THEATRE.—"Buffalo Bill" was again presented at the Theatre last night, and elicited repeated and hearty applause from a good audience. It will be repeated to-night, and all who want fun and sensation should go and see it. "The 1812 pounder," the "Old Vet" who "lit" in the Mexican war, is one of the most comical roles Mr. Phil. Margetta has ever appeared in, and his drolleries, combined with those of Miss Walter, make his comedy and "Kitty Mulligan from Cork." Miss Walters draw roar of laughter from the audience.

In preparation for the play to be presented, during the stay of Mr. Chaplin and Miss Walters, "Monte Christo" — a dramatication of Dumas' novel of that name, which is one of the most extraordinary works of fiction ever written.

S. L. COUNTY RETURNS.—Up till this afternoon all the returns had been made except those of Little Cottonwood and Silver precincts, those of the latter not having been received yet. Without the votes from these two localities the figures stood, Douglas to Congress, Geo. Q. Cannon, 426; Geo. E. Maxwell, 1193; and the total of votes polled at Little Cottonwood was 459, probably about 400 of which were for Maxwell. If this estimate be correct, leaving out Silver precinct, it will give Geo. Q. Cannon 4,514, and G. R. Maxwell 3,401, in the county. Silver being a small precinct, the returns from there will not alter the figures much either way.

THE CIRCUS.—The San Francisco Circus drew another large audience last night. As on the previous night each part of the performance was cordially applauded.

ELECTION NEWS.

Ogden, Aug. 6.—The following is the result of the election held in Weber County yesterday: For Delegate to Congress, Geo. Q. Cannon, 1193 votes; George R. Maxwell, 12 votes.

A WELCOME CHANGE.—The intense heat of the last few days was followed this morning by cloudiness and a sprinkling of rain, which was very acceptable, sensibly cooling the atmosphere and rendering it more agreeable. The mercury is much lower to-day than it was yesterday and for several days previously.

CRICKET MATCH.—Vice President of the Salt Lake Cricket Club, Mr. John Platt, and a number of the members of the association left by train this morning for Coalville, for the purpose of playing a match with the club of the latter place, in response to a challenge received some time since. A number of persons not connected with the club accompanied the party for the purpose of seeing the game.

OBITUARY.—The funeral services of the wife of Bishop Hess took place at Farmington yesterday afternoon, in the grove close by her late residence. There was a large assembly of the friends of the family present. An appropriate discourse was delivered by Rev. Dr. F. J. Smith. Nearly four hundred persons, in vehicles, followed the remains of the departed to the cemetery.

AN UTTER FAILURE.—It was a notable failure the other night, was that attempt, by publicly vilifying the community, under pretense of using "free speech," to excite the passions of the populace to an ungovernable pitch, in order to create a violent collision and compose a fulment of that trumpeted prophecy about "streets running down with blood," in the nursing of which prophecy the wish is unnatural. The father of the knightly Peers reigns on the Tower, and in this finding those wonderful satirical inventives and villainous attempts to breed a violent disturbance.

CONVALESCENCE.—We are gratified to learn that the son of Mr. Len Wines, of this City, who was recently very severely injured by being kicked by a horse, has so far recovered as to be on his feet again. His injuries were of such a severe character that, at one time his recovery was deemed doubtful.

A BEAUTIFUL BOUQUET.—Yesterday appeared in our office very large, fine, double bouquet, from Sister J. Maxwell's garden. The ample nosegay comprised six varieties of dahlias, the largest 2½ inches in diameter, and varying in shade from deep crimson to creamy white; also a fine collection of roses, verbenas, heliotropes, pelargoniums, double and single geraniums, hollyhocks, penstemons, everlasting flowers, canterbury bells, corydalis, etc. It was the most liberal and handsome bouquet we have ever seen. We consider surely a bouquet a grand triumph of horticultural skill and industry away out here in the desert.

AROUND AGAIN.—Mr. Charles S. Kimball, of this city, is gradually recovering from his recent attack of illness. He is able to be around, and although still in a weakly condition, it is expected that his complete restoration to health is only a question of time.

SARCASM.—A gentleman seeing a large number of persons examining minutely a fine looking mineral specimen to-day, asked a bystander if some important new discovery had been made. The party interrogated said he did not think so, as he had seen the specimen in question handed around in several instances during the past years. Said he: "When a person has a claim to sell, he generally purchases the specimen and shows it around as 'crops,' only cropping nothing to what we expect to reach shortly."

SNUFF TAKING FOR BRONCHITIS AND CONSUMPTION.—Dr. John Murray, one of the best known among European medical authorities asserts that he has seen the progress of consumption arrested by practicing the art of snuff-taking, and is equally efficient in the case of bronchitis. He says that by tickling the lining membrane of the nostril, snuff acts as a powerful derivative and counter-irritant, and its use will tend to preserve the more important and susceptible pulmonary mucous membranes from harm.—Examiner.

YESTERDAY.—It will also induces a condition in which the snuff-taker talks as if he hadn't any nose at all, you know.

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY.—We have received the August number of this very cheap and excellent musical monthly, and can recommend it to all who desire to obtain, at a very low figure, a good selection of new music for recreation and practice in the family circle. This number contains the following pieces, composed by Haye, Knobell, Stewart, Gould, Strane, Goods, Kinkel, and Kleiber, arranged for piano-v. "Meet me," "I'm a Poor Fisherman," "Don Star that Crows with Beauty," song; "Do not Weep so, Sister Darling," song, and chorus; "My Heart is Wear," ballad; "Jocie Polka," by Strane; "Sunlight Schottische"; "Georgia's Waltz"; "Rosalba Polka Mazurka"; "Love's Carries," Any of these pieces can be bought at printed price, and in any music store. All are of any quality of good value, as provided notice, and may be had at the price of 25 cents, or 25¢ per annum.

Published by J. L. Peters, 109 Broadway, New York. It can be got at Dwyer's.
