

EDITH WOODILL LOVED LAME BOB

St. Michaels, Md., June 29.—The funeral of Mrs. Edith May Woodill, who was slain by "Lame Bob" Eastman, were indicated in a letter signed "Edith," parts of which were found in the bungalow of the murderer and suicide last Saturday. The missive, which is in Mrs. Woodill's handwriting and couched in most sentimental language, was presumably sent to Eastman, and was made public today. It not only indicates a warm attachment for the man, but seems to prove that she had known him at least a year. On the same paper, in Eastman's handwriting, is the following: "Little Dear—I cannot live after our short — of bliss with the coming of our parting ever before us. If we meet in the unknown, let's continue the blissful times that we spent here. I am with you in every thought." The letter signed Edith contains the following passages: "Is the iron immodest when it creeps toward the loadstone and clings to its side? Is the seed immodest when it sinks into the ground with budding life? Is the cloud bold when it softens into rain and falls to earth because it has no further choice, or is it brazen when it nestles on the bosom of heaven's arched dome and sinks into the blue-black infinite and ceases to be itself? "Is the human soul immodest when drawn by a force it cannot resist, it seeks a stronger soul, which absorbs its ego as the blue sky absorbs a floating cloud and as the warm earth swells the seed, as the magnet draws the iron?" "I do not feel myself to be bold or wrong for drifting toward you. I do not. I would not feel myself wrong to go straight to you (tomorrow). There is ever and always some human soul to love and trust us, and whose confidence we would not alter.

We are not of our making and our lives belong to another—Brahma—who rules and is wise. "As one who was unconcerned and in every line of it, I read only the same adoration that a year's absence would not shadow. And the wonder comes to me that you did not, could not, understand. Surely a life such as yours brings in time understanding; you must know lewd from the modest, the untrue from the true. "Do I mean you, did I say? Long for you would be better, for every heartbeats seems to cry out against the enormity of the crime that makes me no longer yours. All the best in every thing seems only to exist because of you and for you. "I hate existence away from you. Why don't men dare to lift up their voices against the blessed art? Art in others is but a greater, stronger, warmer spark of God's soul that they possess, or can lessen the understanding we have one for the other, and no difference can make us forget. "Remember me always, as you loved me best, and though were you a — — a bandit — — a — — anything — — my heart would beat in responsiveness to yours."

ALMOST PERFECT SCORE.
Fort Stevens, Or., June 30.—The Ninety-third company coast artillery, in full service practise with 12-inch mortars yesterday fired 14 shots in 15 minutes and so accurate was the firing that an almost perfect score was made. The shortness of time and the accuracy will, it is said, probably place the company close to first place for this season's full service practise.
