FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

The surrounding mountains have returned their frosty overcoat.

Edith Ryan, professor of pugilism, at the theatre to-morrow night.

The High Council will meet in the Social Hall at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

On the rain, the beautiful rain, washing and washing from mountain to plain!

The mud after last night's rain is not so deep and rich as that which characterized the Conference storm on the Merionis says, "It's enough."

The Wheelman for November has a frontpiece a fine engraving of the $1,000 Columbia Bicycle Prize Cup, a full description of which is given by Mr. Charles E. Pratt.

A good house at the theatre last night, notwithstanding the rain poured down in torrents. Some people prefer taking their "kicks" with a good deal of water.

Mr. Joseph A. Jennings, son of Major Wm. Jennings, and Miss Ellen Dinwiddie, daughter of Al deman Henry Dinwiddie, were yesterday made man and wife.

Macdonald, the Eagle Rock rascal, particularly of whose brutal deed appeared in the News a few days ago, has been discharged from custody, as the crime could not be proven upon him.

Bishop Allen, of the 21st Ward, who it is announced that Elder John Nicholson will preach in that meeting house on Sunday evening, October 29th. Subject: "How to teach the doctrine of the Gospel to the young." Hour of commencement, 8 o'clock.

Musicians and particularly teachers of vocal music will be pleased to know that Messrs. Daynes & Co. have secured the sale of "Cincinnati Music Readers," a sample of which is before us. This splendid little book is used by the leading teachers of the East and endorsed by our local teachers. Daynes & Co. have just received a consignment and will ship some of them at the low price of 25 cents.

Two Burglaries.—Information not by any means weighed down by details has reached this office, respecting two burglaries which took place in Tooele County several days ago, the particulars of which have been kept somewhat shady with the hope that some clue leading to the capture of the robbers might be the better obtained. A week has elapsed, however, and nothing has been heard from them. The facts in all their scantiness are as follows: At Grantsville the Co-operative store was entered about 9 o'clock in the evening, soon after the place had been closed for the night. The burglar or burglars broke the glass cut of one of the windows, cut the frame with a knife, saw or some other sharp instrument, removed it and got inside the store. About fifty dollars was taken from the till, leaving but a few nickels in the drawer. The safe containing the bulk of money and valuables on the premises, was turned over two or three times, but proved too much for the efforts of the marauder, as it was found in the morning unopened and its contents intact. Blood was discovered on the window frame, showing that the burglar in all probability broke the glass with his knuckles and then reached through and removed the frame afterwards. Suspicion attached to a strange man who had been loitering about town for some time, but up to last accounts no one had been arrested.

A day or two previous to this, the Co-operative store at Tooele City underwent a singular experience, but was only robbed of the small sum of eight dollars. No one caught, and further particulars unknown.

Third Ward Meeting House.—The Third Ward new Meeting House, a brief mention of which appeared in yesterday's News, promises on completion to be one of the handsomest and most substantial buildings of the kind yet erected in this city or Territory. It was begun only about two months since, and when it is stated that the walls are up, the roof on, the floors in, and the plastering of the interior already commenced, it will be seen with what energy and dispatch the work has been pushed ahead up to the present time. It is built in the Gothic style, principally of brick, with the caps to the buttresses of white stone, and when finished will have cost upwards of $3,000. The inside dimensions are 43 by 23 feet, exclusive of the vestibule in front. The building faces the south. There is no basement to the structure, the ground being too low and moist in that locality to admit of it, but a coal house and other appurtenances are provided in convenient proximity to the main building. The work is going ahead rapidly, and at present indications, the meeting-house will be ready for use about Christmas time. The building committee are Bishop Jacob Weller, John Wayman, George Stringfellow, B. M. Weller and T. H. H. Jones. The house is a credit to the Ward who have contributed so freely and willingly for its erection. More of such buildings would not only materially enhance the appearance of the city and increase the value of property, but would tend in no insignificant degree to the advancement of the spiritual welfare of the people.

Dangerous Places.—The workmen engaged in excavating on the corner north of the Continental Hotel, should take care when they leave off work for the night, especially such dark nights as the last one, that the scene of their labors is securely guarded against the liability of accidents. Last night quite a number of people fell into an ugly chasm which has been made in the sidewalk by the scarpers of the workmen, and only finally protected by a frail excuse for a bridge made of some loose boards thrown over it. One gentleman, walking home from the theatre with his aged mother, was suddenly precipitated with her into the opening, then left more than ever unguarded through the previous disarrangement of the boards by other persons, some of them ladies, who had slipped through earlier in the evening. It is to be hoped this brief mention will be sufficient, as suit, for damages, which is imminent on a recurrence of such a scene of accidents, is not the pleasant thing to record against our friends, the builders and their employers, nor the most agreeable thing in the world for them to encounter.

Another bad place which should be attended to, is in a wooden culvert two blocks east of the Twenty-first Ward meeting-house, where a splintered ankle or a broken rib is liable to result at any time on a dark night, from stepping into some ugly hole caused by the giving way of the culvert box.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Released to Return.—The Millennial Star of October 5th, announces the release of Elders Solomon King and John Crawford, to return home with the company sailing from Liverpool to-morrow, the 27th inst. Elder King is from the London Conference and Elder Crawford from the Scottish Mission.

Home-made Molasses.—A sample of superior molasses, purer and more useful than the general run of so-called first class productions imported into the Territory, was shown at this office to-day by A. M. Musser, Esq., who received it from the maker, C. A. Madsen, of Gunnison. It is equal, if not superior, to anything of the kind in the market.

The Spanish Students.—The local academy was favored with a brief call this morning from Mr. Eugene Schults, agent for the Filigra Spanish Students, a band of accomplished musicians who have been delighting the ears of San Franciscans at Platt's Hall and other places for the past three months, and who are to fill an engagement of four nights at the Salt Lake Theatre, beginning on Saturday November 10th. The band, who are all native Spaniards, dress in medieval costumes, with a silver upon the insignia of tradition in the hat, and all play on stringed instruments. There are five guitars, nine mandolins, one cello, and one violin. We think we can safely predict a musical treat.

More Mutual Improvement.—The M. I. Association of the Twenty-first Ward have held conjoint meetings, of both sexes, every month during the summer season. The first meeting for the winter term was held on Wednesday the 10th inst. The officers are as follows: President, A. N. Macfarlane; Counselors, W. W. Williams and Josiah Barrow; Secretaries, F. W. Smith and James Maxwell; Treasurer, Edith Hart; Librarians, Robert Aveson and W. D. Owen; Program Committee, Wm. Bayless, John A. Maynes, James Barton, and Elizabeth Macfarlane; Millie Paul and Elizabeth Knight; Leader of the Choir, W. D. Owen; Organist John H. Miller, sen. They also have congregational singing. A large number handed in their names last evening for membership. It is fair to be a successful season. Bishop W. L. N. Allen is a regular attendant at the meetings.

New Kind of Cat and Dog Life.

The proverbial antagonism existing between cats and dogs, like many other ancient and respectable theories which modern times have exploded, has received a set back in the quiet little village of Eldorado, Sevier County, where at the house of E. P. Marquandson, a female member of the canine species, having been deprived of her pup, the first and only one she ever had, has assumed the office of stepmother to a sucking kitten, which daily draws the milk of human kindness from her breast. If this is not sufficient to portend an approaching millennium, it is to be added that the exiled pup, which was summarily weaned and given away to a neighbor, has so completely overcome its traditional jealousy, if it ever had any, as to make daily visits to its mother's kennel, and not only disport in festive freedom with the feline interloper with the utmost equality of the cross-grained nursing process and affectionate interchange of caresses between the parent dog and her feline protégé, which have so entirely usurped the place of earlier recollections in which itself played so active and important a part. The good people of Eldorado are not prepared, as many of our Puritan ancestors would have been to brand the whole thing as wilfulcraft and consign cat, dog and family who own them to the flames, but they do look upon it with a great deal of curiosity, and consider it of sufficient interest to merit publicity. What worries them most is to find another simile to take the place of "cat and dog life," now rendered obsolete by this unexpected cessation of hostilities.

Dramatic Recital.—Mrs. Imogen Vivian, who will give a dramatic recital in the Congregational Church this evening, is the widow of Chas. Vivian, the celebrated protean artist, whose professional engagements in this city will be long remembered. He died in Leadville about three years ago. His old friends will doubtless not neglect the present opportunity to prove that he is not forgotten. Mrs. Vivian is a talented and interesting exponent of dramatic selections, and the entertainment is therefore certain to be enjoyable.

Winter Semester.—The special winter semester at the Deseret University will commence on Monday, the 29th inst., at 9 a.m. This must be understood, is a course independent of but running parallel with the two middle terms of the regular yearly course. It is designed for the accommodation of students who cannot begin school as early as August nor continue as late as June, the beginning and end of the regular academic year. The special semester will be a permanent feature at the University from henceforth. The studies comprising the course are reading, elocution, penmanship, English grammar, practical arithmetic, physical and descriptive geography, and orthography and punctuation, together with such other instruction and discipline as shall seem best adapted to impress upon the class principles and habits of morality, honor, self-respect and social politeness. Book-keeping, medical history, modern history, mental philosophy and political economy are studies of the normal and scientific courses of the University, that begin and close during the intermediate semester, and may be taken at the option of the student.

Another Excursion Party.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railway brought to Salt Lake City yesterday, Wadham and Niemann's excursion party. The names are as follows: Alice J. Haskell, Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. L. A. Morse, Stockton, Cal.; Miss Caddie M. Alling, Stockton, Cal.; G. H. Ashley, and wife, Stockton, Cal.; S. H. and G. A. Mercer, Lagatons, Cal.; Miss M. Nance, Quincy, Ill.; A. E. Morton, Sacramento, Cal.; Mrs. P. M. Rhine, San Rafael, Cal.; Mrs. Joe Sallinger, San Francisco, Cal.; Miss A. Wilson, Pickett, N. B.; E. L. Bishop, Boston, Mass.; E. F. Bishop, Boston, Mass.; M. L. Olmstead, Red Bluff, Cal.; J. McCabe, N. Y.; Ella McDaniel, Sacramento, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Jackman, Sacramento, Cal.; Mr. H. L. McDaniel and Mrs. F. H. Kingsley, Stockton, Cal.; Mrs. Hattie E. Klay, Sacramento, Cal.; E. F. Miller, Quincy, Ill.; E. V. Plummer, Boston, Mass.; Robert Dick, Boston, Mass.; H. W. Patch, Cambridge, Mass.

An accident occurred to the excursion train at Thistle Creek, Spanish Fork Canyon, by which the engineer of No. 96 had his arm broken and was otherwise severely bruised. His action in stopping with the engine at the peril of his life, until the locomotive was a wreck, elicited from the excursionists a written expression of sympathy and admiration. No one else was injured. Mr. Jenkins was taken to St. Mark's Hospital for treatment. The cause of the accident was the engine's catching a horse, while the train was passing a cattle guard. The locomotive was ditched and turned over.
