Clifford Ryan Attempts to Pass Between Cars With Fatal Results.

Ogden, Sept. 2.—A young man about 22 years of age named Clifford Ryan met with serious injuries shortly after seven o'clock last evening which it is feared may prove fatal. Ryan was down near the old Southern Pacific bridge when a Southern Pacific freight train pulled into the city and slowed down. Ryan, it is said, endeavored to pass between two of the cars of the train, when it gave a sudden jerk and he was thrown between the cars on the rails and several wheels passed over him causing serious internal injuries. He was picked up by the train crew and the ambulance was called and he was taken to the hospital where he was given medical attention. It is said that Ryan has only been in Ogden a couple of days, having come here from Sacramento.

Johnson, it is stated, watched his chance and sneaked up back of the other man and struck him a heavy blow on the head with a large glass water bottle which broke to pieces and cut a long gash on the man's head, which required several stitches to close. The police were called and Johnson was soon in custody at the city jail.

HAND LACERATED BY WOLVES.

While playing around the cage of the wolves at Glenwood park yesterday afternoon, a little boy named Willie Roberts had his hand bitten by the animals. He put his hand through the bars and had no sooner done so than the wolves had him by the hand. Several who were near by, rushed to the lad's assistance, but the wild beasts had got such a hold on the child that the only way to loosen their jaws was to run a pen knife into their noses. The boy was brought to Brown's drug store where Dr. Osgood dressed the wounds. He thinks they are not serious.

HIGH SCHOOL PROPAGANDA.

Eighth Grade Graduates Urged to Support Local Institutions. Special Correspondence.

Provo, Sept. 2.—County Superintendent Eggersten has sent the following circular letter to the district superintendents and the trustees of the county:

Provo, August 24, 1907. Dear Public School Pupils, Utah County. It is very gratifying to state that the High School in American Fork, Pleasant Grove and Spanish Fork are well prepared for the coming year to give a thorough two years course while springville, Payson and Lehi offer a three-years' course, outlined. These schools will be taught in by competent and experienced instructors and holding the requisite state credentials. It is well for each eighth grade graduate to take advantage of the opportunity afforded, and attend the local High schools and ninth grades at their homes. Get all you can there and you will find that the possibilities will come to you for to go to higher institutions of learning. It is and has been the testimony of parents and pupils that had it not been for the local High school the boy or girl as the case may be, would never have entered an institution of higher learning or they would have had to pay a large sum of money to enter a distant school.

The High school offers a training that prepares one to enter the university with a definite purpose. The expense if considered from the standpoint of a town or an individual is surprisingly low. The training received in class meeting and public gathering, places one in a position to feel at home when meeting with the student spirit of a big school. It is a desire very dear to me to see the possibility for a High school education at the door of every boy or girl. The twentieth century demands it. It is ours if we but say the word and act. There need no question arise in the minds of local High school pupils about credits being acknowledged by institutions of higher learning in our state, whatever may be said by uninformed persons to the contrary. Hereafter are given two letters which are self explanatory:

University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 23, 1907.
Supt. L. E. Eggersten, Provo City, Utah. Dear Sir—In answer to your letter of August 19, I wish to state that the University is heartily in favor of public High schools and as a representative of the university I would urge the establishment of such schools in every town large enough to support one. It would be a great advantage in some instances for two, three or more towns to combine in the support of one high school. Of course I am anxious to have whatever work is done by the high schools well done because the university is anxious to give full credit for work completed in the high schools and to give all the encouragement and moral support possible toward their perpetuity. Yours Truly,

(Signed.) J. T. KINGSBURY.
Brigham Young University, Provo, Aug. 24, 1907.

Supt. L. E. Eggersten, Provo. Dear Sir—In reply to your request for a brief summary of my views concerning higher education among our people, I will say that a high school education is the heritage of every young person of this decade. Both the church and the state should make provisions for its youth in this direction, and the young people should be left to make the choice of the best within their reach.

people should be left to make the choice of the best within their reach.

(Signed.) J. T. KINGSBURY.
Parents and pupils are urged to look over the course of study as outlined. Consult your district superintendent and make close comparisons with the high school courses elsewhere, and you will find them the best studies for any course you may wish to pursue when these are completed.

Let me add here that state aid for high schools is sure to come and the resolution which will be submitted at our next state session will bring it, if we do our duty. Soliciting every citizen's support and a large attendance to our high schools, I am,

L. E. EGGERSTEN,
Supt. of Utah Co. schools.
