade gold ore is being extracted from small veins. Very satisfactory returns are being secured from several small mills in the district and as the camp is a new one, its present record gives much promise for the future.

Osborne Group Changes Hands.

The Osbourne group of 8 claims in Park Valley has been purchased by J. H. Clive and Joseph Jennings of this city. The property joins the Planet company's ground on the east and is said to present a very good surface showing, and it is probable that the new owners will organize a company to develop the group.
