

BREVITIES.

You may find your best friend or your worst enemy in yourself.

An honest employment is the best inheritance that can fall to any one.

He who murmurs at his lot, is like one baring his feet to tread upon thorns.

The handsomest compliment you can pay a woman of sense is to treat her as such.

An indiscreet man confided a secret to another and begged him not to repeat it. "It's all right," was the reply; I will be as close as you were."

Chestnuts, when treated like ordinary beetroot, are said to produce 14 per cent. of sugar—a larger quantity than can be had from most samples of beet.

Always be good-natured if you can. A few drops of oil will do more to facilitate the movement of the most stubborn machinery than rivers of vinegar.

There is a wormwood of bitterness in nearly every sweet of life. But it would not seem half so bitter if we did not stop to weigh, and separate, and analyze, to find out exactly how bitter it is.

"What's to become of me, if you die?" asked an affectionate wife of her receding husband. "I don't know," he snapped out, querulously. "It would look better in you to be thinking about what's to become of me!"

A gentleman seated in the stalls of a theatre, who was afflicted with remarkably long ears, overheard the jocular remarks of a neighboring young man to another, which were by far too loudly expressed. The proprietor of the ears turned round thereat sharply and said, "Sir, it is true my ears are very large indeed for a man, but yours are very small indeed for an ass."

"Little boy, can I go through this gate to the river?" politely asked a fashionably dressed lady.

"Perhaps so; a load of hay went through this morning," was the horrid reply.

Family Oracle, with rifle: "Yes, my dear, this—a mere toy—may become, in my hand, a death-dealing instrument to the birds of the air and the beasts of the field—even to the biggest beast." Little wife: "Oh, dear, then pray take care you don't hurt yourself."

As illustrative of the Frenchman's attachment to his native land, we have the following: An old French custom-house officer, who had been retired after twenty-five years' service in Algeria, came passenger in the brig Golfe Juan for Antibes. A head wind preventing the vessel from making port, she ran along shore, and the excitement of the veteran in beholding the localities endeared by youthful reminiscences, particularly the belfry of his village church, was so great that it proved fatal. This is hardly an isolated case. The homesickness of Frenchmen ruins their prospects as colonists. Exile is death to them, whether it be voluntary or involuntary.

Harriet Martineau and five other English women have petitioned the House of Commons to dispense with the "cat" as a means of punishment.

Punch's cartoon represents a German trooper, who, on looking at the subscription to the French loan, exclaims: "Mein Gott, mein Gott! and dey say ve plundered dem!!!"

THE CELEBRATED

HOME STOMACH BITTERS.

Are informed and prescribed by more leading Physicians than any other tonic or stimulant now in use. They are a SURE PREVENTIVE for Fever and Ague, Intermittents, Biliousness, and all disorders arising from miasmatic causes. They are highly recommended as an anti-dyspeptic, and in cases of indigestion are invaluable as an Appetizer and Recuperant, and in cases of General Debility they have never in a single instance failed in producing the most happy results. They are particularly BENEFICIAL TO FEMALES, strengthening the body, invigorating the mind and giving tone and elasticity to the whole system. The HOME BITTERS are compounded with the greatest care, and the Tonic Stimulant has ever been offered to the public SO PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, and at the same time combining so many remedial agents, indorsed by the medical fraternity as the best known to the Pharmacopoeia. It costs little to give them a fair trial, and Every Family should have a Bottle.

We ask every one to read the following Certificates from many of the most eminent physicians in the country. ST. LOUIS, July, 1870.—JAMES A. JACKSON & CO.; Gentlemen—As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters," it can not therefore be considered as a secret or patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly Tonic, Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, seen its effect in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters, as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.

U. S. MARINE HOSPITAL, ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 8, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & CO.; I have examined the formula for making the "Home Stomach Bitters," and used them in the Hospital for the last four months. I consider them the most valuable tonic and stimulant now in use. L. MELOHER,
ST. LOUIS, July 6, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & CO.; Having examined the formula from which your celebrated "Stomach Bitters" are prepared, and having witnessed the method of combining the different ingredients, we can safely recommend them as the best tonic with which we are acquainted. From the great care with which they are compounded, and from the choice materials which enter into them, we have no doubt that they will prove, as they deserve to be, the most popular tonic and stimulant in use. Respectfully yours,
T. J. VASTINE, M. D. T. G. COMSTOCK, M. D.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1925, 1870.—Messrs. W. H. KENNEDY & Co., Agents "Home Bitters"; Gentlemen—In answer to your request, I have examined the formula of the "Home Stomach Bitters," and find the remedies it contains such as are in general use by the Medical profession. They are very scientifically and pleasantly combined, and as stimulating tonics will be found especially adapted as corroborants to the treatment of low or debilitated stages of the system, whether arising from impaired digestion, or from malarious diseases.
