

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, JULY 6, 1888.

Brigham Young College.

We are in receipt of the circular of this educational institution for the eleventh collegiate year, which will open August 6, with the following faculty:

J. M. Tanner, Principal, Normal Department, Theology, Theory and practice of Teaching, and Languages; Douglas M. Todd, Collegiate Department, Natural Sciences; Wm. H. Apperley, Intermediate Department, English Literature and History; Wm. J. Kerr, (College Records), Mathematics and Book-keeping; Hyrum Wahlistrom, Instrumental Music; Alex. Lewis, Vocal Music; Mrs. J. M. Tanner, Ladies' Department.

We judge the above to be a strong corps of teachers, and that, with such a faculty, the Brigham Young College ought to give ample satisfaction to its patrons. It is an institution of which Logan and Cache County should be proud, and which the people of the north should sustain.

A Peculiar Accident.

"W. A. H." writes from Layton, Utah, July 5th, 1888, as follows:

Editor Deseret News:

An event which might have been a great calamity, but which seemingly through the interposition of a kind Providence only became a serious mishap, occurred in Layton this afternoon. Hon. David Stoker, of Bountiful, Probate Judge of Davis County, was quietly driving in his buggy, accompanied by a daughter about 18 years of age, when a runaway team attached to a heavily loaded farm wagon, coming from behind, came in contact with his light vehicle. The tongue of the wagon struck Mr. Stoker squarely in the back after going through the rear of the buggy, and in the general smash up which followed, Mr. Stoker and his daughter were precipitated under the wagon and rolled or dragged some distance and finally almost completely buried in mud. Parties coming to their aid set them upon their feet, when it was found that aside from some very bad bruises, apparently there was no serious hurt. It is hoped that no internal injuries are sustained.

The buggy, which was a new one, appeared as you would imagine it would had it gone through a roller mill. Aside from its value as old iron, it would not bring one dollar. Considering the wrecked condition of the buggy the escape of its inmates is nothing short of a miracle.

Mr. Stoker and daughter were conveyed to their home in Bountiful by one of his sons, who was just behind at the time of the accident.

Northern Notes.

On Tuesday the couple who were arrested at the People's Hotel the other day on the charge of fornication, were married. The marriage put a stop to further proceedings regarding the charge.

On Monday night Hans Thorsen Johnson, of Hyrum, was arrested by Deputy Marshal Whetstone on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. He and two alleged plural wives were placed under bonds for their appearance in the commissioner's court on Friday for examination. Mr. Johnson's bonds were placed at $500.

Wm. Harris struck another flow of gas on Wm. Thaine's place at a depth of 335 feet. The flow is not so strong as it was at 165 feet, but is strong enough to make a flame two feet long out of a 1 1/2-inch pipe. In every gas vein struck by Harris has been found rotten wood. Sometimes chips of rotten wood have come up the pipe as long as it would allow. The gas smells somewhat similar to a pond of standing water in which there is an abundance of decayed vegetable matter. There is no smell of petroleum or anything of like nature.

Thomas Hillyard, of Smithfield, was arrested on Sunday, July 1st, by Deputy Marshal Whetstone, the charge against him was unlawful cohabitation. He gave bonds of $1,000 for his appearance and $200 for the appearance of the reputed second wife before the commissioner. On Tuesday morning Mr. Hillyard appeared in the commissioner's office in this city and pleaded not guilty and waived examination. Mr. Hillyard and the plural wife were, however, asked a few questions.—Logan Journal.

Police Court.

Justice Pyper had another busy time today in hearing the tales of the offenders of the law that were brought before him.

Seven "drunks" were first brought into line to receive the reward which the law provides for their misdeeds. All of them appeared to be paying the penalty of violating nature's law. A fine of $5 each was assessed in the cases of William Geddon, James Harris, John McIntyre, Peter Brown, Jos. Simmons, John Kingley and Charles Just.

L. Morgan and Frank Danton found sleeping accommodations at the Utah Central depot last night, and in doing so trespassed upon the rights of the railroad. They were fined $15 each and will remain in the chain gang until July 20 to settle the bill.

Milo Reese, a drunken soldier belonging to Battery D, was turned over to the military.

Wm. World was brought up for assault on Joseph Stewart. World pleaded guilty, but it was shown that Stewart had insulted a lady by calling her a vile name, and Wm. World was liberated on a suspension of sentence.

John Deleine was arraigned on a charge of having robbed Frank Melroy of $18 at Garfield Beach. Melroy said that he and Deleine slept together and that the latter departed early in the morning, before Melroy awoke. The latter missed his money a short time after, and learning that Deleine had started for Salt Lake, telephoned to have him arrested. Deleine says that Melroy was so drunk that he did not know what he was doing; that he had a little money and was scattering it about for show; that he was advised by parties to give it to some one for safe keeping but would not, and that he got rid of what little he had through his foolishness. Deleine further says that the money found on him when arrested was earned at Garfield on the Fourth; that he was arrested there on that day and fined $5 for disturbing the peace; and that a number of persons present saw him exhibiting his cash. He will have an opportunity to prove the truth of his statements at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon if the witnesses can be found.

Wm. H. Breeze was arraigned for fighting at the Utah and Nevada depot on Wednesday night. His case was put over till to-morrow to ascertain more regarding the melee. According to Mr. Breeze's statement, Major W. H. Stanton assaulted him, and he turned on the major and gave him a sound drubbing. A warrant was got out for Mr. Stanton, and an investigation of the case will be had.

Mrs. Annie Buss, who resides near the corner of Second South and Third, East streets, was arraigned on a charge of battery upon John Threlkeld, and pleaded guilty. The cause of the fuss was that one of the Burns boys had whipped Mr. Threlkeld's young son. The father went over to Mrs. Burns to demand satisfaction, and a quarrel ensued, in which Mrs. B. assaulted Mr. Threlkeld with a rawhide whip, giving him a dozen or more blows and running him out of the house and gate. She was being tried this afternoon on a charge of assault on the boy.

Twin Brothers.

A few nights ago a well dressed young man about eighteen years of age stepped into a prominent Main Street restaurant, said he was broke and wanted to go to work. The genial night clerk was instantly struck with this declaration, together with the appearance of the young man, and said: "You better quit your fooling and get inside and peel those potatoes you started at."

"I don't belong here; why, what's the matter with you?" returned the stranger.

"What! Ain't you the boy that's been working for us the past year?" queried the clerk.

"No sir, I am not."

"Well, you are his ghost, then, for if you ain't the dead image of John Poner that works for us, I'll eat my hat."

"Poner, did you say?" asked the young man, beginning to get a little nervous.

"Let me see him. That's my name and may be he is my brother that I've been looking for the last six years."

The clerk told him he was busy now, but to sit down and he would send him out. The boy, who was peeling potatoes, came out soon with a large panful in his arms. He saw his brother, dropped the potatoes and the twins fell fondly in each others' embrace.

They are wonderfully alike in appearance. The brother who has just arrived is named Phillip Poner. They are both from Chicago. Phillip says he has been all over California, Texas, Arizona and New Mexico in search of his brother to take him back home, and now that he has found him accidentally, the long lost brother says he will not leave as Montana is good enough for him.—Butte Intermountain.

COLORADO TEACHERS.

Our Own Pedagogues Will Give them a Reception.

Tomorrow morning about 100 teachers from Colorado will arrive in this city via the D. & R. G. In anticipation of this event the teachers of this city met last Tuesday evening and made preparations to receive the visitors in a befitting manner. Committees were appointed on arrangements, programme, etc., and it is believed that the effort to receive and entertain the instructors of the Centennial State will be successful, and entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

The visitors will put up at the Metropolitan, in a body, and will spend the fore part of the day tomorrow in visiting in and about the city. In the afternoon they will go to the lake. In the evening at 8:30 o'clock a reception will be given them at their hotel. Commissioner Williams will give an address of welcome, which will be responded to in behalf of the visitors. Then will follow some entertaining exercises, including songs, instrumental music, etc. The parlors of the Metropolitan will be a scene of enjoyment of an unusual character.

All teachers in the district or other schools of the city, with their wives, are cordially invited to be present at the reception, an invitation through the press being the only means in the power of those having the affair in hand to use for the purpose of notifying the teachers of the city to be present.

During Sunday forenoon such of the visitors as choose will attend church at such places as they may select. In the afternoon it is likely that many of them will attend divine service at the Tabernacle. On Sunday evening the excursionists will continue their journey to the Pacific Coast.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JULY 7, 1888.

1847.

The Pioneers of 1847, of both sexes, are earnestly requested to send their names and addresses at once to C. R. SAVAGE, Art Bazar, Salt Lake.

Charged With Adultery.

Last evening Mrs. Maria Peterson and Swan Leidholm, residents of Parley's Cañon, were arrested by the police and turned over to the United States Marshal last evening on a charge of adultery. They were taken to the penitentiary in default of bonds. The matter was to come up for hearing this afternoon, before Commissioner Pierce.

The Alta Shooting.

Last evening Robert Palmer, a miner, who shot Wm. Davis on Thursday at Alta, was brought to this city to answer for his action. Davis was shot through the thigh, and his leg had to be amputated. Palmer claims that he was not to blame, and Davis says the shooting was unprovoked. The examination will come up at an early day before the commissioner.

Under the Edmunds Law.

Yesterday afternoon Andrew Amundsen, of South Jordan, and Wm. B. Bennett, of West Jordan, were arrested on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. The first named gave bonds for his appearance before Commissioner Norrell today, but as the Judge was in a poor state of health, the hearing was further postponed.

Mr. Bennett was released on giving bail to appear for trial at the next term of the Third District Court. The indictment against him was found in August, 1886.

Releases and Appointments.

Elder John E. Clark is released from his labors in the Birmingham Conference and appointed to assist in the business department of the Liverpool Office.

Elder Robert Lindsay, who arrived in Liverpool on Wednesday, the 13th inst., from Melbourne, is appointed to labor in the Glasgow Conference.

Elder Lorenzo H. Durrant is released from the Glasgow Conference and appointed to labor in the Newcastle Conference.—Millennial Star.

Police Items.

Michael Merritt and Michael Mansfield, were each fined $5 in the Police Court today, for drunkenness.

J. Welch, Thomas Dunn, Anton Larson, John Tremayne and Norton Curtis were fined $10 each for trespass. In default of the money they will join the chain gang for ten days.

Anne Burns, who was accused of battery on John Threlkeld, was discharged, and the charge to which she had pleaded guilty was dismissed, it being shown that she was not the aggressor.

John Deleine was being tried before Justice Pyper this afternoon on the charge of larceny.

Alleged Rape.

Today an alleged attempted rape case from Grantsville, Tooele County, was occupying the time of Commissioner Pierce. The details were being testified to by the witnesses, but were of course of a nature which made them unfit for publication. The accused is a young man named David Judd, and the alleged victim a Mrs. Rosa Bechtol. Deputy Marshal Fenstermacher brought the parties in from Tooele. Mrs. Bechtol's testimony was to the effect that the offense was committed June 12th, in the cañon. She was married in September, 1885. The month previous her present husband was divorced from her mother, and the present Mrs. Bechtol's child was born four days after her marriage.

Provo Notes.

The thermometer registers a hundred degrees in the shade. Mrs. Churchill, editor of the Queen Bee, of Denver, was in town on Monday.

The first occupant of our new county jail took quarters there last Saturday.

The Fourth Ward Sunday school are preparing to have a day out at Baum's Grove on Monday.

Our curfew law seems to be working quite successfully and yet the police have made no arrests up to date.

Drunkenness was painfully apparent on the streets yesterday. Several arrests were made. A.

Provo, July 5, 1888.

From the South.

Elder Levi N. Harmon of Washington, Washington County, reached this city last evening on his return trip from a mission to the Southern States. He left this city June 21, 1886, and went to Jasper County, Mississippi, as his first field of labor, and remained in that and adjoining counties about sixteen months. This was an old field, but several baptisms occurred in it during Elder Harmon's labors. From there he went to Choctaw County, Alabama, in company with Elder Henry Parry, of this city. They had excellent success there and succeeded in opening up one of the best fields in the southern mission. Elder Harmon spent nearly all the remaining time of his mission in this field. In all Elder Harmon baptized seventeen, and assisted in baptizing eleven. It is probable that a branch will shortly be organized in Choctaw County. The people of that region are very fair and many of them have shown great kindness to the Elders. Elder Harmon will leave here for his home on Wednesday next.

Church, its principles and people. I am satisfied that the day is fast approaching when the Gospel will be taken from among the Gentiles and sent to the House of Israel—the Jews. They are beginning to make enquiries after the true Gospel, and when the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled it will go forth to them. Apostle John Henry Smith said he had observed that the Elders of this Church labored with great zeal when abroad in the nations of the earth promulgating the principles of the Gospel, but too frequently many of them sat quietly down when they returned home and seemed to think they had accomplished all that they were required to do. I maintain that a great work devolves upon us at home in expounding and explaining the doctrines of our Church. I fear that many of the Elders of Israel will be held accountable and be censured at the judgment day for not setting forth and teaching the principles of the Gospel to the rising generation of Zion. Many of them need to be converted to the truth, and we should labor with them to this end. When they have received testimonies for themselves that this work is of God and is destined to remain on the earth, these young people will become noble men and women. Let our Elders treat upon the first principles of the Gospel when they are called upon to address the congregations of the Saints, that all may be left without excuse concerning the plan of redemption.

Temporal matters should be set aside on the Sabbath day and our thoughts and reflections be turned to the worship of God.

The speakers should exercise a spirit of persuasion if they wish to save people, and this is our mission, for a spirit of combativeness will never succeed in convincing any person of the truths of heaven. The whisprings of the still small voice should accompany the utterances of those called upon to minister to the people. When our brethren labor as zealously at home to bring souls to Christ as they do abroad in the nations we will have great cause to rejoice in seeing many of the youth of Israel become useful members in the Church and honorable citizens in society.

Encourage marriage among the young men and maidens. Let them marry and observe the law of God, which is to multiply and replenish the earth. Shut up all chances for the seducer and courtesan. I again beseech the Elders of Israel to preach the principles of the Gospel in such power and plainness to our young people that they may become convinced that this is indeed the work of the Lord, and after receiving testimonies for themselves there will not be much danger of them departing therefrom.

President Angus M. Cannon urged upon all present to honor God in every particular, and to labor to promote and advance the interest of His Church.

Adjourned until the first Saturday in August, at 11 o'clock.

As a fusion celebration of the glorious Fourth, Provo's effort of yesterday was a success. From Tuesday evening till midnight on Wednesday, the excitement of the impressionable was at fever heat. Expectancy was prepared for a rare treat in the procession to be formed at 9 o'clock in the morning, but several of the parts were poorly taken and some were omitted altogether. The beauty of the subjects and the taste in arrangement of those in line, went far, however, to make up the deficiency. The Goddess of Liberty was handsomely represented by Miss Rosa Jones. The "bouquet of beauty" was another pleasing feature, as was the representation of the thirteen original States with George and Martha Washington in the midst. The States and Territories were named on the jaunty caps of as many young ladies on horseback. Besides these, the Chamber of Commerce, a few horribles and two trade wagons, were all that led the carriages of the citizens. After counter-marching on Centre Street the Opera House was resorted to and the exercises proceeded with.

The oration by George Sutherland was a masterpiece of flowery eloquence. The responses to the toasts were gems of patriotism and the patriotic songs were well rendered. The meeting closed with three cheers for the "Red, White and Blue." The afternoon was given into the hands of the children, who enjoyed a party at the Opera House. The fireworks at the west square brought the day to a close and the night witnessed a party for the young people at the Opera House. Altogether, it is not too much to say that Provo had never spent a more enthusiastic celebration of the national birthday than yesterday.

Provo, July 5, 1888.

Celebration at Provo.

Provo, July 5, 1888.

Priesthood Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the priesthood of the Salt Lake Stake convened in the Assembly Hall, this city, at 11 a. m. today.

All the wards of the Stake were represented excepting the 12th and 18th city wards, and Farmers, Big Cottonwood, Mountain Dell and Riverton.

The 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 8th, 9th, 11th and 13th Quorums of Elders failed to respond to the roll call.

Bishop Frederick Schoenfeldt, who recently returned from a mission to Germany, where he had labored five years, said, in substance: When I was called I laid everything aside pertaining to my temporal affairs and went forth trusting in the Lord. I was blessed while away, had numerous evidences and testimonies that this is the work of God, and rejoiced greatly in His goodness. Many of the earth's inhabitants are making inquiries with regard to the truths of heaven as revealed to us. I had the honor of writing 3,000 business letters during the time that I have been absent, one-half of which were sent to persons in the various countries of Europe in reply to letters received concerning this Church. I am satisfied that the day is fast approaching when the Gospel will be taken from among the Gentiles and sent to the House of Israel—the Jews. They are beginning to make enquiries after the true Gospel, and when the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled it will go forth to them.

Apostle John Henry Smith said he had observed that the Elders of this Church labored with great zeal when abroad in the nations of the earth promulgating the principles of the Gospel, but too frequently many of them sat quietly down when they returned home and seemed to think they had accomplished all that they were required to do. I maintain that a great work devolves upon us at home in expounding and explaining the doctrines of our Church. I fear that many of the Elders of Israel will be held accountable and be censured at the judgment day for not setting forth and teaching the principles of the Gospel to the rising generation of Zion. Many of them need to be converted to the truth, and we should labor with them to this end.

When they have received testimonies for themselves that this work is of God and is destined to remain on the earth, these young people will become noble men and women. Let our Elders treat upon the first principles of the Gospel when they are called upon to address the congregations of the Saints, that all may be left without excuse concerning the plan of redemption.

Temporal matters should be set aside on the Sabbath day and our thoughts and reflections be turned to the worship of God.

The speakers should exercise a spirit of persuasion if they wish to save people, and this is our mission, for a spirit of combativeness will never succeed in convincing any person of the truths of heaven. The whisprings of the still small voice should accompany the utterances of those called upon to minister to the people. When our brethren labor as zealously at home to bring souls to Christ as they do abroad in the nations we will have great cause to rejoice in seeing many of the youth of Israel become useful members in the Church and honorable citizens in society.

Encourage marriage among the young men and maidens. Let them marry and observe the law of God, which is to multiply and replenish the earth. Shut up all chances for the seducer and courtesan. I again beseech the Elders of Israel to preach the principles of the Gospel in such power and plainness to our young people that they may become convinced that this is indeed the work of the Lord, and after receiving testimonies for themselves there will not be much danger of them departing therefrom.

President Angus M. Cannon urged upon all present to honor God in every particular, and to labor to promote and advance the interest of His Church.

Adjourned until the first Saturday in August, at 11 o'clock.

As a fusion celebration of the glorious Fourth, Provo's effort of yesterday was a success. From Tuesday evening till midnight on Wednesday, the excitement of the impressionable was at fever heat. Expectancy was prepared for a rare treat in the procession to be formed at 9 o'clock in the morning, but several of the parts were poorly taken and some were omitted altogether. The beauty of the subjects and the taste in arrangement of those in line, went far, however, to make up the deficiency. The Goddess of Liberty was handsomely represented by Miss Rosa Jones. The "bouquet of beauty" was another pleasing feature, as was the representation of the thirteen original States with George and Martha Washington in the midst. The States and Territories were named on the jaunty caps of as many young ladies on horseback. Besides these, the Chamber of Commerce, a few horribles and two trade wagons, were all that led the carriages of the citizens. After counter-marching on Centre Street the Opera House was resorted to and the exercises proceeded with.

Church, its principles and people. I am satisfied that the day is fast approaching when the Gospel will be taken from among the Gentiles and sent to the House of Israel—the Jews. They are beginning to make enquiries after the true Gospel, and when the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled it will go forth to them. Apostle John Henry Smith said he had observed that the Elders of this Church labored with great zeal when abroad in the nations of the earth promulgating the principles of the Gospel, but too frequently many of them sat quietly down when they returned home and seemed to think they had accomplished all that they were required to do. I maintain that a great work devolves upon us at home in expounding and explaining the doctrines of our Church. I fear that many of the Elders of Israel will be held accountable and be censured at the judgment day for not setting forth and teaching the principles of the Gospel to the rising generation of Zion. Many of them need to be converted to the truth, and we should labor with them to this end.

When they have received testimonies for themselves that this work is of God and is destined to remain on the earth, these young people will become noble men and women. Let our Elders treat upon the first principles of the Gospel when they are called upon to address the congregations of the Saints, that all may be left without excuse concerning the plan of redemption.

Temporal matters should be set aside on the Sabbath day and our thoughts and reflections be turned to the worship of God.

The speakers should exercise a spirit of persuasion if they wish to save people, and this is our mission, for a spirit of combativeness will never succeed in convincing any person of the truths of heaven. The whisprings of the still small voice should accompany the utterances of those called upon to minister to the people. When our brethren labor as zealously at home to bring souls to Christ as they do abroad in the nations we will have great cause to rejoice in seeing many of the youth of Israel become useful members in the Church and honorable citizens in society.

Encourage marriage among the young men and maidens. Let them marry and observe the law of God, which is to multiply and replenish the earth. Shut up all chances for the seducer and courtesan. I again beseech the Elders of Israel to preach the principles of the Gospel in such power and plainness to our young people that they may become convinced that this is indeed the work of the Lord, and after receiving testimonies for themselves there will not be much danger of them departing therefrom.

President Angus M. Cannon urged upon all present to honor God in every particular, and to labor to promote and advance the interest of His Church.

Adjourned until the first Saturday in August, at 11 o'clock.

As a fusion celebration of the glorious Fourth, Provo's effort of yesterday was a success. From Tuesday evening till midnight on Wednesday, the excitement of the impressionable was at fever heat. Expectancy was prepared for a rare treat in the procession to be formed at 9 o'clock in the morning, but several of the parts were poorly taken and some were omitted altogether. The beauty of the subjects and the taste in arrangement of those in line, went far, however, to make up the deficiency. The Goddess of Liberty was handsomely represented by Miss Rosa Jones. The "bouquet of beauty" was another pleasing feature, as was the representation of the thirteen original States with George and Martha Washington in the midst. The States and Territories were named on the jaunty caps of as many young ladies on horseback. Besides these, the Chamber of Commerce, a few horribles and two trade wagons, were all that led the carriages of the citizens. After counter-marching on Centre Street the Opera House was resorted to and the exercises proceeded with.

The oration by George Sutherland was a masterpiece of flowery eloquence. The responses to the toasts were gems of patriotism and the patriotic songs were well rendered. The meeting closed with three cheers for the "Red, White and Blue." The afternoon was given into the hands of the children, who enjoyed a party at the Opera House. The fireworks at the west square brought the day to a close and the night witnessed a party for the young people at the Opera House. Altogether, it is not too much to say that Provo had never spent a more enthusiastic celebration of the national birthday than yesterday.

Provo, July 5, 1888.

Provo, July 5, 1888.