

SUNDAY SERVICES IN CITY CHURCHES.

Rev. Frank Fay Eddy Delivers
First of Series of Lenten Season sermons.

ADDRESS ON LIFE'S IDEALS.

Rev. F. W. Pinkerton Takes the "Law
Of Safety" as His Theme at Central Church.

The sermon of Rev. Frank Fay Eddy at Unity hall yesterday was the first of a series on the epochs of the life of Christ, which will continue through the Lenten season. The subject last night was "The Dreaming Christ," and dealt with the period of unconscious preparation in the life of Jesus for the work that was to follow.

He said in introducing the subject: "One of the signs in the religious horoscope of the present era is the pronounced tendency to seek out anew the Christ of the gospels. Slowly it is dawning on the minds of men that there is an irreconcilable difference between Jesus of the gospels and the Pauline version of Jesus; that a choice must be made sooner or later between Nazareth and Tarsus.

"The air of this series of sermons is to present a humanized conception of Jesus, to present Him in the majesty of His divine humanity. In doing so, I must necessarily deny and try to dislodge from your minds the Christ of the creeds, the Christ conjured up by a false idealization. Yet this is done with the simplest of better revealing the genuine greatness of Jesus, the most interesting figure, the sublimest genius in the world's history."

The sermon continues by sketching in detail the youth of Christ, noting his tendencies, and his great insight into human motives and life, and pointing in conclusion to the great work of which this was the beginning. He closed with a picture of Christ on the hillside while He heard the call of John the Baptist to come to his own duty.

The subsequent numbers of the Lenten series are as follows:
April 9—"The Conquering Christ."
April 16—"The Crucified Christ."
April 23—"The Risen Christ."

IDEALS OF LIFE.

At the Central Christian church Rev. F. W. Pinkerton spoke yesterday on the "Law of Safety," a sermon on life's ideals in their relation to daily life. A synopsis is as follows:

Every man finds it hard to live up to his ideals or to attain that which he knows to be possible. The power without which it seems to be greater than ourselves. The passage at least suggests how we may be helped.

The basis of this life is the "holy faith." I use the term "faith" both objectively and subjectively. To every man there comes hours of darkness and doubt. Doubt, perhaps, enters into every life. The object of our faith is what? The apostles and all strong men have uttered the same faith: "I know whom I have believed." "If I have believed, I have believed."

Beauty must take form and all truth. The majesty, power, glory and wisdom of God have taken form. So of His love and mercy, or the inviting elements of His character. These abide and they are effective in human life. Those speculations which men have formulated into creeds are lifeless and subject to the mutations and changes, and back to the Christ of God. This anchor holds. It is the basis. And this faith makes us strong to resist, and unconquerable. I cannot emphasize this too strongly.

The second point, build yourselves up. The Christian is a growing man. You know without my telling you that things grow or die. Life means growth. This springs from the soil of faith, and faith in him means growth in Godlike qualities. If we desire the rich experiences of a man like Paul or John, we must take the steps by which they reached those experiences. "If I would be deep you must allow God to dig the well."

Let us enumerate knowledge, love, joy, peace, meekness, kindness—these are Godlike qualities.

There are three things that are essential to this growth in this text: First, keep yourselves in the love of God. This love is the sun that warms the soil of the human heart. The love that is in the heart of God. Keep your own heart against the heart of God. Second, praying in the holy spirit. The value of prayer. Abraham was called the friend of God. Friends talk and touch.

VALUE OF PRAYER.

Daniel prayed three times a day, with his windows opened toward Jerusalem. It is this tremendous force that in life makes it invincible. We go through the presence of those we love with a benediction and strength in our hearts.

Third, "Looking for eternal life." Hope has a large part in our lives. It is not the hope of reward, but the hope of being. To be greater and larger than I am. This is all there is of being. No one should be hopeless. No man can live up to himself in whose sky hope has set.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

At the First Presbyterian church Rev. W. F. Paden spoke on the topic of "Yellow Workers," choosing as his text: "For we are fellow laborers with God." He said in part:

We are God's fellow workers. Our Father works and we work with Him and under His direction. He has the carrying them out. There is that in the handiwork of building which only God can do, only He can understand. There is also that which we can do, do his part towards making this world a garden of God; each of us his part towards raising the structure of Christian society.

Human society, or at least that portion of it which is becoming better, is brought to view by St. Paul under two aspects—first as tilled land and second as a building. Under both aspects God is the superintendent and master workman; we are His assistants, co-workers or employees. He is the head; we are the hands. He is the director; we are the agents. He is the architect; we are the laborers. He is the architect; we are the builders.

JOHN DAYNES AT REST.

During the Service Death of Grandson
Is Announced.

Touchingly impressive were the services held in the Twentieth ward meetinghouse yesterday afternoon over the remains of Utah's pioneer music dealer, John Daynes. The hall was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends of the deceased, and the services were under the direction of Bishop George Romney. As an opening selection the ward choir rendered with much feeling, "He Knows," and prayer was offered by Elder Robert F. Neslen. The Temple choir, of which the deceased was a member for many years, then sang the hymn, "O Lord responsive to Thy call," after which remarks of a comforting nature and eulogistic of a deceased were made by Elder Claudius V. Spencer, C. R. Savage, W. W. Salmon, C. J. Thomas, President Richard W. Young, Elder Joseph E. Taylor and Bishop George Romney.

During the service Elder W. H. Foster sang beautifully, "Where are the friends of my youth?" while Miss Edith Grant, accompanied by the Temple choir, rendered "The End of the Way," and Mrs. Nellie Druce Pugsley sang, "Ave Marie." The closing hymn was, "Who are these arrayed in white?" and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Heber J. Romney.

The pallbearers were C. R. Savage, D. L. Murdock, R. F. Neslen, W. H. Foster, W. W. Salmon and C. J. Thomas. Interment will be in the city cemetery. A particularly sad feature of the occasion was the announcement of the death during the service of Royal Daynes, a grandson of the deceased, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal W. Daynes, who passed away as a result of diphtheria. The child was two years and six months old, and was laid away in the city cemetery last night. Private services being held at the family residence, 166 J street.

WITH THE CHILDREN.

Eleventh Ward Primary Association
Delights Large Audience.

Last evening the Eleventh ward Primary association, by invitation of Bishop Robert Morris, occupied the time usually devoted to Sunday evening meeting. The exercises were in the nature of a review of the lessons taught during the past season, and were most pleasing and satisfactory throughout. The house was filled to its capacity by parents and friends of the children, among the visitors being Elder Charles W. Penrose of the quorum of Apostles, Elders Joseph Wells and John M. Knight of the presidency of Ensign stake; President Louis B. Felt, and counselors and members of the general board of Primary associations; the presidency of the Ensign stake Primary associations; the presidency of nearly every ward Primary association in the Ensign stake, and many other prominent people.

The children assembled at the meetinghouse at 5:30 o'clock, and before 6 o'clock, the time for commencing meeting, had all been happily arranged on a raised platform in the south end of the hall. When the older people began to assemble, the scene that met their gaze was a most inspiring one: the hundreds of bright young faces, beaming with childish anticipation, together with the beautiful and variegated tints of the girls' gowns and ribbons, indeed suggested a garden of beautiful flowers.

Promptly on time the exercises began by the children singing one of their songs, and prayer by the Master Benjamin. The lessons of the evening were gone through in the most perfect order, the intelligent and comprehensive manner in which every subject was handled was a pleasant surprise to all present, and the closest attention was given by the large audience from beginning to end. The association is under the supervision of Miss Jessie Sears, president; Mrs. Nellie Penrose, Whitney and Miss Luju Penrose, counselors, and a corps of other bright, energetic young ladies. Great credit is due these officers for the important and thorough work they are accomplishing.

The musical portion of the program, under the direction of Miss Luju Penrose, is especially worthy of mention, and gave evidence of the most careful preparation being paid to this part of the children's education. It was frequently referred to in terms of praise.

At the close of the exercises a very impressive incident occurred, which was the formal setting apart of the officers of the association, under the hands of Elders Penrose, Wells and Knight, and Bishop Morris. While the young ladies have been presiding over the Primary for some time, this ceremony had been delayed, and was a fitting climax to last evening's meeting. The benediction was pronounced by Leslie McRae, a very little tot.

ANDERSON ESTATE CASE.

Contest Between Heirs Over Distribution of Property—Allegations Made.

A contest is on over the appointment of an administrator of the estate of James Anderson, deceased. Mary Catherine Anderson applied for letters of administration of the estate, but Mary E. Glauque, Margaret A. Eardley, Victoria C. Pardoe and H. C. Anderson, other heirs, filed a protest against her appointment.

In their petition they allege that Mary Catherine Anderson, who is 71 years of age, is under the control of W. N. Anderson, another heir, and that the two have entered into a conspiracy to defraud the other heirs of their rights. They also allege that W. N. Anderson is now in possession of some of the property belonging to the estate which he is unlawfully withholding from the other heirs. The estate is valued at $2,000. The contest was heard in part by Judge Armstrong on Saturday and continued for a week.

WHERE IS HE?

Aged Mother Anxious to Learn of Her Missing Son.

Information is desired as to the whereabouts of H. A. Holmberg, who was last seen on Jan. 11 near Tucker, Utah. Mrs. Holmberg, the mother of the missing man, lives at Granger and she has asked Sheriff Emery to help her find her son. She says he is 33 years of age and is rather small, weighing about 130 pounds, and his complexion is fair. He left home on Jan. 2 to peddle patent medicine, and was seen on Jan. 11 at Tucker. Since then Mrs. Holmberg has received no letters from him, and hence she fears that something has happened to him.

THROWING DUST IN RUSSIANS' EYES

Japanese Hold Linevitch in Check
While They Move on to Viadivostok.

MEN LIKE NEW COMMANDER.

Japanese Cavalry Detachments Return
After Most Hazardous Scouting
Exploits of the War.

Gunsu Pass, 108 Miles North of Tie Pass, April 2.—The situation is unchanged. Gen. Mischenko has moved forward into close touch with the Japanese and keeps up constant skirmishing. Elsewhere everything is quiet.

Gen. Mischenko when he learned of the beginning of the panic during the retreat from Mukden, though an unhealed wound forbade his walking, drove in a carriage to his force and assumed command, which he has since retained, though he is unable to ride over the deeply mired roads, which are beginning to dry.

Native reports, which may be taken for what they are worth, state that the Japanese are leaving before the Russian front only a screen, capable with the help of the Mukden and Tie Pass fortifications and garrisons of holding in check Gen. Linevitch, and are transferring the bulk of their five armies to Viadivostok and, by means of a wide movement, through Mongolia, to Tientsin. Considering the general situation involved, the plan appears too bold and almost impracticable; but Japanese intonation from continued success, bold initiative and determined perseverance must be rewarded. The situation affords an opportunity for Russian cavalry, which thus far has played an insignificant role, to distinguish itself by ascertaining the Japanese intentions.

Gen. Linevitch has ordered the resumption of drills, keeping the soldiers occupied in the day time and music in the bivouacs at night. An energetic regime is being instituted. The soldiers are much attached to the new commander on account of his simple, soldierly style of living.

Reports that beriberi has been prevalent among the Russian troops at any time are unfounded. No case has been reported.

GREAT SCOUTING.

With Gen. Karok's Army in the Field, April 1 (via Pusan).—Two detachments of Japanese cavalry have returned to the army after the most extensive and dangerous scouting exploit of the war. The detachments were sent north early in January under the leadership of Col. Maganuma and Maj. Saegawa, and numbered each 15 men. Only 10 men of each detachment returned. They explored the Russian positions west of Mukden. They encountered and eluded many forces of Russian cavalry and penetrated Gen. Mischenko's line. Then going south, they crossed the railroad, cutting the road between the telegraph line during the battle. Afterward they visited Kirin and explored that place, and finally returned to the army north of Kailu.

ADVANCE OF SCOUTS.

Tokio, April 2, 1 p. m.—The following official advices have been received from army headquarters in Manchuria:

"Our scouts advanced toward Hallung and collided with 300 of the enemy's cavalry at Shauclienku, 30 miles southwest of Kailu, on the morning of March 25. The enemy, 4,000 strong, retreated to Hallung, leaving 2,000 troops. There are large stores of cereals at various points between Yengcheing and Shauclienku. Yengcheing is 35 miles north of Hingcheng. The situation is unchanged in the Changchung and Kirin directions."

Shah to Visit France.

Paris, April 2.—The Shah of Persia will arrive in France shortly to take a provincial tour. The arrival here of King Alfonso at the end of the month is leading to elaborate preparations for his entertainment.

JOHN SAYS

"More of the Coffee, Please."

A lady from the "Land of the Sky" in N. C., says:

"This winter while on a visit further down South where everybody seems to be a slave to coffee, I one day found my hostess prone on her couch. 'So giddy, my head aches,' 'Coffee,' I said warningly. She supposed so, and what else could she drink? 'Why Postum,' I replied. 'But that is so insipid and John does like it.' He calls it 'dish water.' I thought of the kind of Postum the darkey cook had served, and asked her if I might make her a cup. So into the kitchen I went and made Postum as we have it at home, rich, clear and fragrant, after good long boiling to bring out the flavor. 'I brought it to her in one of the daintiest cups, and she drank under protest, declaring it might make her head worse. She exclaimed, 'Why how nice this is. You don't mean this is Postum?' I told her the difference was only in the making. She had had it before bottled only a few minutes and now she had it made according to directions that are plain enough on each package. In about an hour's time she sat up and laughing a little said her head felt nearly well and the giddiness was almost gone. The next morning we had Postum (made right) for breakfast. We told John it was a new coffee we wanted him to try. He called for a second cup and the next morning called for some more of that new coffee. 'Quite a while after we had been serving it regularly, John spoke of feeling so much better. He had gotten over his nervousness, and only then did we dare tell him he had been steadily using the once despised Postum. 'Before I left off coffee my complexion was bad and sometimes my temper was bad. The complexion has cleared up in a most remarkable way. I had better refer to a testimonial as to a change in temper, but I will say it is a fact. Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason."

IS YOUR COAT DUSTY?

You Probably Have the White Scab of Dandruff on It.

If your coat or shoulders have a white dust upon it, the chances are that it is from dandruff. The only way to permanently cure dandruff is to remove the cause, which is a germ. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. Every toilet table should have such a hair-dressing that contains also the destroyer of the dandruff and hair falling germs. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good," will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. REV. WASHINGTON GLADDEN AFTER ANDREW CARNEGIE

Columbus, O., April 2.—Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, moderator of the general council of Congregational churches, preaching at the First Congregational church today on "The Christian of Today," said:

"The Christian of today is beginning to get a new idea of what it means to carry his religion into his business; he has found out that it signifies an earnest effort to make his business not only a means of gain, but an instrumentality of help and service to all his fellow men."

"Andrew Carnegie said some years ago, for instance, that a man might be as rich as Croesus in the accumulation of a fortune, if he would only be benevolent in the distribution of the fortune after it was made. 'This is not the business theory of the business man's responsibility. His greatest opportunities of benevolence are those which come to him in his business. It is while he is making his money, not after it is made, that he must prove himself a Christian.'

"Gifts, no matter how munificent, which have been heaped up by extortion and trickery are not Christian benefactions. 'Some of the most gigantic robbers that the world has ever known—men who have accumulated hundreds of millions by the lining of purses and the emptying of pockets—have been men who have given liberal gifts to churches, colleges and missions. Such an estimate does not represent the Christianity of today.'

The Church of the most reliable fruits in this section, sold Mi-na-na under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not produce satisfactory results.

"I have just as good a right to use my opportunity here in this church to enrich myself or to push my personal ambitions as they have; if the scandal in the case of a pastor would be greater than in that of a public servant it is only because our notions about the service of the state have been terribly perverted."

HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN.

Centenary of His Birth Being Celebrated Throughout Denmark

Copenhagen, April 2.—Hans Christian Andersen's centenary is being celebrated throughout Denmark under royal patronage. Several foreign countries have sent delegates to Odense, the birthplace of Andersen. Foreign Minister Levstau gave a grand fete Saturday night which was attended by King Christian and members of the royal family, diplomatic corps and the American colony. King Christian today placed a wreath on Andersen's monument in the royal gardens. The celebrations include dramatic performances and the exhibition of relics. The town of Odense was beautifully decorated. A monument to the author was unveiled on the wall of the town near the cottage where Andersen was born.

ZEIGLER'S EXPEDITION.

Second One to Search for Anthony Fiala Ready.

New York, April 2.—William Zeigler's second relief expedition to the Arctic regions in search of Anthony Fiala, the young Brooklyn explorer who set out two years ago for the north pole, and from whom nothing has been heard for months, will start on May 3 for Tromsø, Norway, where the steamer Terra Nova, one of the finest vessels of the Arctic sealing fleet, is fitting out. The journal will be begun late in the month. Cape Flora, at the southern end of Franz Josephland, being the objective point. W. S. Champ commands the expedition.

RUSSIAN WORKMEN.

Demanding Shorter Hours and More Pay.

St. Petersburg, April 2.—Reports from many places through Russia, including Tver, Borisoff and Sieran, show that employees of warehouses and shops are again demanding shorter hours and more wages. There has been a general strike of shop assistants at Samara and Irkutsk.

According to the Russka Slovo 60 workmen in a factory at Loda have been poisoned and 23 are in a critical condition. It is supposed that strikers are responsible.

Caceres and Morales to Confer.

New York, April 2.—Vice President Caceres, has arrived with his staff, riding from Santiago to confer with President Morales, cables the Herald's correspondent at Santo Domingo. He reports the interior quiet. Gen. Miguel, a minor leader, with 15 men, is in revolt in the forest near Sanchez and hopes to co-operate in an attempt to land by Barzara and the insurgent band on Turk's Island. The gunboat Presidente is missing. It is reported to be cruising to prevent the landing of arms and ammunition at Mayaguez and on Turk's Island. The gunboat Independencia, with 80 soldiers on board, sailed Saturday for Sanchez to intercept Mayaguez, with possible recruits for a revolt at Monte Christi.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

(DO YOU REMEMBER?)
The British troops under General Graham engaged a strongly entrenched body of Arabs near Tamal. After severe fighting the latter were routed, with but slight losses to the former.

David Jeremy, a highly respected citizen of the Nineteenth ward, died suddenly from an epileptic fit.
Edward Nash, aged 29, of Mammoth, Ill., murdered his mother and sister.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY.

Chief of the fire department, James Devine, was thrown violently from his buggy, while driving to a fire.

Major A. J. Hamilton, originator and executor of the Libby Prison escape in 1864, was murdered at Morgantown, Ky., supposedly by a man named Sam Spencer.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY.

General Otis cabled from the Philippines that 124 skirmishes had been fought with the natives since the first of January.

Returns from the various counties gave William H. King a plurality of about 4,000 in the election for congressman.

The Temple workers celebrated the eighty-sixth birthday of President Lorenzo Snow.

The death was announced of the two-year-old daughter of Chief of Police Thomas Hilton. The little one had been burned at a bon-fire.

A TRUE APPETIZER AND TONIC.

Mi-na-na Will Make You Feel Hungry and Hearty, and Give Strength and Vitality.

Ask any friend who looks thin, pale, and out of health how many meals he or she eats a day, and the chances are that the answer will be "Not over two, and I don't feel hungry then." The plump, rosy, and robust eat three square meals daily, and their perfect health is due to a strong stomach and digestive system, as such a system takes out of the food all those elements that make pure blood, and give nourishment and vitality to the body.

The one appetizer and tonic that should be taken is Mi-na-na, the only agent known that will strengthen the stomach and digestive system, and put them in such perfect working order that they will digest easily and naturally all the food that is eaten, and send you to the table positively hungry for the next meal.

Without a strong stomach digestion will be poor, the blood impure, and serious liver and kidney troubles result causing headaches, backaches, spots before the eyes, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritableness, a forced tongue and bad breath all of which can be readily overcome by the use of Mi-na-na, (costing but 50c a box), as it goes right to the foundation of perfect health the stomach.

Scenes of leading people in this state, including editors, ministers, bankers, and their families, gladly testify to the tonic, strengthening and health-giving effects of Mi-na-na. Furthermore, F. C. Schumacher, one of the most reliable druggists in this section, sold Mi-na-na under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not produce satisfactory results.
