

PREST. TAYLOR'S TALK TO STUDENTS

In Address at L. D. S. University
The Value of Honesty Treated On.

ALSO PURITY OF THOUGHT.

Instances Quoted Showing Success is Impossible Without These Qualities
—Hallowe'en Affair.

"No man should enter any place into which he would blush to take his sweetheart, his wife, or his mother," declared Prest. Frank Taylor yesterday before the Latter-day Saints' university. The occasion was the regular Wednesday devotional hour, and Prest. Taylor had been invited to deliver the address. His talk treated on what leads to success in life. Two things are designated as essentials—honesty, and purity of thought.

VALUE OF HONESTY.

"Some young men," he said, "imagine on coming from school as the end of a course of study, that success is the crowning in life, and the means only secondary in importance. But they are not careful by what road they succeed. Well, at first there comes to them what appears to be success, but which is really not success at all. They expect for a time some considerable prospect of rising, but people find out that they are not honest—and then they go down. Once a man—a prominent banker—said to me of a young man: 'There goes one of the brightest business men in the state, but he is not succeeding.' I asked him why the young man was not prospering, and he replied: 'Because he is not honest.' That is the secret of it always. Men do not succeed in the end unless they are honest—honest with themselves and honest with their fellows. And the sooner boys, and girls, too, and this out, the better it will be for them."

OF PURE THOUGHT.

"But to be honest," continued the speaker, "is not the only thing a man must learn. His thoughts must be sound. He who does not hesitate to have the wide world know of his sins, then his actions will be known likewise." President Taylor here commented upon the evil effects of entering places that are not proper for any good man, even if he did not go there for the amusement they attempt to give, and laid down the principle quoted at the beginning of his remarks.

The speaker called attention to the words of leading men past and present, that the Mormon people would yet stand at the head and not at the foot. "But this," said President Taylor, "is possible only on the condition that our present and coming generations always live lives of honesty and purity."

The students at the opening and the closing rendered school songs, under the leadership of Instructor Kirzner.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Last evening the domestic science girls of the Latter-day Saints' university led their friends a merry game. It was their annual Hallowe'en party, to which the faculty and many of the students were invited.

The guests were led over a dangerous and "creepy" path. First, they trod a plank and got an electric shock. Then they were led into a room where a dead man lay in bed, and where ghoulish and ghastly objects had found their way into unsuspected places.

But they all came off in tolerable form—which somewhat paled with-and went to the dancing room where, in the dim light which revealed but indistinctly the forms of things, they endeavored to put on the best face to their friends. The party was well and tastefully got up, to the credit of the domestic science department of the school.

DEPRAVED BOYS.

Youths Accused of Distributing Obscene Literature Are Arrested.

There will be a special session of the juvenile court Saturday afternoon to consider the case of a gang of youths arrested by Probation Officer Harry Joseph and John James at U. Lovell's school last night. The charge against the youths is distributing obscene literature. It is charged that about twenty boys and three young girls were congregated near an arbor at the school about 11 o'clock last night. Eight of the boys were small and the others were high school boys ranging from 16 to 18 and 19 years of age. These older boys had an assortment of vile literature and songs and were reciting indecent verses and singing degrading parades of voluptuous girls. This action was followed by others of the girls and the youths from the high school will be made to show cause why they should not be severely punished.

Mr. Schopp stated that Mrs. Frederickson returned Tuesday from a prolonged visit to her mother in Parley's canyon, and that she naked her husband to purchase morphine and cocaine for her. This was done, and Mrs. Schopp said she paid for part of the drug. In making her statement Mr. Schopp declared that relatives of Mrs. Frederickson had been paid in hope of intercepting her secret. Frederickson told Mrs. Schopp not to talk about such things, and she contradicted her statement.

STATEMENT OF WITNESS.

Mrs. Schopp, in answer to a question, said she had never tried to poison anyone, and on cross-examination said she never put poison in her husband's cup, but before he could drink it, she threw it out. She said she was sorry she had changed her mind.

The body of the dead woman was taken to Joseph Wm. Taylor's undertaking establishment. The remains were in fair physical condition. The body was washed with water, cauterized, and repeated hypodermic injections of cocaine and morphine.

DESERET EVENING NEWS THURSDAY OCTOBER 31 1907

DEATH FOLLOWS USE OF MORPHINE

Mrs. Amelia Dudley Frederickson
Takes Too Much of the Poisonous Drug.

SHOWN BY INVESTIGATION.

Witness Says She Never Tried to Poison Anyone but Husband and Was Sorry She Did Not Do So.

The constant use of morphine and cocaine for many years, caused the death of Mrs. Amelia Dudley Frederickson at her home, 415 west Second street, yesterday morning. Her death was reported yesterday afternoon and Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith at once began an investigation. From the testimony of two witnesses it was shown that the woman died as a result of an overdose of morphine and cocaine. The witnesses were Mrs. Edith Schopp and the dead woman's husband.

Mr. Schopp stated that Mrs. Frederickson returned Tuesday from a prolonged visit to her mother in Parley's canyon, and that she naked her husband to purchase morphine and cocaine for her. This was done, and Mrs. Schopp said she paid for part of the drug. In making her statement Mr. Schopp declared that relatives of Mrs. Frederickson had been paid in hope of intercepting her secret. Frederickson told Mrs. Schopp not to talk about such things, and she contradicted her statement.

HELD TO DISTRICT COURT.

Frank Leonette, an Italian, Charged With Criminal Assault.

Frank Leonette, an Italian, was given a preliminary hearing before Judge Diehl in the criminal division of the city court this morning on the charge of criminal assault. John M. McMillan, a grocer, the age of 15, was the victim.

The trial was adjourned until the passing of each month. Their honor is strong to hold him in place until the next term.

If your name is on the books of any ward in Salt Lake City, you may call wherever you happen to live now. We provide yourself with a transfer to another section. Up till Monday evening transfers will be accepted at all city offices.

The Republicans held a rally last night in the Fourth ward amusement hall. The speakers were J. P. Meakin, E. O. Leatherwood, Glen Miller, Chairman Devil, and Harry S. Joseph, who spoke. It was very well attended and the speakers were vigorously applauded, as they depicted the harm done to Utah by so-called "American" politicians.

Voting machines will be sent to the polling places today and tomorrow by the State election commission. After they are placed in position they will be inspected by an expert and locked, to remain in that condition until the election. Judges open them Nov. 5.

DEATH OF COL. WHEELER.

Well Known Traveling Man Run Down by Auto in Denver.

The sad intelligence was received by this city at 10:12 last evening, by wire from Denver, of the sudden and violent death of Col. D. Y. Wheeler, the traveling salesman who was run over by an auto in the north end of Salt Lake yesterday. Col. Wheeler was run into by an automobile and knocked down early in the evening. When picked up, it was not supposed he was seriously injured; but on being removed to St. Luke's hospital, it was found internal hemorrhage had developed, and he died shortly after. The unfortunate man died in little over an hour after the accident. The same was relayed by F. C. Schweppe.

The deceased was one of the oldest and best known men in the trade, having been on the road for about 20 years. While resident at Denver, Colo., Wheeler represented the Robinson Drug company, and was a member of the chamber of commerce, and so had occasion to visit Salt Lake periodically. Last January he was suddenly seized with an affection of the eyes while staying at the Kluttsdorf, which threatened to permanently deprive him of his sight. He had to be escorted back to Denver, and for months was unable to see anything. He was forced to give up his trade, but he was able to see fairly well—enough to get around, and was in this city a few weeks ago, selling goods. It is believed that his being in the way of the automobile was due to his uncertain vision.

Col. Wheeler was a good salesman, and will be very much missed, and his many friends there are deeply affected by his unfortunate death.

FOR STEALING A COAT.

This morning Sergeant Hempel arrested a young man named John Wilkinson on the charge of stealing a coat from the New York Tailor, 110 South West Temple street last night. The coat was recovered after the arrest of Wilkinson. He is charged with perjury and will have a chance to explain matters to Judge Diehl.

STOLEN TOOLS RECOVERED.

A few days ago it was reported to the police that 450 worth of expensive tools had been stolen from J. A. Hines on Wall street. The tools which the property was stolen by a man named Potter. This morning Sergeant Hempel located the stolen tools in a second-hand store and they are now in police headquarters. Potter has left town and the police are trying to locate him.

JORDAN INQUEST IS CONCLUDED

When I read about it in the paper—

I knew Mr. R. L. Thompson; he boarded with us a month in Park City. He does not know where he is now. He does not like Brightman City. I last heard of him was Ogden. Ogden. He wrote me a letter from there, asking me to turn it over to Little.

I wrote a letter to Little Wednesdays—the day she took the poison. I telephoned to her mother in the morning and she treated me so cold I wanted to know what the matter. Her mother told me she was ill. When I did not tell me how sick told me I had better come to see her, as it would be more than the party could bear. So this was to be turned over to Little.

ARS. Harold was excused.

PHYSICIANS TESTIFY.

Believing a wrong impression may have been made of the nature of the disease, the testimony brought out in the Jordan inquest, Dr. C. E. Wilcox had a number of prominent physicians placed on the stand this morning. They were Drs. W. R. Caldwell, W. F. Beebe and S. L. Richards. Dr. Wilcox was represented legally by Myles W. Moore.

He repeated his hypothetical question to each physician to each of them: "Supposing a doctor is called to a house to attend a person who attempted to take poison, and upon arriving at the house about three-quarters of an hour later, is told by the parents that the patient tried to swallow laudanum, and the bottle of laudanum which had been taken from her lips, the contents of her mouth spit out, a great deal of the liquid spilled and half left in the bottle, and he stays by the hot side for another three-quarters of an hour, and at the end of that time there are no evidences that poison has been taken, under the circumstances did Dr. Wilcox do his duty fully in administering an enema of one-fifth grain of apomorphia, and upon leaving, instructing the parents to continue the treatment until something changes?"

Was the use of a stomach pump necessary?

DR. W. R. CALDWELL ANSWERED.

Dr. Caldwell had done everything strictly according to the demands of the case as it appeared.

He passed his opportunity to act. Between the time of his opposition and the trial of the "News" four months ago, he had a number of prominent physicians placed on the stand by the "News" four months ago.

The Jordan inquest was adjourned until the next day and the next day Dr. Caldwell was called again.

He repeated his hypothetical question to each physician to each of them.

It is the duty of the parent to communicate with the doctor.
