

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 11.

Plute Pioneer: Mr. J. N. Ferris arrived in Marysville on the stage Friday evening and is looking over the camp with a view of erecting a steam sawmill. The machinery for same is now at the terminus of the railroad on board the cars awaiting the decision of Mr. Ferris whether to locate. Mr. Ferris is a brother of John S. Ferris, well known to us, and hails from the state of Iowa at present. It is to be hoped that, after looking over the field, Mr. Ferris will be more favorably impressed with the camp than at present, as men of energy and enterprise are the class that make a community prosperous.

A special to the "News" from Pleasant Grove, was received today announcing the death at that place this morning of M. P. Poulson, the man who was injured about ten days ago while engaged in a quarrel with his son.

Father and son had trouble over money matters and during the progress of the quarrel the former struck the latter with a shovel. The young man took the implement from his father and used it violently upon him striking him over the head and inflicting serious wounds upon him. The old man's life was despaired of and the son was arrested and held in $2,000 bonds. He expressed himself as being very sorry for his grave offense and up to this afternoon had not been re-arrested. The sympathy of the community is said to be with the dead man and his family.

Richard H. Cabell, convicted by a jury in the Federal court last Wednesday of the crime of embezzling the sum of $8,210.06 while deputy internal revenue collector for the district of Montana, in the State of Utah, was this morning sentenced by Judge Marshall to four years in the State prison.

The defendant when requested by the court to stand up, was visibly affected, though he strove hard to conceal it. He was asked by Judge Marshall if he had anything to say before judgment was pronounced and in an almost inaudible tone of voice he replied, "I have nothing."

The case was called before Judge Marshall at 9 o'clock this morning, when Attorney Varian arose and moved the court for an arrest in judgment, on the ground that the indictment was insufficient in law and could not possibly sustain a judgment.

District Attorney Judd, replying to Mr. Varian, said the indictment was good under section 5,490 of the Revised Statutes of the United States; but even if it were not it was good under the act of Congress of Feb. 3, 1879, which reads as follows: "Any officer connected with or employed in the internal revenue service of the United States, and any assistant of such officer who shall embezzle or wrongfully convert to his own use any money or property of the United States, shall be punished by a fine equal to the value of the money embezzled or by imprisonment not less than three months nor more than ten years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court."

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, MAY 12.

The weather of the week ending Monday, May 9, 1898, averaged about four degrees cooler than preceding week, with several light frosts, and in some parts of the state, freezing night temperatures. Rain in varying amounts fell, but for the most part was not sufficient to materially improve crop conditions.

Seeding mainly over with and planting of potatoes and garden truck well advanced.

Crops, with few exceptions, have held their own despite the frost and droughty conditions, the moisture still in the soil being apparently sufficient for present needs.

On Tuesday morning, as Miss Hester T. Cannon, daughter of President George Q. Cannon, was coming to town, she was attacked by an unknown man at the corner of Fourth West and Tenth South streets. The villain was intent on an assault, and had it not been for the efforts of the young lady in repulsing him, might have accomplished his purpose. As it was, he was put to flight, while Miss Cannon sought protection at a near-by house.

The case was reported to the police authorities and Detectives Sheets and Raleigh detailed to investigate it. Their efforts resulted in the arrest of Julius Jensen who lives a little east of the Oregon Short Line track off Tenth South street. The man at first protested his innocence, but later, when taken to the Cannon home confessed all and was locked up in the city jail pending a hearing.

The body of Frank Callahan, a young man employed at the Jordan Narrows electric plant, was brought to this city last evening and taken to the undertaking establishment of Joseph William Taylor. Callahan's death was an unusual and most shocking one.

On Tuesday afternoon he went to the Hot Springs, some distance east of the Narrows, for a bath. He was alone and not very familiar with the conditions. At places the mud is very deep and the water exceedingly hot. Callahan, it appears, became venturesome and got out to a point where he was unable to assist himself and became fast in the mud. There he remained until yesterday, when his lifeless body was extricated by a rescuing party. In the meantime his flesh had been literally cooked and felt away from his bones in pieces. An inquest was held before Justice Moseley and a verdict of drowning returned.

The deceased was 26 years of age, a native of Iowa, an electrician by profession, and was formerly employed by the Big Cottonwood Power company.

The end of a long and painful period of illness caused by Bright's disease came at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, to Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Fenton Young, wife of Apostle Brigham Young. The lady's demise was not unexpected. On the contrary her family and friends have been preparing for the sad event for a considerable time past.

The trouble which resulted in Mrs. Young's death developed years ago. Every possible precaution to prevent its ravages, and almost every known remedy was tried in hopes of effecting a cure, but all in vain. Latterly her husband and children, realizing the inevitable, directed their efforts principally in the way of relief. About three weeks ago Mrs. Young returned home from California after a sojourn there of several months in search of health. Since that time her decline was rapid.

The deceased was born in New Jersey and was in the 56th years of her age. Since 1867 Utah has been her home. She was well and widely known as a woman of liberal ideas and generous traits of character. Her friends were very numerous and with her family, will sincerely mourn her demise.

She leaves a husband and three children, the latter being Mrs. C. H. Craft, Mrs. Frank Swenson and Frank F. Young.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, MAY 13.

Provo, Utah, May 13.—Gustave Danielson, a tramp, broke the back window of the Provo store last night and went up stairs, selected clothing, jewelry, etc., and took about six dollars in cash from the till. Night watchman Elliott saw a light up stairs, notified Policeman Tucker, who captured Danielson as he was making his exit from the window with the stolen goods. He was taken before Justice Booth this morning and waived examination on a charge of burglary. Danielson was committed to await the action of the district court in default of $1,000 bonds. He will be arraigned on Monday or Tuesday and will plead guilty.

Logan Journal: An unfortunate accident occurred yesterday by which Mr. J. Peifer, a traveling salesman for a Chicago shoe house, was badly injured. He was driving out to see some of the country merchants, when the team became frightened at a bundle of bedding which lay by the roadside, and the buckle of one of the lines becoming fastened in a ring of the harness, he was unable to guide his team, which at last ran into a wire fence. Mr. Peifer in attempting to jump out got caught in the wheel with the result that one of his legs was broken between the knee and the thigh in two places. Surgical aid was at once summoned and everything possible was done to relieve the unfortunate man. Neither the vehicle nor the horses were injured beyond being scratched by the wire a little.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, MAY 14.

Mt. Pleasant Pyramid: The two-year-old son of J. H. Childs, of Chester, had two fingers of his left hand cut off Tuesday by his older brother. The two boys were playing near a post, and the younger boy turned toward the post and placed his hand on the top of it as the brother struck the post a heavy blow with a hatchet. One finger was severed completely from the hand, the other being attached only by a piece of skin. The child was brought to Mt. Pleasant and a physician summoned, who dressed the wounds. It is thought the one finger can be saved.

Mt. Pleasant Pyramid: The Electric Light company held its annual meeting last week. The affairs of the concern were thoroughly gone over with a pleasing result to the stockholders. A small dividend was declared. The company has partially decided to consolidate with the new company, which was formed last winter, providing the new company is willing to put its possessions in a condition about equaling that of the present company. If this consolidation cannot be effected, more power will be supplied, new posts sent, and the entire plant put in first-class condition by the company, so that a better service can be supplied to patrons.

John Kelly, a respected citizen of Salt Lake, died at his residence on Third street at 4 o'clock this morning, after an illness of two weeks' duration, caused by stomach troubles.

The deceased was forty-six years of age, a native of England, and leaves a wife and five children. He was employed as bookkeeper for the Fisher Brewing company, and was a prominent member of the Orpheus club, which organization will render the musical exercises at the funeral to be held at the residence tomorrow, Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Kelly will be remembered by many people as having been
