WHY THE CHOIR WILL NOT GO TO CHICAGO

Manager Charles J. Ross Returns With Explanations From Promoters of Project.

Manager Chas. J. Ross of the Ogden Tabernacle Choir returned yesterday from Chicago where he has been in consultation with the management of the Chicago Tribune relative to the proposed trip of the Ogden choir to Chicago to sing at the United States Land and Irrigation exposition. Mr. Ross' trip to Chicago was made after earnest solicitation on the part of the Chicago Tribune for Ogden's famous choir to attend the exposition. Transportation was the chief item that he might consult with the Tribune management in the West City.

The Chicago Tribune had proffered to finance the convention up to $100 mark, and had demanded that to spend an additional $10,000 to take the Ogden choir to Chicago would be money well spent. Mr. Parker, manager of the Tribune, had practically agreed the plan and had authorized Mr. Cross, his assistant, to send the necessary telegrams to Ogden which were received by the choir through Mr. Fred J. Kiesel, while he made a few calls to New York on business. Upon his return to Ogden, Mr. Parker met with the director of the Tribune and all expenses authorized were gone over. It was found that the expense account had exceeded the sum of $150, and the directors felt that as they had gone far in excess of their anticipated amount, they would be compelled to make good the difference. The Tribune management was not satisfied with the Tribune's explanation.

Mr. Ross, who shown every courtesy to all concerned and so anxious was to accommodate man of Chicago to have the choir make the trip that he professed to raise $5,000 toward the expenses. Mr. Parker of the Tribune was the most disappointed man of all concerned. He said, "Mr. Ross, I can tell you how much disappointed I am that we have not matched for I set my heart on having that famous choir of yours here during the exposition. It would have been a mighty big attraction; but I will say this, if the United States Land and Irrigation exposition proved a success, and I am very sure it will, it will be permanent and I shall see that your choir will be next year, and may depend upon it, every courtesy will be extended its members; no money will be spared to give them every need of comfort."

The choir has already prepared the day and through the earnest solicitation of many people may be induced to present it here in the tabernacle on the first night.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED.

OGDEN, Nov. 16.—A suit for $7,500 was filed Tuesday in the district court by A. E. Wilson as administrator of the estate of Robert C. Wilson against the Oregon Lumber company. The complaint alleges that the deceased was employed as a driver on one of the trains belonging to defendant, met with an accident near Dee, Oregon, which resulted in his death. It further alleges that the company was negligent in the death of the deceased by not providing proper equipment for the safety of its employees.

POLICE COURT CASES.

OGDEN, Nov. 16.—Charles Wilson and Jack Johnson were arraigned in police court Tuesday on the charge of smoking opium, thus violating the law. Both men have been repeatedly warned by Detective Pender and other officers against this pernicious habit, but they have not heeded the warning and were arrested. Monday night they are due. They entered a long plot for money from the court and one of them said he had an aged mother to support and that he should be home. The judge was inclined to be lenient, but gave them a good talk regarding their evil habit and told them the next time they were brought before him on this charge, he would give them the limit. He allowed them to go on a suspended sentence of 30 days each.

John Hogan, charged on the charge of resisting an officer. The defense showed that Hogan was very drunk and had reached the point when he was determined to whip everybody in sight. He caused considerable stir by his wild pranks until the arrival of Officer Russell. After a hard struggle, he was finally landed in the patrol and taken to the station. The court sentenced him to 30 days in jail or a fine of $30.

WEDELL BARN BURNED.

OGDEN, Nov. 16.—The fire department responded to a call from station No. 12 Tuesday at 1 o'clock. The fire was found to be a small burn belonging to W. B. Wedell at 514 Twenty-fourth street. Children and matches were responsible for the blaze.

SCHOOL COURT A SUCCESS.

OGDEN, Nov. 16.—The boys' court at the state industrial school is considered a great success. By placing the majority of the work in the hands of the inmates at the school, the authorities believe that they have solved some of the hardest problems which arise at the school. The inmates of the school have manifested much interest in the sessions of the court. When the inmates of the institution commit any offense, they are tried before the court and punishment is meted out to the offending ones in the same manner as is done in cases tried in the city and state courts.

A. Merwick, an inmate of the school who ran away and purchased a quantity of tobacco at Five Points, was the last offender. The judges, Wm. Martin, Edward, and his wife, imposed a sentence of 20 days in the rest room, with two out of three meals in that time to consist of bread and water, and ordered the lad's hair shaved close to the scalp. When Merwick completes his sentence he must appear before the officials and pupils and make a public apology.

ROBBERS BAFFLED BY DOG.

OGDEN, Nov. 16.—Baffled in their attempt to enter the store of L. H. Beckett on Twenty-fourth street, a gang of robbers buried bricks and rocks at the large display windows, completely demolishing them. The outrage occurred at an early hour Tuesday morning, and when the proprietor arrived he found the rocks and bricks on the store floor. Nothing in the windows had been touched, and it is thought that the missiles were thrown from a distance. This is the second attempt which has been made to rob the store within three months and the fourth time within two years.

DIVORCES GRANTED.

OGDEN, Nov. 16.—A decree of divorce was granted Tuesday in the district court to Phoebe Higgins from Thomas Higgins. The court also restored her maiden name, Phoebe Woodward.

A decree of divorce was granted to Rose Goodfellow against William C. Goodfellow, on grounds of failure to provide when a spouse. Mr. Parker, manager of the Tribune and all expenses authorized were gone over.

It was found that the expense account had exceeded the sum of $150, and the directors felt that as they had gone far in excess of their anticipated amount, they would be compelled to make good the difference.
