

JAMES H. WADE PLACED ON TRIAL.

Charged With Murder in the First Degree in the Criminal Court.

KILLED THE CHINESE COOK.

Shot Him as He Was Coming on With a Knife in His Hand—Alta Tragedy.

The trial of the case of the State of Utah vs. James H. Wade, charged with murder in the first degree for the killing of Lee Yoo, a Chinaman at Alta, on Dec. 19, 1903, was commenced before Judge Morse in the criminal division of the district court this morning. The entire morning session was taken up in the examination of jurors for cause, and when the noon recess was taken no jurors had been secured to try the case, although it is believed that nearly all of the first 12 men called to the box will be accepted and that a jury will be secured today.

Dist. Attorney Benner K. Smith is assisted in the prosecution of the case by Atty. E. B. Critchlow. Defendant is represented by Atty. Frank J. Gustin, Edward McArthur and J. A. Largent. Wade was brought into court by Deputy Sheriff Steele and Butler and appears to be in the best of health, although some of the jurors have gone out of his face on account of his imprisonment.

According to the facts in the case as related at the time of the killing, the Chinaman, who was cook at the Alta, where defendant worked, became engaged in a quarrel with a boy at the boardinghouse and started after him with a shovel. Wade, it is said, took the boy's part and the Chinaman started after him with a long butcher-knife in his hand. Wade then went in to the bunkroom and got his gun and when Lee came after him he shot him in the head, inflicting a wound which resulted fatally.

The questions put by the attorneys for the defense to the jurors during their examination indicate that the defense will be that the shooting was justifiable because done in self-defense, and in the defense of the boy who was in danger of injury at the hands of the Chinaman. The names of the jurors who were called to the box for examination and who have not as yet been returned and excused are: T. A. Horne, Jr., W. H. Atwood, David E. Jones, W. F. Gillespie, G. H. Knapp, J. W. Farrell, Richard L. Shannon, D. W. Phelan, John Dodge, John J. Toronto, R. R. Sharkey and W. H. Haigh. Several of them were challenged for cause by the defense but the challenges were denied and the jurors were not excused.

COMPLICATED CASE.

In Despair Jury is Instructed to Bring in Verdict for Defendant.

The case of Blaney vs. Walker, which possessed more entangling features, perhaps, than any cause ever tried in the federal court, was concluded this morning, when Judge Marshall ordered the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant, remarking, as he did so, that the plaintiff had failed to make out a case.

The suit was to force a contract on a claim mining claim, owned by M. L. Newhouse and others, and a dozen different sides to the question presented themselves. None of the attaches of the court—not even the reporter who took the testimony—could make it out, and it was even whispered that the attorneys who tried it were in much the same predicament. The amount asked for was $5,000. The suit was pending for two years.

This case was immediately succeeded by the case of Boxelder Light & Power company vs. Brigham City, which is now on trial.

HABITUAL DRUNKENNESS.

Cordelia Pyper Seeks Divorce from Husband on That Account.

Suit for divorce was filed in the district court today by Cordelia Pyper against Robert A. Pyper on the grounds of cruelty, failure to support and habitual drunkenness. They were married in this city on Feb. 14, 1880, and have seven children, of whom plaintiff asks the custody. For the past four years it is alleged that defendant has been guilty of habitual intemperance and has treated defendant and the children in such a manner that they were afraid to live with him. During this time it is also alleged that defendant has failed to provide for his family. Plaintiff also asks for alimony and costs of suit.

Mattie L. Needham also today filed suit for divorce in the district court against Thomas B. Needham on the grounds of cruelty and habitual drunkenness. They were married in this city on Dec. 17, 1893, and it is alleged that ever since said marriage defendant has been guilty of habitual drunkenness. Plaintiff asks for a reasonable sum as temporary and permanent alimony.

Dennis Eishnor's Estate.

A petition for letters of administration of the estate of Dennis C. Eishnor, deceased, the late district attorney, was filed in the probate division of the district court today by Mrs. Elizabeth Eishnor, who asks to be appointed administratrix of the estate. The deceased left an estate consisting of personal property, mining stocks and an interest in a number of mining claims in Nevada, the total value of all of which is about $3,000. There are three heirs to the estate, the petitioner and the son and daughter of deceased. The petition will be heard by Judge Hall on Friday, May 20.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Stewart today rendered a default judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the case of the Salt Lake Hardware company against G. S. Hays et al.

A cross-petition for letters of administration of the estate of John Siddaway, deceased, was filed in the probate division of the district court today by Robert H. Siddaway, who asks that he be appointed administrator of the estate. A former petition for letters of administration was filed by C. E. Marks, who is alleged by cross-petitioner, has no interest in the estate. It is asked that the petition of Marks be denied. The estate consists of personal property valued at $200, and real property valued at $1,300. The cross-petition will be heard by Judge Hall on Friday, May 20.

A damage suit was filed in the district court today by W. E. Johnson and the Bank of Commerce against C. Frank Emery, E. G. Hines and T. J. Nipper to recover $5,000 damages for the alleged unlawful seizure and detention of the personal property in Ford's hotel. It is alleged that defendants wrongfully took possession of the property in the hotel on Feb. 25, 1904, and have ever since de-

GAME POSTPONED.

Owing to Mud at Ball Park Butte Did Not Meet Salt Lake.

Owing to the muddy state of the infield on the diamond at Walker's ball park the league game between Butte and Salt Lake was called off this afternoon. Unless the weather dries up more than it has today the prospects for a game tomorrow are also slim. In the meantime men are at work sprinkling sawdust and burning gasoline over the ground so as to get it into condition for the scheduled games.

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when good medicine is so much needed as in the Spring.

The blood is impure, weak and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples and other eruptions on the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength, and want of animation.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Make the blood pure, vigorous and rich, create appetite, give vitality, strength and animation, and cure all eruptions. Have the whole family begin to take them today.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit. Miss BEULAH BOYCE, Stowe, Vt.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

AGLAA CLUB ENTERS PROTEST.

Objects to Sensational Articles Recently Appearing in Salt Lake Herald.

DEFENDS MRS. C. E. COULTER.

Declares That as a Club Woman Mrs. Coulter's Record is an Open Book.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, May 4.—At a meeting of the Aglala Woman's club, held yesterday in this city, the following was unanimously endorsed by those present:

The Aglala is the largest club in Ogden, one of the oldest in the state, and a club that has at present no "Mormon" members, so that it cannot be accused of being religiously biased in Mrs. Coulter's favor. This club enters a protest against the sensational articles appearing in the Salt Lake Herald of recent dates, in which Mrs. W. A. Nelden publishes certain letters from Mrs. West and Mrs. Neville that are most surprising, both in text and tone, when compared with others bearing the same signatures and addressed to Mrs. Coulter and Mrs. Bichel. It would seem from these articles that, because Mrs. Coulter saw fit to cast her vote for a man of whom some others do not approve, an imputation is to be established and she is to be denied the privilege already accorded her—that of speaking from the platform of the biennial and of having her name appear upon the biennial program.

When we recall that the General Federation has in its constitution a clause which says that any club applying for admission to the federation "must show that no sectarian or political bias is required for membership in its body," and when we see in this clause a determination on the part of the women of the nation to avoid the bringing of religious and political discussions into the federation life, we are unable to understand this attack upon Mrs. Coulter.

That Mrs. Coulter's action in voting for Mr. Smoot is not the approval of every one is not surprising; but Mrs. Coulter, the legislator, has nothing whatever to do with Mrs. Coulter, the club woman, and it is as a club woman that we wish to consider her. Indeed, Mrs. Coulter has ever been preeminently a club woman, and when politics have sought to draw her from her club duties, she has shown herself loyal always.

For instance, when the state federation met in Ogden in 1902, Mrs. Coulter was a candidate for a seat in the Legislature and the election was but a week off, yet she attended the sessions of the federation, threw open her home in a large reception to club women only, and refused to discuss political matters with her supporters, during the days of the session. As a club woman, Mrs. Coulter's record is an open book. Read it and we feel safe in saying that you will find that no other woman in Utah has done more than, and very very few as much as, Mrs. Coulter has done to promote club spirit in this state. Always enthusiastic, always liberal, always loyal, clear headed, hard working, she has had the greatest honors heaped upon her by the women of her state. Where friction has existed, she has laid aside personal feeling and worked always for harmony. Indeed, she has recently been heard to deplore the action taken by Mrs. Nelden, because should she be debarred from her accorded privilege in St. Louis, the Utah State Federation would be thrown into a sectional state and inharmonious will prevail.

Utah has been loyal to the General Federation and we now refuse to endure the insult of having our representative debarred from her position on the program, simply to gratify the animosity of one individual.

In the case of Mrs. Nelden, whom Mrs. Coulter easily defeated for the state presidency a few years ago, it was Mrs. Coulter who wrote letter after letter and faithfully strove to aid in securing for that lady the recognition which she desired. It was Mrs. Coulter's pleasure to lobby for Mrs. Nelden in Los Angeles, thus aiding her towards a place on the general directorate, and which place Mrs. Nelden was awarded only after another and more popular woman had positively declined to accept it. It was at Los Angeles, that, because of a fancied wrong, Mrs. Nelden refused to sit with her own state delegation.

So it has ever been, and we the members of the Aglala urge you to look well into the club record of these two women, and allow nothing to cause you to believe Mrs. Coulter an injustice, simply because she has chosen to view a political matter as perhaps you may not.

Neither politics nor religion have been allowed to divide the Aglala, and we greatly deplore any action upon the part of a Utah club woman which seeks to stir up bitterness and humiliation, not alone an honored club sister, but this entire state.

We await your further action with the faith that your sense of right and desire for harmony may avert any injustice toward this loyal club worker for state and general federation.

AMASA M. CLAYTON FOUND GUILTY.

After 11 Hours Deliberation Jury Brings in a Verdict For The State.

RECOMMENDATION FOR MERCY.

Lively Interest in Celebrated Case—There Will Probably be No Appeal.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., May 3.—Interest in the Clayton trial continues at fever heat. All the evidence was in and both sides rested at noon yesterday, when County Attorney W. W. Maughan and City Attorney P. E. Kessler addressed the jury in behalf of the state, and Attorneys A. B. Irvine and Capt. Wedgewood spoke for A. M. Clayton. Shortly before 5 p. m. Judge Thurman for the defense asked the court to adjourn until this morning, unless his honor desired to hold a night session. Juror Campbell made a plea for a night session, so that the case could be terminated and the jurors released. But Judge Hall adjourned the hearing until 9 o'clock this morning. Promptly at that hour Sheriff Rigby announced "the honorable district court of the First district is now in session." Judge S. R. Thurman, leading counsel for the defense, occupied an hour's time in an eloquent appeal to the jury, presenting Mr. Clayton's side in a masterly manner. District Attorney Frank K. Nebeker closed for the state, and in forceful and vigorous language articulated the defendant and claimed the state had proven conclusively that Amasa M. Clayton was guilty as charged. He only spoke 45 minutes, having a quarter of an hour to spare. But he made a clear cut, eloquent speech which won him new honors. One of the best speeches too was made by Attorney A. B. Irvine for the defense. The case was well filled with the friends of both sides and as the court charged the jury to retire and carefully weigh the evidence, and to give the defendant the benefit of doubt, the crowd dispersed to express a wide divergence of opinion as to the probable verdict the jury would bring in.

After deliberating for nearly 11 hours the jury at 20 minutes to 10 o'clock tonight brought in a verdict of guilty with a recommendation for mercy.

It was learned that three jurymen stood off, yet did not vote, but were finally won over to the majority.

It is not likely that the case will be appealed, as the defendant, it is said, lacks the necessary means to fight the case further.

TRIBUNE SEES SPOOKS.

Another "Hot-Air" Story Written of a Country Graveyard.

Special Correspondence.

Murray, May 4.—The people of Murray and vicinity read with interest in Monday's issue of the Salt Lake Tribune the alleged experience of some young man going through the cemetery east of Murray, which the Tribune describes as being located in Central stake. Such a ghost story has never been going around in this vicinity, the first that was known of it was in Monday's issue of that paper.

As to their description of Mr. Wright, the sexton, and his digging of a grave last Wednesday night, and the fact that there are these "Mr. Wright's" beard does not reach to his waist, but scarcely covers his collar button. He also affirms that he was not in the cemetery on that day at any time, and furthermore has not dug a grave after dark for some months, and when he does he always uses a lantern, as he claims it is an impossibility to dig a grave after dark without a lantern.

It is evident the party who wrote the article for that paper was not acquainted with the district south of Salt Lake City, as anyone knows Murray is in Granite stake.

Amusements

Last night's storm had a paralyzing effect on the attendance at the Theater, but those who braved the storm and sat through "Our New Minister," felt in all ways repaid. The entertainment is one of the merriest and most delightful of its kind that the season has afforded. The company is, if possible, better than ever, though most of the roles are in identically the same hands as when the piece was first seen here. The story is a simple one, but the characters are those of the quaint New England type that Denman Thompson knows so well how to draw, and every one of them is a bit with the audience. The country detective of Mr. Conyers was the most laughable delineation. Mr. Barker's Holton, the man on the fence, was almost equally good, and Mr. Pierce as the hide-bound Obadiah contributed another faithful sketch. Mr. Brown as Skeezicks was excellent as the New York boy, and Miss Redford in the part of the Tatletty woman was true to nature. Miss Parry made a good Nancy in spite of a certain stinging at the footlights habit. The others in the cast were all capable. The scenery was of the most delightful sort. The same bill goes tonight for the last time.

At the Grand New York Day by Day" closes tonight and tomorrow night the Elliford company produces "Toll Gate Inn."

A unique exhibition for ladies and children is that of the Owen Glass Blowers, illustrating how articles in glass are manufactured. It is now going on at 253 south Main street.

Anna Held's company will not arrive in time to fill Thursday night at the Theater, as expected. They will open, however, on Friday. The play will be "Mlle. Napoleon." It is in three acts, and five tableaux, has 44 speaking or singing parts, and is laid in France during Napoleon's reign, the character assumed by Miss Held being that of the emperor's favorite actress, Mlle. Mars.

Mansfield's engagement at the Theater next week will be limited to one night only, Saturday, as the matinee could not be arranged.

LIVE STOCK MEN'S RETURN PASSES.

Order Now Goes Into Effect on All Lines West of Missouri River.

SHORT LINE JOINS THE MOVE.

Following the Message Received from Director Stubbs the Harriman Lines Get in Band Wagon.

Following the receipt of a dispatch from J. C. Stubbs last night it was announced at Oregon Short Line headquarters this morning that all lines west of the Missouri river, effective today, would fall in line on the question of furnishing return transportation to live stock shippers from the market. This move is a return to conditions which prevailed up to the first of the year.

Following the break on the part of the Chicago & Northwestern it was at first thought that this order only went into effect as far west as the Missouri river. Upon investigation, however, it soon became apparent that the Northwestern came as far west as Casper, Wyo. Then it was that the Union Pacific fell into line and today the Oregon Short Line and the O. R. & N. have followed suit. All the other lines today did likewise.

This morning General Agent Walker received the full text of the order from the general freight department of the Northwestern, which was signed by Marvin Houghton, Jr., and E. D. Brigham, respectively freight traffic manager and general freight agent. It is as follows:

"Taking effect May 2, 1904, C. & N. W. G. F. D. No. 335-B, I. C. C. No. 4418, rules governing the passage of men in charge of live stock will be withdrawn and cancelled, and in lieu thereof the rules shown in G. F. D. No. 335, I. C. C. No. 2836 of April 13, 1903, will govern.

"Until you are provided with the new form of live stock contract, you will endorse on the back of the present form of contract: 'This contract good for return transportation from your station stamp and signing your name.'

The abolition of the free transportation home from market for the stock shippers creates a considerable comment and somewhat of a flurry among the growers, a number of whom insisted on receiving receipts for the money paid for tickets homebound. The result, it is anticipated, will be that these shippers will now put in a claim for monies so expended.

FLUME BURSTS.

Two Hundred Feet of Track Washed Out in Jordan Narrows.

High waters have been causing a great deal of trouble to the operating departments of the Oregon Short Line and the Rio Grande Western during the past week with the result that both systems have had a big force of trackmen out watching "for breaks," also trains of flats loaded with rock for instant use.

Today the Rio Grande has over 100 men in Jordan Narrows working like beavers. About 2 o'clock this morning the big flume erected by the Utah & Salt Lake Irrigation company broke at this point with the result that a torrent of water was soon dashing against the grade of the Rio Grande. Men were rushed to the scene and were hard at work by 3 a. m. and up to this time have managed to save the main line so that traffic has not been interrupted. It was a close shave, however, as the waters carried away bodily about 200 feet of the side track adjacent. Had the track not been there the Rio Grande would have stood a very good chance of being tied up temporarily.

GOING TO LOS ANGELES.

W. H. Bancroft May Return Overland Via San Pedro Route.

W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line system, leaves tonight for Los Angeles, where he goes for the purpose of meeting the San Pedro officials. It is on the cards that he will accompany them on their overland trip over the route and inspect the work which is being done northeast of Daggett.

U. P. MEN ARRIVE.

Today the Stubbs party was joined by the traffic men of the Union Pacific in the persons of J. A. Munroe, freight traffic manager, and E. L. They are traveling on a special train, and are visiting I. B. Porrine's ranch at Blue Lakes, Ida., today.
