

WORKMAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH.

C. F. Kendall Meets His Fate
While at Work in the Curley Stone Yards.

SKULL WAS BADLY CRUSHED.

Passed Away Within Forty Minutes
After the Accident—His Wife in Feeble Health.

C. F. Kendall, aged 46, and an employee of the George Curley stone yards, was killed while at work yesterday afternoon by falling 18 feet from a traveler which he was operating. It was nearly time to close down and Louis F. Schriener, his working companion, was attaching the hooks to the last stone to be hauled. Kendall, in order to rest himself momentarily, leaned against the platform railing. It proved to be rotten and gave way. His companion, hearing a cry, looked up and saw Kendall's body falling over the edge. He was with terrible force. The skull was fractured, and both wrists and the left arm were broken. Dr. Bower was hurriedly summoned, but could not save the man. He died within 40 minutes. Kendall was born in Salt Lake Aug. 1858. He leaves a wife and two children. Mrs. Kendall is in poor health and has just returned from a long stay in Colorado. Relatives are in the city of the shock that will follow the announcement of the distressing accident.

ENZENSBERGER OFF.

Salt Lake Man Will Attend Elks' Annual Reunion at Cincinnati.

Joe Enzensberger is perhaps the only member of the local lodge of Elks that will attend the B. P. O. E. reunion at Cincinnati. He left town today with that object in view, and will join the Montana delegation at Omaha.

An interesting feature of the event at Cincinnati this year will be the hauling through the streets of the first fire engine that responded in Baltimore during the recent conflagration. It was buried beneath the falling walls of buildings, but has been dug out and will be exhibited in its dilapidated condition.

The contestants for the next reunion are Fort Worth, Tex., and Saratoga, N. Y.

BEFORE GOING TO EUROPE.

Samuel Newhouse Makes Young Democrats Glad by Further Generosity.

Sam Newhouse added another laurel to his Democratic wreath yesterday afternoon by authorizing the Young Men's Democratic club to negotiate a one year's lease on a suite of five rooms in the Atlas block and furnish them with the best that money can buy.

"I wouldn't have anything cheap, gentlemen," said he to the committee. "Get the very best and send the bill to me." The committee was astounded and overjoyed. Only a week ago Mr. Newhouse gave the club his check for $1,000 as the furnishings, which were ordered this morning, will cost not less than $1,500—a figure already "O. K'd" by Mr. Newhouse, the club members have reason to rejoice. The club will have a room for the state committee, as for the city and county committee and a ladies' reception room.

The rooms are on the ground floor of the building. Immediately behind them are the Young Men's Republican club quarters. A house warming will take place next Monday evening.

Mr. Newhouse left for Europe last night.

SUICIDE ON WAY HERE.

Insurance Man, Coming to See Sister in Salt Lake, Kills Himself.

E. J. Jamison, alias Frank C. Davis, committed suicide at Colorado Springs Saturday. He was despondent over his inability to raise means to visit his sister, who, according to what he told acquaintances, is a resident of this city. He went to the Alamo hotel and apparently without friends. He appeared to a religious organization for food stating that he had been a real man in Minneapolis and was trying to reach Salt Lake to see his sister. He was put to work collecting fire insurance. His hotel bill was running on and he was asked for the amount. He answered that he expected a check by mail. A little later he retired to a private apartment and swallowed the contents of a vial. He died while doctors were at work over him.

KILLING OF UTAH SHEEP.

B. F. Saunders Receives Word of Wanton Slaughter in Colorado.

B. F. Saunders received in his mail last evening the following letter from Mornel Hendricksen at Aspen, Colo., giving the details of the killing of Mr. Saunders' sheep by cattlemen:

Aspen, Colo., July 10, 1904.—Mr. B. F. Saunders, Salt Lake City.—Dear Sir: I just received word late last night about the killing of the sheep. Come to town to see you and found Cole here, the camp tender that was with the herds in Taylor Park. As near as he can judge, they killed about 1,600 head. I was over there a few days ago and everything seemed to be all right. I did not hear any complaint whatever about the sheep being over in that country, and there were no cattle where the sheep were.

They did not give them any warning beforehand whatever. The boys were just setting their dinner, when they surrounded their tent and held them apart and they were about three miles apart the same time. There were about 70 men, as near as Cole could tell, and they started the herds toward each other on the run, or as fast as they could drive them.

They had a corral built in the timber, where they drove them to, and filled with water. They killed all the sheep that came to the corral, and fired on them, killing and crippling about 250 of them. They took the boys of the country in 14 hours, or they would kill them and the balance of the sheep. The boys pulled over the mountain into Lake country, where a man met them and told them they could not stay there, or they would have to leave the same as the other fellows did. Now, Mr. Saunders, we have been driven out of the country by this country, and they have got all our old cows or a jackass, so don't be surprised at anything. I will leave here today and look over Taylor Park, again, where the killing was done. They took two of the sheep herders. I will try to get them. I will try to get back here in about four days and will write you as soon as I return. Let me hear from you.

Yours truly,
M. HENDRICKSEN.

CITY'S HEALTH GOOD.

Commissioner Wilcox Says Conditions Were Never Better.

The city board of health held a brief session yesterday and discussed matters relative to the general health of the citizens of the city. The use of a disinfectant in the water used in the street sprinklers in the paved district was discussed, but no definite action was taken in the matter. The question of compelling persons to sprinkle their sidewalks before sweeping the same, so that the dust will not have to be breathed by passing pedestrians, was also discussed, and action deferred on the same until a later meeting.

SCRIMMAGE AT THE POLLS.

Election in Mill Creek Precipitates a Lively Set-to.

What promised to be a lively fight was prevented by Deputy Sheriff Bell at the election of a school trustee in Mill Creek last night and the three men engaged in the affair were placed under arrest. James C. Hamilton and J. R. Nielson became engaged in a quarrel whereupon B. W. Merrill, armorer of the local police, stepped in and separated the two men. Mr. Nielson grabbed a chair and was about to do some damage when Deputy Sheriff Bell stepped in and separated them and placed all three under arrest. They were allowed to go to their homes upon their own recognizance. The election resulted in Mr. Bell being elected over Mr. Merrill by a vote of 23 to 15.

PATENT MEDICINES.

A man that compounds or invents something that is just a little better than the next best thing, is certainly entitled to the best share of the profits to be derived from the sale of the article. So he patents or copyrights to protect his interests. Patented goods are good goods, poor goods are never patented. We have 20 years of trial behind us to give us the assurance that we have the best medicine compound for the cure of dyspepsia, sick headaches, biliousness, indigestion and all stomach disorders. We protect the public as well as ourselves by keeping the formula a secret, as long as we make it we know it is made right and it cures these diseases. Druggists tell us that it is the one medicine that the sale ever on the increase. To get the best remedy for dyspepsia or indigestion ask the druggist for Dr. Quinn's Improved Liver Pills, price 25c. per box, only one for a dose.

DANGEROUS BUSINESS.

Youngsters Meet With Usual Accidents
In Climbing Tall Trees.

The season for bird nest hunting is on and at least two youngsters have narrowly escaped death in the favorite youthful pursuit.

Keith Poll, 909 east Fourth South, fell from a poplar tree to a cement sidewalk. His injuries included a concussion of the brain, a fracture of the right arm and hand and several bad cuts about the face. He has been in a partially conscious condition for 48 hours, but the physicians hope to save him.

Phillip, the 11-year-old son of George Blair, was climbing a tree near the family home on Canyon road when he slipped and caught his arm on a picket, tearing the ligaments in the left arm pit to such an extent that the artery was exposed. Had the artery been severed, the boy might have bled to death before help arrived. It was only after desperate efforts that he disengaged himself.

WRONG TRACK.

Had to Switch.

Even the most careful person is apt to get on the wrong track regarding food sometimes and has to switch over. When the right food is selected the host of ails that come from improper food and drink disappear, even where the trouble has been of lifelong standing.

"From a child I was never strong and had a capricious appetite and I was allowed to eat whatever I fancied—rich cake, highly seasoned food, hot biscuits, etc.—so it was no surprise that my digestion was soon out of order and at the age of twenty-three I was on the verge of nervous prostration. I had no appetite and as I had been losing strength (because I didn't get nourishment in my daily food to repair the wear and tear on body and brain) I had no reserve force to fall back on, lost flesh rapidly and no medicine helped me.

"Then I was a wise physician ordered Grape-Nuts and cream and saw to it that I gave this food (new to me) a proper trial and it showed he knew what he was about because I got better by bounds from the very first. That was in the summer and by winter I was in better health than ever before in my life, and gained in flesh and weight and felt like a new person altogether in mind as well as in body, all due to nourishing and completely digestible food, Grape-Nuts.

"This happened three years ago and never since then have I had any but perfect health for I stick to my Grape-Nuts food and cream and still think it delicious. I eat it every day. I never tire of this food and can eat a saucer of Grape-Nuts and cream when nothing else satisfies my appetite and it's surprising how sustained and strong a small saucerful will make one feel for hours." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"True food that carries one along and 'there's a reason.' Grape-Nuts 10 days proves big things.

CLEVER CAPTURE OF COUNTERFEITER

Andrew Christianson, Wanted in Salt Lake, Located in Butte by Secret Service Men.

WAS WORKING IN THE MINES.

Believed to be the Man Who Has Been Flooding Northwest With Spurious Gold Pieces.

(Special to the "News.")

Butte, Mont., July 12.—Andrew Christianson, believed to be a member of the gang of counterfeiters who have been operating extensively in five and ten dollar gold pieces at Salt Lake, was arrested here last night while he was preparing to be lowered into the Corn, where he has been employed for the past three months. Fred Fomhoff, secret service man of the United States treasury department, with detective Murphy of this city, located Christianson, and he has been positively identified as the man wanted.

Christianson was located through a letter written to his wife at Salt Lake, which was intercepted by the federal authorities. When the chase became too hot in Salt Lake Christianson came to Butte. Since coming to this city he has been employed in the mines and is said to have been leading a respectable life. His capture is regarded as important in that it means the breaking up of the gang of counterfeiters who have been flooding the northwest with spurious gold pieces. Christianson will be taken to Salt Lake.

Christianson is well known in this city as the leader of a gang of counterfeiters who operated here last November. Two of his pals, Rue Smith and Jed Grant, are now under indictment by the grand jury and will have a hearing at the next term of court. It was these men who implicated Christianson and gave the officers such positive information concerning his operations, that he, too, was indicted by the grand jury. About that time, however, he left the state, with the officers after him. The men passed many counterfeit $5 and $10 gold pieces in this city, all of which, it is said, were furnished by Christianson.

KOREANS IN FLIGHT.

The picture represents the flight of some Korean villagers just before their hitherto peaceful dwelling place was transformed into the seat of war. The alarm and haste incident upon the abandonment of their homes have not prevented them from taking with them as many of their possessions as could be collected at short notice. The great hampers on their backs are filled to the brim with such of their larder and possessions as they can carry.

NOT HARVEY LOGAN.

Brother Does Not Believe Bandit Would Commit Suicide.

Dan Logan, brother of the famous outlaw, Harvey Logan, who is supposed to have committed suicide while being pursued by cowboys near Parachute, Colo., recently, is in the city for a few days. He is very doubtful as to the body of the bandit being that of his brother. In the first place he states that his brother is not one who would commit suicide, and furthermore he believes he is now in Canada.

Logan met his death while being pursued by cowboys after having assisted in holding up a Denver & Rio Grande passenger train. From a picture taken of the bandit after his death, the body was identified as that of Harvey Logan. The man is well known for his outlawry in this state and was a member of the famous "Butch" Cassidy Hole-in-the-wall gang. Several years ago he and two of his partners, named Carver and Ed-patrick, were chased into this state from Arizona, where they were wanted for the murder of two cowboys.

Sheriff Tyler and Deputy Jenkins, who were with the posse in pursuit, were both killed by the bandits, who afterwards made their escape into Colorado, where they had been ever since. Several officers in this state took part in that chase and await with interest a more positive identification of the bandit who was killed at Parachute.

MONEY BY TELEGRAPH.

Dr. Varian Got His Cash as Soon as "Vigilant Identification."

Regarding the article in last evening's "News" under the caption of "Money by Telegraph," which went into some detail over the difficulty that Dr. Varian had in obtaining money wired him from another state, Bupt. May of the Western Union explains that accompanying the order to pay the money was the injunction requiring "vigilant identification," a fact that occasioned the extreme caution that was taken. He adds further that as soon as the doctor stepped next door and got Mr. Bamberger to identify and sign with him, that the money was promptly paid without the loss of any time whatever.

It is a fact with which every business man is acquainted that it is necessary to take the utmost precautions in seeing that wired money is paid to the right person.
Not infrequently sharpers attempt to thus obtain that which does not belong to them; and when they succeed the company is held responsible for the amount.
Vigilant identification has been waived. It is needless to state that the company has found from experience that it is best to be sure in every case. Thoughtful persons can see the force and occasion of this as clearly as they fully understand why they are put to a little inconvenience during the course of establishing identity, and they understand further that they are not put to even "that little inconvenience" when they can prove that they are entitled to the money. Promptness and politeness go hand in hand in the transaction. It would be folly to think otherwise for that is the company's principal stock in trade when it comes to getting business.

A TINY OCEAN CRAFT.

Captain Voss is the daring Canadian navigator who is trying to break the record for sailing around the world in the smallest craft. The Spray, an American vessel of thirteen tons, is the present champion. The captain began his perilous voyage from Victoria, B.

C. on May 21, 1901, and has already covered more than half the distance.
His boat is an old Alaskan war canoe, the Tiumam, of only two and a half tons. He has met with many adventures, but declares that his tiny craft is as safe as a liner.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

IS OFTEN
DUE TO CATARRH

Mrs.
J. P.
Regnier

"My friends say, how well you look."

MRS. J. P. REGNIER, 754 W. 29th
St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I am anxious to show my gratitude for what Peruna has done for me, and hope this will reach the eyes of some woman who has suffered as I did. For two years I had intense pains regularly every month, had headache and backache. At such times I was hardly able to be about, and felt very weak and worn out. I am now feeling very well, but would not be without Peruna in the house. When I see my children are not feeling well and have a little cold, I at once give them Peruna, and they know it does them good, so they take it without any trouble. I am a new woman since I began taking Peruna. My friends say, 'How well you look!' and I tell them what made me well, so some of my friends are going to try it themselves."—Mrs. J. P.
Regnier.

Women all over the United States recommend Peruna. They praise it as a remedy particularly adapted to their peculiar ailments. But they do not stop there. They recommend it as a family medicine; they give it to their little children. They say they would not be without it in their homes.

Years of Suffering.

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh
Wherever Located.

Not a Cure-All.

What then, is Peruna? Is it a cure-all? No such claims are made for it.
Peruna cures catarrh and that is all it does cure. But many ailments called by countless different names are dependent upon catarrh, that is catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane lining some organ of the body. Hence Peruna cures catarrh of the pelvic organs (female weakness), with the same surety as it cures catarrh of the nose or throat, or the many other catarrhal affections of children.

Thousands of women suffer from pelvic catarrh and catarrhal nervousness and don't know it. If you feel fagged and begin at once taking Dr. Hartman's Peruna. It will relieve your catarrhal affliction and all your organs will be restored to health. Buy a bottle to-day, as it will alleviate your case.
