

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 5.

On the Way.—On November 1st, Apostles Brigham Young and Heber J. Grant, who left here a few days previous to that date to resume their missionary labors in New Mexico, Arizona and Southern Utah, had arrived at La Junta, Colorado. Both were in the enjoyment of good health, and in excellent spirits.

Police Court.—Five soldiers were arraigned on Saturday night for fighting, drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the streets. They were turned over to the military this morning.

Two men were arrested for sheep stealing on Saturday and will be tried before Justice Spiers this afternoon.

A number of others for drunkenness and disturbance were also taken in hand and most of them fined from $5 to $10 each, leaving the remainder to be disposed of due time.

Pictorial Record.—Thomas Lutz, of Smithfield, Cache County, and John Nield, of Meadow, Millard County, are the joint proprietors of a pictorial record, to which they have given the name of the "Floral Record of Deseret." It is a collection of photographs of the First Presidency and the Twelve Apostles, encased in a frame 19 by 24 inches. Each picture is surrounded by a border, on which is inscribed the name, age, stature, weight, complexion, form, date of birth and character of education of each subject. Symbolic floral groups and other figurative illustrations also find a place in the picture, a printed key to which accompanies the record to each purchaser.

District Court.—Proceedings in the Third District Court, Monday, November 5th, 1883, Chief Justice Hunter presiding.

M. M. Kaighn vs. L. B. Leverich et al.; plaintiff moves for leave to amend complaint, motion overruled. Exception. Verdict for plaintiff, $75, and stay for thirty days.

A. T. Manning vs. W. H. Yearlan et al.; motion by plaintiff for continuance and to amend complaint. Resisted. Placed on law and motion calendar.

Joseph Davis et al. vs. J. F. Monk, Jury trial. Wm. B. Clays vs. Wm. S. McCormick, Jury trial. still in progress.

Railway Discriminations.—The Utah Journal, of Logan, is out with another vigorous article expository and denunciative of the injustice it claims to be doing to the people of Cache Valley by the corporation controlling the Utah and Northern Railway. Says that paper:

"Think of a man paying $10 per ton for hay in Omaha and laying it down at Beaver Canyon cheaper than he could if he bought it in Logan at $6! Think of coal selling in Ogden at $3.50 per ton, and in Logan at $3! What makes the latter figures appear all the more preposterous is the fact that our coal market is not supplied even at such outrageous rates. It is an actual fact that coal can be purchased in Ogden, shipped from there to Logan at local rates, and still be sold at considerably less than the agents of Union Pacific coal here can sell it, and a gentleman of our acquaintance, a prominent business man of this city, lately expressed, in the presence of the writer, his determination to obtain several car loads in this way.

The Journal, after putting into the mouth of the railway corporation Boss Tweed's query, "What are you going to do about it?" pretty strongly intimates that the same people who built the road now being used "as a lever for their oppression," are amply able to build another for purposes of self protection.

"Elevator-Gillipod-Friends!—Brothers!"—The Ogden Pilot, whose account of the shooting affair between Ed. Winn and Leroy Swigart a week ago last Friday, appeared in these columns, now announces a reconciliation between the two belligerents, as follows:

Mr. Winn called on Swigart at the Chamberlain House and had a lengthy conversation with him. During it Swigart admitted that he had acted foolishly, rashly and treacherously by attempting to take Winn's life, and he humbly begged the latter's pardon for it. He also said that with him the matter was ended forever. Winn freely forgave him, though he stated that when he drew his revolver in self-defense it was with a full intention to kill the man he was now extending a pardon to. He, too, cast aside all feeling against his murderous assailant, but counseled him, if he valued his own safety, to make no further hostile demonstrations against him, an injunction Swigart assured him he would bear in mind. Then Winn, in proof of his good intentions toward his would-be murderer, finding that he was out of money, generously put his hand in his pocket, and, drawing out $20, gave it him, the tender being thankfully accepted.

Swigart, who received four wounds of the encounter, is in a fair way to recovery.

It is understood that he will be succeeded by J. Bancroft Davis, and the announcement of the change will be formally made from the Bench by Chief Justice Waite next week.

In concluding his letter, Secretary Teller says, his endeavor will be to vigilantly carry out the law regarding this matter, and to assist to the best of his ability and authority in the prosecution of those persons who have committed offenses against the pension laws or are guilty of other statutory or common law offenses.

Memphis, Tenn., 3.—J. M. Edwards, aged 32, a man of family, was shot and killed yesterday at Knoxville, Tenn., in this county, by Sam E. Roberts, a young man. The tragedy grew out of a scandal in which Edwards had been charged with seducing a step-sister of Roberts, a young lady. Edwards, who was an elder in the Presbyterian Church, at a recent trial was expelled from the church, his guilt having been proven. The killing is said to have been unjustifiable. Roberts surrendered himself to-day.

St. Louis, 3.—Dr. L. J. Lutz, and D. W. Carruth, indicted police commissioners, have brought suit against the grand jury, each claiming $50,000 damages for certain reference made to them in the report of that body. Cleveland, 3.—Edward B. Connel, brakeman on the Lake Shore railroad, was jailed here to-day to await trial in the United States Court on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. He confesses that he sent incredibly lewd letters to divers ladies of eminent respectability living here and in neighboring towns. Some of these letters were given to the postal authorities. With much difficulty the detectives traced their authorship to him. He was arrested last night in Toledo, brought here to-day, examined before Commissioner White, and committed in default of bail. He claims he was not in his right mind when he sent the letters, which contained unnaturally foul propositions, and represented that he was the retained sensualist of various women of high social rank. Before going to prison he wrote abject apologies to the ladies he had thus grossly offended. He is middle-aged, and has a wife and children in Loraine.

St. Louis, 3.—The Sullivan slugging combination arrived to-day, and gave exhibitions to-night in East St. Louis, to a fair audience, James Mills, a horseman of this city, ambitious to show his power as slugger, insisted upon standing before Sullivan two minutes, and was finally granted permission. He was knocked out and off the stage in less than 30 seconds, but not seriously hurt. Sullivan will to-morrow pitch part of a game of ball between picked nines. The party leave for Chicago, en route to San Francisco, early next week.

Utica, N. Y., 3.—Arthur B. Johnson was found dead in his office this forenoon, with a pistol ball in his breast. He was uncle of Johnson T. Lynch, who was shot by R. J. Wel in Batavia, Tuesday night. He occupied the same office. This morning Lena Bender, a woman with whom his intimacy has been notorious for years, entered Johnson's private rooms. She saw the dead man and ran into the hall shrieking, "Oh, he's dead!" A gentleman having offices on the floor hurried in, and the news flew over the city like wildfire. The office and street in front were quickly filled with men. The woman in the present case is not more than 25. Her relations with Johnson have been notorious for years. He had a wife and four interesting children, the oldest under 20 years. Johnson was about 55 years old, and in recent years has been conspicuous as a stalwart republican and close friend of Roscoe Conkling. President Arthur appointed him commissioner to examine a section of the Northern Pacific Railway.

Danville, Va., 13.—A conflict between a crowd of whites and colored people occurred this evening. Walter Holland was shot in the head, and supposed mortally wounded. Thomas Seward was shot through the body. Five negroes were killed, and it is supposed many wounded. The beginning of the conflict was the beating by one of the citizens of a negro who chased another negro, not apologizing for his apparent rudeness. Some of both colors interfered, and a pistol was knocked out of the hands of one of the white men and exploded. All the stores were closed immediately, the alarm bells sounded, and the people came out with arms. The Town Sergeant came out soon after with one of the military companies, and commanded the people in the name of the Commonwealth to go home, and the streets were soon cleared. The city is now under the supervision of one of the military companies and mounted police, and the Town Sergeant, in answer to a message from the Governor, offering assistance if needed, telegraphed that all was quiet, and no further trouble was apprehended. No arrests are made as yet. Political excitement has been growing more and more intense during the present campaign for the Legislature.

Cleveland, 3.—There is trouble relative to the tenure of St. Joseph's Hospital, commonly known as the Orphan Asylum. This property was bought by public subscriptions of Catholics of the diocese of Cleveland, but instead of being put in the name of the Bishop as directed by the laws of the church, a corporation, under the name of St. Joseph's Hospital, was formed. The management of the funds yearly raised for the support of the orphans not being satisfactory to the Bishop, he decided that it must be placed under his control, as also the asylum, which has been built by collections made through the diocese. This was refused by a few nuns, who were officers of the corporation. The matter has been referred to the courts of the church where it will be settled.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., 4.—A Colner, alias Faulkner, alias ever so many other names, has been captured in Frenchtown, Harrison County, Ind. He was the chief and leading spirit of the counterfeiters of this district and lived near Frenchtown in a log house built very much like a fort. It had no chimneys, but was open all around, and while Faulkner worked on the manufacture of coin his wife stood guard. Immediately after the arrest of the Pikeville gang, R. D. Hobbs, a detective known as Doc Henderson, went to Frenchtown and to the house of Faulkner, to whom he told about the raid, and said that he (Hobbs) was the only man to escape and he wanted to hide for a few days. Faulkner readily took him in and explained all his processes to Hobbs, who professed to be an experienced counterfeiter. On Saturday, Faulkner went to Frenchtown to get some Evansville papers, to find out the extent of the raid. Hobbs pretended that he was going for a bottle of whiskey, followed him, and dodging behind fences and trees, saw him enter a store. Hobbs ran in and presenting a revolver at Faulkner's head, ordered him to throw up his hands. Handcuffs were put on, and the deputy marshal took him in charge. Hobbs hurried back to the house, and calling Mrs. Faulkner to bring a shot gun as he ran, she thinking her husband was in danger, did as she was bid, and when she reached Hobbs gave him the weapon. He put handcuffs on her before she knew what he was up to, and this morning brought the couple down to this city, where they made a confession, and went to Indianapolis. Faulkner made coins from ten cents in silver to $20 in gold, and so perfect, that he said himself he was not afraid to go into a bank with them.

NEW YORK, 4.—Policeman Wm. Conroy, on Saturday night, brought into the Twenty-first precinct station house as a prisoner, Peter Reenan, furniture remover, 34 years old. Keenan's head was covered with blood, which was flowing from cuts caused by the policeman's club and in his abdomen was a bullet wound. Keenan was removed to the hospital and died soon after. Policeman Conroy stated that he arrested Keenan for being drunk and disorderly, that the mob assaulted him, and in self-defense he was obliged to use his club and revolver. Conroy was placed under arrest. From information obtained by detectives and statements before the coroner's preliminary observation, it appears that Conroy had been drinking heavily, and that he assaulted several persons without cause, and finally attacked Keenan, who was not interfering with the policeman nor anyone else. After shooting him without warning, he dragged him from the saloon and clubbed him long after he became unconscious. Conroy made several contradictory statements about the matter.

DANVILLE, Va., 4.—Besides the five negroes reported killed last night, it is said two others have since died. The names of only four were obtained. These are probably all; Junius Hall and Ned Davis, servants in the Arlington Hotel, Jere Smith and Peter Walters. Colored people on the street appear to know nothing. The bodies of those found dead on the streets were handed over to friends and taken away. Charles Adams, Edward Baptist and Thomas Keen were slightly wounded. Walter Holland was shot in the head. He is the son of O. G. Holland, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee. He rested well and hopes are entertained of his recovery. By agreement, no services were held in the churches to-day. The city is under the supervision of the town sergeant and the "Greys" (a white company). After the delivery of the mails this morning, which was largely attended by whites and blacks, the town sergeant proclaimed that no assemblies on the streets would be allowed, and requested the people to go home and remain quiet. All is now quiet, but the people of the city are not without apprehension of further trouble. About 20 persons in all are reported wounded.

Richmond, Va., 4.—An immense mass meeting of citizens of Richmond was held at the first regiment armory this (Sunday) evening, to express their sentiments concerning the riot at Danville. The preamble set forth that the conflict between races in Danville was the result of a conspiracy to force an issue upon the white people by the leaders of the coalition movement. A resolution to this effect was adopted.

WASHINGTON, 4.—Judge Ferris, second auditor of the Treasury, in his annual report, exposes methods by which soldiers of the late war and government are being swindled by unprincipled attorneys and agents. He says not one in ten of the applications for arrears of pay and bounty possess any merit, and not one in twenty of all these claims is filed upon suggestion, or by the voluntary action of the claimant. The attorney seeks out his client and represents to the uninformed, more generally the colored soldiers, or their heirs, that they have not been paid all that is justly due them; that some new law, or new construction of the existing law entitles them to more bounty, or further pay. A small fee in advance is required, generally two or three dollars, sometimes more; in fact all that can be got, with the promise that no more will be demanded unless the claim be allowed. The fee is paid, the application filed and in the end rejected. The attorney really never looks after the claim. It does not pay. He has received his little advance fee, and it pays better to hunt up more victims. The soldiers are swindled, and after their claims are rejected they frequently denounce the government and its officers, who simply administer the law as they find it. Another class of worthless claims is constantly increasing, namely, claims for bounties already paid. In many of these cases, denials of former payments are made, under oath, when the records of this office, authenticated in the highest manner known to the law and the courts show conclusively that the payments were made years ago. To perjury is sometimes added forgery and the lapse of time since the war increases the chances of success to the forgers and perjurers. Should these records be destroyed, and such calamity is not beyond possibility, government would certainly be defrauded out of millions of dollars.

CHICAGO, 5.—The Times makes the following summary: The passenger agents of the Pacific lines and their Missouri river connection, have spent a number of days endeavoring to find a solution for the complicated western passenger problem and they have finally adjourned without accomplishing anything. The general managers of the lines interested tried to render assistance, but they gave it up as a bad job. It being generally agreed that the present basis, by which rates from the Missouri River to either San Francisco or Portland via other places are the same as to either place direct, is entirely impracticable. The only thing remaining is to change the basis. Although no official action has been taken, a plan has been talked of and will undoubtedly be put into effect at the Topeka meeting on Wednesday if not before. The proposition comes from the Northern Pacific, and is in effect that the Northern Pacific and others do not encroach upon each other's territory. As compensation for being shut out from San Francisco business the Northern Pacific will be paid a stipulated sum every year by the other roads, which will enable it to carry passengers at a paying figure by way of Portland to San Francisco. The general impression among the officials of inte-
