

ELDER S. B. YOUNG.

ELDER S. B. YOUNG. President Seymour B. Young, of the First Council of Seventy, addressed the meeting upon the consistent stand taken by the Latter-day Saints in regard to the sale of intoxicating liquors. He said you cannot point to another body of religious worship-ers which refuses to tolerate among its members any one who makes profit from selling to his fellow men liquor which makes them drunken. The Latter-day Saints do not consider such traffic legitimate business. If there is any member of the Church such traffic legitimate business. If there is any member of the Church who does engage in such a busi-ness he is immediately told that he must either cease conducting it or else sever his connection with the Church. This stand is taken because the Latter-day Saints want to main-tain purity in their homes and they have a right to do this among them-selves. selves

ELDER J. H. SMITH

Elder John Henry Smith compli-mented the choir on its beautiful sing-ing. He counseled the saints to follow the prudent admonitions of their leaders who had only their brothers people into their net for vote-getting purposes and failed miserably. The Record's story follows: Miss Julia Burlin is a Republican, never was anything else, and never expects to be so far as politics are con-cerned. The lady's name was placed on the "American" ticket without her consent and at her request has been taken off the official ballot. This will be good news to Miss Burlin's many friends for they have always found her faithful in every transaction in life and it is indeed gratifying to know she has proven so in politics. The lady is now employed in a commission house in Ogden where she expects to make her home-but if she ever returns to Park City a welcome will await her, for she is held in high regard by all who know her the fame is another name that has no business on the "American" ticket published in this issue, and will not appear on the official ballot. He positively lifermed the nominating committee that he could not and would not accept the nomination of superin-tendent of schools on their ficket but The evening session of the confer-ence convened in the stake hall. AFTERNOON SESSION. The afternoon session of the con-ference was held in the tabernacle. The choir sang "O Ye mountains high" Prayer was offered by Elder Alexander Buchanan Jr. The choir sang, "Though dèep'ning trails." Elder David McKenzle took for his subject "Science and the Gospel: Joseph Smith as a scientist." He said that one of the weightest evi-dences of the truth of Joseph Smith's work was the wonderful announce-ments which he made in regard to the principles and laws which gov-ern the physical world, announce-ments which men of science have, since the date of Joseph Smith's first announcement demonstrated to be true. As examples of these laws Elder McKenzie referred to announcement demonstrated to be true. As examples of these laws Elder McKenzie referred to "The indestructibility of matter," "The indestructibility of energy," "The universal ether," "The reign of law." "The New Astronomy," "Geological Time," "Organized Intelligence," and others others.

A showing how these religious truths and the scientific truths correspond, Elder McKenzie took up the experi-ments of Dr. Bastian, and Professors Huxley and Tyndall in regard to the principle of blogenesis, showing that after extensive experiments the conclu-sion arrived at was "life comes only from life." The teachings of Joseph Smith in regard to the "New Life" were based upon the same thought. Only by the gift of God through His Spirit can a person be born again. Elder McKenzie also spoke upon the influence and power of testimony bear-ing, continuing which he referred to his own experience at the time he became a member of the Church. He also spoke upon the large part played by revela-tion in the life of a Latter-day Saint. "I remember," he said, "the occasion
