FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

To-night will be positively the last appearance of Milton Nobles and company, at the Theatre.

Thursday, John Connolly was arrested under an indictment found by the late grand jury for polygamy. His bonds were placed at $5,000, which was furnished and he was released.

Yesterday was the 51st anniversary of the birthday of Mr. James Dwyer. The event was celebrated at his residence in the evening, by a social gathering of friends. Long may he live.

The 38th Quorum of Seventies will meet at the County Court House, Salt Lake City, on Monday the 27th day of November, at 7 p.m.

By order of the President,
D. BUCKHOLD, Clerk.

The Ogden Herald says that, yesterday afternoon, Frank Farley, fourteen years old, son of Blake W. Farley, was accidentally thrown from a horse and badly shaken up. No bones were broken, but the injuries are serious.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Going North.—The DeMoss family have finished their engagements in this city for the present and are en route for Ogden and Brigham City. We learn from a gentleman who was present that they had a full house in Bountiful Hall last night. They perform at Farmington to-night.

Serious Accident.—This morning Mr. Dan Edgington, of the Twenty-first Ward, was riding on horseback in the vicinity of St. Mary's Hospital, near the eastern edge of the city. His animal suddenly slipped and fell to the ground. The unfortunate man's leg being under the animal, the limb was badly bruised and broken. He was taken to the Hospital and attended to by Dr. Benedict.

Already Published.—To W. D. Karchner, Justice of the peace of Snow Flake, Apache County Arizona, we are indebted for an account of the finding of the body of the late James Homer, who perished in a storm, in the Mongolian Mountains, on the 13th of January last. We have, however, already published the particulars in a letter from Brother Lorenzo Hatch, obviating the necessity of inserting the communication just received.

Complete Medical Library.—Birmingham's Medical Library is a complete series of works by standard authors, and is published in twenty-eight volumes, bound in cloth, for twenty-eight dollars, payable in four instalments. We see. It is very complete and indicates the character of the whole collection. Dr. Ellen B. Ferguson has the sole agency for Utah. Medical practitioners and persons desirous of a cheap and reliable medical library should communicate with Mrs. Ferguson, in this city.

Theatre.—"Interviews," as we anticipated, drew a big house last night at the Theatre. It was performed in splendid style and provoked much laughter and applause. Mr. Nobles has in this piece succeeded in producing another excellent play, and in performing its chief character to the life. Each part was well sustained, and it is a matter of regret that "Interviews" cannot be repeated during this engagement. To-night Mr. Nobles' stirring drama of "A Man of the People" will be presented, and all who attend will be thoroughly delighted.

Uncongenial Spirits.—The Ogden Herald learns that a few days ago, a number of Harrisville boys, while out hunting found an empty bottle which smelted powerfully of bad whisky. On Monday a young man, who was wandering about the same vicinity when he discovered the dead body of an Indian, frozen stiff, on hands and knees, with the face close to the ground. An investigation disclosed the fact, that there were no evidences of violence on the person of the defunct red man. There appeared to be an intimate connection between the empty bottle and the dead body. The spirits evidently left the bottle, and went into the Indian, and the spirit of the Indian left the body in consequence of the spirits of the bottle causing the spirit of the Indian to be incapable of taking care of the body. It is the old, old story, winding up as many newspaper tales of death, desolation and woe—whisky did it.

The Delegation and Statehood.—In the forepart of next week Hon. John T. Caine, Hon. James Sharp, F. S. Richards, Esq., and Hon. D. H. Peery, members of the delegation appointed by the constitutional convention to present and urge the claims of Utah upon Congress for admission into the Union as a State, will leave for Washington to attend to that business.

Mr. Caine, the Delegate elect to the Forty-eighth Congress, will, at the same time, seek to secure his seat in the National Legislature for the unexpired term of the Forty-seventh Congress, to which Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon was elected. The claim of Mr. Caine lies in the fact that he was nominated for the unexpired term by the People's convention, and that when the votes were cast for him for the Forty-eighth Congress, the same ballots, though not subsequently canvassed or counted, included a vote for the Forty-seventh Congress.

The delegation will go with the determination to work faithfully for a recognition by Congress of the claims of Utah for ratification of her Constitution, and admission into the Federal Union.

SOUTHERN STATES MISSION.

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE WORK IN THAT PART OF THE COUNTRY.

This morning we were much pleased at receiving a visit from Elder John Morgan, President of the Southern States Mission, who, as previously announced, returned from his field of labor on Monday night. Elder Morgan first commenced his ministry in the States in 1875, the beginning of his work being in Illinois and Indiana, where he spent about nine months, and then proceeded to the Southern States. He has been in that field almost continuously ever since, having been at home about sixteen months during seven years.

The general situation in the mission is quite favorable. A greater number of baptisms have occurred during the last six months than in any previous twelve months. The opposition that was formerly very virulent and pronounced in many parts of the mission has practically died out. It is a curious fact that the anti-Mormon legislation has done considerable toward bringing about this desirable result. Only two anti-Mormon meetings were held in the entire south on the subject of the Edmunds bill, and they were of a decidedly feeble character, and as a rule the newspapers opened their columns to the Elders.

The position in opposition to the Edmunds bill taken by Senators and Congressmen from the South is doubtless remembered by our readers. This was made an issue in the recent elections, and the candidates who voted against the measure stood by their record manfully, maintaining the ground they took in opposing an unconstitutional measure, and yet they were returned to Congress with increased majorities, thus exhibiting the general sentiment of the people on the subject.

The closer contact of the Elders with the people and the plentiful distribution of pamphlets treating upon the faith and doctrines entertained by the Latter-day Saints has also contributed largely to allay opposition and persecution. The feeling of the people generally toward the brethren is generous and hospitable, the friends they have in every section being almost without number. The News is reported as having a most salutary effect wherever it reaches, in opening the way for preaching the Gospel and allaying prejudice. Brother Morgan says a prime necessity of the mission is literature of the right kind. He expresses the opinion that thirty Elders could do more work with the amount of money in Church literature required to take thirty more to and from the field than sixty without this indispensable auxiliary.

We are pleased to again bid Brother Morgan welcome home. Elder Morgan was accompanied to our office by Elder John Houston, of Panguitch, Garfield County, Utah, who is on his way to the State. A few baptisms occurred there. In Georgia a good work was done, especially in emigration, 135 souls having left for the Conference alone for Colorado and Utah during the past season. Brother Houston has been absent about two years, and performed a good mission. His associations with his brethren in the ministry and the people where he labored have been of the most agreeable character. Everywhere he was hospitably met and treated with unqualified kindness.

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH DELIVERS AN ADDRESS.

Last evening, at the Sixth Ward School-house, President Joseph F. Smith delivered an address under the auspices of the Mutual Improvement Association of that section of the city. He opened by saying it was the duty of parents to teach children from their earliest existence, those eternal truths which were necessary to improve their lives and increase their knowledge under all circumstances; and to train them up in the way they should go, and when they were old, they should not depart from it. A mathematical truth once instilled into the mind so as to be thoroughly understood and known, could never be removed and an error substituted; and what was true in relation to this was true in every instance where a knowledge of truth was received, whether in mathematics, or religion, or in any other line. While an error, no matter how long or how firmly it had been believed, would be rejected by every honest, virtuous and intelligent person, whenever the truth was revealed to the extent that a knowledge of it was received; a truth could never be supplanted by an error, because truth was eternal, and consequently stronger than error.

The speaker stated that when he had traveled abroad he had inquired into the authority of the ministers of the various sects and denominations to preach the Gospel and administer in the ordinances, and all of them had been found wanting. He stated that he had been to the churches then organized on the earth were right, Joseph knew what he had seen and heard, and his members could not deprive him of that knowledge. In 1829, when the Priesthood was bestowed upon Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery, they knew that it was by the administration of John the Baptist for the Aaronic Priesthood, sent from heaven for the purpose. When the angel of God showed the plates from which the Book of Mormon was translated to Oliver Cowdery, David Whitmer and Martin Harris, and the voice of God declared that the translation was made by the gift and power of God, and they were convinced to testify of it, these men became witnesses to the divinity of the mission and the authority of Joseph Smith, and knew they were not deceived. So also with these twelve witnesses, and when they testify, the enemies of the Church reject their testimony on the ground that they were interested witnesses. But subsequently the three witnesses apostatized, and bitterly opposed the Church. Yet in their testimony they never wavered, and two of them, Oliver Cowdery and Martin Harris, returned and died in the Church; and the only remaining one, David Whitmer, living in Richmond, Ray County, Missouri, when he was asked by the speaker concerning the matter, in the presence of a number of persons, answered, "Gentlemen, that testimony is true." Mr. Whitmer had also declared the same through several newspapers a short time since. Five of the eight witnesses also turned up, and the Church in the hour of trial in Missouri, and although every opportunity had been given for them to deny their testimony, not one of them ever did it, because they knew that it was true, and they dared not perjure themselves before their God.

President Smith related some of his early experiences in Utah, and when on his mission to the Sandwich Islands, he being 15 years of age, his receiving through the gift of tongues the Hawaiian language, and his labors there, declaring that he would rather have the knowledge of the divine mission of the Prophet Joseph, which he possessed, than all the world without it, for this one truth was greater than all. He exhorted all present to gain a testimony of the truth, and use that testimony and knowledge in the manner for which it was designed.

An Act of Vandalism.—We are informed that Mr. E. Durnford, contractor for the erection of a building in the Sixteenth Ward, let a subcontract to another party to build four chimneys on the structure. It appears that the work was not done in exact accordance with the contract, and the original contractor refused to accept of or pay for it in consequence. He proceeded with the work of pulling down and rebuilding and had completed one. Yesterday morning when he went to work he found the other three demolished; torn down and the dust filled with bricks. This was an act of vandalism which is inexcusable. Whatever grievance the party may have had who perpetrated it, whoever he was, that is an improper method of adjusting difficulties. In fact such an act is never in the nature of an adjustment.
