A wedding of unusual interest to their many friends is that of Joseph Leavitt, brother of Aaron Leavitt of this city, and Miss Gertrude M. Baruch of Pueblo, Colo., the wedding to take place on the 31st of this month. Mr. Leavitt, the prospective groom, has been a resident of the city for 20 years, and is well liked in the community for his many sterling qualities. Miss Baruch is a lady of beautiful and pleasing personality and is sure to prove a popular addition to Salt Lake society. Mrs. I. Leavitt and Mr. Aaron Leavitt leave tomorrow for Pueblo to attend the wedding.

The engagement is announced of Miss Mattie Crookston to George Earl Garrett, both of this city.

Miss Zina Reese entertained Monday evening at a slumber party of 4. It being her birthday. A long walk was taken the next morning followed by a breakfast.

An informal Kensington was given by Mrs. George S. Gannett at her home on north State street on Monday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Ploutz entertained at a luncheon on Thursday, for Mrs. M. S. Woodward and Mrs. J. M. Bidwell, who leave soon for a trip abroad.

The Twentieth Century club will meet on Monday with Mrs. O. K. Lewis.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Annette and Mrs. Chamberlain entertained at cards for Mrs. Carl Prinz of Milwaukee. The decorations were in Japanese effect, fans, parasols and lanterns being used artistically in the decorations. Five tables of bridge were filled with players.

Mrs. Jack Alford entertained Tuesday afternoon at an informal Kensington tea, the guests of honor being Mrs. William P. Platt and Mrs. Will H. Crabbe. The home, on Center street, was prettily decorated, the guests dividing their time between the cool house and the shady lawn upon which easy chairs and seats were placed. Mrs. Platt favored the ladies with several musical numbers. Those assisting Mrs. Alford were Mrs. M. A. Alford and Miss Beulah Bachman.

A large and elaborate dinner was given Tuesday evening on the new roof garden of the University club by Ben Siegel, in honor of his uncle, Dr. Ulman of Baltimore. The long table was "U" shaped, a low bed of sweet peas dividing it from end to end forming the decorations, the surrounding space being brilliant with hanging baskets and potted plants. Sweet strains of music by an orchestra were enjoyed during the dinner. Mrs. Sol Siegel, mother of the host, received the guests; Mrs. Walter Filer and Mrs. Leslie Savage being the chaperones. Covers were laid for 32. An informal musical program, composed mostly of college songs, followed the dinner.

The engagement of Miss Fannie Hayden and Frank Burgess is announced, the wedding to take place in September.

The farewell luncheon given by the Misses McMillan at the Country club on Monday for Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Roberts before their departure for their new home in Wounded, Nev., was in every way a delightful affair. Miss Gardner and Miss Duffie were also guests of honor. The decorations were of lavender sweet peas and plumosa, a large basket of the blossoms and ferns forming the centerpiece, while sprays were scattered carelessly over the table and large clusters of the flowers placed at each place.

One of the prettiest weddings of the week was that of Miss Jennie A. Sawyer and Percy L. Hall, Dean Brewster of St. Marks officiating. The bride wore a gown of white net over white tulle and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. J. A. Clark, her sister, was matron of honor while J. A. Hall was best man. The house was beautifully decorated with sweet peas, ferns and amilax. Only the immediate family and a few intimate friends were present. After a week's trip to Wyoming, Mr. and Mrs. Hall will be at home at Antimony, Utah.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Aileen Maclean to Lieut. Donald A. Robinson of the Eleventh Cavalry.

Miss Louise Sullivan entertained at a pretty appointed luncheon on Wednesday at the Country club in honor of Miss Aileen Maclean. The decorations were white and pale pink sweet peas.

with hand painted sweet peas for the place cards. A basket of sweet peas formed the centerpiece, and covers were laid for 25.

Mrs. Richard Stingley and Miss Lela Stingley were the hostesses at a luncheon given on Wednesday, at which 35 guests were present. The ever beautiful Shasta daisy, with sprays of amilax and ferns, was used with fine effect on the long oval table. The place cards were hand painted daisies.

Mrs. F. M. Hayden has announced the engagement of her daughter, Fannie, to Frank Davis. The marriage will take place in the early fall.

Another home wedding of the week was that of Miss Ethel Crabtree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crabtree of Eighth East street, and Raymond Carson of Fairfield, the ceremony being performed by Bishop Joseph Christianson of the Tenth ward. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, ferns and vines and a delicious supper served at 8 o'clock. The bride's gown was of pale blue net over tulle. Only the immediate family

LADY NAYLOR-LEYLAND GUARDS CHILDREN.

Lady Naylor-Leyland, widow of Sir Herbert Scarsbrick Naylor-Leyland, has put detectives on guard over her two sons lest they be kidnapped by jealous relatives of her late husband, to prevent them inheriting the large fortune of their father. Lady Naylor-Leyland was a daughter of William Selah Chamberlain of Cleveland, and both her sons, Sir Albert and George, are now students at Eton. Ever since her marriage she has been known as "The American Beauty."

lily were present. The young couple will be at home in Lehi, after Aug. 1.

Mrs. Ida Boltz announced the engagement of her daughter Mabelle to D. A. Bunker of Bingham.

The reception at Lion house, last Wednesday for the visitors from Provo belonging to the "Sons and Daughters of the Pioneers" was a good old-fashioned affair. The committee in charge had decorated the cool reception rooms in various flowers and the luncheon provided for about 200 under the direction of Mrs. Anne Grosbeck was enjoyed by all. Delicious ice cream, cake, buttermilk and doughnuts were served, the last being fully as good as the kind "mother used to make," and the drinks tasted better through being served in old-fashioned tin dippers.

Miss Evelyn Thomas and Miss Anna Adams entertained informally for Miss Ethel Partridge on Wednesday, about 20 being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Kattentrun of Winsted, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian, to Emil A. Roberts of Salt Lake City.

At the home of Mrs. John E. McKiever last Tuesday, an informal reception was held by Mrs. Frances E. Morgan and her daughter Mabel, who have been abroad for two years.

On July 24 the beautiful country home of Gen. Robert T. Burton on State street, below Twelfth South, was the scene of a joyous gathering of relatives of the venerable head of the family, four generations being present. The large grounds were patriotically decorated, large flags being draped from tree to arbor forming canopies for easy chairs, hammocks and cozy corners. Basketball, tennis and social chat were indulged in by the 125 guests. A pretty feature of the afternoon was the hoisting of a large flag in commemoration of a similar occurrence which took place 40 years ago on Ensign peak on what was then Mexican soil. Fine refreshments were served during the afternoon and the whole occasion was one long to be remembered by the descendants of that illustrious old pioneer, Gen. Robert T. Burton.

Miss Edna Bailey gave a musicale in honor of Miss Aileen Maclean, at her home on Thursday. The decorations, in compliment to Lieut. Robinson, who is to marry Miss Maclean, carried out the national color idea, flags, bunting and red, white and blue flowers being used. The table was gay with a centerpiece composed of a large blue bowl filled with red and white hollyhocks and surrounded by red and blue hearts laid on the cloth. The fees also carried out the idea, being red and white on blue plates, surmounted by day flags. An enjoyable musical program followed the luncheon when Miss Bailey and Miss Sadler sang, Miss Ruth Baer and Miss Ruth Kingsbury giving some pleasing piano numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barnes gave a musicale last evening at their home in the Miller flats.

Miss Jeanette Luman gave an elegant luncheon at the Knutsford, on Thursday, in honor of her classmate, Miss Ethelyn Gardner and Miss June Whittemore. Mrs. Abner Luman assisted her daughter in receiving. The round table, laid in the private dining-room, was beautifully decorated in

TYPES OF SMART AUTO APPAREL.

Auto garments vary in many respects, but one thing peculiar to all is, that wraps no matter whether short, three-quarters or full length are comfortably full in both body and sleeves. Loose sack coats, models and combinations of these two types characterize the up-to-date auto wrap. Tans, browns and grays are considered the best colors, motorists long since having found that these do not show the wear and tear of the road. Some very smart black garments are seen, but these are confined principally to mourning wear. Some new novelties have recently made their appearance in auto headwear. The newest of these is in the cowboy hat in both felt and panama. It is the same hat which the summer girl wears for all outdoor occasions. It has a low, round crown and a medium brim which turns or rolls up at the left side and droops down over the hair in the back. Sometimes it is trimmed simply with a band of ribbon, again it is swathed in a plaid or striped ribbon scarf, and still another way of trimming it is a large ribbon rosette set on the crown at the point where the brim rolls. This is a trifle dressier than the other trimmings, and though very attractive for auto wear, is not practical for general outing. Over these small hats veils, white or in the color of the other accessories, is draped in the manner to give the most comfort and to be the most attractive. A large touring car seen the other day carried four youthful motorists, two attired in long loose coats of tan colored ponce, one with white accessories, the other with brown, and the other occupants wore coats of golden brown silk with white headwear, the brown of the garments matching exactly the shade of the leather fitting of the car.
