

NEAR SHORE.

Earth is our little island home,
And heaven the neighboring continent,
Whence winds to every inlet come,
With balmyest scent.
And tenderest whispers thence we hear
From those who lately sailed across;
They love us still; since heaven is near
Death is not loss.

From mountain slopes of breeze and balm,
What melodies arrest the ear;
What memories ripple through the calm!
We'll keep near shore.

SHORT AND SHARP.

A man winds up his clock to make it run, and his business to make it stop.

What is that which no one wishes to have and no one wishes to lose—A bald head.

The verses, "I love to steal awhile a weigh," are supposed to have been written by a grocer given to short measures.

A taylor, speaking of the winter fashions, says, very correctly: "There is not much 'change' in gentlemen's pants this month."

There is a shop kept by an old maid in New York, in the window of which appear these words: "No reasonable offer refused."

A book publisher's advertisement reads: "In press—Against Her Will." Some women do object to being squeezed—sometimes.

Slanders issuing from red and beautiful lips are like foul spiders crawling from the blushing heart of a rose.

Some one suggests that Londoners place Cleopatra's needle in Threadneedle Street. But wouldn't it be just as proper to stick it in the outskirts?

"Why did you pass yesterday without looking at me?" said a beautiful woman to Tallyrand. "Because, madam, if I had looked I could not have passed."

"Never catch me marrying a reformed man," said a wise little Ogden girl; "when I get married it will be to some man that doesn't need reforming."

Times are so hard that some of the most gifted orators on the platform announce that they will lecture this winter for chickens, apples and cordwood.

"What's the honor?" asks Falstaff. That's easy. Any woman who sits behind another woman in church can tell what's on her in two minutes.

"Dear Laura, when we were courting, you were very dear to me; but now you are my wife, and I am paying your bills, you seem to get dearer and dearer."

The man who charged David with extravagance for singing, "The trees of the field shall clap their hands," forgot that there are such things as palm trees.

A Richmond negro who pawned his shot-gun for a marriage license, said, about a week after the ceremony was performed, that he was always afraid the gun would be the death of him.

A Canadian priest lately sued a young man, whom he had married, for his wedding fee, which he stated at $15. The jury found for the defendant, on the ground that the youth had received no appreciable value.

"Children," said the teacher, addressing the infant class; "children, do you know that you were all born in sin?" "Please, sir," interrupted a little one, "I wasn't; I was born in New Orleans." "Well, that's the same thing," said the teacher, impatiently.

A purchaser on being served with ground coffee at a store, asked: "Are there beans in this coffee?" "No, sir," answered the clerk. "How do you know?" sneered the purchaser. "Because we ran out of beans Thursday and had to put peas in instead."

The circus season is past and gone, and the man who sold his heating stove for two full and five half tickets, now steps around to the sunny side of the house to warm his feet. But his heart glows with honest happiness when he remembers how the baby enjoyed seeing the animals.

"Come to the Capitol while we are in session and I'll give you a seat on the floor of the House," said a member of Congress to one of his supporters, who called upon him in Washington. "Well, no, I thank you," said the countryman, "poor as I am I always manage to have a cheer to sit on at home, and I hain't come here to sit on the floor."

EXERCISE.—Playing billyards is better exercise, no doubt, than drinkin' whizkey, but old-fashioned sawing wood is better than either. Yu kan earn 25 cents sawing wood in the same time yu are spending a dollar playing billyards. If yu haint got any wood to practise on, yu kan kum and pitch into my pile. I will furnish the saw and the eider, and I will play on the akkordion while yu are butchering the wood.
—Josh Billings.

A Sure Cure for the Piles.

A sure cure for the Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams (an Indian remedy), called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst old chronic cases of 25 and 30 years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. Williams' ointment supports the tumors, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared exclusively for Piles, and nothing else. Over 20,000 cured Patients attest its virtues and Physicians of all schools pronounce it the greatest contribution to medicine of the age.

WENT TO THE NOTED HOT SPRINGS.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 27, 1876.
DEAR SIR:—I suffered more or less for years with the itching or ulcerated Piles. I tried remedy after remedy advertised in the newspapers, and consulted physicians in Philadelphia, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and this city, and spent hundreds of dollars, but found no relief and comfort until I obtained a box of Williams' Indian Ointment some four months ago, and it has cured me completely. I had a part of the box left which I gave to a friend of mine who had doctored with many physicians without relief, and as a last resort went to the noted Hot Springs, of Arkansas, for treatment. He informs me that the Indian Ointment has also cured him of the piles. It is certainly a wonderful discovery and should be used by the many thousands who are now suffering with that dread disease.
JOSEPH M. RYDER.

For more certificates of cures see large circular around each box of ointment.
